Show Me The Money

Dunbarton taxpayers sue to block special meeting

A group of Dunbarton taxpayers, led by State Rep. JR Hoell has brought suit demanding the immediate, full return of the $1 million in taxes wrongfully collected, as a one-time tax break.

The school district had petitioned the Merrimack County Superior Court, under RSA 197:3, which states that a school board must petition for a special meeting in cases of emergencies including an immediate expenditure of money, to host a special meeting to allow voters to decide what to do with $1.06 million after an independent audit of SAU19 found the extra money paid from Dunbarton taxpayers.

The Board wants the money placed in a trust fund that will be used to even the tax rate over five years. But, Hoell argues that, "The transfer of money from one account to an account to retain it for a five-year period doesn't seem to meet the requirements of an expenditure." A decision is expected soon.

Henniker Board considering increased rental fees

The Henniker Select Board reviewed a proposal to increase the rental fees for the Community Center, the Park/Bandstand and the Grange Building. Currently residents and non-residents alike are charged $25, which doesn't even cover the staff time to process the application. Staff also spends a lot of time chasing down the return of keys. Under the new proposal, residents would be charged a $50 rental fee and non-residents $100. In addition a key deposit would be required to encourage the early return of the key.

At the suggestion of Vice-Chair Tia Hooper the matter was tabled and referred to the Community Center Governing Committee for their recommendation. A public hearing will then be scheduled.

Franklin City Council adopts a $18,571,401 school budget

After weeks of back and forth debate, and three hours of public comment, the Franklin City Council voted, 6-3, to pass a $18,571,401 school budget Wednesday night. Two weeks ago the Council voted to break its tax cap and give the district an extra $708,623, but a week later voted to rescind its decision, finding $422,722 for the schools from fund balance and capital reserve money instead. In the last few years, Franklin Schools have suffered more than 20 staff cuts, and this year, the budget shortfall was about $1 million for the third year in a row. Several parents said they faced the difficult decision of whether to move out of the city or pull their children out of the school district and into private school, while others said they lacked the money to do so. One elderly lady, said she works 55 hours a week but struggles to pay her bills. "If you guys take away the tax cap, I'm going to lose my home," she warned Council members. Mayor Tony Giunta, a fervent supporter of the tax cap, said it's essential to attract businesses to want to move to the city, as well as support residents living on a fixed income. Both the Franklin City Council and school board are considering being part of another lawsuit that would challenge the state education funding formula.

Belmont Police seeking 2nd peeping Tom

Belmont Police are looking for a man suspected of peeping through a gap in the stall door of a public bathroom while it was being used by a child. According to Belmont Police Capt. Richard Mann, the same man also was observed watching kids in the mall's play area late Monday afternoon. Police do not believe the peeping incident is related to a similar crime in Tilton, where a man was arrested after he allegedly peered over the dividing wall of a changing room being used by a teen girl at the Gap store at Tanger Outlets in Tilton.

Belmont man gets 4-8 years

Oliver Blackstone, 31, of Belmont, was sentenced to four to eight years for possession of methamphetamine with intent to distribute. Six months of the minimum sentence will be suspended on condition of good behavior for three years after his release from prison. In addition Blackstone was fined $620, and ordered to make $380 in restitution to the Laconia Police Department.

CATCH Neighborhood Housing received a Merit Award from PlanNH.

Franklin Mill renovation receives PlanNH's top honors

PlanNH has recognized the renovation of the dilapidated Franklin Light & Power Mill into neighborhood housing as one of five renovation projects in the state to receive top honors from the group that supports urban projects.

The Merit Awards program recognizes outstanding building projects that embody what PlanNH calls Smart Growth principles, as well as social responsibility and collaboration. All four winners this year involved rehabilitating existing buildings, often with new uses.

In Franklin, CATCH Neighborhood Housing oversaw the rehabilitation of the old industrial building, which dates to 1895, into 45 lower-cost apartments. The $12 million project was years in the making. The Franklin Light & Power Mill was previously recognized by the New Hampshire Preservation Alliance as one of 11 winners of the annual Preservation Achievement Awards.

Police suspect juvenile filed a false report

Hancock Police Chief Andrew Wood reports that a juvenile faces a possible charge of false report, after telling police he had been attacked. Police, fire and rescue workers responded to Main Street last Friday for a report of a younger male voice yelling "help, help, help. I don't want to die, call 911." When they arrived, he said he had been jumped and beaten up. The juvenile had come to Hancock with three other males the night before, and had been camping in the woods, when the other 3 subjects attacked him. He was taken into protective custody and taken to Monadnock Community Hospital where he was treated, and released to one of his parents.

Tilton Police arrest peeping Tom at outlet

Eric Muldowney, 30, of Somerville, Massachusetts, has been accused of peeping at a 12-year-old girl over the weekend in a dressing room at the Tilton outlet stores. He was charged with simple assault and violation of privacy. Tilton Police said the girl's mother noticed something odd in the mirror of a changing room at the Gap Outlet Store, and realized it was someone basically looking over the stall door at her daughter changing. Chief Robert Cormier said the man was later identified as Muldowney. Officials said the mother tried to keep him in the store until police arrived, but did get a description of him and the vehicle. Police pulled over Muldowney just before he got on the highway. Muldowney faced similar charges in July 2015 in Boston.

Medical emergency causes Goffstown crash

A woman was transported to Catholic Medical Center on Saturday evening after a medical emergency that caused her to drive her car into a parked vehicle on the lot of Northstar Auto Sales in Goffstown. The woman whose name police have yet to release was traveling in a southeasterly direction on Mast Road in a silver Toyota sedan when she experienced an unspecified medical emergency that caused her to lose control of the vehicle. She veered off the road onto the Northstar lot where she collided head on with a red Ford sedan that belonged to the dealership. When her car came to a complete stop, the woman's Toyota was resting directly on top of the Ford's hood.

Select Board given an update on sale of Antrim Wind Project

Antrim Board Chair Bob Edwards opened the discussion of the Antrim Wind Project by stating that the Board would not be asking technical questions until an application had been submitted to the SEC. He then asked Jack Kenworthy of Walden Green Energy to give an overview of their plans. It is their intention to sell the project to TransAlta.

He explained that they would continue to oversee the project until the sale is complete, and if the SEC denied the sale, they would continue to see it through. It is expected that the application will be submitted within the next two weeks, but any timeline is dependent upon the SEC. Kelly List of TransAlta stated that they have been in business for over 100 years and started in Alberta, Canada. They are currently transitioning their coal operations in Canada and the State of Washington to cleaner fuels, because of government mandates. Board Chair Edwards told the audience that after the application is filed, there would be another public meeting.

It appears that all points in the agreement between Antrim and the Town are being adhered to and when questioned by the Fire Chief, Dustin Littlefield explained that prior to any blasting being done, the Fire and Police Chiefs would be notified both one day and then one hour in advance.

In other business, the Selectmen signed a notice of award to Cold River Bridges of Walpole, NH to begin the bridge project. They were the low bid at $623,334. Once Cold River receives the notice they can proceed with the paperwork and then the actual project.

Dustin Littlefield of Reed and Reed Construction explains the plans and timeline of construction for the Antrim Wind Project. Drilling and blasting will begin within a couple of weeks and will continue as needed through October or November.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

The use of benzodiazepine and related drugs (Vanaax, Valium, Klonopin, etc.) is associated with a 40 per cent increase in mortality among persons with Alzheimer's disease, according to a new study published in the International Journal of Geriatric Psychiatry. The study found that the risk of death was increased right from the initiation of benzodiazepine and related drug use. The increased risk of death may result from the adverse events of these drugs, including fall-related injuries such as hip fractures, as well as pneumonia and stroke. Benzodiazepines are man-made medications that are prescribed for anxiety, panic attacks, depression, insomnia, seizures, nausea, vomiting, and muscle spasms.

Introducing "biosimilar" versions of complex biologic drugs used to treat illnesses such as cancer and rheumatoid arthritis could cut health care spending in the United States by $54 billion over the next decade, according to new analysis from the RAND Corporation. Biologics are complex, protein-based drugs manufactured in living systems. They include insulin, monoclonal antibodies to block inflammation in rheumatoid arthritis, and a range of drugs to treat cancer, multiple sclerosis and other serious diseases. Biosimilars are very close to already-approved "reference" biologics in terms of potency, safety and efficacy, but manufactured by different companies. Biosimilars can be approved for marketing by the federal Food and Drug Administration after the manufacturer of the reference biologic enjoys several years of patent and exclusivity protection. While biologics are important treatments for many conditions, they often are expensive and patient copays for the treatments can be several thousand dollars per year. Only 1 percent to 2 percent of the nation's population is treated with a biologic each year; however, the drugs accounted for 38 percent of prescription drug spending in 2015.

New Boston to receive a $1.1 million school tax refund

Because of a miscalculation in last year's SAU #19 school budget, New Boston is scheduled to receive a $1.1 million return of tax revenue. At Monday's meeting, Steve Hamilton of the Department of Revenue Administration briefed the Select Board on procedures for handling the large return.

Although the town receives the money, it is actually school funds and the Select Board has no authority on its distribution. Board Chair Joe Constance expressed concern that although the $1.1 million would make a great reduction in the next tax bill, it would require an equally large increase the following year. He hoped to spread the reduction out over several years to eliminate the large swings in the tax rate. Hamilton informed him that one way to smooth out the rate would be to adjust the December tax bills.

Steve Hamilton of the NH Department of Revenue Administration briefs the New Boston Select Board as school officials look on.

Why you shouldn't use a travel agent:

In the interest of fairness here are 10 reasons why you should NOT be going to your friendly neighborhood Travel Consultant.

- 1. It is more fun to go searching for lodging, ground transportation, activities, tours from multiple sources than with 1 call to your agency.
- 2. When problems occur during your trip you enjoy being confrontational and thrive on dealing directly with the source.
- 3. You'll rob yourself of the experience of flying into the other Charleston airport CHS not CRW/Charleston W.Va.
- 4. You enjoy all the time consuming detailed work of planning a complex itinerary.
- 5. You want to work anonymously on numerous websites
- 6. Documents? What documents? You'll just sort required travel documents like visas and passports as you go. Besides when you sailed 20 years ago you just needed a birth certificate.
- 7. You don't care that you don't have access to travel suppliers who exercise their clout with hotels, resorts to provide such amenities as early check-in, late checkout, room upgrade; dollar resort credits complimentary meals.
- 8. Your time and expertise will get you the best bang for your travel dollar!
- 9. You will thoroughly enjoying blaming yourself when something on your trip goes wrong!
- 10. There are two trips out there—a great one and the one from hell. You can easily guess which is the great one!

PS: Trip adviser is your best friend and you don't care if one hotelier just posted over 100 glowing reports about his property!

PSS: Of course you know best what to do with your time and money! So why seek expert advice and opinions?

But just in case I haven't convinced you, stop by or contact your local travel agent! They get paid to tell you where to go!

Franklin woman arrested for child neglect

On July 17th at approximately 11:15 PM Franklin Police arrested 27 year old Jena Bertone of Franklin, NH for Child Endangerment and Protective Custody/Intoxicated Person. Officers were dispatched to a residence on Glen St. for a report of an infant being left unattended in a vehicle with extremely loud music playing. Upon arrival officers observed the baby inside the car, front windows down, and music playing at an extremely high level. The child was found to be sweating but responsive, and was taken into custody while officers searched for the parent(s). About 10 minutes later the child's mother, identified as Jena Bertone, was located. Officers noted Ms. Bertone appeared to be under the influence of alcohol by her own admission. When questioned as why her child was left unattended in the vehicle Bertone claimed her baby was sick and put her in the vehicle to help the child fall asleep. Witnesses at the scene claimed this is not the first time this has happened, stating this was the third night in a row. The child was released at the scene to a family relative.

Sunapee man arrested for Newport theft

The Newport Police Department has arrested Mark Webb, 53, of Sunapee after a short investigation into an alleged theft of two rifle optics from Pinnacle Sports located on Sunapee Street in Newport. When an employee noticed two optics were missing from a display and started reviewing the video surveillance system, Webb was seen leaving the store on two separate times within a 15 minute period of time taking an optic each time without paying. The two optics are valued at $2,699.98. Webb has cooperated with the investigation and the optics were recovered by the Newport Police Department.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editors,

This is re. the rescue of the young boys and their coach.

God parted the Red Sea and the Israelites were saved from the pursuing Egyptians. The apostles were in a raging storm and feared drowning and God calmed the Sea of Galilee. The twelve soccer players and their coach were trapped in a flooded cave, the monsoon rains were quickly approaching. God held off the rains and kept the pumps working until all were rescued. Then the rains came and the pumps failed. God answered the millions of prayers said over the past three weeks. Alleluia, thanksgiving, praise and glory to God on high.

And now a negative thought. The parents sent letters to the coach thanking him for taking care of their sons. If this had happened in the USA, since there seems to be a multitude of frivolous law suits, I believe the coach would not be receiving thank you letters but letters from lawyers. Different culture, different attitude.

Dear Editor:

It is true that one person can have a big effect on the lives of many people. You can be that one person. I have learned there are some important things to consider when doing this if you want to be produce a positive change. First was taught by Davy Crockett who used this principal with minor variations. "Be sure you are right, then go ahead." There are many examples where one person has affected the lives of many like Hitler and I would hope you don't want to be producing changes like he did. The second thing I believe to be important was said by Albert Einstein. "What is popular is not always right; what is right is not always popular." Question what you are being told. Look at all the positions on the subject. There may be more than just two. People that say don't listen to someone want you to follow what they say which may not be the best way. And "Never Never Never Give Up" - Winston Churchill. If England had fallen in World War 2 the world would be very different today and I don't believe it would be for the better.

A recent example of what can be done is the sidewalk on the Bridge Street bridge. When I got a call about the sidewalk needing repair I was told calling the state was a waste of time. State DOT (Department of Transportation) always says they don't have any money. After being told it was the state not the town that needed to fix it I went to DOT in Hillsborough that sent me to the main office in Swanzey. From there I was told I needed to speak to bridge maintenance in Concord. I was told by the person in Concord that he would look into it and a few days later he called and said it would be fixed by the end of June. IT WAS NOT FIXED by the last day of June.

I went to the office of NH DOT Bridge Maintenance and asked to speak to the head. I was told he was busy and that he would call me the next day, that was July 2, 2018. I asked who his boss was and was told he is the boss. I said he has to report to someone and she finally admitted that was the executive council. Tuesday the 3rd I returned with a letter with pictures saying this was a safety hazard and a copy of the letter and pictures was on file at the Hillsborough town office. The 12th through the 15th there was going to be a lot of people using that sidewalk and if anything happened it was negligence on the part of DOT. He never returned my call.

I found out David Wheeler is the executive councilor for district 5 which includes Hillsborough NH. I called his office on July 9 and explained the situation. On the next day DOT was working on the bridge sidewalk. It was finished on the next day Wednesday just in time for the fair which started Thursday. Thank you Dave Wheeler. And that is how YOU can get things done.

A group of 10 librarians from Mongolia visited Fuller Public Library, along with 3 interpreters. Their trip was organized through the World Affairs Council of New Hampshire. They were very interested in how our library was funded, what kinds of programs we offered, where the funds came from to pay for programs, did we have volunteers, what kinds of books do we order, what our book budget for the year was, and many more questions about small library life. They toured the building and one librarian even purchased a Libraries Rock t-shirt, this year's Summer Reading theme!
