Lightning strike

Community vows to restore extensive fire damage

Hopkinton's Town library remains closed until further notice after receiving extensive damage from a two-alarm fire that was ignited by a lightning strike on the cupola of the building's roof last Friday afternoon. When Hopkinton firefighters arrived at the library, patrons and staff had already evacuated. Chief Jeff Yale immediately called in a second alarm, which brought in mutual aid of fire crews from Boscawen, Concord, Hillsborough, Henniker, Warner, Bow and Dunbarton. No injuries were sustained by firefighters, library patrons or library staff. The building's cupola was completely destroyed as a result of the initial strike and the resulting flames, along with extensive smoke and water damage to the carpet and ceiling tiles. Library Director, Donna Dunlop, reports that the damage is extensive and almost the entire inventory will need to be replaced.

The library, which is celebrating its 20th anniversary this year, has yet to announce a formal fundraiser, but has directed anyone wishing to make a monetary contribution to make their checks payable to the Hopkinton Library Foundation, P.O. Box 217, Contoocook, NH 03229.

SAU #24 school leaders receive Home Land Security training

All employees in leadership roles within SAU 24 along with emergency management and law enforcement from Henniker and Weare spent an entire day in July training with Home Land Security to prepare for school emergency readiness. SAU 24, which includes schools in Henniker, Weare, John Stark, and Stoddard school districts, brought together administrators from all schools to review each school's Emergency Operations Plan and practice various emergency events such as a wildfire encroaching on a school and an active shooter.

"Every school has an emergency plan, but this day gave us the opportunity to actually put our plans into practice in theoretical table top scenarios. We saw what worked well and where we could make changes and improve our plans," said Superintendent of Schools Dr. Lorraine Tacconi-Moore. The State of NH requires that every school in the state submits their Emergency Operating Plan each September 1.

"Student safety is always our number one priority," said Superintendent Tacconi-Moore. "While we all hope we won't need to activate our emergency plan in any school, we do know that a well thought out plan, one that has been practiced, offers the best protection for student and staff safety in an emergency," she continued.

Principals, assistant principals, and other school level administrators create plans that are specific to their school, building layout, geography, etc. The individual schools also work in concert with the leadership at the SAU 24 office to coordinate all emergency plans and, should an emergency arise, the school and SAU work together putting the emergency plan into action. Following any emergency, all team members meet and discuss what worked well and what areas need revision.

"While by NH state statute we must file school emergency plans each September, we continually work to update and improve our safety plans throughout the year," said Superintendent Tacconi-Moore.

Antrim Wind construction to begin soon

Antrim Wind Energy has submitted a notice of the start of construction of the Antrim Wind Project to the state's Department of Environmental Services, stating that the company expects to begin construction on or about August 6th. Plans call for a 9-turbine, 29-megawatt project on the Tuttle Hill ridgeline, a project first announced in the spring of 2009. Although an earlier 10 turbine plan was rejected by the state's site evaluation committee in 2012, the company brought back a 9-turbine version in 2015, which was approved.

Weare man to serve 25 years in prison

Dustin Moss, 31, of Weare will spend 25 years in federal prison after being convicted of the delivery of 12 pounds of 92-percent pure "ice" methamphetamine into the state.

Prosecutors said Moss purchased the drugs through a Las Vegas supplier. Police said they intercepted the 12 pound package in April 2017, replaced it with dummy drugs, and traced an intermediary who delivered it to Moss in Manchester. When they arrested Moss, he had a loaded Smith & Wesson firearm, throwing knives, and $10,590 in cash in his car.

Speedway Concert issue to Supreme Court

Arnold Alpert, Judith Elliot and James Snyder, all of Canterbury, have appealed a judge's decision to allow the NH Motor Speedway to hold a three-day country music festival to the NH Supreme Court. The lawsuit has already killed plans to hold a festival this summer, but track officials continue with next year's concert plans. Although the group was represented by attorney Steven Gordon of Shaheen & Gordon at the superior court, the trio plans to represent themselves at the Supreme Court.

Duncan Jenkins Performing Arts Center study committee appointed

At Monday's meeting the Hillsboro-Deering School Board continued discussing a proposed Duncan Jenkins Performing Arts Center as suggested by the Trustees of the Duncan Jenkins Trust.

The Board appointed several members to a Feasibility Committee to study various options for the project, including location, size of the auditorium, meeting rooms, art display areas and the like and make periodic reports to the Board. Members appointed include two School Board members; Rich Pelletier and Kathryn McGinn; a Trustee, Superintendent Robert Hassett; a Selectman, David Fullerton; HDHS Principal James O'Rourke; Facilities Director, James Bailey; Chamber Representative, Susie White; School Representatives, Shirley Bergstresser, Christine Haley, Public Members, Barbara Daley, Ernest Gould, Heidi Welch, Megan Fleagle and non-voting Student Representative, Emma Breed.

Board Chair Rich Pelletier suggested that $50,000-$100,000 be placed in next year's budget to fund a feasibility study, with the idea of presenting the finished plan to voters at the 2020 School District meeting.

Proton pump inhibitors (PPIs) — medications commonly used to treat heartburn, acid reflux, and ulcers — have been linked with potentially serious side effects including possible increased risk of bone fractures. In a new Alimentary Pharmacology & Therapeutics study, however, patients with Barrett's esophagus — a long-term complication of acid reflux — who took high doses of PPIs for prolonged periods were no more likely to have bone fractures or evidence of bone thinning (osteopenia or osteoporosis) than people in the general population.

Maintaining sufficient vitamin D levels may help to prevent the onset of inflammatory diseases like rheumatoid arthritis, according to a study published in the Journal of Autoimmunity.

Hope may be on the horizon for children and teens who suffer from migraine headaches that don't respond to traditional treatment. Injections of botulinum toxin (BOTOX®) may provide significant relief, suggests a small preliminary study presented at the ANESTHESIOLOGY® 2017 annual meeting. Currently, BOTOX® is approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Association (FDA) only to treat migraines in adults. One in 10 school-aged children and teens suffer from migraines, but there are few FDA-approved medications for this age group. Additionally, some children and teens don't respond well to available options, such as certain migraine "rescue" pain medications, and the pain and disability of migraines can have a severe impact on their lives. In some cases, preventive medications may help. However, currently only one preventive migraine medication, topiramate, is approved for adolescents.

Northfield invasion suspect still at large

Northfield Police are still searching for a man after a resident said he was threatened and robbed inside his home. Northfield Police said a man went to the victim's door Wednesday morning and said he was out of gas and needed help. When the victim offered to get the man a gas can and drive him to a gas station, the man started going through the victim's house, told the victim to get on the floor or he would be shot. The man took a laptop and some keys and left in the victim's car. Authorities later recovered the blue 2010 Nissan Altima, but the suspect remains at large.

Hillsboro teen airlifted with compound fractures to arms and leg

On Monday August 6th, at approximately 8:40pm the Hillsboro Police Department responded to a report of a motor vehicle accident on West Main St at the intersection of Saw Mill Road involving a car and a bicycle. Hillsboro Police were assisted by the Antrim Police Department and Hillsboro Fire and Rescue.

On scene it was determined that a vehicle traveling West on West Main St was turning left onto Saw Mill Road when the vehicle collided with a bicycle being ridden by a 16 year old Hillsboro male, who suffered compound fractures of both arms and one leg.

The bicycle was traveling East on West Main Street at the time of the incident. Hillsboro Rescue treated the 16 year old at the scene and transported him to Grimes Field where he was picked up by the DART helicopter and flown to Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center. The operator of the car was: Marcia Whitney, 46, of Hillsboro. Investigation into the accident is still on going. Anyone who has information about the accident should contact Sgt. Parsons of the Hillsboro Police Department at 464-5512.

Kyle Rajaniemi, 30, has been indicted for operating after being certified as a habitual offender and reckless conduct with a deadly weapon for allegedly driving at speeds in excess of the speed limit in unsafe driving conditions while attempting to elude an officer, with a three-year-old boy who was not wearing a seatbelt in the vehicle. Both charges are Class B felonies. Jeffrey Shea, 44, was indicted for reckless conduct when he allegedly discharged a firearm inside his home while his son was present. The charge is a Class B felony and carries with it a potential extended sentence of 10 to 30 years. Burst beaver dam overflows Epsom's Rt 4

A flood washed over Route 4 in Epsom on Monday night during evening commute time, snarling traffic and damaging the road. A burst beaver dam is to blame for the flooding. Roadblocks were set up near the Epsom traffic circle and Main Street in Chichester to keep traffic off the affected stretch of Route 4 while workers tried to find the source of the flooding. They eventually found the burst dam less than a half mile away on an unnamed pond. Crews will monitor the water levels downstream and will be back to repair the damage to the road's shoulder.

Henniker Board reviews ambitious highway maintenance projects

Vice Chair, Tia Hooper opened Tuesday's Henniker Select Board meeting with high praise for the efforts of the 250th Anniversary Committee which resulted in a fantastic weekend celebration.

Accepting the report and recommendation of the Energy Committee, the Board unanimously approved a contract with Affinity Lighting to replace the town's street lights at a cost of $24,575.21. After a $7,825.00 rebate the net cost to taxpayers will be $16,675.21.

With projected energy savings of $8,000 per year the conversion will be paid off in just over two years.

Highway Superintendent Leo Aucoin offered three bids totaling $267,670.00 which would provide reclamation and repaving of Ramsdell and Ruffle Roads and a 1" shim of Gulf Road from Butter to Flanders. The Board approved.

Engineer Mike Vignale recommended awarding RD Edmunds the bid for the Hall Avenue project. Road and sidewalk work will cost $309,667.00 while water system work entails another $220,566.00. Again the Board approved.

Vignale then outlined several future projects facing the town: Phase II of Western Avenue from Cody Hill to the town line is projected at $1,041,475.00, while Phase III, from Main Street to The Oaks comes in at $840,000.00.

The Board then changed the date of its next meeting from August 21st to the 23rd, so members could attend the season's last concert at the Angela Robinson Bandstand.

A large crowd turned out for the Annual Washington Fire Department Chicken Bar-B-Q on Saturday.

Return To Civility Needed

Please take a moment to read Kurt Oesch's impassioned call for civility in political debate in the letter below. In today's highly charged political climate it needs repeating over and over again.

In 1980, I was privileged to serve as Majority Leader of the NH House of Representatives. The Minority Leader was Chris Spiro (D-Manchester). Almost on a daily basis, Chris and I debated and fought over such highly charged issues as Income Tax, Sales Tax, Casino Gambling, Right To Work, Minimum Wage, The Nuclear Power Plant, Redistricting, Employee Pay Raises and Education Funding.

Our battles on the House floor were impassioned and hard fought, but we debated issues, not personalities. We were critical of each other's positions but not of each other. At one point, Chris might actually allege that I was WRONG, and I might counter that his position was MISINFORMED. We could separate politics from personality, and at the end of the day could even share a coffee or a beer together.

Not today, although both parties are guilty, the Democrats have quickly degenerated from the party of hope and opportunity to a party of hate and hypocrisy.

A party of hate which fails to condemn Kathy Griffins' bloody decapitated head of the President.

A party of hate which fails to sanction Maxine Waters calling for harassment and abuse of administration officials.

A party of hate, which blocks or shouts down conservative speakers.

A party of hate, which began calling for impeachment only three days after inauguration.

A party of hypocrites which condemns the Presidents immigration policies while ignoring the words of President Obama, Bill Clinton, Hillary Clinton, Nancy Pelosi and Charles Shumer advocating the exact same thing.

A party of hypocrites which condemns President Trump's relations with Stormy Davis, while conveniently ignoring the despicable treatment of women by Bill Clinton, John and Teddy Kennedy.

A party of hypocrites which condemns the President's foreign policy while ignoring President Obama's payoff of Iran, and Hillary's sale of 25% of our uranium to Russia, while Bill collected six figure speaking fees in Russia.

A party of hypocrites who condemn foreign interference in our elections but wants illegal aliens to vote.

It must be said that some Republicans and conservatives fall into the same vulgar practices, but it is no way as institutionalized as it is with Democrats on the left.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor

"A Call for Civility" It seems in this political atmosphere of today that there is a severe lack of civility going around. I am reminded of just a few weeks ago when Sarah Huckabee Sanders was asked to leave a restaurant. What was her crime you may ask and who is she? Well she is not a smuggler nor is she a human trafficker. Neither is she a murderer or a hit-man for the mob. She is President Trump's Press Secretary and her "perceived" crime is working for him. Can you believe this? I could cite similar examples to that of Ms. Sanders. People who are not "liked by the owner of an establishment" being asked to leave because their

"politics don't align with that of the of the owner." It is almost as if because you don't have the "group-think" mentality that you are condemned as wrong. Did you know that part of the definition of "Fascism" is when a group is intolerant of the views or practices of others. I have every right to my opinion, just as you have the right to your opinion. The reason we are allowed to have different opinions is because a great many people died to uphold the freedoms that you and I have here in the United States. The sad thing to me is when people forget this and decide that you are an evil or nasty person because you do not share their viewpoint or politics. How about a little civility to those who don't agree with you? Just because someone else does not share your opinion does not make them a bad person. A Lutheran theologian named Rupertus Meldenius once said "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, liberty; in all things, charity." Wouldn't it be great if we could all live by this statement. Civility is about politeness and courtesy in behavior or speech. I challenge the reader, that just because someone is not civil toward you (and it will happen at some point) there is no need to sink to their level. Let's all be civil.

Dear Editor:

Last week a house fire on Pine Street claimed the life of Beverly Johnson. Bev and her husband Tom were longtime residents of Hopkinton and had lived on Pine Street for more than forty years. The family was still reeling from the unexpected death of their granddaughter, when on July 24th the fire struck. It was Tom Johnson's 84th birthday.

For decades, the Johnsons have been valued members of our community. Tom served on the Hopkinton Select Board for nine years and was the Town Clerk for 45 more. While raising their family, both Tom and Bev made time to organize dances and community shows, coach sports, and extend help whenever they saw a need. They did far more than their fair share to make our town such a remarkable place to live.

The house was completely gutted. Tom got out with the clothes he was wearing and nothing more. Fortunately, the family has homeowners' insurance. However, there are many immediate needs that need to be addressed and getting an insurance settlement is a long, drawn-out process.

Many people have asked how they can help. The "Thomas Johnson Fire Fund" has been set up at the Merrimack County Savings bank in Contoocook. You make a donation by dropping by the bank at 35 Kearsarge Avenue or at any of the eight Merrimack County Savings Bank locations. You also can mail a contribution to Merrimack County Savings Bank, Post Office Box 505, Contoocook, NH 03229.

Thank you to Susan Lawless and Janet Krzyzaniak for providing information about the fund and the Johnson family.

Steve Chamberlin, Superintendent of Schools

Things don't just happen. Events don't just materialize. If you had a good time at this weekend's fabulous Henniker 250th Celebration, you can thank these neighbors for their inspiration, dedication and hard work over nearly a year. When you see these committee members on the street, please take a moment to say "THANK YOU!" The Franklin Elk's Club recently moved into its new Lodge.

Congratulations Franklin Elks

By Tony Giunta, Mayor City of Franklin, NH

On July 13th I was honored to attend the grand opening of the beautiful new South Main Street home of Franklin's Benevolent and Protected Order of Elks. It was a fabulous event to celebrate a breath-taking achievement.

Like the City they proudly call home, volunteerism, hard work, and sound financial planning resulted in what is certainly a community showpiece. The Franklin Elks (of which I've been a proud member for 21 years) has always been a key fraternal organization-playing a major role in partnering with City government to promote Franklin. This new facility will further that special relationship and is a shining example of our City's ongoing revitalization success.

Congratulations to Exalted Ruler Joe Giunta (if the name looks familiar it should he's my brother) and all your dedicated volunteers who brought this dream to reality. It is a proud day for Elkdom-and the City of Franklin thanks all Elks for your significant investment in our future and your unwavering devotion to promoting and practicing the four cardinal virtues of Charity, Justice, Brotherly Love and Fidelity.

Wilmot defendant wants evidence suppressed

Shane Fortier, 30, of Wilmot, charged with stealing copper from a Wilmot cottage just minutes before it exploded, wants the evidence against him obtained through search warrants thrown out. Fortier is arguing that the Fire Marshal's office went on a "fishing expedition" for any information that could be damaging and did not have probable cause that "the explosion was anything other than an accident." A hearing on the motions to suppress has not yet been scheduled.

Franklin firefighters douse Central St fire

Franklin fire Chief Kevin LaChapelle was attending a City Council meeting across the street when he walked out and saw a fire at a three-story wood-framed apartment building. Crews worked for about two hours to extinguish the flames at 325 Central St., which LaChapelle said was likely caused by groceries placed on a stovetop. The resident of the apartment was not home at the time, but five other people who lived in the building were safely evacuated. No one was injured.

Why you should use a travel agent:

We had a lively debate recently on the merits of whether to use a live travel agent to book your vacation or to go it alone by using the Internet. Here are some of the reasons to consider a personal travel consultant.

1. You've Googled "Mexico vacation," and come up with 17.8 million responses. Need a little help editing those choices?
2. Remember when you used that obscure website to book your hotel, and when you got there you spent your beach vacation over-looking a parking lot?
3. How many hours were you on hold with the airline when your flight was canceled because of a snowstorm?
4. Did you really mean to spend your honeymoon at that resort whose one tiny pool was filled all day with 12 screaming children?
5. Who knew that when you booked that "villa" in Tuscany, it would be a small room with a kitchenette and no air conditioning? Funny, it looked much better on your computer screen.
6. No one explained to you that in July, it's winter time in Rio, and so you showed up there with nothing but five Hawaiian shirts and three pairs of swimming trunks.
7. How about the time you really needed a restful vacation, and you ended up in New Orleans during Mardi Gras and someone threw up on your shoes?
8. Yes, I guess that hotel must have used a telephoto lens when they took a picture of those guest rooms that you saw on their website.
9. I suppose contacting the Attorney General to resolve the fact that that Internet site has billed your credit card three times instead of once is the only route to take at this point.
10. It was definitely odd that there were no cab drivers at the airport at 3 o'clock in the morning when you finally landed in Costa Rica, but booking a transfer to your very remote hotel would have been a good thing to remember when you purchased your airline ticket and hotel online.

Hilton Inn honors Weare Fire & Rescue

When a Hillsborough man was trapped in an industrial lathe with his upper body crushed, chances of survival were faint. Nick Keane, 21, however, lived through the horrifying March incident thanks to the quick response of the Weare Fire and Rescue Association. They stabilized the badly injured man and coordinated the arrival of the Dartmouth-Hitchcock Advanced Response Team to airlift him to Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center in Lebanon. After spending nearly a month in the hospital, including 10 days in the intensive care unit, and having five surgeries performed on him, Keane eventually returned home and is continuing his road to recovery.

Keane was on hand when the Manchester honored the members of the Weare Fire and Rescue for their service by donating $3,000 to the volunteer association during the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce's monthly Spotlight on Business. Twenty-five bags of non-perishable foods and personal items, which were used as centerpieces during the event, were also donated to the Weare Food Bank.

This is the third year HGI management has selected an organization to support during the annual chamber event they host.

Nick joined his mother Mandy Keane, the front desk manager at HGI Manchester, for the presentation.

"It's amazing what they did to keep him alive," Mandy Keane says. "When we started this two years ago, we wanted to make sure we were helping organizations that were making a difference", says Sharon Nista, Director of Sales for HGI Manchester. "These brave men and women are truly making a difference."
