Bow High School student urges her colleagues to stay 'Drug Free'

A senior at Bow High School is trying to raise awareness about the effects of drug addiction. Mia Forrest dedicated her senior project to encouraging all students to be drug-free. To help get the message across, her brother, who's in recovery, spoke at the school.

Forrest said her family has been through a lot, but now that her brother is in recovery, they're speaking out in hopes of saving others.

"When I was younger, I remember scary things happening, but not necessarily being in those scary things," she said. "Our parents sheltered us very much."

She said that her brother, Jordan Forrest, became addicted to drugs at the age of 14 when he was a freshman at the school.

"When you do drugs, it's an addiction, it's a disease, and it's something that can be fixed with the right treatment," she said.

Mia Forrest held an event at the school to help draw attention to the drug problem, and her brother was the guest speaker.

"I am not telling anyone to say no to drugs, but what I am saying is that if you choose to do drugs and want to get into that lifestyle, this is my experience and what I found to be true," he said.

Jordan Forrest's message was simple. He said that using drugs ruined his life.

"We aren't talking about the choice to use drugs daily," he said. "We are talking about a disease of addiction that is causing people to rob, steal, cheat, lie and die for this drug, for any drug."

He said he used marijuana and cocaine before eventually turning to heroin.

"The only way we are going to be able to take care of this is to make a lifestyle change and teaching that from as young as 8 and 9 years old, that these are the choices you have, and if you see something, say something," he said.

Mia Forrest is asking all students to encourage each other to stay drug-free, like she plans on doing.

"My pledge is to stay substance-free, so I don't have to put my family through this and I don't have to put myself through this," she said.

She also collected toiletries for people battling addiction in recovery centers. She said she wants to make sure they know that people care about them and their journey to recovery.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

Medications that mimic caloric restriction such as metformin hydrochloride can reduce the risk of some late age-onset disease. It is unknown whether these caloric mimetic drugs affect the risk of age-associated eye diseases such as macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy, cataract or glaucoma. However, taking the medication metformin hydrochloride was associated with reduced risk of developing the sight-threatening disease open-angle glaucoma in people with diabetes, according to a study published online by JAMA Ophthalmology.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved Avelox (moxifloxacin) to treat patients with plague, a rare and potentially fatal bacterial infection. The agency approval for plague includes use of the drug for the treatment of pneumonic plague (infection of the lungs), and septicemic plague (infection of the blood). Avelox is also approved for prevention of plague in adult patients. Plague is extremely rare in most parts of the world, including the United States, with 1,000 to 2,000 cases worldwide each year. The three most common forms of plague are bubonic plague (infection of the lymph nodes), pneumonic plague and septicemic plague. Plague can be spread to humans through bites from infected fleas, contact with infected animals or humans, or laboratory exposure. The bacterium that causes plague, Yersinia pestis, is considered a biological threat agent that could potentially be used as a bioterrorism agent.

The Tooky Mills Henniker Huskies Mites arrived in Dover with fire in their hearts once again. If there was a score to be kept, it would likely not have resulted in a win for the Huskies. The goals that were scored by the Huskies were followed by a new display of celebration by #6, Jackson Lochmandy. The 1st goal he scored had Lochmandy showing his enthusiasm with a dance that was reminiscent of a celebration seen at the prior night's Michigan State Football game. The Mites continued to show their pride as #7 Brie Cyr had her first career start in net and looked pretty good. Overall a great set of games.

December for the Tooky Mills Henniker Huskies Mites means more Sundays in Dover. The Huskies held their ground for 2 cross-ice games with #4 Evelyn Hopper in net. Hopper made a number of impressive saves for her first time as the Goalie. It seems that we have another Hopper in the program to watch along with her older brother, #6 on the Squirt team, Zach Hopper. Another one to watch is up and coming #12 Remy Colon. This fan is looking forward to seeing him do great things. The team was joined by newcomer, #9 Bishop Benham and he has made a very nice addition to the team! Even though #38 Joshua Arlen suffered a minor shoulder injury in the 1st game, he came out with determination part of the way through the 2nd game.
