Washington Police Chief Steve Marshall.

Fire the Chief?

Petition seeks Steve Marshall's removal

83 Washington voters have submitted a Petitioned Warrant Article seeking the removal of Police Chief Steve Marshall. It reads: "To see if the voters in the Town of Washington will vote to remove the Chief of Police immediately." When contacted, Marshall, who has been Chief for 12.5 years, would say only that it is a personal attack by a former resident who has an axe to grind, and has nothing to do with his job performance. The petition continues, "Whereas We, the voters and tax payers of the town of Washington are dissatisfied with the performance, behavior and effectiveness of the Police Chief, we ask the Selectmen to remove, immediately, upon passage of the Warrant Article, the current Chief of Police."

A second Petitioned article seeks to have the Chief of Police elected in the future. "To see if the voters in the Town of Washington will vote to elect a Police Chief as allowed in RSA 41:47." Washington officials have apparently determined that the second article is proper and will be placed on the March Warrant. The selectmen are checking with town council as to the legality of placing the removal petition on the Warrant.

Henniker accepts sewer cleaning bid

Hillsborough family homeless after house fire

Firefighters responded to a three-alarm fire which destroyed a home on Spring Street in Hillsborough Monday morning.

According to Hillsborough Deputy Fire Chief Scott Murdough, the fire started near a wood-burning stove at the back of the house shortly after 7 a.m., and the blaze quickly spread to the second floor. By the time crews arrived, the house was fully engulfed in flames.

Three generations of the Dillon family live in the home, but all nine adults and three children escaped without injury. The family was also able to save its pets, but the house and its contents were totally destroyed. The Red Cross is helping to arrange for clothing and shelter for the family, but the house was not insured.

Murdough said the fire was a challenge because of the cold and because it was so early, making it difficult to get enough firefighters on the scene. A third alarm had to be called which brought in backup from Henniker, Antrim, Deering, Washington, Bennington, Warner and Hopkinton. Sand trucks were needed because the roads were icy, the trucks and equipment kept freezing up because of the bitter cold.

Bryan Dillon, an Iraq war veteran shares the home with his fiancée and two children, his father and his father's girlfriend and children, and an uncle.

Though the Dillon family has many relatives nearby, Brenda Dillon said recovering from the total loss is going to be difficult. "My dad has been in touch with the VA (Veterans Administration) because we're both veterans, so we're hoping they can help out," Bryan Dillon said.

This house on Spring Street was a total loss.

Bennington woman charged with murder

Jodi LaClaire, 37, of Bennington has been arrested on the murder warrant in New Hampshire. The Vermont attorney general said the patient died in April 2009 after being injected with insulin by LaClaire. The patient was not diabetic. Police said LaClaire was in charge of the second floor of The Thompson House nursing home in Brattleboro when the 83-year-old patient fell into an insulin-induced coma, according to documents filed in court. The documents said LaClaire used the patient's credit card over the next 10 days while the woman was in a coma and after she died. In April 2011, LaClaire was charged with sixteen counts of financial exploitation of a vulnerable adult and attempted financial exploitation. The second-degree murder charge carries a possible sentence of 20 years to life if convicted. LaClaire was also charged with being a fugitive from justice. She was turned over to Vermont authorities after her hearing. She pleaded not guilty to the murder charge and was held on $150,000 cash or surety bail.

Food Pantry enters $1 million challenge

The Hillsboro Food Pantry is participating in the Feinstein Challenge for a portion of a million dollar grant during the months of March and April. Several organizations are being challenged to raise as much money or as many non-perishable foods as possible during March and April. At the end of April all of the money is totaled and the cans are credited at $1 per can or per pound. This information is sent to the Feinstein Challenge and compared with the monies collected from other organizations. At the end of the challenge each organization is given a percentage of the $1,000,000 in proportion to what was collected. If Hillsboro collects 3% of the total from all of the organizations, the local pantry will get 3% of the $1,000,000 grant, up to a maximum of $35,000. The more we collect, the larger percentage of the $1,000,000 will be given to the Hillsboro District Food Pantry.

Newport school budget reduced by $391,193

A small crowd, consisting mostly of Budget Committee members and the press attended the Newport School District's budget hearing on Monday. Interim Superintendent Donna Moyer said she was proud of the work done by the administration and board in actually reducing the budget in light of a loss of $391,000 in state revenue. Business Administrator James Vezina presented the proposed 2012-2013 budget of $17,783,863 which is a reduction of $391,193 from the current budget. If defeated, the default budget would be $17,732,927.

$339,000 in savings comes from the elimination of several positions, including: a preschool psychologist, a para educator, two part-time admin assistants, a reading teacher, a language teacher, a crisis counselor and a grant administrator. Offsetting a reduction of $200,000 in contracted services was an increase in in-house special education staff. As presented the school's portion of the tax rate would drop from $13.54/1000 to $13.51.

ConVal graduate honored

Mike Crowe, a 1975 graduate of ConVal Regional High School was always bothered that his school had no lights on its athletic fields, and he was determined to rectify the problem.

Crowe then led a campaign that raised $230,000 to put up lights at the ConVal football field. On Saturday Crowe was honored for his efforts at a gathering attended by over 100 people at the Monadnock Country Club.

A benefit to help the family financially and show our support for them will be held on Sunday, January 29, 2012 at the H-D Elementary School from 1-4 PM. They are planning a bake sale table, among other activities, which includes an indoor/outdoor walk.

Come show your support by walking in the gym to music or outside around the schools, making a donation and buying tickets for many great raffles from local businesses including ski passes. AG releases report on 2011 Warner home invasion

According to a report released by the Attorney General, the man who terrorized an 82-year-old Warner resident during a home invasion last year and then committed suicide had no criminal history and was not on drugs that would explain his behavior. The report says Jesse Cook, 30, from Rhode Island, tormented 82-year-old Gordon Smith on the night of Jan. 8 and morning of Jan. 9 before raising a gun to his head and killing himself.

Police said Cook stole a Hyundai Elantra in Providence at gunpoint on Jan. 7, 2011. The vehicle was later found off exit 9 on Interstate 89 in Warner, and it was displaying a New Hampshire license plate that was covering a Rhode Island plate. Police determined the New Hampshire plate was stolen in Manchester on Jan. 8.

Footprints were found, indicating Cook walked from the park-and-ride to Smith's home and went in through the garage on Jan. 8. The report said he might have been in there for "some time" before Smith heard noises and locked his door.

Cook broke into the home by kicking the cellar door, told Smith he had a gun and asked where he kept his money. Cook acted paranoid and erratic during the six-hour ordeal, disabling all the phones and identifying people in Smith's photos as his own relatives. He took items from the home and placed them in the garage throughout the night.

Early in the morning, Cook pointed a gun at Smith's temple and when Smith told Cook he would go to prison for life if he killed him, Cook said, "Why don't I just kill myself then?" He placed Smith's hand on the gun and raised it to his own head and the gun fired, according to the report. He died from a single gunshot wound to the head, and the manner of death was suicide, the medical examiner ruled. Officials have not been able to trace where Cook got the gun.

The H-D School Board, Superintendent and Business Administrator responded to questions at the recent Budget Hearing.

H-D Board approves 4% budget reduction

With approximately 40 people in attendance, the HD School Board presented their 2012-2013 budget on Tuesday. Taking a cue from the results of the SAU budget hearing, they presented a 4% or $76,507 reduction from last year's approved budget.

This puts H-D in line with other area districts who have also come to the public with requests that are not only lower than the default budget, but also lower than what was voted on the previous year. The Board credited the administration with fine-tuning the budget and finding ways to reduce spending without compromising education. Community member and former Board member John Sedegy, after asking a few questions of the Board and Business Administrator Muserallo, complimented and thanked the Board for their work.

Superintendent stresses SAU successes in 2011

At a recent Henniker community and John Stark School Board meetings, SAU #24 Superintendent Dr. Lorraine Tacconi-Moore reflected on the accomplishment of the District in 2011, stating that each school and every district within the SAU has worked diligently to continually improve the educational programming for our children.

"The past calendar year brought successes as well as challenges to the SAU," she said. The district faced the challenges of replacing Dan Starr as business administrator and Jude Chauvette as the principal of Center Woods Elementary School. Moreover, with the fiscal landscape stagnant, the State of New Hampshire announced that individual employees and local school districts would now be responsible for all employee retirement contributions. This resulted in budget reductions after the taxpayers of our communities approved our 2011-2012 budgets. However, challenges can present opportunities and these possibilities had successful results as the district welcomed Kathleen Sargent as the Business Administrator and Jessica Potter as Center Wood's new principal. The year 2011 also brought SAU 24 to its new home at 258 Western Avenue in Henniker, thus saving the taxpayers revenue for overall facility expenses.

Superintendent Lorraine Tacconi-Moore and Assistant Superintendent Pam Sheppard recently briefed the Henniker School Board.

Will $1 million grant benefit Hillsborough

The Capitol Region Development Council recently received a $1 million grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to capitalize a Brownfields Revolving Loan Fund (RLF). CRDC will provide loans and sub-grants to businesses, non-profits and municipalities located throughout Merrimack and Hillsborough Counties to support clean-up activities of environmentally damaged (hazardous materials) sites that are suitable for redevelopment.

CRDC Executive Director Stephen Heavener has been an active participant at meetings of Hillsborough's Economic Development Committee so it is hoped that some of that grant money would be available for the long dormant Woods Woolen site.

Henniker approves Safe Routes To School Plan

The Henniker Selectmen have approved placing a Safe Routes to School article on the Town warrant. It seeks to raise and appropriate $246,946 for the reconstruction of sidewalks and curbing on Western Avenue and Rush Avenue and modification of the Hall Avenue-Western Avenue intersection and authorize the acceptance of the same amount from a Safe Routes to School Program grant set forth by the New Hampshire Department of Transportation. The funding is 100% reimbursable by the State upon completion of the project, and is contingent upon DOT awarding the grant.

Demolition of the former Woods Woolen Mill was halted because of hazardous materials on site.

Guest Editorial by Charley Reese

This was Charley Reese's final column for the Orlando Sentinel...He has been a journalist for 49 years. He is retiring.

545 vs. 300,000,000 People

Politicians are the only people in the world who create problems and then campaign against them.

Have you ever wondered, if both the Democrats and the Republicans are against deficits, WHY do we have deficits?

Have you ever wondered, if all the politicians are against inflation and high taxes, WHY do we have inflation and high taxes?

You and I don't propose a federal budget. The President does. You and I don't have the Constitutional authority to vote on appropriations. The House of Representatives does. You and I don't write the tax code, Congress does.

You and I don't set fiscal policy, Congress does. You and I don't control monetary policy, the Federal Reserve Bank does.

One hundred senators, 435 congressmen, one President, and nine Supreme Court justices equates to 545 human beings out of the 300 million are directly, legally, morally, and individually responsible for the domestic problems that plague this country.

I excluded the members of the Federal Reserve Board because that problem was created by the Congress. In 1913, Congress delegated its Constitutional duty to provide a sound currency to a federally chartered, but private, central bank.

I excluded all the special interests and lobbyists for a sound reason. They have no legal authority. They have no ability to coerce a senator, a congressman, or a President to do one cotton-picking thing. I don't care if they offer a politician $1 million dollars in cash. The politician has the power to accept or reject it. No matter what the lobbyist promises, it is the legislator's responsibility to determine how he votes.

Those 545 human beings spend much of their energy convincing you that what they did is not their fault. They cooperate in this common con regardless of party. What separates a politician from a normal human being is an excessive amount of gall. No normal human being would have the gall of a Speaker, who stood up and criticized the President for creating deficits. The President can only propose a budget. He cannot force the Congress to accept it.

The Constitution, which is the supreme law of the land, gives sole responsibility to the House of Representatives for originating and approving appropriations and taxes. Who is the speaker of the House now? He is the leader of the majority party. He and fellow House members, not the President, can approve any budget they want. If the President vetoes it, they can pass it over his veto if they agree to.

It seems inconceivable to me that a nation of 300 million cannot replace 545 people who stand convicted -- by present facts -- of incompetence and irresponsibility. I can't think of a single domestic problem that is not traceable directly to those 545 people. When you fully grasp the plain truth that 545 people exercise the power of the federal government, then it must follow that what exists is what they want to exist.

If the tax code is unfair, it's because they want it unfair. If the budget is in the red, it's because they want it in the red. If the Army & Marines are in Iraq and Afghanistan it's because they want them in Iraq and Afghanistan. If they do not receive social security but are on an elite retirement plan not available to the people, it's because they want it that way.

There are no insoluble government problems. Do not let these 545 people shift the blame to bureaucrats, whom they hire and whose jobs they can abolish; to lobbyists, whose gifts and advice they can reject; to regulators, to whom they give the power to regulate and from whom they can take this power. Above all, do not let them con you into the belief that there exists disembodied mystical forces like "the economy," "inflation," or "politics" that prevent them from doing what they take an oath to do.

Those 545 people, and they alone, are responsible. They, and they alone, have the power. They, and they alone, should be held accountable by the people who are their bosses. Provided the voters have the gumption to manage their own employees... We should vote all of them out of office and clean up their mess!

OPINION Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I agree with Fredrick Hills, we do need to get Pelletier and Porter out. They are ruining our schools. We need someone who cares about ALL the students and will support the staff who support educating them.

As for the comment on Steve Venezia being appointed as selectman, well this is not the first time Mr. Venezia has been hand picked. Porter has done the same on the Policy Committee at school. Marg wanted Mr. Segedy out so desperately that she contacted Steve to replace him. She did it in an underhanded fashion. The majority of the School Board backed her up, including Pelletier. Fellow Policy Committee members spoke of it at a School Board meeting. No one cared.

I have been to many school board meeting and have seen the same things done to public members and their children. We do not have enough people in town that actually care about this school to make a difference. The only time members come out is to lower the budget or demand expensive field trips for their children (gosh wouldn't it be nice if parents demanded a better education for their children with the same passion).

I demand both. lower taxes and a better education. My daughters Charter school does both. They are at the top in the state in test scores, doing it on third of the budget as the average district school. And yes, they take all students.

In defense of Mr. Venezia, I see he is an intellegent person who really does want to do a good job whichever committe or seat he occupies. He is well spoken and puts a lot of thought in the decisions he makes, he is the right guy for both these positions.... even if he is from Massachusetts.

ConVal school closing petition is non binding

ConVal School District attorney, Norm Makechnie, has informed the school Board that a petition warrant article calling for the district to move fifth-graders into their hometown elementary school and close one of the district's middle schools is not binding, but that doesn't upset the petitioners.

Gail Cromwell, one of the organizers of the petition agrees with Makechnie that the article is purely advisory. Cromwell said the organizers knew it would be non-binding, but would serve to measure the feelings of district voters.

Antrim Wind offers 685 acre conservation easement

Jack Kenworthy, CEO of Enolian Renewable Energy and an executive officer of its subsidiary, Antrim Wind Energy has announced that 685 acres of forestland will be permanently conserved if Antrim Wind Energy wins approval of its lo-turbine wind farm on Tuttle Hill and Willard Mountain. Antrim Wind Energy has reached an agreement with four private landowners who own forestland near the proposed project on January 11th. Kenworthy said the company has been on this agreement for more than a year.

If the project is approved and begins operation, 685 acres of forest will be permanently conserved, with the Harris Center for Conservation Education holding the easements. Kenworthy went on to say that the easement is something the company was not required to do, and it's beyond what other companies would do, but it was done as a good-neighbor effort.

The risk of gastrointestinal (GI) bleeding needs to be considered when determining the potential preventive benefits associated with low-dose aspirin for cardiovascular disease and cancer. According to a new study in Clinical Gastroenterology and Hepatology, the use of low-dose aspirin increases the risk for GI bleeding, with the risk being increased further with accompanying use of cardiovascular disease-preventing therapies, such as clopidogrel and anticoagulants. In patients who took proton pump inhibitors (PPIs), bleeding risk decreased.

The drug Zelboraf (vemurafenib), a groundbreaking new drug, has received Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approval for treatment of malignant melanoma, the deadliest form of skin cancer.

Kidney cancer is the seventh leading type of cancer among men and the ninth leading type of cancer among women. The most common type of kidney cancer, renal cell cancer, accounts for 85 percent of all cases. Analgesics (pain-relieving medications) are among the most commonly used groups of drugs in the United States, and some appear to have protective effects against cancer. However, long-term use of nonaspirin anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) is associated with an increased risk of renal cell cancer, according to a report in the Archives of Internal Medicine.
