UFO over John Stark?

Not really, it's the roof of the new wood chip silo

The silo is part of the energy saving project underway at John Stark Regional High School. The biomass plant includes the wood boiler, a silo to hold wood chips, a conveyor from the silo to the burner, and a propane backup boiler. Additional energy savings projects undertaken this summer at the school include LED lighting, insulation, control upgrades, and transformers.

This project, which was approved by voters last March, is a tax neutral project paid for by savings in oil and electricity costs.

The price tag for these energy saving upgrades is $1.744 million and will be paid over 15 years.

This project at John Stark was contracted through Energy Efficient Investments (EEI) and ENE Energy Advisors. The energy savings for the district have been guaranteed by EEI.

Man charged with multiple Hancock sexual assaults

Dale Earl Cole, 65, of Ayer, MA, a registered sex offender in Massachusetts, has been charged with three counts of aggravated felonious sexual assault of a child under 13. Police say Cole repeatedly sexually assaulted an 8-year-old child while camping in Hancock's Seven Maples Campground in 2009, and there could be more victims assaulted at additional campgrounds in New Hampshire and other states. Cole, an acquaintance of the victim, would let the child watch pornographic videos, then offered the youth cigarettes in exchange for sexual acts. Cole was previously convicted of purchase or possession of child pornography in 2010 and indecent assault and battery on a child under 14 in 1984, according to the listing on the Sex Offender Registry Board in Massachusetts.

Study Group begins seeking input on Northfield's future

Earlier this year the Town, working with the Northfield Economic Development Corporation and UNH Cooperative Extension Service, undertook a 'Community Profile' process to help chart Northfield's future. The heart of the Community Profile process is a two day community meeting open to all Northfield residents. At that meeting, residents will have the chance to share their visions for Northfield's future and start working on action plans for making these visions a reality. Northfield's Community Profile meeting is scheduled for May 2019.

Recently the Northfield Economic Development Corporation created a steering committee to prepare for the Community Profile meeting. Over the summer members of the steering committee talked with residents at Old Home Day and National Night Out. People were presented with a list of ten focus areas and were asked to identify the top three priorities they would like to concentrate on when considering Northfield's future.

The responses, although not scientific, provide a good early glimpse into people's priorities for Northfield's future. The priority people identified most often was Education and Lifelong Learning, with more than 15% of the total votes cast. Next came a grouping of 6 priorities, all of which received between 10% and 12% of total votes. These include Recreation, Economic Vitality, Housing and Community Spaces, Infrastructure and Transportation, Natural Resources and Sense of Community. Rounding out the list are three priority areas that received less than 7% of the votes: Healthy Living and Wellness, History and Culture and Leadership/Community Engagement. Thank you to the current members of the Steering Committee; Jennifer Davis, Joyce Fulweiler, Stephanie Giovannucci, Scott Haskins, Judy Huckins, Peggy LaBrecque, Kaitlin Lounsbury, Glenn Smith and Deb Tessier. If you are interested in joining the Community Profile Steering Committee please call Glenn Smith at 286-7039.

Belmont & Stoddard on NH Historic Register

The New Hampshire Division of Historical Resources is pleased to announce that the State Historical Resources Council has added ten properties – including several that were built in response to the Toleration Act of 1819 – to the New Hampshire State Register of Historic Places. An example of the many churches built as a result of the Toleration Act of 1819, Stoddard Congregational Church was completed in 1836. Its two-stage tower with corner pinnacles at the top of the belfry, large double-leaf doors with pointed arches that flank a large pointed-arch window, and triangular vent in the pediment are all details from the Gothic Revival style. Built in 1894 in an era when New Hampshire school districts were consolidating buildings, Belmont's Gale School reflects both the Stick Style and Queen Anne styles that were popular in the late 19th century. It is named after banker Napoleon Bonaparte Gale, a native of Belmont whose donation helped complete the building project.

Former Tilton man indicted on arson charge

Alan Bushway, 18, formerly of Tilton, was indicted on a charge of arson in connection with a brush fire on May 14, along the Winnepesaukee River Trail in Northfield, which scorched 0.3 of an acre and endangered an occupied dwelling. Bushway was arrested on July 26 on a warrant issued by the State Fire Marshal's Office for six misdemeanor counts of arson related to additional brush fires that had been set in the woods along the Winnepesaukee River Trail between May 14 and July 19.

Sunapee man injured in Vermont crash

A Sunapee man is in critical condition at Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center after a collision with a tractor-trailer truck in Rockingham VT. Vermont State Police say a 2008 Mazda driven by 26 year-old-Kazakh M. White and a 2018 Kenworth Tractor Trailer driven by 41-year-old Eric Baker of CT collided near the center on Route 103 near the Vermont Country Store shortly before 6:30 AM yesterday. Route 103 did not have the double yellow lines painted at the time because of recent paving. The road was closed for about six hours while State Police patrols and the State Police Crash Reconstruction Team investigated the cause of the crash. Several gallons of diesel fuel spilled onto the road, which environmental services, VT Agency of Transportation and Town of Rockingham road crews cleaned up prior to re-opening Route 103.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

According to a new study in JAMA there were no important differences in pain reduction after 2 hours with ibuprofen-acetaminophen or opioid-acetaminophen combination pills in emergency department patients with acute extremity pain. The findings suggest that ibuprofen-acetaminophen is a reasonable alternative to opioid management of acute extremity pain due to sprain, strain, or fracture. Acetaminophen (Tylenol) is cleared by the liver, while ibuprofen (Advil, Motrin) is cleared by the kidneys. Each medication works differently and they are broken down differently, so taking both is of minimal concern. Acetaminophen is a pain reliever and fever reducer but not an anti-inflammatory. Ibuprofen is all three.

Some surgeons might be able to prescribe a third of opioid painkiller pills that they currently give patients, and not affect their level of post-surgery pain control, a new study published in JAMA Surgery suggests. That would mean far fewer opioids left over to feed the ongoing national crisis of misuse, addiction and overdose.

One of the most hotly debated issues in eye care in recent years has been over three similar anti-vascular endothelial growth factor (anti-VEGF) treatments for age-related macular degeneration. To find out if there are differences in their ability to protect sight, researchers reviewed records for 13,859 patients treated with a single drug type — Avastin (bevacizumab: 6,723), Lucentis (ranibizumab: 2,749), or Eylea (afibercept: 4,387) — for one year. According to a study presented at the 2017 Annual Meeting of the American Academy of Ophthalmology, patients achieved similar improvement in vision regardless of drug type. Mean number of injections were 5.9 with Avastin, 6.4 with Lucentis, and 6.2 with Eylea.

Chichester Central School News

By: Brian Beaverstock, Principal

On behalf of the teachers and entire staff at Chichester Central School, we hope you have had a safe and enjoyable summer. We are looking forward to welcoming back all of our students for the 2018-19 school year. The classrooms are in order, hallways are waxed and shined, and the school facility has received many important upgrades. The teaching staff is gearing up for an exciting year of learning and growing together with our students. All students should have received a "welcome" letter from their homeroom teacher which will list necessary supplies for the school year.

Tuesday, August 28, is our first day of school. Please look over the bus routes as some times and stops have changed. Students should be at their designated bus stop at least 10 minutes before their scheduled time in the first week of school so we can gauge their pick-up time and bus route correctly. Parents who are dropping off their children can do so after 8 and as close to 8:10 as possible as students may begin entering their homeroom at 8:10 and the school day will officially begin at 8:15 am.

The lunch price for students will be $2.50 for K-4 students and $2.70 for students in grades 5-8. More information including our school lunch menu will be posted on our website and on our google calendar. Please get to know our website and visit us often for information about our school. Chichester Central School is on social media to share all the learning we are doing and keep families up to date with events and information. Like us on Facebook.

Incoming kindergarten students are invited to an orientation to school with their parents and an opportunity to practice riding the school bus on Monday, August 27. Please meet at school in our kindergarten entrance at CCS at 2 pm that afternoon. The PTO will once again be hosting our fabulous Back to School Barbeque on Wednesday, September 5 at 5 pm. SAVE THE DATE! Carpooling for this event is strongly encouraged as there is limited parking at school. After everyone is fed, families are encouraged to meet the teachers and tour the school as part of the annual Open House at 6 pm.

Our school will be undergoing many exciting changes in 2018-19. We are moving with the rest of the SAU #53 schools to competency based grading. Assessing student work and progress at all K-8 grade levels and areas of curriculum will be based on individual competencies, or standards, and not by an average grade. To better facilitate monitoring a student's progress, we have also changed to a new student information system called ALMA. As the school year begins, we will be sharing more information about the move to competency grading and how to access your student's account on ALMA. Visit our website's page <http://ccs.sau53.org/academics/grading/> for information now to get a head start.

We had an amazing year last year with many changes and additions to our programs at school and I am eagerly anticipating another great year of learning for all at CCS. Students in grades 5-8...be sure to complete your summer reading book and your summer reading assignment on google classroom. Enjoy this last week of summer and please call the school at 798-5651 if there are any questions.

Your Guide to What's Happening in the Granite State

Senior Lifestyles

Publisher's Perspective by Leigh Bosse

Great community events don't happen by accident

The past few days, the major topic of conversation, in person and on the internet, has been "Isn't it a shame there will not be another Living History Event." "You mean the SchnitzelFest? is done?" or "No more BalloonFest next year?"

One particularly pointed comment said, "I hope THEY can keep it going."

A common reason for the potential demise of these popular attractions is an increasing shortage of volunteers.

For you to spend a few hours taking your kids to the Miller Amusement Midway, view the Civil War Reinactors or eat German food, it takes months and months of planning and preparation by dedicated VOLUNTEERS who do so simply to give something back to the town they love. The problem is that THEY can't do everything, THEY get tired and THEY get burned out.

The real question is what have YOU done? Have you belonged to one of these committees? Have you joined the Lions Club, HYAA, PTO, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Hillsborough Pride, or Hillsborough Reborn?

Before you ask, "What can THEY do?" Ask yourself, "What can I do to make Hillsborough a better place to live, work and raise children?"

Having said that, there is still hope. Alan Dombrowski confirms that the State will continue its presentations at the Franklin Pierce Homestead and Jon Daley reports that the Civil War Reinactors will return on their own. A new committee is being formed to preserve Living History, but THEY will need help.

The BalloonFest is being restructured and renamed, but the major components of the event, midway, fireworks, entertainment, craft and food vendors will return. THEY also will need a lot of help.

SchnitzelFest is still up in the air.

YOU can assure the future of these and possibly other events by getting involved. If you do, perhaps at this time next year, we can all say - WE DID IT!

Guest Editorial

Andrew Cuomo - Living Proof of America's Greatness

By Tony Giunta,
 Mayor City of Franklin, NH

Andrew Cuomo, Governor of New York, was recently quoted as saying "America was never that great!" I find it ironic how the man that uttered those idiotic words is living proof of America's greatness.

So how did Cuomo blow it so badly? Simply stated, he's an elitist! Pampered as a child, sent to the finest private schools, appointed to highest paying government jobs (mainly because of his daddy's influence), and then this ungrateful liberal is elected to the highest office in New York. Unfortunately, when you've been fed from a silver spoon your whole life, you tend to forget your roots.

Since he's obviously forgotten the path that brought him to his success, let me remind him that only two generations ago his grandparents left their Italian homeland and came to America. They could have gone anywhere in the world, but they chose to come here.

Has Andrew Cuomo ever asked himself why his grandparents made that choice? Apparently not, because if he had he would have realized they came here because it offered them opportunity and a chance at a better life. Like every other person on earth, Andrew's grandparents knew America was the greatest country in the world!

And like so many other immigrant success stories, through hard work, sacrifice, and perseverance, Andrew's grandparents saw their son, Mario (Andrew's father), elected to the highest office in New York and be considered a candidate for the highest office in the world-President of the United States. They also got to see their grandchildren achieve similar successes.

So, Governor Cuomo, I ask you, in what other country on this planet could struggling immigrants, unfamiliar with the culture, language, and traditions, achieve so much in so little time? Since you would apparently struggle with the answer, let me answer it for you—the United States of America, the greatest country on earth!

Since Andrew Cuomo has forgotten his roots and doesn't even realize "he" is living proof of our country's greatness, I hope this coming November the voters of New York will elect a governor who truly recognizes and appreciates the greatness of this country, the greatness of your State, and the greatness of its proud citizens.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I stand behind my criticism of your "Return to Civility" editorial, which referred to the entire Democratic Party with great disdain, while citing only a few (well, many) specific issues that raised your hackles. You are painting with too broad a brush.

How did you manage to equate the Stormy Daniels issue with the "despicable" treatment of women by presidents Clinton and Kennedy? Whatever level of moral outrage people may have about public figures having extramarital affairs, I've never heard the term despicable applied. Most Americans seem to accept them as facts of life.

No, I haven't written a word about Rep. Waters or Kathy Griffin (sic). Griffin's a comic, when it comes to politics I don't pay any attention to her. Waters is not my Rep. You're going way too far off the reservation, Leigh. Come on back home.

And please note, I did not refer to the entire Republican Party as party of "hate" or "hypocrites," although there are certainly a few haters and hypocrites among you.

John V. Kjellman, Henniker

To the Editor

Buenos noticias! (Hear Ye, Hear Ye!) The 16th annual Henniker Rotary Club Fire on the Mountain Chili Fest is officially over and it was a blast! A perfect sunny day at Pats Peak, low humidity, lots of chili and multiple activities to keep the attendees busy all afternoon. There are lots of people to thank for making this event a success once more. Our sponsors, including Ayer & Goss Fuels, Colby Hill Inn, Davis & Towle Insurance Company, Dunkin' Donuts of Henniker, Edmunds Ace Hardware, Grappone Automotive, Henniker Crushed Stone, Henniker Family Dentistry, Henniker Pharmacy, Henniker Veterinary Hospital, Merrimack County Savings Bank, Morse Sporting Goods, New England College and TDS Telecom, as well as our media partners, Granite Quill Publications and 92.5 The River.

Thanks also to the 40 Chili makers, vendors, volunteers from Hillsborough/Deering and John Stark High School DECA clubs, White Birch Community Center, Henniker Community School and the New England College Sports Teams, as well as friends and family of the Henniker Rotary Club and especially, our hosts Pats Peak, without whom we could never pull off such a major event.

To our judges: Chef Nicole Barreira, Executive Chef, Great American Restaurant Group (Cactus Jacks/TBones and the Copper Door), Rick Broussard, Editor, NH Magazine and Adam Parker, Corporate Chef, (Fratello's Italian Grille and the Homestead Restaurants) we say Buen Hecho (job well done!).

Most of all, thank you to all who attended Chili Fest. Funds you helped us raise will go out into the communities we serve and to people in need around the world. We hope you had feliz degustación (happy tasting) at this year's event.

Consultants recommend the total demolition of Baker Building

Judy Johnson and Will Gatchell of Harriman Associates, returned to the New London Selectmen Monday evening to present their initial findings on the proposed renovation of the Baker Building at the rear of Whipple Hall.

Currently housing both the Police and Recreation Departments, both are suffering from lack of space.

The initial findings included:

1. The slab joint at 1985 and 2000 addition does not align which creates flooding at several PD spaces.

2. The exterior steps off sallyport roof do not meet code.

3. The fire rated partitions do not extend through attic properly in 2000 addition.

4. The HVAC system requires replacement, chimney requires liner for LP gas, radiators are residential grade and do not provide adequate output.

5. Electrical deficiencies in 7 categories.

6. Poor ventilation at evidence areas, unsafe sallyport.

As a result, they recommend the total demolition and replacement of the Baker Building and presented three proposals.

The board seemed to favor the third, a three story addition to the rear of Whipple Hall but requested Harriman to return on September 4th with a two story version that relocates the recreation department to an as yet, unspecified location.

ANGEL

Pit Bull Terrier Mix/Female/Senior. She is a sweet girl looking for a quiet home to call her own. Angel loves to go swimming, play ball and tug of war. This girl is very picky with the dogs she wants to befriend, so a home with no other dogs would be best. We're unsure at this time how she would be around cats. She could go home with kids aged 12+ as long as they respect her space.
