Weare pays up again

Workman's comp case lost - civil suit settled - 2 pending

The Weare Police Department continues to have problems losing law suits. After having settled two in the past few weeks, the Police Department has settled another with a payment of $35,000 and a personal apology from Chief John Velleca.

Weare resident William Alleman was arrested for felony wiretapping when he videotaped his interaction with Officer Brandon Montplaisir during a traffic stop in July 2011. In February, a Circuit Court judge dismissed the charge against him.

Alleman then filed his lawsuit in U.S. District Court, claiming he was only exercising his

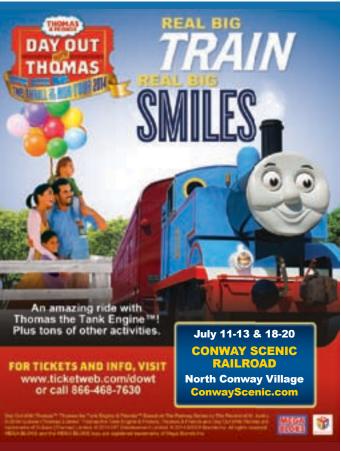

First Amendment rights

The Messenger has also learned that former Seargant Joe Kelley has been awarded $50,000 in his workman's compensation case for the stress he suffered during last year's officer involved shooting death of a Manchester drug dealer.

Unconfirmed reports also indicate that the Town of Weare is now attempting to settle Kelley's wrongful termination suit. In addition, a second wrongful termination case is expected to be filed soon by a former department secretary, who was fired after the new Chief took over.

Emerald Lake voters take little time and little debate to defeat bond

The newly constituted Emerald Lake Village District Commission concluded their first District Meeting last Saturday, a continuation of the April 26th session. It was the first meeting for newly appointed Administrator Scott Osgood of Henniker.

The sole issue was reconsideration of a $515,000 bond to install new water mains and related functions. Commissioner Martha Carrion explained that upon further study and review, the Commission now recommended defeat of the article. Contrary to what former administrator Jim Coffey had promised, Carrion summed up the issue succinctly by saying, "If you want your taxes to go up, vote yes; if not, vote no. The noes prevailed 29-3.

Henniker teenager injured in OHRV accident

On July 14th, the Henniker Police, Henniker Rescue and the NH Fish & Game Department were called to Quaker Street to investigate an off highway recreational vehicle (OHRV) crash. A 14 year old male was transported to Concord Hospital to be treated for a head injury sustained when the ATV he was operating rolled over on the pavement and into the ditch. Quaker Street is a public way and not open to use by allterrain vehicles. Preliminary investigation revealed that the operator was alone on an unregistered ATV when he lost control, possibly due to speed, and rolled the machine. Additionally, a helmet was found at the scene, but was not on or properly fastened to the operator during the crash.

"Accidents such as this can be avoided," said Fish and Game Conservation Officer Delayne Brown. "Operating an OHRV on an unapproved public way with motor vehicles is dangerous and illegal."

Truck accident closes Sunapee Route 103

Route 103 in Sunapee was closed on Thursday for five hours after a box truck hit and split a utility pole near Task Brook Road. Police say the accident happened just after 8 am and also knocked down utility wires. The truck driven by William Reynolds, 44, of Lowell, MA landed on its side and pinned Reynolds between the seat and the door. Reynolds was airlifted to DHMC and was expected to be released later on Thursday. A passenger in the truck, Marlon Suarez, 38, of Chelsea, Massachusetts was treated for minor injuries and released at the scene. Reynolds was cited for operating with a suspended driver's license and for various motor vehicle trucking violations. S.G. Reed Truck Services righted the truck while PSNH repaired the downed utility pole and lines. Officer Adam Lantiegne of the Sunapee Police Department was assisted by New London Dispatch, the Sunapee Fire Department, Newbury Police Department, Newport Police Department, Newport Ambulance and the New Hampshire State Police Troop G.

Violent patient draws police to hospital

After handling crowd and traffic control at Brandon Garabrant's funeral on Thursday, Peterborough Police spent much of Saturday afternoon through Monday evening at Monadnock Community Hospital to control a violent patient. "An extremely violent person had assaulted staff," Peterborough Police Chief Scott Guinard told the Monadnock Ledger Transcript. "We had to staff the emergency room with a uniformed officer round the clock until 8 p.m. on Monday. At times, it took two or three officers to restrain the person, Guinard said. Although one officer was injured, he was not hospitalized and did not miss any work. No arrests were made and no charges have been filed.

Newbury urges residents to register dogs

The Newbury Police Department is urging residents who have not registered their dogs to please do so as soon as possible. The police will be serving citations to dog owners who have not registered their dogs and residents will have to pay an additional $25.00 per dog in addition to the late fee once the citation is delivered. The town of Newbury has given a list of overdue dog registrations pending to the department. Newbury Police said, "We like seeing our residents around town, but we hate to come with a reminder like this. If your dog has passed away please let the Town Clerk know so we don't visit with any citations and remind you of the sad news."

New London Selectmen deny zoning waiver - refer applicant to ZBA

Town Administrator Kim Hallquist informed the New London Selectmen that a request to waive the requirement of the limitation of five unrelated people living in a single dwelling unit was submitted by Sandra Rowse. Ms. Rowse indicated that she currently has contracted with eight students for the next year.

Hallquist recommended that the proper course of action is to deny the request as such a waiver is under the jurisdiction of the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

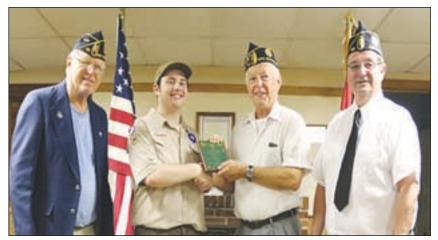

Selectman Bianchi agreed it wasn't the Selectmen's jurisdiction to waive the zoning. He thought they should refer Rowse to the ZBA. Selectman Rollins agreed. Chair Kidder thought the Planning Board needed to address this issue and parking, as it relates to this issue. There were currently no parking limitations on large numbers of people living together. Selectman Rollins agreed. After further discussion, the Board denied the request and directed Sandra Rowse to the ZBA.

New Boston girl on Jeopardy

Beginning July 21, Goffstown High School senior Kat Deabill of New Boston will be a contestant in the 29th annual "Jeopardy!" Teen Tournament. Along with 14 other students, aged 13 to 17, Deabill will compete for the $75,000 grand prize over the course of the two-week event, which concludes with a two-day final airing July 31 and Aug. 1. Last September, Deabill took a 50-question test online to qualify for consideration for the Teen Tournament. When she found out the test was being administered on her birthday, she considered the coincidence too good to pass up. She and her mom, Wendy Deabill, went to a New York audition in early November, where she took part in another 50-question test, an interview and mock game play. In February, Deabill was notified that she made the elite final group of 15 contestants, which was narrowed down from 300 applicants at the auditions, and 300,000 who took the online test.

Deabill flew to to Culver City, Calif., and recorded the tournament, where she also enjoyed getting to meet host Alex Trebek.

The "Jeopardy!" Teen Tournament begins Monday, July 21 and can be seen on WBZ-TV Ch. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has expanded the approved uses of Nexavar (sorafenib) to treat late-stage (metastatic) differentiated thyroid cancer. Thyroid cancer is a cancerous growth of the thyroid gland, which is located in the neck. Differentiated thyroid cancer is the most common type of thyroid cancer. The National Cancer Institute estimates that 60,220 Americans will be diagnosed with thyroid cancer and 1,850 will die from the disease in 2013. Nexavar works by inhibiting multiple proteins in cancer cells, limiting cancer cell growth and division. The drug's new use is intended for patients with locally recurrent or metastatic progressive differentiated thyroid cancer that no longer responds to radioactive iodine treatment.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved Aptiom (eslicar-bazepine) acetate) as an add-on medication to treat seizures associated with epilepsy. Epilepsy is a brain disorder caused by abnormal or excessive activity in the brain's nerve cells. Approximately 200,000 new cases of seizures and epilepsy occur in the United States each year. Aptiom is approved for the treatment of partial seizures, the most common type of seizure seen in people with epilepsy. Seizures can cause a wide range of symptoms, including repetitive limb movements, unusual behavior and generalized convulsions with loss of consciousness. Seizures can have serious consequences, including injury and death.

New research published in JAMA Psychiatry reveals that topiramate, (brand name Topamax), a drug approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to treat epilepsy and migraine headaches, also could be the first reliable medication to help treat cocaine dependence.

Ausbon Sargent acquires Wilmot acres

On July 1, 2014, The Ausbon Sargent Land Preservation Trust and land owners, Jan and Paul Sahler, closed on the Sahler Conservation Easement. This property represents the first Ausbon Sargent protected property in Wilmot. The 21.4-acre Sahler easement is adjacent to or near over 3,918 acres of conserved land including the Mt. Kearsarge State Forest. Jan and Paul Sahler moved to New Hampshire in the early 1980's looking for the ideal spot to live and continue raising their family. After years of enjoying the property and the westerly views of Mt. Sunapee and King Ridge, the Sahlers determined that they "didn't want to lose these assets to future development or subdivision." On Tuesday, August 12, Ausbon Sargent Land Protection Specialist Andy Deegan will lead a Dragonfly Walk on the Sahler property. Join Andy to learn more about dragonflies and damselflies and their significance in nature.

Goffstown boards to cooperate on growth

Goffstown's Economic Development Council agreed Wednesday to take part in a survey designed to assess the town's business climate. Coordinator Derek Horne said the survey, created by Northeastern University in Boston, covers topics ranging from infrastructure costs to aesthetics to opportunities for retail space. Town officials agreed they'd like to see the survey process completed sometime this fall. A recent workshop on site regulations resulted in plans for a separate public meeting, set to take place Sept. 3. Chairman Stephen Langley said that meeting would serve as the opportunity for the two boards to work together. The result would be an eight-page addition to the town's development guidelines.

Court allows Mount Sunapee expansion

On Friday a state judge ruled that Tim and Diane Mueller, operators of Mount Sunapee Resort, should be allowed to access state land that connects the area with private property purchased by the Muellers with the intent to develop condominiums. The state under Governor John Lynch, fought the development saying that the state should not allow private enterprise to benefit from state lands. The development would be in Goshen and at the March 2014 Town Meeting the town voted to change its zoning to expand the light commercial district to allow for the project.

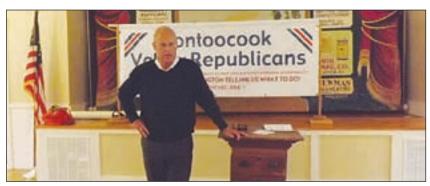

Antrim Police assist in Claremont child pornography & sexual abuse cases

The Antrim Police Department assisted in the investigation leading to the arrest of Ashley Blood, 25, and her husband, Kevin Blood, 25, of Claremont, who were arrested on multiple charges of sexual assault and child pornography. The couple is currently being held at the Sullivan County House of Corrections. Ashley Blood was indicted on two counts of manufacturing images or video of child pornography, and two counts of aggravated felonious sexual assault. She was sentenced to 25 years to life in a plea agreement with prosecutors.

PSNH Scam Alert

Public Service Company of New Hampshire has received complaints from residents in Hillsborough about a recent telephone solicitation. Apparently the caller informs you that there is a new rate change and then asks for the recipient's PSNH account number. Officials warned not to disclose as it could lead to disclosure of more personal information. Thanks to Russ Galpin for this tip.

Kevin Blood was indicted on two counts of manufacturing of child sex abuse images and five counts of aggravated felonious sexual assault on two victims ages one- and four years old. He is scheduled for trial in September. The child pornography charges carry the penalty of 15 to 30 years in state prison and a $4,000 fine. The sexual assault charges carry a prison sentence of 10 to 20 years and a $4,000 fine.

Donations needed for Wilmot Barn Sale

If you want to clear your attic or basement, but don't want the hassle of organizing your own garage sale, then why not donate those items to the Wilmot Community Association's Barn Sale at the Red Barn? The sale will be from 8 to noon on Saturday, August 23 at the Association's Red Barn, 64 Village Road, Wilmot. Items may include kitchenware, collectibles, china, books, framed artwork, linens, decorative pillows, etc. Electronics and clothes will not be accepted. Donations may be dropped off at the WCA's Red Barn from 9 a.m. to noon Monday through Thursday or by appointment. Proceeds from the Barn Sale will support social, educational and recreational programs offered by the WCA, a not-for-profit organization established in 1963. The WCA owns and operates the Red Barn, a community center on Village Road, and Timothy Patten Park, a beach and playground on Shindagan Road.

Couple never intended to claim insurance

Lawyers for Douglas McCahon and Rosemarie Digilio, the Newbury couple charged with arson and conspiracy to commit arson argued for a reduction in bail and eliminate the bail condition that the couple have no contact with each other. McCahon's lawyer argued that his client did not intend to harm anyone, or to collect insurance money on the home that had no mortgage, but wanted to get rid of the house that was difficult to care for and build a camp. Judge Cardillo will give his decision on the couple not having contact with one another after he thoroughly reviews past court cases.

Sunapee purchases a $260,000 tanker

Sunapee Fire Department is getting a new Tanker. The purchase was approved at Town Meeting and voted on unanimously on Monday at the Sunapee Selectboard Meeting. Sunapee Fire Chief Dan Ruggles said the tanker is an E-1 with an International Chassis and air ride suspension and the purchase includes a performance bond and a $2,600 discount if prepaid. Cost of the vehicle is $260,000 and once ordered will take 240 days to build and paint the tanker. The department is currently looking for a buyer for their old tanker which it seeks to sell for $6,000-$10,000.

New officer but no new iPads for Warner Police Department

Warner Town Administrator Jim Bingham reported that the Police Chief has a strong and viable candidate for the vacant police officer position. The Chief asked if it was required to place an ad for the open position. Bingham reviewed the personnel policy and found it was not required. He also checked with the attornies at NH Municipal Association, who informed him that there are no statutes that require placing an ad as well.

The Chief is requesting to waive placing an ad and work with the candidate to see if it will work out. The reason for this request is because, according to Police Standards and Training, if the position is advertised, a full hiring process for every applicant is required.

Chief Chandler also informed Bingham that he will not be replacing the current laptops in the police vehicles with iPads under the new program through the Merrimack County Sheriff's Office.

Due to a dramatic and surprise increase in purchase price and annual technical support service announced at a recent meeting that he attended, the program became financially unfeasible.

The iPads that were originally estimated to cost under $1,000 each are now over $3,800 per unit and the annual fee for tech support is now at $970 for each unit. These new prices were well beyond what was budgeted and the anticipated savings in Dispatch costs that this new program was promising is not sufficient or timely enough to justify the additional expense.

Extend your home to the outdoors

Summer is here and most people are turning their attention to home improvement projects that let them spend more time outside. Ply Gem Windows offers these tips to boost your home's design from the inside out.

▶ Expand your horizons through large windows

Stacked, multi-story windows are a great design feature for homes with a view, and also allow ample natural light to flood the entire space. To add privacy or make a smaller space look bigger, consider adding a picture window combined with casement, double-hung or gliding window styles.

► Create a wall of glass

Expansive bi-parting patio doors create a seamless transition from indoors to outdoors. Mimic the look of a glass wall for a fraction of the cost with options like the Mira Premium Series bi-parting door from Ply Gem Windows.

▶ Take a cue from nature with stone veneer

Consider using stone veneer to enhance an outdoor living space by accenting the exterior walls surrounding a patio door, adding an outdoor fireplace or creating a stone column for a mailbox or fence accent in the front yard.

Projects to make your home shine

Follow these tips to make your home's exterior shine all summer long.

- ▶ Smooth over concrete surfaces. In order to prevent and trips or falls, now is a good time to fix and patch those cracks in the driveway or garage. Be sure to fix them now before they get larger and you could incur larger repair costs.
- ▶ Repaint the deck. Improving your deck, patio or porch is the seventh most popular home improvement project according to RE/MAX and it's easy to see why. When you picture yourself outside on a beautiful summer day, you probably picture yourself sitting on the deck. So, make your deck stand out with a fresh coat of paint.
- ▶ Give your old patio furniture a new look. Why not refresh your patio furniture to complement your deck's new color, too? "Revive any outdoor furniture with an easy spray using the Wagner Flexio 890," says Mead. "With a simple coat of paint you can transform tables, chairs, and anything wicker in any hue or shade you desire."
- ▶ Caulk around the windows. This annual project won't help you enjoy those beautiful summer days, but it will help you survive those sweltering days from the safety of your air-conditioned home.
 - ▶ Make your home's exterior sparkle. If your home suffered any damage during the winter, summer is the perfect time for repairs that will make your home look great again. Walk around your home and look for damaged or missing siding. Replace these pieces and then use a pressure washer to clean and wash away excess dirt and grime. Each of these projects can return between 67 and 112 percent of their value to your home, according to DiGiorgi Roofing and Siding, not to mention the added joy you'll receive from these home improvements. So get out there and get to work. The sooner you finish your project, the sooner you'll be able to enjoy the rest of summer in style. (BPT)

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

What is going on in Hillsboro? We all complain about the Senate and Congress/left and right not getting along, well just look at little ole Hillsboro. You have Mr. Harry Reid in charge of the park board and Mr. John Baner on the board of selectmen and they just can't seem to get together on anything. It's really all about power and who thinks they have the most, while not thinking about the real issue (THE PEOPLE OF HILLSBORO/TAXPAYERS). I, through my business, have an opportunity to communicate with people from our neighboring towns, and the questions I'm asked are 1. Whats going on in Hillsboro. 2. What's happened to Hillsboro, the town's a mess. 3. Thanks to the by-pass we don't have to drive through the downtown area. My feeling is the downtown (center) is no longer. The business district has moved to the west end of town. Some of the factors that define the demise of the center of town are the things that are not being done and the things that have been done. You have the Woods Woolen Factory that still sits undone. Empty buildings around the square (some condemned). A Post Office that is an accident waiting to happen. Lets see John Q. public build a building with no set back to the abutter. Things just don't seem to get done in a timely fashion in Hillsboro. You have a burned out home set until someone buys it and tears it down, and then can't build a house on the property until he jumps through hoops, I guess the town doesn't need the tax dollars? Speaking of tax dollars, wouldn't it be nice if we had a Wal-Mart and all that would have followed. But instead now we need a bus to take people to Concord on a monthly trip to do their shopping, my-my! Believe it or not this is not a letter of criticism but hopefully a wake-up call! Oh, by the way, The Kelly Miller Circus was a huge success (Thank You Lions) and plenty of parking and at 6:30 a.m. on Thurs, the grounds were spotless. The only thing I missed was Jim Tomacchio (but at least no elephants were hit on the head by a ball). You've got to be kidding me Mr. Reid. Thank you for letting me vent.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I wish to thank the Lions Club for bringing the circus to the town of Hillsborough. I have not been to a circus since I was a little girl and I really enjoyed the program. I love animals and the animals looked well fed and well cared for and were not being abused.

I know there was a lot of controversy about the circus coming to town but it appeared to me everything was well planned and ran smoothly. I hope the Lions Club will continue to bring events like this to town. Thank you again.

To the Editor:

Bradford's Independence Day celaboration on July 5 was a huge success, measured by the positive comments I've heard since. Many people have spoken to the friendliness and joy of the day.

One of the events of the day was a dunk tank, with a half hour devoted to "Dunka-Selectman" (me). Since the proceeds of the dunking were going to the First Baptist Church, I thought it well to supplement the $2 for three balls contribution.

I spoke with several local businesses and four of them agreed to pay $10 per dunk, to a maximum of five dunks to support the effort. I was in the tank 12 times so we maxed out the contributions.

My thanks go to Bradford Market, Dunkin Donuts, Lumber Barn and Pizza Chef for their help. Readers, please thank them yourselves on your next visit.

Harry Wright, Selectman, Bradford

Dear Editor:

I have been reading with interest the recent controversy concerning the Hillsborough Park Board as I could not understand why the current board was opposed to expanded programs for our youth and seniors and why Cathy Bennett was so upset with the thought of having Peter Brigham oversee her summer program.

Recently I received a copy of the Payroll Time Sheet for the Summer Program. Not only does it show that Bennett is paid $714 per week for this part-time summer job, the names of the other 34 employees is a shameful list of nepotism and favoritism. Bennett's son is paid $8/hr. Park Board Member Alan Kingsbury's two daughters are paid $10.25 and $9.50/hr. HD school colleagues are equally rewarded. Teacher's Aid Amy Croteau and her daughter are employed as are two children of SAU secretary Connie Sampson who recently failed to disclose this fact when supporting Bennett before the Selectmen. District employees who have relatives on the payroll include SAU employees Terese Rheault, Annette Dolbare and Janette Lochmandy.

Please show me where these positions were advertised and open for anyone to apply for. I am sure that these children do a fantastic job, but that is not the point. In public employment, you don't hire your own kids or your friends', and you don't avoid supervision by hiring your supervisors kids.

Beyond that, Don't shout down the Selectmen for secret back room dealing when you operate your own program this way.

Small town history on display in Washington

Have you ever been to the museum, schoolhouse, and barn of Washington Historical Society? If you have not, you are missing seeing some treasures from the past that would be of interest to all ages, bring your kids/grandkids and guests along.

Within walking distance from the Town Hall is the museum and barn on Half Moon Pond Road. This summer the museum has a special doll and toy exhibit, with a number of dolls over 100 years old. The museum also offers a gift shop that includes handmade items on consignment as well as the Meetinghouse DVD, tiles of the town common in beautiful color, mugs, and medallion sun catchers. Also exhibited are the history of Camp Morgan, which used to be a YMCA camp. a large "barn loom" with weaving in progress, albums of old postcards and photos of Washington and past celebrations, and a square grand piano from Washington which we love people to sit at to play some tunes. Those doing genealogy (looking up their ancestors) will find cemetery books and other genealogical books to peruse.

Immediately next door is the refurbished award winning barn that includes the town's old horse drawn hearse carriage and the winter hearse sled, antique tools of the maple syrup industry, a typical kitchen of the 1800's with a hand pump at the soap stone sink, haying tools, antique appliances and sewing machines, and many other interesting exhibits of rural life in Washington of years ago, something to intrigue folks of all ages.

We are open from 10-2 pm every Saturday in July and August.

It is a great place to visit right after the farmers' market on the green.

The schoolhouse in East Washington (east of Eccardt Farm) has the same books, maps, and furniture the way it was back when it closed in the 1930's. Imagine maps of the world where there was no Iran or Iraq, maps of the US before some states existed, and maps of Africa before there were any countries! Older desks have been added from a brick school in the town, and study books are at each desk to be enjoyed. You'd enjoy the rules for teachers that no teacher today would tolerate. The schoolhouse is open on Saturdays in July and August from 1-3PM. A good stop if you are on a bicycle ride through the countryside!

Don't miss out on these treasures in our own backyard.

No admission fees, we run on donations.

For further information or to make an appointment to visit at other times, call Gwen Gaskell at 495-3231.

Sutton man evades State Police - hits three vehicles

State police say a 21-year-old drunken driver faces several charges after he struck a trooper and led police on a chase.

According to authorities, a trooper was outside her cruiser directing traffic near the New Hampshire Motor Speedway entrance on Sunday evening when she attempted to pull over a red Chevrolet Silverado driven by Damian Biron, of North Sutton.

Police said Biron refused to stop and steered toward the trooper, who moved out of the way. Biron then struck another trooper with his truck three times.

Police said Biron hit a vehicle and sped off along Route 106 southbound. About a mile down the highway, Biron hit another vehicle, launching it 20 feet off the road.

The Chevy sustained heavy front-end damage, and Biron tried to flee the scene on foot, according to authorities. He was taken into custody shortly after.

Biron faces several charges, including driving while intoxicated, two counts of felony reckless conduct, two counts of disobeying an officer, two counts of criminal threatening and three counts of simple assault.

Police said there were two other people in the truck who were taken to the hospital and treated for non-life-threatening injuries.

Why you should use a travel agent:

We had a lively debate recently on the merits of whether to use a live travel agent to book your vacation or to go it alone by using the Internet. Here are some of the reasons to consider a personal travel consultant.

- 1. You've Googled "Mexico vacation," and come up with 17.8 million responses. Need a little help editing those choices?
- 2. Remember when you used that obscure website to book your hotel, and when you got there you spent your beach vacation overlooking a parking lot?
- 3. How many hours were you on hold with the airline when your flight was canceled because of a snowstorm?
- 4. Did you really mean to spend your honeymoon at that resort whose one tiny pool was filled all day with 12 screaming children?
- 5. Who knew that when you booked that "villa" in Tuscany, it would be a small room with a kitchenette and no air conditioning? Funny, it looked much better on your computer screen.
- 6. No one explained to you that in July, it's winter time in Rio, and so you showed up there with nothing but five Hawaiian shirts and three pairs of swimming trunks.
- 7. How about the time you really needed a restful vacation, and you ended up in New Orleans during Mardi Gras and someone threw up on your shoes?
- 8. Yes, I guess that hotel must have used a telephoto lens when they took a picture of those guest rooms that you saw on their website.
- 9. I suppose contacting the Attorney General to resolve the fact that that Internet site has billed your credit card three times instead of once is the only route to take at this point.
- 10. It was definitely odd that there were no cab drivers at the airport at 3 o'clock in the morning when you finally landed in Costa Rica, but booking a transfer to your very remote hotel would have been a good thing to remember when you purchased your airline ticket and hotel online.

Disposal of ashes ignites Sunapee fire

Improper disposal of ashes from a meat smoker started a fire on Burkhaven Hill Road in Sunapee just before 10:30 Sunday night. Sunapee Fire Chief Dan Ruggles says Newport, Newbury, and New London were called for mutual aid but were sent back since the fire was out when Sunapee Fire Department arrived. Chief Ruggles says improper disposal of ashes cause two – three fires a year.
