Help the Lions Club feed our needy neighbors this Christmas

Messenger publisher Leigh Bosse is pleased to announce that for the 21st consecutive year, The Messenger, in conjunction with the Hillsboro Lions Club, will be conducting its annual appeal to readers to fund the distribution of Christmas Food Baskets to needy families in the area.

For several years, Hillsboro churches, with donations from area Civic groups, had distributed approximately 100 holiday food baskets to needy families three times each year; at Thanksgiving, Christmas and again at Easter. In the fall of 1994, it was decided to concentrate on Thanksgiving and Easter, primarily because of lack of funds.

Realizing the tremendous hardship that would result, the local Lions Club and The Messenger agreed to step forward and provide this service each Christmas season. Individuals or organizations who wish to contribute to this neighbor to neighbor project may do so by sending their check, payable to "Lions Food Baskets," to The Messenger, P.O. Box 1190, Hillsborough, NH 03244.

In this economy, donations of any size are urgently needed. Those who donate to this worthwhile program will be recognized by having their names published in a future edition of The Messenger.

Combining Newport town & school finances delayed

Newport Select Board Chair Gary Nichols reported that further investigation into the feasibility of combining School District and Town finances has been put on hold until the question of withdrawal from SAU 43 has been settled.

Jeff Kessler noted that the School Board would have to budget additional funds to support the SAU budget should the withdrawal take place, and suggested that discussions on combining finances should begin prior to the vote.

Nichols reported that the deadline for introducing legislative bills was September 30, so it appears to be too late to introduce 2016 legislation to allow towns and school districts to combine financial resources. Superintendent Gallagher and Nichols expressed disappointment that Newport's legislators had not introduced the necessary bi11(s) following earlier discussions with them.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved Xtoro (finafloxacin otic suspension), a new drug used to treat acute otitis externa, commonly known as swimmer's ear. Acute otitis externa is an infection in the outer ear and ear canal, usually caused by bacteria in the ear canal. Activities in which the ear is underwater can create a moist environment where bacteria may sometimes grow. The infection causes inflammation of the ear canal leading to pain, swelling, redness of the ear and discharge from the ear.

A National Institute of Health white paper published in the Annals of Internal Medicine finds little to no evidence for the effectiveness of opioid drugs in the treatment of long-term chronic pain, despite the explosive recent growth in the use of the drugs. The paper finds that many of the studies used to justify the prescription of these drugs were either poorly conducted or of an insufficient duration. An NIH white paper finds little to no evidence for the effectiveness of opioid drugs in the treatment of long-term chronic pain. Yet despite this, prescriptions for opioid drugs (also known as opiate drugs; the two terms are technically distinct, but most physicians use them interchangeably) have more than tripled in the past 20 years, with more than 219 million prescriptions written in 2011, according to the study. At the same time, the abuse of these drugs has also skyrocketed, leading some to refer to prescription drug abuse as an epidemic. More than 16,000 people died from prescription opioid overdoses in 2012, according to the Centers for Disease Control, and drug overdose now causes more deaths than motor vehicle accidents for people ages 25-64. This level of opioid use and abuse is unprecedented in the world: the United States, with just 4.6 percent of the world's population, consumes 80 percent of the world's opioid drugs.

Popular Hillsborough couple dies in head-to-head collision

A Hillsborough couple was killed when an SUV hit their vehicle head-on along Route 9, in Antrim.

According to state police, Withington was driving a white 1997 RAV4 with Bouchard in the passenger seat when a westbound Kia Sorrento, driven by Liam P. Flaherty, 18, of Farmington, NY veered off the road to the right, swerved back to the left and continued across to the eastbound lane where they collided.

Janet Withington, 67, and James Bouchard, 63, died from injuries suffered in the accident, while Flaherty did not appear to have any injuries. Bouchard was pronounced dead at the scene, while Withington was taken to Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center, where she died a short time later. Withington worked as a nurse at Concord Hospital's Family Tree Health Care facility in Hopkinton. She and Bouchard were well known throughout Hillsborough. A spontaneous vigil held Sunday night for the couple was attended by more than 60 people. The cause of the crash remains under investigation. Police said it does not appear that drugs or alcohol were factors. Anyone with information is asked to call State Police Trooper Thomas Conlon at 223-8614.

Jim Bouchard & Janet Withington

~ A Tribute to Jim and Janet ~

Jim and Janet Bouchard were two of the finest people the Good Lord ever happened to create. Janet was the quiet, somewhat reserved, of the two, however quick to correct you if circumstances or dialogue required it. A lady of extraordinary ambition and a true taskmaster (as defined by Jim) she would be quick to engage Jim in whatever activity she felt needed to be accomplished, be it mowing the lawns, trimming the trees or splitting and stacking wood. She generally set the pace and Jim would follow. He might sputter a bit but he loved every minute of it. On days that Janet was at the clinic Jim would peruse the neighborhood to see if he could be of assistance to anyone, perhaps a casual visit to his many friends, Larry and Penny, Scott, check on Lorraine or maybe a journey to Plainfield to see what "Poo" was up to.

Jim's playground was comprised of the entire Hillsboro Center, Hillsboro Proper, as well as any real estate his Toyota pick-up might carry him to; at the end of this journey he would eagerly enter into conversation with friends or strangers or help anyone needing assistance, expecting only a handshake or smile as payment. During the summer months Jim would serve as "project manager" for kids looking for part time work; or summer employment. The "Bouchard Boys" could be counted on to get the job done; Byron Welch always looked forward to Jim's "Lunch leadership."

No truer friends could anyone hope to have. They were just "people"; down to earth, honest and as trustworthy a couple as God ever hoped to create. We wonder "why" it was necessary for this harmless yet loving couple be taken from us; I have no answer and it is doubtful that anyone has. Life's mysteries are far too complex for anyone to understand. Simply said, they were just everyone's "best friends".

Peterborough merchants participating in "Cider Monday"

Cider Monday? Incider enthusiasts are preparing for the third annual celebration of Cider Monday on November 30th. Cider Monday is a direct and delicious assault on the Monday after Thanksgiving known as the infamous Cyber Monday. Participating local stores will offer shoppers a warm welcome and a cup of delicious cider.

Referred to in the media as Cyber Monday, much news is made of the gigantic surge in online Christmas spending that begins that day. However incider traders are already warning of drastic declines in online purchases due to Cider Monday as people abandon the virtual world of their computers and smart phones for the smarter still experience of a trip into the real world. Shoppers are promised cider, smiling servers that will not crash, personal service and advice, the opportunity to touch and try before adding to their cart (err... armful), no logins or passwords to remember, payment in cash if desired, and always free freight. Simply take your purchases home with you at no extra charge.

Shoppers everywhere are encouraged to take a bite and wash it down with a cup of cider knowing that they are helping to grow the local economy.

Cider will be served with thanks at over 15 stores in Peterborough including Alice Blue, Bowerbird, European Es-thetics, Grove & Main, Hobbs Jewelers, Joseph's Coat, Maggies, Miranda's On Main, Monadnock Oil & Vinegar, Paper & Roses, Peterborough Art Academy, Peterborough Shoe Store, Sarah's Hat Boxes, Sharon Arts Center, Steele's, The Toadstool Bookshop, Treat Goods, Tribals Rugs, and Underneath It All.

Weare Middle School students learn on several musical instruments

Middle school music programs are special to Brian Fanning. After all, that's when he discovered his own love of music and began playing the trumpet. "And, by the time I was in high school, I knew I wanted to teach music as my life's work," said the soft-spoken Fanning. "Since my love of music began in middle school, it is kind of special to me to be able to work with students of that same age."

Fanning teaches students three distinct instruments during each quarter they have music: guitar, African drum, and keyboard. He also teaches general music to Upper Elementary School fourth grade students as well as directing four Weare Middle School ensembles: chorus, band, beginning band, and guitar. Even with this very busy schedule, he is already thinking of ways he'd like to add more offerings for students.

"Since arriving, I've discovered that the school has a dozen or more ukuleles, so I'd like to add a ukulele unit to a grade offering," said Fanning. Maximizing what is available seems to be one of Fanning's strong suits as he would also like to utilize the Unified Arts Team's Chromebooks to incorporate more technology into some of his upper level classes. "There's a great website for music composition that allows kids to see how music is progressing—not the usual musical staff on paper writing, but it uses visuals. I'd like to have my students try it," continued Fanning.

Not being afraid to try new things also seems to be part of Brian Fanning's repertoire. "When I got here, I offered violin, but only had two takers, so I offered guitar and have five guitar students," he said. He's also a big fan of recruiting students. "I tend to stand in the hallway as classes pass. You know, get my face out there so students get to know the new teacher and maybe ask me a question about music."

A New Hampshire native, Fanning comes to the Weare Middle School from the Freedom Elementary School. He earned both his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from UNH, and, while in college, he also studied in the Netherlands for a semester at University College Utrecht. "It's curious," notes Fanning, "as the other music teacher in the building, Mrs. Wilhemina Bodine, and I often collaborate as she teaches the 5th grade music classes. She's Dutch. Just one of those little coincidences that make life interesting," said Fanning.

Outside of school, he sings with the Manchester Choral Society and his instrument of choice is the oboe, though he prefers to play oboe in bands, not the standard orchestra that most would attribute to an oboist's style of play. His passion outside of music is, well, outside. He loves to hike and has already summited 25 of the 48 peaks in New Hampshire over 4,000 feet.

When asked what he likes best about being at the Weare Middle School (besides the students) he says, "I like being part of the Unified Arts Team because we often collaborate, and I like the space. The space we have here for music and the resources we have at this school. It's great," concluded Fanning.

Goffstown High School Art Club's Jewelry & Handcraft Sale

Designing, making and selling jewelry and handcrafted items is the Goffstown High School Art Club's main fundraiser and the group is preparing to hold its sixth annual Jewelry and Handcraft sales, in December. Members started working on new items for the sale this past spring. Since then they have been working on jewelry pieces such as: earrings, bracelets, necklaces, vintage magnets, gift tags, gloves, hats and scarves. The items that are for sale make wonderful gifts for the upcoming holidays or as a special treat for yourself. Many pieces of jewelry are made from up-cycled items, so they help take the burden off of our landfills. Everything is very affordable with the majority of products being priced from $2.00 to $12.00. A few specialty designs are priced up to $15.00.

New product for sale this year- colorful hand painted canvases are $25 each and sure to be a focal point in the area where each is displayed. The Art Club members have been working during their PREP periods, after school and late into the evening to create unique pieces for this fundraiser. All of the money raised goes to support the nearly forty club members so that they can continue to have enriching and interesting after school arts activities every Tuesday during the school year. The sale will be held at Goffstown High School on Thursday, Dec. 3rd from 2-6 p.m. and Friday, Dec. 4th, noon-6 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 5th 9-1 p.m. Also, Friday, December 11, 2-6 p.m. The club advisor, Ava Lane, Art Club officers, and Art Club members will be there to assist you in your purchases.

Franklin's Mayor Merrifield supports Northern Pass

Franklin Mayor Ken Merrifield has blasted a lawsuit brought against the Northern Pass project by the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests as "a threat to the "decades-old" state policy of using public rights-of-way for beneficial uses." "What they are asking a judge to do," Merrifield said, "presents a serious threat to the state, municipalities and thousands of private landowners. The state has a long-standing policy that utilities can use the rights-of-way along public roads."

A direct current transfer station in Franklin is part of the Northern Pass plan. The station would bring the city, which has an annual budget of about $10 million, more than $7 million a year in tax revenues.

Merrifield said the Forest Society suit "undermines the efforts of the city of Franklin to continue to build our local economy, improve our infrastructure, support our schools, and bring needed relief to the taxpayers."

DIVISION I CHAMPIONSHIP

Goffstown 42 Exeter 14: Casey Gervais and Connor Bourque each rushed for three touchdowns as the Goffstown Grizzlies won their first state championship by beating Exeter, 42-14. Bourque rushed for a game-high 211 yards on 24 carries, including a 44-yard TD run cot open the third quarter and gave the Grizzlies a 21-14 lead they refused to surrender. Gervais gained 76 yards on 12 carries, with 3 TD's and completed three of his five passes for 18 yards. It was tied 14-14 at halftime, but Goffstown scored twice in the third and added two more TDs in the fourth. The Grizzlies finished their season with a 12-0 record. Their only other appearance in a championship game came in 2012, when it lost to Portsmouth in the Division III title game.

Bow's Doug Champagne won the Division III individual golf championship this fall while leading the Falcons to the team title and was named D-III Player of the Year by the division's coaches. It was Bow's fourth consecutive title, marked by 93 consecutive wins.

DIVISION III CHAMPIONSHIP

Newport 34 Inter-Lakes/Moultonborough 14: The Newport Tigers avenged last year's lone loss, in the title game, putting the finishing touches on an 11-0 season beating Inter-Lakes/Moultonborough 48-14 to capture the Division III Championship. It was the Tiger's ninth title and the first since 2010. Noah Wade scored five touchdowns and ran for 274 of Newport's 362 yards of total offense. Wade scored four of his touchdowns in the first two quarters to help give the Tigers a 34-14 lead at halftime. Wade's final TD was a 51-yard to open the second half.

Hundreds of people bought skis, snowboards, boats and other winter sports equipment at the annual Mount Sunapee Ski Club ski swap. Money raised at the swap is used by the ski club for ski race scholarships, the Newport ski jump and other ski related activities. Paul Howe photo.
