Dunkin Jenkins Trustees propose an H-D Performing Arts Auditorium

The Duncan Jenkins Trustees hope to create a more lasting legacy to Sally Jenkins for the generous gift to the communities of Washington, Hillsboro and Deering.

Duncan Jenkins, in conjunction with the Administration of the Hillsboro Deering School system, is proposing the construction of a new building on campus that will contain an auditorium, band room, music studio, art studio and gallery for the advancement of the arts and a large multi-purpose room.

The auditorium will provide a space to further promote the performing arts in our communities. It will serve the district as well as the communities to provide a space for the arts to flourish.

The additional arts space will free up much needed space in the high school so that many of the Voc ED classes may be moved back on campus; and the multi-purpose room will provide a location for the seniors and other groups to meet in town on a regular basis.

To accomplish this the Duncan Jenkins committee is prepared to offer significant financial support in the construction of the building as well as financial assistance in the day to day running of the new building. Due to many reasons the window on this offer is limited.

The preliminary cost of this building is unknown but from internet searches we anticipate the cost to be between 5 and 10M. If the school board decides to move forward on this proposal:

Form a subcommittee of the board for the purpose of researching an appropriate site and building plan.

Perform a feasibility study for above item which we believe will cost the district between 50 and 100K.

Once the above items are completed the Duncan Jenkins committee will determine the level of financial support they are willing to commit to.

If the school board accepts the amount the DJ committee will petition the courts for the funds to distribute pending a positive vote from the public.

We bring it to the public for a vote on the bond to cover the district portion. The only condition placed on the funds besides the appropriate use is that the Dunkin Jenkins committee will have naming rights to the new building. A possible name being considered is Duncan Jenkins Center for the Performing Arts.

Superintendent Robert Hassett (l) and School Board Chair Rich Pellitier (r) congratulate retiring H-D staff, Heidi Welch (20 years) and Peg Scarcello (18 years). Not present were Lee Kriester Ganung (30 years), Melanie McCoy (26 years) and Leslie Browning (22 years).

Deering OK's converting town garage to LED lighting

The Deering Select Board discussed awarding the bid to change to LED lighting in the Highway Garage as has been done at the Town Office. The Town has realized a nearly 25% energy saving at the Town Office since changing the lighting and windows and bids went out for new lighting at the Garage. After reviewing two bids, it was decided that Revision Energy (the same company that did the Town Office) had the best bid as it included rather than trying to retrofit old ones. Therefore the Board voted $11,614.00 to the Concord firm. The Board will continue to look at solar panels to be installed.

The Board praised Diane Kendall for achieving her designation of Certified Public Supervisor and voted to pay her training to become a Certified Public Manager.

Hometown boy joins the New Boston Police Department

Tyler Ruggiero is 21 years old and completed his Associates Degree in Criminal Justice just a few weeks ago at NHTI in Concord. As part of his degree, he also completed a 120 hour internship with our agency. Tyler is an Eagle Scout, having appeared before the Select Board as part of his project, and was raised here in New Boston. Tyler was also part of the "explorer" program with Goffstown PD while he attended high school, so he has had significant exposure to Law Enforcement despite being only 21.

As part of the hiring process, Tyler completed the same standards as Officer

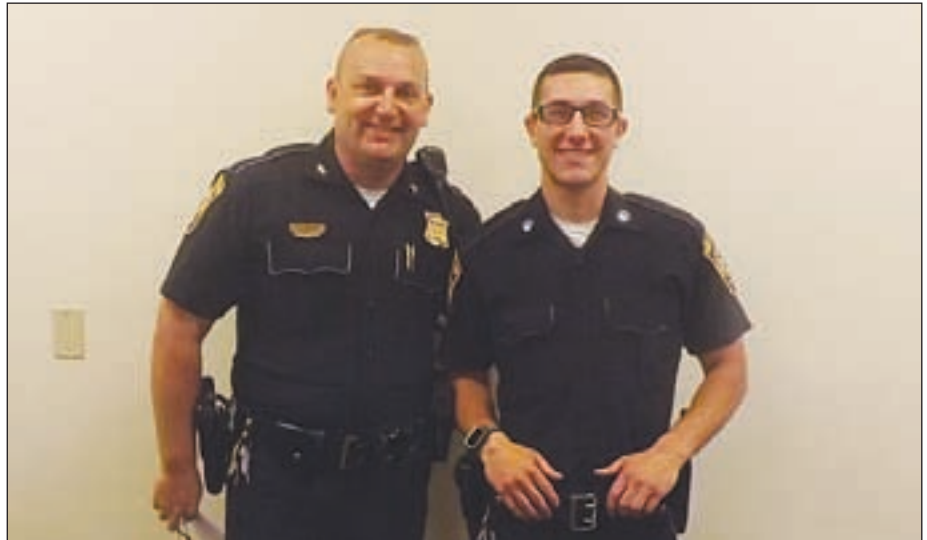

Gauvin; which included the written and physical test, an oral board, a comprehensive background investigation, medical, polygraph, and psychological testing. Tyler successfully completed each step and was highly recommended by his peers.

Having had the opportunity to evaluate his performance during his 120 hour internship, the members of the Department also recommended him for the position.

The selectmen unanimously approved and he was sworn in Monday evening.

H-D School Board rejects policy changes

At Monday's meeting, policy committee member Steve Hahn and Chris Bober proposed an amendment that would require members of the public to preview their comments before the Superintendent before being put on the agenda and allowed to speak at a School Board meeting. Superintendent Hasset supported the amendment saying the Chairman should be able to stop someone from discussing issues that might not be appropriate and the proposed policy would "give teeth" to that. After much discussion, public input and a couple of amendments, Chairman Pelletier made a motion to remove the entire paragraph from the new policy and by a 3-2 vote that language was deleted and the new policy was approved by the same 3-2 vote, with Bober and Hahn objecting.

Costanzo also holds a master's degree in education with a concentration in secondary English language arts from the University of Massachusetts Boston. She is currently enrolled in a doctorate program for educational leadership at New England College.

Milk tanker rollover closes Tilton Exit 20

A driver was injured when a commercial vehicle carrying milk rolled over Tuesday morning on Interstate 93 in Tilton. While driving onto the Exit 20 ramp on the southbound side of the highway, the tanker left the paved portion of the road and rolled over, coming to rest on its side. The 64-year-old driver was transported to Concord Hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. The tanker, which is registered to Mountain Milk, of North Haverhill, was hauling a full load of milk. It spilled about 3,500 to 4,000 gallons of milk in the crash.

Mount Sunapee Resort will soon be sold

Colorado's Vail Resorts Inc. has announced plans to buy the parent company of Mount Sunapee Resort in Newbury. Henniker Select Board approves 'deduct meters' for sewer charges

The Henniker Select Board held a productive meeting Tuesday evening. At the suggestion of Mike Lambert, the Board reestablished the Trails Committee to develop, map and maintain trails for hiking, snowmobiles, mountain bikes and OHRVs.

They adopted Vice Chair Tia Hooper's draft of an Administrative Police on Deduct Meters without change, awarded a crack sealing contract to HW Dow for $18,500, approved Police Chief Matt French's grant request for a $2,700 contract with NH Fish & Game for OHRV trail patrols and hired Kyle Parker as part-time Building Inspector.

The Energy Committee reported that the town currently spends $19,260 on street lighting which could be reduced by 45.1% to $10,582 by converting to LED lights. The committee recommended signing a contract with Affinity LED to do the job.

Member Leo Parker objected because the committee only dealt with one company, and Chair Kris Blomback suggested Eversource be asked if it could do the job. Questions were also raised as to who would perform needed maintenance on the new lights.

The Board asked the committee to return with these answers as well as a draft contract with Affinity.

The North East Resource and Recovery Association has named Henniker Transfer Station/Recycling Center Manager Kristen Bergeron (l) as "Rookie of the Year." She was nominated by Joan O'Connor (r).

A supplement that combines antioxidants with zinc and copper is a relatively inexpensive and effective means of halting progression of the 'wet' form of age-related macular degeneration (AMD), a degenerative eye disease, concludes research published online in the British Journal of Ophthalmology. In 'wet' AMD, abnormal blood vessels grow underneath the retina. These vessels can leak fluid and blood, which can damage the macula — the part of the retina responsible for central vision. But the drugs (anti-VEGF therapies) currently used to treat 'wet' AMD are expensive and have been linked to heightened risk of inflammation of the inside of the eye (endophthalmitis) and possibly stroke as well.

Antibiotics prescribed by dentists may contribute to the growing problem of Clostridium difficile (C. diff), a serious and potentially deadly infection that causes severe diarrhea, suggests research presented at a recent Infectious Diseases Society of America conference. And many of those antibiotics are likely unnecessary, researchers note. Taking antibiotics can put patients at risk for developing C. diff and illustrates the importance of using the medications only when needed.

A new study ranking the safety and effectiveness of four drugs taken to enhance concentration, memory, alertness and moods found that donepezil was most likely to effectively improve cognition in patients with Alzheimer's dementia. However, patients who took donepezil were more likely to experience side effects including nausea, vomiting and diarrhea than those who received a placebo, according to the study, published online in the Journal of the American Geriatrics Society. In 2015, 46 million people worldwide had Alzheimer's disease, according to the study.

Publisher's Perspective by Leigh Bosse

Certainly, We Can Do Better

Last week, I read a story in the Union Leader detailing how city crews cleared out homeless camps along the Merrimack River, telling homeless people to move on. Officials placed signs along the river alerting residents that personal property would be removed, and then moved in and picked up the area. This story highlights two connected problems, neither of which we are handling well.

1. Certainly these homeless camps are unsightly and panhandlers can be annoying, but these are human beings who have fallen on hard times for one of a number of reasons, War veterans who suffer from PTSD, unemployed, homeless, drug addicted, or mental health issues. Regardless of their issues, they are our neighbors and we are failing them. It is not enough to evict them from public places. Even if we won't feed, clothe or care for them, at least we can provide a safe place for them to camp out.

2. Their plight is contrasted and exacerbated by our treatment of illegal aliens. Let it be said from the beginning: the vast majority of these immigrants are good people seeking to share in the American Dream. They are however, here illegally. American taxpayers are already struggling to care for our disadvantaged citizens. We are a caring and compassionate people, but we can not continue to feed, clothe, house, heal and educate the flood of immigrants at the expense of our own.

Common Sense Conservative

By JP Marzullo

When is Freedom of Speech disrespectful? I'm sure that you have seen the "hateful" words spoken by some who say that they are "comedians" and that it is humor. I'm sorry but I don't care who you are the hateful comments about politicians and individuals who serve our country are out of control. "In God We Trust" is on our currency yet as a Christian, I am wondering if people really understand that? If we trust God why is the morality of our great country deteriorating? Have the entertainment community and our personal pleasures influenced us and they have become our Gods? I wonder what our young people would say if you asked them who their idols were, are there any that are not celebrities in sports, TV or in the Movies? I must admit that I had some sports figures that I idolized but none that had been domestic abusers, or drug users. We seem to give some of these people a "pass." We are concerned about children being born out of wedlock yet there are many celebrities who do that on a routine basis with different men, and that is ok? What type of example is that for our young girls? When the Bic Pen was introduced to the marketplace I remember stating that we will become a throwaway generation, now we throw away TV's and Radio's instead of having them fixed. Technology has forced us to replace rather than repair and I'm not certain that is a good thing. We seem to have the same attitude with Life itself, I could not believe that we were actually passing a law to allow abortions, and now Ireland has done the same thing, what's next, if you are over 70 years old you should be put to death because you are no longer contributing to society? You do know that we all get old right? Instead of bowing to the demands of the young, how about we let them learn from those who have experience and discuss solutions that will work? They are really smarter than you think if they have the right guidance. It doesn't appear that parents are parenting anymore and they claim it's because of the fact that both parents have to work. I have some news for you who say that; most of those of us who came from "blue collar" families had parents who both worked as well. The difference seems to be that we were not "coddled" as children but when we did something wrong or disrespectful we were punished, and yes, maybe even spanked, it's called "tough love."

Maybe it's time to get back to that and actually become parents rather than "pals" to our children believe it or not they might respect you more. Now back to my original comments, what is Freedom of Speech? Does it mean we can say anything we want to people and disrespect them, lie about them and yes even make hateful comments? Just think for a moment if there was no Facebook, Twitter, Instagram or whatever the most current social media venue is would we actually say that to someone "face-to-face?"

I doubt ► it, so why do we think it is OK to Bully and attack them on social media? We have gone astray as a country and it is time to begin to act like humans who care for each other. I truly believe if we do, there will be less violence, bullying and hate in the world. "In God We Trust."

Jack Dearborn led the opposition as several residents yielded their 3 minutes to him in order to complete his comments.

300 tons per day of solid waste in Weare

The Waste Management Division of the NH Department of Environmental Services held a public hearing Wednesday on Granite State Recycling's application to construct a 300 ton/day collection/transfer facility for single stream recyclables, municipal solid waste, along with construction and demolition debris at 33 B&B Lane in Weare.

Todd Moore from DES explained the permitting procedure and Engineer Michael Penny, representing the applicant, spoke of how the company is working to limit litter, odors and noise, which did little to appease the crowd of about 50 residents.

Jack Dearborn came armed with surveys of the plan approved by the Weare Planning Board in 2017 and the current plan. Pointing out the differences, he questioned how the business changed from a "Mom & Pop" operation to a 400 ton per day mega facility. Planning Board Vice Chair Bruce Fulmore told the panel that the current application violates many conditions of the local board's approval. His remarks were echoed by Planning Board members Tom Clow, who said the two plans, "Don't match up" and Neal Kirk who submitted a lengthy letter outlining the violations of both the Weare approvals and DES's regulations.

Dearborn seemed to sum up the crowd's feelings when he asked DES to deny the application as "inconsistent and non compliant" with the Weare conditions.

Hillsborough Police host K9 Certification

On June 23 and 24th between 8 AM and 4 PM, the Hillsboro Police Department will be hosting the New England Regional Police Canine certification event. This event will be taking place at the Hillsboro Deering High School campus. The area right around the High School fields will be shut down for "dog walking" activity to our residents, otherwise all spectators are welcome to stop by and watch the event at no cost.
