ConVal's Unified Soccer takes the field

ConVal fielded its first-ever unified soccer team when it took the field against Nashua. As fate would have it, the debut was even more special as they won the game, 8-5. Dylan Coyne scored the team's first goal in the opening minutes and finished with five goals. Brandon Chase scored twice and Garrett Shows tallied a goal. Unified Sports focus' on offering students with various disabilities an opportunity to compete, but also focus' on inclusion, by including a few partners to assist the other athletes. Becoming a partner for a unified team is a huge undertaking for a student, as it means they are not eligible to compete in another varsity sport for that season.

Ausbon Sargent conserves Warner tract

The Ausbon Sargent Land Preservation Trust continues in its mission to help preserve the rural landscape by adding the Lennon Conservation Easement in Warner to its list of protected properties on September 18, 2015. With the addition of this property, Ausbon Sargent now conserves 137 properties comprising 11,066 acres of land in its 12-town region. Mark Lennon bought the property on Pumpkin Hill in 1990 and has spent years clearing fields and thinning an overgrowth of pines from his forests. He states that "conservation was always part of my plan" and on September 18th, Mark successfully placed an easement on the property with Ausbon Sargent. The 26.46-acre Lennon Conservation Easement has over 424 feet of frontage on Pumpkin Hill Road. It protects scenic views over the property that are accessible using an adjacent Class VI road and also allows for low impact pedestrian public recreation on the trails. The property is listed as Highest Ranked Habitat in New Hampshire, protecting abundant wildlife such as deer, moose, bear, turkeys, grouse and the beaver found in the beaver pond wetlands at the edge of the Lennon property. Conserving this acreage also protects valuable forestry soils.

Newport Child Pornography

A 49-year-old Newport man has been charged with possession of child pornography as the result of a joint cyber-probe with the FBI. Newport Police, armed with a search warrant, raided a house at 8 Roseland Rd. Monday where they arrested Allen Langlois and seized computers and various storage devices, police said. Police said Langlois was interviewed at the scene and made admissions to using the Internet to access websites of children engaged in "sexually explicit conduct." He also said he had images saved to his computer. Langlois posted $10,000 bail and has been released. He faces up to seven years in prison if convicted.

Weare Woman's DWI arrest

Patricia Joseph, 39, of Lufkin Road in Weare, was arrested in Concord for driving while intoxicated. An officer reportedly saw a vehicle stop on Park Street and then cross in front of a car on North State Street causing it to brake quickly and honk its horn. The officer stated that "the operator's speech was slurred and that she didn't even see the car coming," according to the report. The officer walked up to the vehicle and spoke with the driver, who was smoking. The two discussed the issue at the stop sign and he alleged that she had slurred speech and red puffy eyes. Joseph agreed to perform field sobriety tests and was then arrested.

Warner Disorderly Conduct

Tyler Whittemore, 18, of Kearsarge Mountain Road in Warner, was arrested in Concord for criminal mischief and disorderly conduct. Officers were sent to the Hitchcock Clinic on Pleasant Street for a subject who was "acting irrationally, screaming, and broke items inside the hospital." When officers arrived, he had left the building but was found in the parking lot. According to witnesses, he allegedly punched a hand sanitizer dispenser that was mounted on a wall. When officers approached him, he allegedly began waving his arms around and tried to pick a fight with the officer.
