Excellence in Education

State and local funding, class size, and curriculum all play important roles, but good teachers remain the key to giving our children a great education. As the Crosby, Stills and Nash song says, "Teach your children well."

Credibility challenged

Arresting officer on Laurie's List puts conviction in doubt

Tilton's police prosecutor notified the public defender representing Thomas O'Reilly in his DWI trial that the criminal complaints filed against O'Reilly are signed by Officer Matt Dawson, who invoked his 5th Amendment right, is included on the "Laurie list," a compilation of police officers whose credibility, as determined by internal investigators, has been harmed by committing a crime, lying or other inappropriate actions. The order in the Dawson case was issued after a stolen Lowe's refund debit card ended up in the hands of Dawson's uncle. When interviewed, Dawson said he had no idea that the card was stolen when he arranged for a relative to buy the card that had a face value of $2,000 for $600. Dawson was placed on administrative leave and was eventually reinstated, but his rank was reduced.

Two Hillsborough men arrested on felony charges

2015 and January 27, 2016. The class B felony carries a sentence of up to 3 and a half to seven years in prison and up to a $4,000 fine. Henniker Police have arrested Charles J. Spetz, 21, of Hillsborough, for aggravated Felonious Sexual Assault. The Police Log lists the crime as "Forcible Rape," but despite repeated requests the department refuses to release further details.

A Washington man suffered injuries that were serious but not life-threatening Friday after crashing his all-terrain vehicle near his residence, according to Fish and Game officials. Gerald Lane, 24, was riding alone on Valley Road late Friday afternoon when he lost control and crashed his ATV.

Lane was not wearing a helmet, officials said. Washington Police, Fire and Ambulance assisted Fish and Game in the response. Lane was brought to Concord Hospital for treatment of his injuries. The crash remains under investigation.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Patients with a prior history of heart attacks or stroke have better outcomes when cholesterol-lowering medications are used after they're discharged from the hospital, according to a new study reported at the 2017 American Heart Association Scientific Sessions. Prior surveys in hospitals found that statins, a common medication prescribed to lower cholesterol, aren't being used as consistently in patients who've been admitted to the hospital following a heart attack or stroke. Researchers also found that when the medication is prescribed, dosing is likely not as high as it should be to provide optimal benefits. Researchers examined more than 62,000 records of patients from the Intermountain Healthcare system between 1999 and 2013 who survived an initial atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease event, such as a heart attack or stroke. They were then followed for three years, or until death, to identify the effectiveness of statin use prescribed at the time of their discharge. Patients who were prescribed a statin medication following an initial heart attack or stroke reduced their risk of a future adverse event such as a future heart attack, stroke, revascularization, or death, by almost 25%—the rate dropped from 34 percent to 26 percent.

A study published in The Lancet, comparing the effectiveness of two pharmacologically distinct medications used to treat opioid use disorder—a buprenorphine/naloxone combination and an extended release naltrexone formulation—shows similar outcomes once medication treatment is initiated. However, it is more difficult to initiate treatment with naltrexone because it requires a full detoxification. Buprenorphine/naloxone (brand name Suboxone) was given daily as a sublingual film (under the tongue), while naltrexone (brand name Vivitrol) was a monthly intramuscular injection.

Bar Harbor Bank & Trust offers $10,000 for new Newport scoreboard

Bar Harbor Bank & Trust is offering to donate $10,000 to the Newport School District to offset the cost of replacing the aging football scoreboard a Maryn Field. The current scoreboard has been barely functional for the last few years, and according to Newport Athletic Director Jeff Miller, "is past its shelf life." Miller expects to be able to present firmer costs at a Sept. 13th public hearing scheduled for 5:30 p.m. to receive public comment. Because Bar Harbor's donation is more than $5,000 it must first have a public hearing. The school board has informed Miller that any additional funds for the scoreboard would have to come from public donations.

Police Station Open House

The Franconetown Police Department is holding an open house on Sept. 15th, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the station to showcase the newly renovated police station. There will be children's activities, hamburgers, hot dogs, and refreshments. Franconetown Town Administrator Jamie Pike said the project was funded by a $170,000 warrant article approved at Town Meeting last March, a $480.56 grant from Walmart, and $5,420 in rebate and grant money from Ever-source.

Rick Schaefer - Hopkinton Fire Department

The Hopkinton Fire Department recently marked the 6th anniversary of the passing of Fire Chief Rick Schaefer. Rick joined the Fire Department as a volunteer firefighter in 1979 and served as Chief of the department from 1999 until he passed away during a busy shift at the Hopkinton State Fair in 2012. We continue to memorialize the impact that Rick had on our department and our entire community. You may be lost, but you will never be forgotten.

Brian Rousseau - Deering Fire & Rescue

Deering Fire & Rescue is very happy to announce that Brian Rousseau has successfully completed his Advance Emergency Medical Technician AEMT Course. Brian worked very hard to complete the many hours of classroom time, ride along with a busy ambulance service as well as working in an Emergency Department to improve the skills he learned in the class. Brian has been a great addition to DFR and we are proud of the commitment he has made to improve the level of service to the wonderful Town of Deering. Congratulations Brian!

Mick Costello - Henniker Fire & Rescue

The Henniker Fire & Rescue Department is sad to be losing the services of veteran Mick Costello who has resigned his full-time position to take a position as Concord's inspector. Mick will continue to reside in Henniker and remain as a part-timer with the department. The Department hopes to replace his talents with two new firefighter/EMTs.

New Boston 9-1-1 Remembrance

The New Boston Fire Department will be conducting their annual 9-1-1 remembrance ceremony on September 11, beginning at 8:45 a.m., at the New Boston Fire Station in the center of town. The public is invited to attend this very special event.

New Boston Emergency Services presents Learn About Living in the Country

New Boston Emergency Services will be offering a unique opportunity for New Boston residents, particularly newer residents, to become aware of some of the major differences of living in a rural community as compared to an urban or even suburban environment.

The focus will be primarily on safety, and emergency preparedness, but also includes some of the special characteristics and traditions of New Boston. The goal of the program is to “jump start” the rural living experience, while exploring opportunities for the Services to offering follow up training on things such as first aid, fire extinguisher use, winter driving, safety audits of homes, and empowering residents to be self-reliant in emergencies, until help arrives.

Hosted by New Boston Emergency Management in collaboration with New Boston Highway, New Boston Police and New Boston Fire/EMS, the event will be held at the Whipple Free Library on September 11 beginning at 7 p.m.

Goffstown Selectmen reject 2nd attempt to change Board's name

The Goffstown Selectmen have rejected second attempt to substitute “Select Board” for the title “selectmen” last Monday after a lengthy discussion. “There are 46 women serving on boards in Goffstown and there’s 55 men. It’s not that far off from equal,” said Chairman Peter Georgantas. “The town of Goffstown doesn’t have an issue with women.... I don’t believe it and I don’t believe using gender bias is a reason to change the name of our board. That’s my opinion.”

The Bow/Dunbarton School District recently recognized Roy Bailey and Edie Perkins with new chairs recognizing their 25 years of service to the District.

Publisher's Perspective by Leigh Bosse

"I didn't leave the Democratic Party, the Democratic Party left me?"

- Ronald Reagan

A few weeks ago I ran a Publisher's Perspective highlighting Thomas Jefferson, a great Democrat who would be ostracized by today's party for the views he expressed.

To illustrate how far to the left the Democratic Party has drifted, I highlight another famous Democrat, who is still revered by his party and honored by America.

He was a staunch anti-communist.

He favored a strong national defense. He increased military spending. He opposed quotas for racial equality. He opposed abortion as population control.

He was a lifetime member of the NRA. He was:

JOHN F. KENNEDY

If Kennedy were alive today, would he be a Democrat or a Republican?

Letters to the Editor

To whom it may concern:

Due to unanticipated obligations, I will be unable to campaign for and serve in the office of State Representative for Hillsborough 2, Weare and Deering. I do intend to serve in the future. It is, however, too late to remove my name from the primary ballot so I am urging the voters of Weare and Deering to vote for Gary Hopper, Keith Erf, and David Recupero.

Lori Davis, Weare

To The Editor:

Having read your past editorials claiming the nominee selections for the Annual Chamber of Commerce Awards being "rigged", I was offended and saddened by your opinions.

Recently, the Messenger dated August 31, 2018, reflected there was no winner in your Mystery Photo contest. However, being an avid fan of the Outlander series, I correctly identified the actress and her role and submitted it via US Mail on Friday, August 24, 2018.

Based upon my prior and negative interactions with your reporting, I can only conclude, your contest to be "rigged" which further offends me. Furthermore, since we share the same zip code, any claim that it must have been lost in the mail can only be characterized, in the words of Rudy Guiliani as "truth isn't truth".

Barbara Cavanaugh, Deering

Barbara:

Believe what you will, but we did not intentionally snub you. I never realized that a $15 Ming Du certificate meant so much to you. In that case, I am sending one along to you, Enjoy.

LDB

Dear Editor:

I just picked up this week's Messenger and saw the Mystery Photo. I'm not a Republican, but I wanted to say I thought it was a very sweet tribute to a good man. Thank you.

Linda Kepner

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter in response to last weeks Messenger article on the proposed Performing Arts Center. In this letter Trustee Douglas Hatfield stated that the public has created a misperception as to the possible funding for this project. Word on the street is that the Duncan-Jenkins Trust would be funding at least $5 Million to this project. I was glad that Mr. Hatfield came forward with letter of the fact that there is no current commitment on any given amount at this time. Correct me if I'm wrong, but in the trust (which can be found on the HDSS) there is a clear statement which reads and I quote, "It is not my intension to.....FUND PROGRAMS THAT WOULD BE OTHERWISE FUNDED FROM TAXPAYER DOLLARS." End of quote. So my thought is end of story. Certainly the town as a whole would not add a $10 Million bond which would put a severe hurt on the already hurting over the top taxes we now pay.

Now here is the slippery side of the story, also in the trust a section talking about the Trust Committee and its responsibility for all grant making from the income of the Trust. This is like hanging a carrot in front of a horse to make him run. Sure by some means they could donate some funds to the project, but then their part is done. In the mean time we the people are left to fund the project from then on, as in teachers, benefits, janitorial services, grounds & building maintenance, heat, lights and what ever else they decide to add. So by hanging the carrot out front, those that aren't informed may end up chasing the carrot.

So when it comes time to vote on $50,000 and $100,000 for a feasibility study, why pass it, they will pull it out of a slush fund anyway. For all business and homeowners, and most of all renters, I ask you to pay attention and when it comes time to vote, if you don't agree with this project FOR GODS SAKE GET OUT AND VOTE. They will. Any income produced by the Trust should go to more money for scholarships and the like. $10,000,000 could be used to fix up the town to bring in more people and business, Which brings to mind. WHAT HAPPENED TO WALL-MART!!!!

"EB" Chamberlain, Hillsborough

Goffstown couple arrested at burglary in progress

An observant Goffstown police officer stopped a burglary in progress at a local self-storage business early Thursday morning. Officer Yverson Alcide was doing a regular business check at the Goffstown Self Storage on Goffstown Back Road at 1:44 a.m. Thursday when he noticed suspicious activity. Alcide saw a car inside the fenced-in storage area that appeared out of place with a woman in the car. Alcide then spotted a man on the roof of one of the storage units and determined that he was trying to break into one of them. Ryan Woods of Goffstown was arrested and charged with attempted burglary, breach of bail, resisting arrest and being wanted on an electronic bench warrant. The woman in the car, Danielle Maxwell of Goffstown, was charged with burglary and possession of a controlled drug.

Goffstown Man Caught Injecting Drugs

Officer Eric Pappalardo walked into the skate park early Saturday morning when he observed Liam Brock, 36, of Goffstown, holding a needle with one hand as he injected a substance believed to be heroin/fentanyl into his arm. The man quickly stood up and threw the hypodermic needle into the nearby bushes before walking away from the approaching officer. Officer Pappalardo noticed injection marks on the man's arm, including fresh, dripping blood. Brock, who also had an outstanding warrant out of the Bedford Police Department, was placed into custody and transported to police headquarters.

Sanborn was prohibited from possessing the firearms because he is a convicted felon.
