

For the foodie

proud to share," said Jay Curcio, owner and executive chef of The White Apron.

Castello Banfi wines selected for each course and presented by Italian wine enthusiast, Guy Esposito, M.D., who has shared his enthusiasm for Italian regional wines with groups ranging from classes at Boston University to travelers in Italy.

Proceeds from the Wine Dinner will benefit Strawberry Banke's preservation, exhibits and educational programs, including History Within Reach which brings more than 10,000 schoolchildren to the museum each year. Many of these children have never been on a field trip before and spend hours on a bus to reach the Seacoast area. Their teachers note that often the impressions they form stay with them for life.

"The White Apron is proud to support historic preservation and programs for schoolchildren at Strawberry Banke," said Curcio, who was raised in an environment where he learned the value of historic preservation early on. "My mom worked in economic development in the Midwest and part of her job was to help the National Trust for Historic Preservation identify and ultimately preserve historic structures. That is one of the reasons I support Strawberry Banke and am into doing the dinner. We take what we do seriously and the ability to feed and nurture is something that draws us into this event."

Chef Esposito, a past president, former Museum Trustee and continuing advocate for the Museum, introduces each course prepared by The White Apron, relating how the ingredients are tied to the history of the museum and its historic gardens.

"This evening allows me to blend my love of Italian cooking with my passion for American history in support of crucial programs for curious young minds at Strawberry Banke," Esposito said.

Big Bad Voodoo Daddy to play in final Concerts for the Cause event

LEBANON - Tickets on sale now for Big Bad Voodoo Daddy. The event happens on Sunday, November 18, 7:00pm, at the Lebanon Opera House, Lebanon, and is the final installment of Child and Family Services' 2012 Concerts for the Cause season.

"America's favorite little big band," the award winning Big Bad Voodoo Daddy (BBVD), has evolved into a leader among jazz/swing bands worldwide. BBVD's irresistible live shows and aggressive and creative approach to music are credited for launching the '90s swing revival. With a fusion of classic American sounds from jazz, swing, Dixieland, and big band music, and an extensive songbook of original dance tunes, now, almost 20 years later, BBVD is a multi-platinum selling musical tour de force.

Tickets to the show are $36.50 each and will be available at the Lebanon Opera House box office, 603-448-0400, www.lebanonoperahouse.org.

VIP packages, which come with priority seats, an exclusive VIP reception, and acknowledgement in playbill, will be available only through Child and Family Services, www.cfsnh.org. VIP tickets are $75.00 each.

Proceeds will support Child and Family Services' work with victims of abuse and neglect, children in foster care, homeless and at-risk youth, and families who are struggling to provide for their children.

This presentation of Concerts for the Cause is sponsored in part by FairPoint Communications and ProCon Incorporated, with media support from New Hampshire Magazine, The POINT, WMUR, New Hampshire Union Leader, and News Channel 31 WNNE.

Guided walking tours of Historic Dover

DOVER - Due to impressive attendance during the summer months, the Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce will be continuing their Guided Walking Tours of Historic Dover through September 22nd. The Historic Tours, which depart from the Chamber of Commerce (550 Central Avenue), every Saturday morning at 10:30am were originally planned to end on August 25th.

"We have been pleasantly surprised by how many people have taken the Saturday Tours," commented

Michael Mengers, Community Events Manager at the Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce. "Even though the Tours were scheduled to end in August, we continually get phone calls and visitors asking if they could be extended through September. We are doing our best to keep up with the demand."

To date, over 70 people have taken the historic tour this summer which began being offered on June 16th. Attendees have come from as far as Israel, Canada and Wisconsin. Mengers believes about 50% of tour-takers are Dover residents interested in learning more about the history located right in their backyard.

This summer is the third year that the Chamber of Commerce has offered the tours and the program is staffed entirely by volunteers. Dover residents and history buffs, Doug DeDe, Anthony McManus, Larrie Upton and Ollie LeChance have acted as guides this season. The cost of the Guided Tour is $5 per person and $15 for families of three or more. Comfortable shoes, water bottles and reservations are strongly recommended. To make a reservation for an upcoming tour, please contact the Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce by calling (603) 742-2218.

Local Farms & Farmers Markets

Make food prep easy by going raw

Follow a few quick and easy tips to serve and enjoy the the freshest of fruits and veggies grown at your local farms. Serve these foods raw, because cooked vegetables can lose many nutrients throughout the cooking process. Choose to go raw for your first bite, and try these ideas.

Simple dipping delights - A plate of crudites, also known as raw vegetables cut into bite-sized strips, served with a favorite dressing or delicious dip, makes for a great afternoon refreshment or pre-dinner appetizer. Add unexpected treats like shoestring-cut sweet potatoes, sugar snap peas or green beans served fresh.

Pretty, delicious and raw - Turn garden delights into pieces of art. Thinly slice a sweet potato into long, narrow strips. Wrap the strips in a circle, pinning on one side with a toothpick, and flaring out on the other to create a flower appearance.

Sassy salsa - Chips and salsa or guacamole - the reason many restaurants serve these prior to the meal is because they are delicious and easy to prepare ahead of time. Make pico de gallo using tomatoes, onions, jalapenos and cilantro. Or, change it up by smashing avocados and substituting them for the tomatoes.

Crispy salads - There is nothing better than a crisp lettuce salad full of fresh vegetables and decorated with nuts and fruits. If growing leaf lettuce, do not cut until you are ready for use. Head lettuce can be chilled in the refrigerator for a day or two. Cucumbers, tomatoes, peppers, herbs, radishes and asparagus add delightful flavors to the lettuce. Mix in cheese like feta, blue cheese, parmesan or goat cheese, and add nuts, croutons or even tortilla strips for some added crunch. Do not be afraid to add those fresh summer fruits as well. A handful of blueberries, sliced strawberries, diced apples or delicious grapes on top, and you have got a well-balanced meal mostly grown right in your own garden.

The Herbalist in the Field: Autumn Barks and Berries Workshop

9/29/2012 (10:00AM)

CANTERBURY - This in-the-field series will devote an hour to each plant, including time spent identifying, harvesting, and processing it into remedies or food. This unique opportunity to get to know common, useful medicinal plants takes advantage of the scenic gardens, fields, woodlands, and garden barn of the historic Canterbury Shaker Village. As the season shifts to autumn, most flowers and leaves have long past their peak, and the medicinal energies now reside in berries and the bark of shrubs and trees. You will venture to the forests of the Village to seek out wild cherry, black birch, and elderberry to make tea, cough syrup, and oxymel. (If elderberry is not available to harvest, we'll work with rosehips.) Canterbury Shaker Village, 288 Shaker Road, Canterbury, NH. Phone: 603-783-9077

IT'S WORTH THE TRIP!

1. You cannot beat the personal attention Joyce gives to her clients, making their business and pleasure trips enjoyable.
2. You get the most up-to-date info. Joyce can guide you through the maze of Internet information, often saving you money in the process.
3. Joyce knows travel. From the best places to discover to the ones worth avoiding. She knows what makes you happy, and the best way to do it.
4. Time is money. Joyce will save you time by preparing all your travel arrangements.
5. Joyce has the perspective of the whole trip: air, rail, hotels, cars, sight-seeing, shopping, and the details that go into making any trip go smoothly.
6. Joyce guides you through the tough choices: charters or scheduled carriers, car rentals, fare specials, travel packages and tour operators.
7. Price swings are Joyce's specialty. Knowing when to go where at the best prices can make a huge difference in your travel plans and cost.
8. Joyce has a library of brochures and videos to help you get a "feel" for where you want to go.
9. Joyce knows you and what makes you a satisfied client. And when you have a travel problem, it's good to know you have someone to call.
10. In most cases, you pay no more for Joyce's services as she is paid by the cruise lines and tour operators, and you are supporting a local business that supports our communities.

sLowlife, a unique exhibition at the Montshire

We know intellectually that plants are alive, but experiencing it directly is mostly in the realm of gardeners - it takes time.

Many of us think of and treat plants as inanimate objects. However, a plant grows, reacts to changes in its environment, reproduces, responds to disease and injury, and undergoes a slow decline into old age and death – a saga that sounds hauntingly familiar. Contrary to our conscious perception, plants do move. . . be it ever so slowly.

Through vivid time-lapse photography and movies, sLowlife accelerates the time-scale of plants into our own frame of reference, speeding up their everyday lives to a pace that resonates with our own. "We take great pride in the living landscape of our 100-acre museum here at the Montshire," states Bob Raiselis, Exhibits Director at the Montshire, "and this new exhibition will help visitors to understand just how alive that landscape is." Raiselis continues, "By turning time on its head, the creators of sLowlife have given us a whole new way to look at plants, their activities, their movement, and their lives."

sLowlife is an exciting exhibition that uses science, art, and technology to provide alternative dimensions for experiencing plants. It presents unusual and sometimes unnerving perspectives on how a plant reacts, both short-term and long-term, to its inner and outer worlds. Using scientific data from the plant studies on which the exhibition was based, nationally known composer John Gibson, Indiana University, created a fascinating musical score to accompany the exhibition.

sLowlife exhibition will be at the Montshire Museum of Science in Norwich, Vermont from Saturday, September 15–Sunday, November 25, 2012.

Call For Entries! 16th Annual Scarecrow Contest at Settlers' Green

NORTH CONWAY, NH: Settlers' Green Outlet Village in North Conway, NH is calling for scarecrow entries from schools, non-profit organizations, gardeners, businesses and individual to compete in the 16th Annual Scarecrow Contest. Winners will be announced during the shopping center's annual Fall Festival on Saturday, September 29, 2012.

Now in its 16th year, the Scarecrow Contest and Fall Festival is one of the shopping center's premier events. Dozens of scarecrows from the simple to the bizarre are on display for the festival and all through foliage season. The contest is open to everyone and there is no entry fee. Cash and ribbon awards are presented in several categories and groups: The Traditional Scarecrow, Scarecrow Family & Friends, and The Whimsical Scarecrow. Teens, Children, Non-Profits and Individuals all have a chance to win in any category. The Grand Prize of $1,000 will be presented as a Judges Award to the scarecrow that receives the greatest number of points from the judges! And, a cash award of $500 for first place will be presented in each category.

This is a great opportunity for clubs, businesses, social groups, schools and daycares to have fun creating a representative scarecrow AND win some money for their organization!

All scarecrows must be handmade by the person(s) entering the contest and must be standing up and at least life sized – larger than life is ok too! All scarecrows will be on display for three weeks and must be weather resistant. It is very important that scarecrows be affixed to a post no larger than a "two by four," approximately 6 feet tall, and ready for display. Settlers' Green Outlet Village will provide free posts for anyone in need and for ideas and photos of previous year's scarecrow winners go to settlersgreen.com. The web site also has the entry form and rules, or you can stop by the management offices for a copy or call us at 356-7031 and we will send you one.

Scarecrow entries must be brought to Settlers' Green no later than 4 pm, Friday, September 28th. Scarecrows will be placed around the shopping center in areas where they receive at least partial coverage from the weather, but all scarecrows should be ready for whatever mother nature provides! The Fall Festival on September 29 will not only feature the scarecrows, but also free music, a pumpkin pie contest, pumpkin painting demonstration and display, pumpkin sale and while supplies last delicious apple cider and apples. Horse drawn wagon rides, special displays and more. To receive an entry form for the contest or to find out more about Settlers' Green Outlet Village, please call 356-7031, ext. 10 or online at settlersgreen.com. Settlers' Green Outlet Village in North Conway, NH is a village designed, outlet center in the heart of the White Mountains of New Hampshire. With over 60 brand name outlet stores including Banana Republic, J. Crew, Talbots, Coach and Chico's, the center features a seasonal food court, beautifully landscaped courtyard, children's play area and spray ground.

Friends of Portsmouth Harbor Lighthouses Schedule of Events

The kids may be heading back to school soon, but there's still a lot more happening in the local lighthouse world this year. There are still seven more weeks of open houses at Portsmouth Harbor Lighthouse. Every Sunday, 1 to 5 p.m., our volunteers are on hand to help you enjoy the history and scenic splendor of this jewel of the New Hampshire Seacoast.

Two more nights of Haunted Tours

We still have two more nights of our always popular Haunted Tours. This coming Saturday, August 25, is already sold out (except for one space at 10:30 p.m., at this writing), but there are still spaces available on September 29. Come join author and radio personality Ron Kolek of the New England Ghost Project, along with author and lighthouse historian Jeremy D'Entremont, for a rare nighttime walking tour of Fort Constitution and Portsmouth Harbor Lighthouse.

These tours always sell out, so you'll want to reserve your spaces early.

One more Evening Cruises from Kittery - September 12

This 80-minute cruise aboard the 14-passenger Sir William Pepperrell leaves from the Kittery Point dock, behind Captain and Patty's restaurant. Join Captain Neil Odams for a historical tour of the beautiful Piscataqua River basin.

Lighthouse Conference on Star Island - September 7-9

Isles of Shoals Historical & Research Association (ISHRA) September Weekend
The beautiful and historic lighthouses along the New England coast each have their own stories to tell. Learn about the lights, the people who kept them, and today's efforts to preserve these treasures. Enjoy a casual weekend of activities including social events, nature strolls and a candlelit service in Gosport Chapel. Guest Speaker: Jeremy D'Entremont, American Lighthouse Foundation historian.

Five Lighthouse Cruise - September 15, 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Join us aboard the M/V Granite State for the most extensive lighthouse cruise in this area! We will travel to White Island Light, Boon Island Light, Cape Neddick "Nubble" Light, Whaleback Light, and Portsmouth Harbor Light. We'll also enjoy great views of the Isles of Shoals, southern coastal Maine, Portsmouth, and the Piscataqua River.

Enjoy a Farmstay Getaway this holiday weekend

Don't miss your opportunity to check out D Acres of NH, Permaculture Farm and Education Center. Offering accommodations, meals, farm tours, woodland trails, community food events, workshops, and more, D Acres is only minutes from Rumney Rocks climbing area, and a short drive from White Mountain National Forest destinations such as Mt. Moosilauke and beautiful Franconia Notch. Whether you are touring through Lincoln, Woodstock, Conway, and the northcountry, viewing the fall foliage, recreating through the mountains, or enjoying local attractions with the kids, D Acres is the place where it all begins.

D Acres offers both indoor and outdoor accommodations including private rooms, shared sleeping space in our Yoga Room, tent platforms, and field space for camping. Farm-fresh dinner and breakfast are served upon request.

D Acres is the epicenter of the mountains' local food movement: don't miss the delicious fare!
