New Boston Tax Break

One-time refund lowers New Boston real estate taxes

The Town of New Boston's tax rate has been set and it's lower than in 2017. The $1,200,423 that was incorrectly held as unreserved funds in the School District was returned to New Boston and used to reduce the school portion of the tax rate. The total tax rate is down 0.48/thousand of assessed value.

A resident with a $300,000 home would see a tax reduction of $144 in 2018.

We calculate our first bills by taxing 1/2 of the previous annual tax bill and then the 2nd bill is calculated for the entire year at the new tax rate, minus what you paid back in July. Looking at the same $300,000 home, the first tax bill would have been about $3,650 based on 1/2 of last year's taxes. Your 2nd bill will be about $3,510. This is a one-time reduction, so you can expect to see an increase next year.

Hopkinton library takes first steps at reopening after fire

It has been less than three months since a lightning strike on the cupola of the Hopkinton Town Library started a devastating fire, but great progress at restoring the facility has been made. The Community Room, officially reopened last week, welcomed a group of youngsters for its first storytime program since the fire. Various pieces of library furniture and about 1,200 boxes of books remain in a warehouse in Bow, where they are being cleaned. Library officials say they are still "three to five months away" from reopening as fully functional as it was before the fire. The library's main area remains empty while the board is considering new designs for the library's interior.

John Stark/Hopkinton Robotics Team drops tight finals match

The John Stark/Hopkinton Robotics Team, Oz-Ram, had a fantastic performance at the inaugural Governor's Cup robotics competition held at Plymouth State University over the weekend of October 13.

Working with the support of their mentors, students at the competition had to design and build a robot to complete a variety of tasks. At the Governor's Cup, Oz-Ram won their quarterfinal matches. In a shocking upset, they also defeated the team captained by New Ipswich in the semifinals.

Oz-Ram lost the first match of the semifinal, but fought back to win the next two matches and advance to the finals. Team Oz-Ram put up an admirable fight in the finals, but ultimately succumbed to the team led by Prospect Mountain High, the 2018 New England District Champions.

During the Governor's Cup, a handful of scholarships were awarded to seniors and John Stark's Zach Hargreaves took home a $2,000 scholarship to a New Hampshire state college or university of his choice. Team Oz-Ram, who was partnered with teams from Manchester and Nashua for this competition, was also awarded The First in the Nation Spirit Award at the Governor's Cup.

Team Oz-Ram is comprised of students from both John Stark Regional and Hopkinton Middle High School. They are coached by Alex Leger of Bow, who is currently a mechanical engineering student at UNH Manchester.

Team Oz-Ram competed at River Rage 2018 on October 27 at Manchester Memorial High School and they'll close out their 2018 competition season with the Battle of the Bay on November 10 at Prospect Mountain High.

Kearsarge Robotics Team wind Governor's Cup tourney

The Kearsarge Regional High School's robotics team took home the Governor's Cup following a competition earlier this month. Kearsarge's Blood, Sweat and Gears team participated in the FIRST Robotics competition. Competing members at the event included team captain junior Aaron Thayer, senior Jared Fortier, sophomores Jacob Cardillo and William DelGiudice, and freshmen Luke DelGiudice and Kyle Goodwin. (Seniors not present, but who are on the team are Madison Neal and Nathan Henderson). Following matches against 18 other teams, Blood, Sweat and Gears' student-designed robot qualified to move onto the second round of the competition, where six alliances competed for first place. As the winning alliance, the three seniors on Kearsarge High School's team earned a tuition-free semester at 12 of New Hampshire's universities and colleges, including the University of New Hampshire, Keene State College and Plymouth University. The team, which was first created in 2004, is led by pre-engineering and computer science teacher Chris Spooner and made up of approximately 15 students in grades nine through 12. This is their first time winning the Governor's Cup.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved Siliq (brodalumab) to treat adults with moderate-to-severe plaque psoriasis. Siliq is administered as an injection. Psoriasis is a skin condition that causes patches of skin redness and flaking. Psoriasis is an autoimmune disorder that occurs more commonly in patients with a family history of the disease, and most often begins in people between the ages of 15 and 35. The most common form of psoriasis is plaque psoriasis, in which patients develop thick, red skin with flaky, silver-white scales.

Over the past two decades there has been a sharp rise in the number and severity of infections caused by the bacteria Clostridium difficile, often shortened to C. diff, now the most common hospital-acquired infection in the United States. But a new study suggests that the most routinely prescribed antibiotic is not the best treatment for severe cases. According to the study, published on the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) Internal Medicine website, patients with a severe C. diff infection (CDI) were less likely to die when treated with the antibiotic vancomycin compared to the standard treatment of metronidazole.

Widely used pain relievers may increase the risk of a heart attack when used during a cold or flu-like illness, according to a new study published in the Journal of Infectious Diseases. The findings suggest physicians and patients should use caution when prescribing or taking the medications, known as nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs, or NSAIDs, to ease symptoms of acute respiratory infections.

Contoocook man indicted on multiple Federal firearms charges

Nathaniel Carr, 24, of Contoocook has been indicted on two counts of possession of a firearm by a prohibited person. He is accused of having a .22 caliber revolver and a box of ammunition on August 1st and a .380 caliber pistol, as well as more than 70 rounds of ammunition on August 24th.

A grand jury issued the federal indictments while he was awaiting trial in Merrimack County Superior Court on related charges filed two months ago by Concord Police. Police arrested Carr on August 1st following a motor vehicle stop and charged him with operating as a habitual offender, disobeying an officer and obstruction of government administration. When police ordered Carr to get out of the vehicle, they noticed a pistol tucked into the driver's side door pocket. Carr, who has an extensive criminal history in the region, is a convicted felon, who is prohibited from possessing a firearm. Carr also provided officers with a false name.

Later that month, local law enforcement and authorities with the U.S. Marshal's Office surrounded a Concord apartment and arrested Carr on outstanding warrants. They were at the residence to execute a search warrant as part of an investigation into possible drug sales. Law enforcement seized a firearm, cash, methamphetamine, opioids and a large amount of ammunition of various calibers. The federal arrest warrant detailing the U.S. attorney's case against Carr remains under seal.

Another HDHS bomb threat

There was another bomb threat made at the Hillsboro-Deering High School on Monday. Students were evacuated at 8:05 and were able to return at 11:10. The police and school investigations began immediately and we hope that the responsible person will be determined swiftly. This was an act that disrupted the teaching and learning of 347 students who behaved responsibly and maturely throughout this senseless ordeal. Please contact the administration if you have any questions or information that might be helpful.

The Goffstown Selectmen and Chief Richard O'Brien welcomed three new firefighters to the Department, (L-R) Cam Lawrence, Dorian Rondeau, and Alexander Smith.

Officer Dennis Rector Franklin Police

On December 24, 2013, the Franklin Police Department K-9 Unit became a reality with Officer Dennis Rector agreeing to assume the responsibilities associated with those of a full-time K-9 officer. Since that time, this K-9 partnership has flourished to a point at which it is difficult to determine where Officer Rector stops and K-9 Max begins. Officer Rector is responsible for ensuring that Max is certified in areas including narcotics detection certification and patrol certifications including USPCA POI & PD2. The pair has been responsible for a number of successful tracks, apprehensions and searches for individuals and objects. In addition, these Franklin Police Department members are well known throughout the state for extremely positive community relations in the field of K-9 demonstrations. It has been noted that Officer Rector and Max are one of the busiest K-9 pairs in the state of New Hampshire.

New England College features Segway inventor Dean Kamen

Dean Kamen, inventor and entrepreneur was recently invited to New England College as part of the President's Speaker Series. Kamen, well known in New Hampshire for the FIRST Robotics program and the SEGWAY, is now embarking on a project that may change the medical world as much as he's already changed the worlds of transportation and technology. ARMI, the Advanced Regenerative Manufacturing Institute is designed to make it practical to do large-scale manufacturing of engineered tissues and tissue-related technologies, with the long term goal to expand to make it available to everyone. He's also invented a simple device used to filter contaminated water in third world countries to make it drinkable, thus saving thousands of lives.

Kamen explained that the onerous rules, regulations and costs in New York brought him to New Hampshire, the "Live Free or Die" State. While visiting a hospital in Boston he noticed a large number of cars with New Hampshire license plates with that state motto. On a lark, he proceeded to Manchester and fell in love with the beauty and potential of the old mill buildings along the river. And the rest, as they say, is history. That part of the city is now bustling with commerce including Soft Desk, restaurants, UNH classrooms and well as his own company. When asked by one of the NEC students what careers might be the best for the next college graduates, Kamen responded by saying those careers may not even have been invented yet, but New Hampshire is a perfect place for them, and he made it clear that he intends to locally recruit the best and brightest to work on his exciting new projects.

The Speaker Series brings prominent leaders and innovators from business, nonprofits, public policy and other areas that are interesting, insightful and informative. Open to the public at no cost it is engaging for everyone.

Dunbarton man injured in bicycle accident

Conservation officers say Raymond Perry, 67, of Dunbarton, suffered non-life threatening injuries after crashing a mountain bike in Dunbarton on Saturday. Perry was unable to bike out or walk out of the woods under his own power. He was transported to Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center in Lebanon for treatment of his injuries.

Northfield man passes out while driving

Matthew Pike, 24, of Northfield overdosed on heroin and passed out while driving before hitting a 30-year-old pedestrian and pinning him to a tree. The victim suffered serious but non-life-threatening injuries and was taken to a local hospital, where he stayed overnight. Pike was revived with Narcan and charged with reckless conduct, possession of a controlled drug, operating under the influence of drugs and on an outstanding warrant.

3.5 to 7 years for injuring Peterborough mother & daughter

Joseph Mays, 30, of Keene has been sentenced to three and one half to seven years in state prison after injuring a Peterborough woman and her young daughter in a head-on accident in Hancock last year.

Merissa Aldrich, 33, and her 3 year-old daughter were traveling on Route 202 in Hancock on November 10th, when Mays hit their vehicle head-on, and were taken to Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center with serious injuries. Mays entered a guilty plea to aggravated DWI charges during a sentencing hearing on October 17th. In addition to his jail time, Mays will have to pay $170,036 in restitution for medical bills, lost wages, and other costs and will lose his license for 24 months. Upon his release, he will have to use an interlock device for a year. A $1,240 fine has been suspended for seven years.

The case had originally been scheduled for a plea and sentencing hearing but the judge refused to accept the negotiated plea. As a result, Mays received an additional year to his minimum sentence and three to his maximum sentence from the previous hearing.

Bow car fire disrupts I93 traffic

A car fire caused a traffic jam during the morning commute on Interstate 93 in Bow on Tuesday, closing two lanes on the northbound side for less than 40 minutes. The driver escaped without injury after pulling onto the breakdown lane on the right when smoke arose from the engine.

Work has begun on the Upper Hall floor of the Peterborough Town House, rebuilding the wood floor just in time for Veterans Day, and the ongoing celebration of the Centennial of the Town House.

Give credit where credit is due

With the Mid-Term Election on Tuesday, let us remember that the candidate whose policies we despise and who we would never vote for is just another human being trying to make a difference in society. Though you may vote for another, give them all the credit for having the courage and commitment to throw their hats in the ring and endure the grinding political process.

As Teddy Roosevelt once said, "It is not the critic who counts, not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or where the doer of deeds could have done better. The credit belongs to the man [or woman] who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by the dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions and spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best, knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who, at worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly; so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory or defeat."

The candidates are doing the hard part. The least you can do is get off your backside and vote.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Every election is important and every position on the ticket has value. In Franklin's recent city election in addition to electing the city councilors and school board members in each ward, a moderator, ward clerk and supervisor of the checklist were elected. How many of us realize how important these latter three positions are.

The press exposes the City Councilors and School Board Members. But how often are we even aware of the remaining three offices on the ballot? However, these positions and the volunteers who work with them are vital to the election process.

These officials are responsible for making sure the polling locations are ready for you, the voter when the polls open and more importantly for the integrity of the election process. They are responsible for a smooth efficient operation of the polls for the 11-12 hours that the polls open. These officials and their volunteers count the ballots in several ways to ensure the accuracy of the results. They ensure that the numbers report are accurate. Then, they must secure those ballots, until they have been validated and the Secretary of State is notified.

New Hampshire voters are very fortunate to have a law requiring a paper ballot. When votes are cast on machines it is next to impossible to challenge the outcome with a recount.

KUDOS and many thanks to the moderators, the ward clerks and the supervisors of the checklists, and the many volunteers who assist them.

Karen Testerman, Franklin

To The Editor:

As we all know, good reporting, even on the opinion page, includes researching your material. On 10-26-18, Leigh Bosse of the Messenger, with quotes from Wayne MacDonald (NHGOP), published a scathing editorial regarding a photo of Jenn Alford Teaster without doing any research.

Had he and Mr MacDonald done so, they might have learned a compelling story about Ms Teaster, a story which would make them proud of this dynamic young woman. Following her interview at the Hillsborough Library, Jenn posed in front of the War Memorial wearing the hat of a dear friend who was killed in Iraq; a friend who would be proud to celebrate with Jenn, her run for Senate. Jenn wears this hat often, joyfully, carrying the strength of a friend who served his country, as she intends to serve the State of NH in the senate.

Solemnity is felt as a human emotion in many situations. MacDonald's call for solemnity as the sole appropriate emotional display is questionable at best. Today, solemnity as a facade is often practiced and just as often read from a TelePrompTer. There is little genuine feeling in that display.

I think that we can all learn a life's lesson from Jenn: be honest with yourself and others. Celebrate, even in spirit, with the friend who would be most joyful of your accomplishments, were he alive to do so.

Cheryl Houston, Hillsborough

Had she taken a solemn pose and posted the photo with a caption indicating tribute to her friend, no one would be offended. To do a silly dance with her campaign sign at that location, and posted with a caption saying "Campaigning in Hillsborough" is another matter, LDB

Harris Center Educator & Volunteer of the Year Awards

The Harris Center for Conservation Education in Hancock announced its educator of the year and volunteer of the year awards at its annual meeting Sunday afternoon.

Five indicted for Belmont home invasion and robbery

The Belknap County grand jury indicted Michael J. Roach, 30, of Belmont; Walter Hosmer, 30, of Franklin; Nicholas Dubois, 33, of Manchester; Ashton Prive, 21, Boscawen; and Kaitlyn D. Rollins, 25, of Loudon for planning to commit the robbery at the home of 69-year-old Henry Dionne in Belmont at 2 a.m. on Jan. 21. Dionne was held for three hours while Roach, Hosmer and Dubois, ransacked his house and home office, then stole his pickup truck to make their getaway.

Prive and Rollins remained outside the house while the robbery was under way. State Police later found the burned-out remains of the truck in Salisbury.

Greenfield's historic Meetinghouse to be "revitalized"

A team, led by architect Sonya Misiasek, has been working on completing a historic building assessment which will serve as a "road map" for the revitalization of the Greenfield Meetinghouse. At a meeting with citizens on Tuesday they pointed out water damage to the lower level, stained glass restoration, and electrical work. When completed, the report will provide prioritized recommendations for projects that should be completed, along with estimates of how much each project should cost.

FIELD HOCKEY DIVISION III CHAMPIONSHIP

#1 Mascoma 1, #2 Hopkinton 0: Maddie McCluskey came up with 17 saves, many of them stealing sure-fire goals from the Royals, but one she couldn't stop was a hard shot from Katie Pushee that Mackenzie Labrie, who was stationed on the post in front of McCluskey, tipped home with 7:08 left on the clock. That was all Mascoma needed to claim a 1-0 win and the D-III crown.

#7 Souhegan 1, #10 Merrimack Valley 0: The Sabers scored with seven minutes to go in the match off a free kick near the corner.

#6 Milford 5, #11 John Stark 1: After the Generals and Spartans ended the regular season with a 1-1 tie, Milford finally settled the score, sending Stark home in the first round of the D-II tournament.

DIVISION IV QUARTERFINALS

DIVISION III SEMIFINALS

UNIFIED SOCCER QUARTERFINALS

#2 ConVal 9, #7 Keene 6: Andres Tourgee's hat trick led the Cougars over the Blackbirds for a 9-6 victory.

CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIP

Hopkinton First: Kearsarge's junior Mya Dube defended her individual title, running her best time at Derryfield Park, in 19:50, but Hopkinton placed three runners in the top 12 and five in the top 26, giving Hopkinton a score of 52 points. Campbell placed five runners between 15th and 29th place, but it wasn't enough to keep up the Hawks top three of freshmen Cailey Stockwell (fifth, 20:47) and Anna O'Reilly (12th, 20:57), and junior Emma Rothe (10th, 20:55). Juniors Sydney Stockwell (16th, 21:27) and Lily Sabol (26th, 22:21), and sophomores Lilia Klingler (33rd, 22:17) and Cate Westbrook (28th, 24:04) completed the title-winning lineup.
