Tickets now on sale for 6th Annual Halcyon Music Festival June 20-29

24 world-class musicians to perform seven chamber music concerts in Portsmouth over just 10 days. The 2019 Halcyon Music Festival returns to Portsmouth June 20 through 29 and subscriptions and individual tickets are now on sale. Now in its sixth year, the festival brings 24 world-class musicians together to live, rehearse and perform a series of seven chamber music concerts over the span of just 10 days on the New Hampshire Seacoast.

Each concert features a unique program and no two pieces of music are repeated across seven performances. Of particular note this year is Olivier Messiaen's eight-movement masterpiece, Quartet for the End of Time, which was written while he was a prisoner of war in Germany during World War II and was first performed by his fellow prisoners. The concluding piece of the final concert on Saturday, June 29 will be the transformative yet rarely heard septet version of Richard Strauss' pinnacle achievement for string orchestra, Metamorphosen.

New this year, a special free Children's Concert will be held on Wednesday, June 19 at 2 p.m. at the Portsmouth Public Library. The festival musicians, from institutions like New England Conservatory and New York Philharmonic, will also explain the history of the quartet genre and answer questions. The free educational opportunity is a preview of Halcyon Music Festival's sixth season.

"Each year our roster of world-class musicians evolves and this year we're particularly excited to welcome back recent Naumburg International Violin Competition winner, Grace Park, who is a major celebrity in the classical music world right now," noted Heng-Jin Park, pianist and the Festival's Artistic Director. "We're also thrilled to be able to steal extraordinary Boston Symphony cellist Oliver Aldort for a week and to have violist and Portland Chamber Music Festival Artistic Director Melissa Reardon join us for the first time."

The full list of participating international virtuosos includes bassist Karl Doty; cellists Oliver Aldort, Alexei Gonzales, David Hardy, Thomas Kraines, Loewi Lin, Peter Stumpf; clarinetist Paul Cigan; pianists Lolita Lisovskaya-Sayevich and Heng-Jin Park; violinists Robyn Bollinger, Gabriela Diaz, Emma Frucht, Zenas Hsu, Irina Muresanu, Grace Park, Monica Pegis and Ben Sayevich; and violists Tim Deighton, Robert Meyer, Melissa Reardon, Lauren Siess, Jessica Thompson and Marcus Thompson.

The complete 2019 Halcyon Music Festival schedule includes:

Wednesday, June 19: Preview Children's Concert featuring quartets by Beethoven and Janáček.

Thursday, June 20: "Manifesto on Love" featuring works by Mozart, Janáček and Brahms.

Friday, June 21: "The Colors of Spain" featuring works by de Falla, Turina and Sarasate.

Saturday, June 22: "Tempest and Serenity" featuring works by Beethoven, Fauré and Elgar.

Wednesday June 26: "Fairy Tales" featuring works by Lutoslawski, Schumann, Ravel and Franck.

Thursday, June 27: "Vienna in Portsmouth" featuring works by Mozart, Korngold and Schubert.

Friday, June 28: "The End of Time—And Back Again" featuring works by Wolf, Mozart and Messiaen.

Saturday June 29: "Transformations" featuring works by Shostakovich, Prokofiev, Schoenfield and Strauss.

All performances will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church in Portsmouth, NH at 7:30 p.m.

There is a suggested $25 donation for individual concerts. Audience members interested in attending more than one performance are encouraged to purchase one of the discounted subscription options: $150 for the full festival; $130 for six concerts; $110 for five concerts; $88 for four concerts; $65 for three concerts.

For full program details or to purchase advance subscriptions and ticket, visit www.halcyonmusicfestival.org.

Tourism in White Mountains has a new Leader

NORTH WOODSTOCK, NH - Charyl Reardon has been named president of White Mountains Attractions Association, marketing the State's most popular tourism region and driving a $900 million industry in the region.

Reardon becomes just the third president in the association's 60-year history, responsible for visitor services, public relations, and promotion of New Hampshire's fabled White Mountains in markets around the world. She succeeds Jayne O'Connor, who is retiring after 22 years at the helm. "I love the White Mountains and I believe it is one of the best tourism destinations" Reardon said. "I am beyond excited about the energy, enthusiasm and passion of my team. I am looking forward to leading this organization, which understands the economic impact of tourism, and has helped to make memories for generations of families from across the country and around the world."

A graduate of Lincoln-Woodstock Public School and Plymouth State University, where she earned a Bachelor of Science in business, Reardon joined White Mountains Attractions in 1999, handling all aspects of marketing over the years, from brochure distribution and membership, to operations and digital marketing.

"It's rewarding to turn the organization over to someone you have nurtured and encouraged," said outgoing president, Jayne O'Connor. "The association has a pretty dynamic marketing plan these days, investing one million dollars annually into promoting the region here and abroad. Charyl is very good at integrating new marketing opportunities into our current plans in order to reach as many potential visitors as possible."

There is a lot of competition for people's time these days," said O'Connor, "so our job is to keep them coming to the White Mountains for their fun and recreation."

The association maintains the popular VisitWhiteMountains.com website, as well as several social media outlets for White Mountains tourism. In addition, it promotes the region through brochures, travel shows and public relations.

The White Mountains Attractions Association is based at the White Mountains Visitor Center on the Kancamagus Highway in North Woodstock and is the official destination marketing organization for the White Mountains, its 17 major attractions and over 300 other tourism businesses.

Canterbury Shaker Village opens May 4

Heifer Parade & Free Opening Day Kicks off 50th Anniversary Year. Canterbury Shaker Village opens for the season on Saturday, May 4 from 10 am to 4 pm. Admission is free to all.

For many families, the highlight of the day is the Heifer Parade at 11 am, when young cows from Brookford Farm are brought to their summer pastures on Shaker lands. Children will love the traditional maypole dancing that follows.

Canterbury-based fiddler and caller Dudley Laufman will lead barn dancing for all from 12:30 – 1pm.

To kick off the celebration of the 50th anniversary of Shaker Village's incorporation as a museum, a sugar maple will be planted at 1:30 pm.

The young tree replaces an ancient maple in Meetinghouse Lane that was lost to storms and age last year. Shaker songs and readings will provide inspiration, and children will be invited to help plant and water the young sapling. Visitors can also enjoy family craft activities, food in the Creamery Café, and shopping in the Museum Store. In addition, one-hour guided tours will be offered at 11am and 2pm for $10 per person. This event is sponsored by Havenwood Heritage Heights.

A full schedule of special events, workshops, demonstrations and programs makes this anniversary season at Canterbury Shaker Village a special one. Summer events include Herb & Garden Day on June 15, presented in partnership with the NH Herbal Network; Traditional Craft Days on June 29 & 30, a celebration of time-honored crafts and skills with a variety of demonstrations and vendors; and Arts Week, July 23 – August 3, which offers contemporary interpretations of art, music, and dance and features five artists in residence.

Visit www.shakers.org for more information about all of the Village's 2019 special events and workshops, the benefits of membership, and opportunities to hold meetings, retreats, and special events at the Village. The museum is a member of the NH Heritage Museum Trail, which connects the public with culturally rich heritage institutions in New Hampshire. For more information, visit nhmuseumtrail.org.

Canterbury Shaker Village is open Tuesdays through Sundays, 10 am – 4 pm, and seven days a week beginning on Labor Day through October 27. It is open weekends in November and then holds its popular Christmas at Canterbury event the first two Saturdays in December. Groups of 20 or more receive discount admission if booked in advance.

Canterbury Shaker Village is located at 288 Shaker Road in Canterbury, New Hampshire, just off Route 106 south of Laconia and north of Concord, NH.

Famous art comes to The Rochester Museum of Fine Arts

The Rochester Museum of Fine Arts, in association with The Argh Gallery, is proud to announce a one-day-only exhibition featuring a genuine "LOVE" screen print signed by Robert Indiana. The event will take place in the Bernier Room, at the Rochester Community Center, on Saturday, May 4th from 1-3pm. Light refreshments will be served. The public is encouraged to attend.

Robert Indiana (born Robert Clark; September 13, 1928 – May 19, 2018) was an American artist associated with the pop art movement. His "LOVE" print, first created for the Museum of Modern Art's Christmas card in 1965, was the basis for his 1970 "LOVE" sculpture and the widely distributed 1973 United States Postal Service "LOVE" stamp.

In 1994, Robert Indiana did a limited run of green "LOVE" prints to benefit the Greenpeace organization. Indiana personally gifted one of the prints to Sarah Knoy, director of the Greenpeace offices in Chicago, IL.

We are pleased to present a selection of works by Tom Glover. The exhibition will be on view in the Bernier Room, at the Rochester Community Center. A reception will take place on Saturday, May 4th from 1-3pm. Light refreshments will be served. The public is encouraged to attend.

Tom Glover is an exceptionally talented painter and oil painting restorer. His work has been exhibited in a variety of venues and has received regional and national attention. Glover taught at the University of New Hampshire and teaches presently at Sanctuary

Arts in Eliot, Maine. He has also been an Artist in Residence on Appledore Island for the Shoals Marine Laboratory.

The Bernier Room is located in the Rochester Community Center at 150 Wakefield Street in Rochester, New Hampshire. The Rochester Museum of Fine Arts is sponsored by the City of Rochester, Rochester Main Street, and Bernier Insurance. Visit www.rochestermfa.org for more information.

We are proud to present a special exhibition called "A Tribute to Sunday B. Morning" in the Art Gallery at the Rochester Performance & Arts Center. The exhibition will feature 4 of Andy Warhol's iconic Marilyn screenprint series. An opening reception will be held on Friday, May 31st from 5-7pm. Light refreshments will be served. The public is encouraged to attend.

In 1967, Andy Warhol produced what would become one of the most iconic and memorable representations of screen legend Marilyn Monroe. Warhol created a series of 10 variations in what is now referred to as the Marilyn series, each with virtually the same composition, but different color variations. These original prints are known as the "Factory Additions".

These are by far the most expensive Marilyn screenprints, which auction anywhere from $100,000 for a single print, to over $1.5 million for the suite.

After Warhol published his famous Factory Additions of Marilyn, he began collaborating with two anonymous friends from Belgium on a second series of prints.

The original idea behind this partnership, for Warhol, was to play on the concept of mass production. He was essentially mocking the idea that the Factory Addition prints were somehow more important than the second series. Warhol provided the photo negatives and color codes needed to create silkscreens exactly like the ones he had used for the Factory Additions.

In 1970, Warhol's original silkscreens were reproduced to create the second series of Marilyn screenprints. These were named "Sunday B. Morning" prints. Their dimensions are 36x36 and are printed with high quality archival inks, just like the originals.

Also pleased to present a selection of works by Michael Phillips. The exhibition will be on view in the Art Gallery, at the Rochester Performance & Arts Center. A reception will take place on Friday, May 31st from 5-7pm. Light refreshments will be served. The public is encouraged to attend.

Michael Phillips is a United States postal worker and self taught artist from Litchfield, New Hampshire, now based in Concord.

His work brings together various antithetical and contradictory sentiments, as well as a wide range of influences, techniques, and mediums, into a cohesive body of work that puts more stock in an oeuvre than singular pictures. He attempts to elevate and highlight the accidental, overlooked, and non-art we pass every day: cracked city buildings, rusty metal, dirty walls, runny paint.

Phillips draws from his time as a musician and brings the ideas and ethos of DIY music scenes to his art. He is relatively new to the art scene but has shown in galleries in New Hampshire and is in private collections in Europe, Canada and across the USA.

The Art Gallery, at the Rochester Performance & Arts Center, is located at 32 North Main Street in Rochester, New Hampshire. The Rochester Museum of Fine Arts is sponsored by the City of Rochester, Rochester Main Street, and Bernier Insurance. Visit www.rochestermfa.org/rpac for more information.

Kitty Angels, Inc., the sole beneficiary of these awesome events at Treasures, is a no-kill cat shelter and is made up of all unpaid volunteers, dedicated to rescuing stray and abandoned cats and kittens, furnishing them with treatment for injuries or other health issues and then placing them into new forever homes with compatible owners. They are a non-profit, 501(C) 3 charitable corporation where all donations are fully tax-deductible and every penny of every donation is used in the caring of cats. (View their website at: www.kittyangels.org). If you'd like to make a donation, but can't come to the event that weekend, you may send a check or money order to Kitty Angels Inc., P.O. Box 638, Tyngsboro, MA 01879. Please put 'Treasures' in the memo line. As always, you can drop off a check or cash at Treasures and they will forward it for you. If you can't make a monetary donation at this time, but would like to help, material donations will be happily accepted. Items most needed include cat food (both dry and canned), kitty litter, medical supplies, bedding (clean towels, blankets, quilts, clean denim and corduroy, quilted bedspreads), carriers, cleaning supplies including bleach, laundry detergent and paper towels, photocopy paper, postage stamps, cat toys and cat furniture as well as trash bags. You may also donate new or used items for sale in the store, where all proceeds go to Kitty Angels. Only clean, working and unbroken items please. You don't have to wait for this event to drop off any material donations for 'Kitty Angels.' You can do that by making an appointment when the store is open, which is 10am to 5pm daily. The phone number is 603-672-2535 and the address is 106 Ponemah Road, Amherst, NH 03031.

Special Thanks go to Clark & Leighton, P.C. Dentistry, who donates for use, a portion of their abutting land for this event. Please consider adopting a new, life-long, forever-friend as well. If you are interested in being a vendor for the event, there is still space available!

A donation of only $30.00 is all you need for an outdoor space that will cover both days. Contact Sherry or Rick at (603) 672-2535. Visit their website for more information at www.TreasuresNH.com.

Youth on Course announces partnership with New Hampshire Golf Association

Youth on Course – the non-profit organization providing young people with subsidized golf, college scholarships, caddie programs and paid internships – partners with New Hampshire Golf Association (NHGA) to bring affordable junior golf to the Granite State.

Members ages 6-18 in this district will be able to join the Youth on Course national network and access golf for $5 or less per round at 1,000 facilities across 29 states. With 18,000 golfers and 100 golf courses in their portfolio, NHGA plans to announce participating facilities in the coming weeks.

“With a rich history in the development of golf in the United States, New Hampshire’s community take great pride as stewards of amateur golf,” says Adam Heieck, Youth on Course CEO. “We’re excited to work together and impact the next generation of players by providing consistent access to affordable rounds.”

Since the founding of its junior tour in 1998, NHGA has consistently made junior golf a priority and this new partnership broadens their mission to grow the game. The Thorpe Family Foundation NHGA Junior Golf Tour has provided affordable and competitive playing opportunities, and the Youth on Course initiatives will add another level of affordability for juniors looking to get into the game. Starting this year, all members of the NHGA Junior Tour will automatically become members of Youth on Course. The one-time $25 membership allows juniors to participate in 9 and 18-hole tournaments held throughout the summer, also receiving a towel and customized bag tag.

“When first introduced to Youth on Course, we knew it was a no-brainer for us to get involved,” says Matt Schmidt, Executive Director of the New Hampshire Golf Association. “We, along with our partner courses, are eager to give our community access to golf at an unprecedented level of affordability.”

Operating in every U.S. region, Youth on Course has more than 50,000 active members. Since 2006, juniors have played more than 10 million holes and 765,000 rounds while the organization has helped generate more than $5.2 million in tee-time revenue reimbursed back to individual golf courses. In addition to subsidized rounds, Youth on Course also facilitates paid internships, a caddie program and nationwide scholarships. They have awarded 223 students with college scholarships totaling more than $1.4 million in financial support. The current Youth on Course scholarship retention rate is ninety-four percent, with 80 students already graduated.
