REALTOR of the Year

The Sunapee Region Board of REALTORS (SRBR) is pleased to announce Joanie McIntire, Associate Broker for Coldwell Banker J. Hampe Associates, as the 2019 SRBR REALTOR of the Year. This honor is awarded annually in recognition of those Realtors who have served not only the real estate profession but also their communities. A Realtor since 2008, McIntire joined the SRBR Board of Directors in 2015 and is currently serving her second term as board president. In addition, McIntire has served on the board of directors for the New Hampshire Association of REALTORS (NHAR) and is part of the 2019 NHAR Leadership Academy.

Forest Rangers honored

At the N.H. Veterans Home in Tilton, four NH Forest Rangers received special pins as an acknowledgement of their military service. The ceremony took place during Smokey Bear's visit to the Veterans Home. (L-R) Sarah Stewart, commissioner of the N.H. Department of Natural and Cultural Resources; Forest Rangers Albert von-Dohrmann, Jason Huter, Adiran Reyes and Michael Matson; Forest Protection Bureau Chief Steven Sherman; NH Division of Forest and Lands Director Brad Simpkin).

Four people injured in head-on collision in Antrim

Route 202 between Antrim and Hillsborough was closed for several hours Tuesday as authorities responded to a head on collision between a Jeep, which crossed the center line and collided with the bed of a flatbed tow truck. According to Antrim Police Chief Scott Lester, it is unclear if a medical emergency contributed to the cause. Police reports indicate that a Maryland man driving the Jeep Wrangler from Hillsborough toward Antrim was passing another car. The tow truck driver swerved to avoid the Jeep, which crashed into the bed of the tow truck anyway. The Jeep driver was airlifted to Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center and his two unrelated teenage passengers sustained minor injuries. The tow truck driver sustained only a minor leg injury. Their names were not released.

New London solar soon

Project will generate 40% of municipal electricity needs

Jamie Hess, Chair of the New London Energy Committee met with the Select Board Monday evening to update the Board on the status of the project to install solar panels at the Public Works Facility. With the planning and negotiating nearly complete, Hess said he expects construction to begin soon and will be generating electricity by this Fall.

Town Council had rejected the original draft agreement with the investors, but the committee has adapted another used by Colby-Sawyer College which should be acceptable. Once signed off, the Select Board will schedule a Public Hearing. The entire $500,000 construction cost will be borne by the investors, who will own and control the project for the first five years. The town will then have an option to purchase the facility at a depreciated price, expected to be about 50% of the original cost. The agreement guarantees that during those five years the cost of electricity will not exceed what the town is currently paying.

History comes alive in Hillsborough August 17th-18th

For ten years, there was a living history event held at a series of sites in Hillsborough and it ended last year. However, a new group of citizens in town have created History Alive to replace it on Aug. 17 and 18. How will it be different from Living History? It will be held in only two sites in Hillsborough. Jones Road site will focus on the active reenactment of the Civil, and French and Indian Wars – complete with horses and cannons, and sutlers. (Sutlers are people, including women, who traveled with the soldiers to sell and provide things they need like shoes, mending of clothes, and weapons.) In addition, the popular gold panning for kids will be held down by the brook. At the historic Hillsborough Center, History Alive will be focusing on the hundred years from the 1760s to the 1860s of the more local NH history. Instead of having George Washington come, Oney, the slave of Martha Washington who escaped and spent the rest of her life in New Hampshire, will be there.

Instead of focusing on one small area, there will be tours and scavenger hunts all around the center's green, including Civil War quilts, writers on the underground railroad and slavery in the state.

You will be entertained by Civil War musicians, abolitionist singers, and on Saturday evening a special contra dance in a barn nearby. There are events that will be fun for all ages, e.g. animals in the town pound and horse sheds, exhibits and demonstrations of blacksmithing, stonewall building, antique window repair, cider making, ice cream making, costumes and games and many other events.

A beautiful quilt commemorating the 250th celebration of the oldest church in town will be displayed and prizes given to all who can find all the buildings in the Center that are depicted on the quilt. Cost, good for the two full days, is $10 for adults, $8 for senior citizens, and $5 for children. Children of the local schools surrounding Hillsborough will be admitted free.

The Revolutionary War re-enactors will be camped on Jones Road.

Newport adopts two proposals

The Newport Select Board held a pair of public hearings on Monday, July 15th. 1. A proposed community grant application for up to $500,000 in CDBG funds for wastewater treatment facility upgrade, design, construction and related costs; and 2. Adoption of the Town of Newport Anti-displacement and Relocation Plan for the project. There was no public comment on either end and the Board unanimously adopted both.

Two injured in Newport accident - Driver charged with DWI

Two were injured Tuesday night in a motor vehicle crash in Newport. A vehicle was driving westbound when it crossed into the eastbound lane, went off the road, over the embankment, and into trees and rocks. First responders discovered that two people were in the vehicle, and their injuries were severe enough to require two ambulances for the citizens. The driver, Megan M. Horsfield, 29, of Newport and her passenger, Justin Butler, 26, also of Newport remain hospitalized at DHMC. Horsfield has been charged with Aggravated Driving While Intoxicated, as both drugs and alcohol are suspected to be causes.

Pride urges support for Community Center

At its July 10th meeting, the members of Hillsborough Pride unanimously voted to endorse and support Becky Johnson's ambitious plans to construct a Community Center. A planning meeting for the Hillsborough Community Center project will be held on Wednesday, August 21 at 6:30 p.m. at Hillsboro-Deering Middle School, 6 Hillcat Drive, Hillsboro, NH. Local non-profit group leaders are welcome and encouraged to attend as we will be defining areas where the creation of a community center will help existing programs. We will also identify volunteers who are interested in becoming steering committee members. Pride president Leigh Bosse called on others to join in the effort. "I've always believed in the saying What the mind of man can conceive and believe, man can achieve," said Bosse, "but you've got to believe. Let's do this."

Missing 2 year old Bow child found safe

On Saturday, July 20th, Bow Police received a report of a missing 2 year old child on Erin Drive in Bow. The child had been last seen inside the residence but the parents could not locate him. Based upon the child's age, heat index of 95 degrees, and the terrain, there was an immediate threat to the child's safety. The Bow and State Police K-9 Units responded and the State Police helicopter also assisted with searching the woods from the air and were able to relay information to ground units and a Bow Officer using an ATV. An hour and a half later, the child was located by a person walking their dog on the hiking trails, 1/2 mile from his house. The child was medically evaluated by the Bow Fire Department and reunited with his parents.

Three people killed in New London rollover on Interstate 89

Three people died in a late morning, single-car accident Sunday on I-89 in New London. NH State Police report the accident took place when a northbound SUV left the highway near Exit 12 and rolled over several times with all three motorists ejected from the SUV.

New London Fire Chief Jay Lyon believes that despite the multiple rollover, the three would have survived and perhaps even walked away had they been belted in. State Police released a statement saying the vehicle was in the left lane of travel and another vehicle "may have merged into the left hand lane in front of the SUV. The vehicle involved in the crash subsequently swerved and may have lost control."

The SUV came to rest in the highway median where two died on scene. Another was transported to New London Hospital and pronounced dead there.

Authorities are investigating all factors, but driver impairment does not appear to play a role in the accident. The victims have been identified as: Sharon Nowrocki, 44, of West Roxbury, Massachusetts, as well as Angelo Rossi, 57, and his wife, Kelly, 56, both of Roslindale, MA.

An improper merge by a passing car may be the cause of accident.

Fire at Francestown Post Office

Fire crews responded to an electrical fire at the Francestown Post Office last Wednesday, after a light fixture arced and caught fire when a post office employee was readying the office opening. The fire was contained to the light fixture and had burned itself out by the time the fire department arrived. Officials said that there was no damage to the building, which opened on time, just to the light fixture.

WHY DO REGULAR DENTAL VISITS MATTER?

Dr. Esin Narli-Trangaris

Regular dental visits are important because they can help spot dental health problems early on when treatment is likely to be simpler and more affordable. They also help prevent many problems from developing in the first place. Visiting your dentist regularly is also important because some diseases or medical conditions have symptoms that can appear in the mouth.

I'm not having any symptoms. Do I still need to see a dentist?

Yes. Even if you don't have any symptoms, you can still have dental health problems that only a dentist can diagnose. Regular dental visits will also help prevent problems from developing. Continuity of care is an important part of any health plan and dental health is no exception. Keeping your mouth healthy is an essential piece of your overall health. It's also important to keep your dentist informed of any changes in your overall health, since many medical conditions can affect your dental health, too.

What can I expect during a dental checkup?

The dentist or hygienist will ask about your recent medical history, examine your mouth and decide whether or not you need x-rays. Depending on your treatment plan, the hygienist may use a special dental instrument to check your gums for gum disease. Your dentist will evaluate your overall dental health and conduct an oral cancer screening by holding your tongue with gauze, checking it and your whole mouth, then feeling your jaw and neck.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Honey and over-the-counter remedies should be a patient's first point of call to treat a cough, not antibiotics, says England's The National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE) in a new draft guidance. In most cases, acute coughs are caused by a cold or flu virus, or bronchitis, and last around three weeks. Honey and cough medicines containing pelargonium, guaifenesin or dextromethorphan have some evidence of benefit for the relief of cough symptoms.

High doses of vitamin D taken one hour after sunburn significantly reduce skin redness, swelling, and inflammation, according to a double-blinded, placebo-controlled clinical trial. The trial results were recently published in the Journal of Investigative Dermatology.

Up to half of people with Alzheimer's disease (AD) use a psychotropic drug, and one in five uses two or more psychotropics concomitantly, according to a new study. Psychotropic drug use was more common among persons with Alzheimer's disease already five years before the diagnosis, and the difference to comparison persons without AD increased at the time of diagnosis. Four years after the diagnosis, psychotropic drug use was three times more common in persons with AD than in comparison persons. Of psychotropic drugs, the use of antipsychotics was almost eight times more common among persons with Alzheimer's disease than among comparison persons. The use of at least two psychotropics concomitantly was three times more common among persons with Alzheimer's disease.

Governor critical of Franklin Representative

Gov. Chris Sununu called the comments of Rep. Werner Horn, R-Franklin, "racist and offensive," going so far as to say that the New Hampshire Legislature would function better if the three-term Rep. was no longer a member of the 400-member House. Horn, in a political column on Thursday, defended his view that slave owners were not racists., saying, "Slavery later on in the American South was not about the color of the skin of the slaves but their value as workers on the plantations." Republican State Chairman Steve Stepanek also condemned Horn for the comments. "Representative

Rep. Werner Horn

Horn is wrong and his comments are not based in our platform's belief in free people, free markets and free enterprise," Stepanek said in a statement. "Slavery throughout its history in the United States was a racist, inhuman, and immoral practice."

Mann is a dangerous, manipulative predator

A former Dunbarton Selectman has been sentenced to decades in prison for sexually assaulting two 5-year-old boys and exposing himself to a teenager. Prosecutors called the crimes committed by Merton Mann, 75, monstrous and wicked as they asked that Mann be given what amounts to a life sentence. Mann was sentenced to a minimum of 20 years in prison. Defense lawyers asked for a minimum of five years behind bars, but Judge John Kissinger said that wasn't nearly enough based on the crimes. "He is a dangerous, manipulative predator who needs to be isolated from society," Kissinger said.

Police addressing problems at Norway Pond

In response to complaints from residents about nonresidents on the beach at Norway Pond, Hancock Police have installed new signs hoping to combat recent problems with litter, parking, and nonresidential use of the area. Lake users with boat trailers are instructed to park their trailers behind the town offices across the street while accessing the lake.

Crotched Mountain Ski Area acquired as part of $264 million package

Crotched Mountain Ski Area is included as part of Colorado-based Vail Resorts Inc's merger agreement with Peak Resorts, putting three additional New Hampshire ski areas under its control. Attitash and Wildcat are the other two.

The $264 million transaction would include 17 ski areas in seven states. Other areas in the Northeast are Mount Snow in Vermont and Hunter Mountain in New York. Vail plans to invest $15 million over the next two years in to "elevate the guest experience" at the Peak resorts. By June 2021, the company expects annual earnings of $60 million from the transaction.

Last year, Vail took over ski operations at Mount Sunapee in New Hampshire when it announced it had acquired Triple Peaks LLC from the Mueller family for $82 million.

That transaction also involved Okemo Mountain Resort in Vermont and Crested Butte in Colorado. Vail also owns Stowe Mountain Resort in Vermont. In addition to the five Northeast ski areas, the Peak Resorts transaction includes five in Pennsylvania, four in Ohio, two in Missouri area and one in Indiana.

Jessyca Keeler, executive director of SKI NH, said word of the Vail Resorts deal percolated among the group's 33 member resorts on Monday. Keeler said Vail Resorts has "a great reputation" in the ski industry. She said Vail is known for investing in its resorts, its host communities, its employees and in sustainability.

She was released on PR bail with arraignment date to be determined at a later date per the Hillsboro County Attorney's Office.

OSHA investigates Franklin workplace death

Federal investigators are looking into possible workplace safety violations at a Franklin auto shop where an employee died last month after being trapped under a car. An Occupational Safety and Health Administration spokesperson confirmed Monday that an investigation was opened into the conditions at Beauchine Auto and Towing. Donald Eastman, 49, of Franklin was working at Beauchine Auto and Towing at 392 N. Main St. in Franklin when he became trapped under a passenger vehicle on June 19. He died before emergency responders were able to transport him to a hospital. Officials refused to estimate the completion date of the investigation into the working conditions at the facility.

Warner Board unable to agree on Town Administrator duties

At a May 14th Select Board meeting Chair Clyde Carson said the Board needs to come together as a Board and decide how to move forward on a replacement for former Town Administrator Jim Bingham. Right now there is not an agreed upon plan. Carson went over again the direction he wants to take: 1. Review the job description and revise it if necessary. 2. What are the qualities the Board wants from their perspective. Strong budgetary skills and customer service. 3. Identify potential candidates for the search committee.

As of July 16th, the Board still has not adopted a Town Administrator Job Description, prior to advertising for a replacement. The Board postponed discussion at the last meeting because Selectwoman Judy Newman-Rogers needed more time to go through the job description. Newman-Rogers, who had been feuding with Bingham prior to his departure and her election, said considering what people have talked to her about, the concern is to not have what we had. She thinks when the Board assigns authority it should be specific and that's the way she is approaching the job description. Who ever fills the position it should be very clear they work for the Board, Department Heads and employees.

Carson asked if she is making changes to the job description, to which Newman-Rogers answered, "Yes." The Board will discuss it further on July 30th.

Franklin arsonist to serve time

Guy Wheeler, 57, formerly of Salisbury will serve five to 10 years in state prison after pleading guilty to setting a fire that burned down a Franklin home last December. Wheeler also pleaded guilty to felony burglary, criminal mischief and reckless conduct.

Around Our Towns

A large crowd filled Pats Peak on Saturday to celebrate the life and achievements of Merle R. "Joe" Patenaude, Jr.

Goffstown's Troop #99 had a wonderful time at Hidden Valley Camp.

Tilton-Northfield Pack 842 enjoyed a great time at Camp Carpenter.

Antrim Troop 2's latest stop was at Yellowstone National Park.

St. Theresa's Annual Mission Sales this weekend supported Claire Aucoin's good works in Columbia South America.

Hopkinton and Henniker Lions are busy maintaining their Community Garden which support both Food Pantries.

The Tilton/Northfield Rotary Club recently hosted a visit by Gov. Chris Sununu.

Marion Baker led the discussion at the final planning session for Hillsborough's History Alive event.

A Guide for New Hampshire's Active Seniors

Publisher's Perspective by Leigh Bosse

Get Off Your Butt

- Did you enjoy the activities at the Hillsborough Fest & Fair?
- Did you have a good time at Newbury's Old Home Day?
- Have you been to the various Farmers Markets throughout the area?
- Are you planning on attending any of the events at Hillsborough's History Alive?
- What is your favorite part of New London Hospital Days?
- Did you attend the Parade during Weare's Patriotic Celebration?
- Antrim's Home & Harvest Festival is coming soon - are you going?
- Did you attend Gofftown's Pumpkin Regatta?
- What part of Choose Franklin Day was your favorite?
- How many did you have at the Newport BrewFest?

If you or your family enjoyed these great community celebrations, you need to know that these things don't just happen. Every one of these events and hundreds of others throughout the area occur, year after year, because some of your friends and neighbors cared enough to VOLUNTEER their time and energy to make your town just a little better place to live, work and raise a family.

Remember the words of John F. Kennedy who challenged us to "Ask not what your country can do for you, ask what you can do for your country." His challenge translates locally too. The world is a vast and often hostile place, but we, each of us, has the power to make our corner of it, a little better.

Yes, volunteering takes time and effort, but it also allows you to meet and work with some great neighbors, and rewards us with a tremendous sense of satisfaction. Volunteer groups abound in all our towns. It's easy to join and you will be more than welcome. All you have you do is GET OFF YOUR BUTT.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

I would like to comment on Mr. Moore's wonderful letter in the July 19th issue. The letter was well written and true. The only comment I would add, we fought for our independence from an oppressive foreign government in 1776 and established a representative democracy. We fought two world wars to preserve that democracy. We fought a civil war to preserve our union. Those who want socialism should look at Venezuela. When oil was discovered, their economy thrived, everyone was well fed, clothed etc. The government provided everything, socialism, what has happened? The Venezuelans are starving and the government is no longer providing everything. Watching TV, we see many able bodied men and women leaving their countries 2nd. oppression. Not all of these refugees are poor and/or uneducated. Perhaps if they stayed in their countries, banded together as we did against England, they could overthrow their oppressors and better their country and keep their culture. Yes they would need help, just as we did when LaFayette came. I may be incorrect, but I do not think France sent him, he came of his own. What is to prevent knowledgeable members of this country and other free countries from helping those who are fighting for their freedom. With all the billionaires and millionaires in the world, surely help could be available to overthrow the oppressive government and rebuild their countries. The big BUT, the citizens of these countries have to want it and work for it, just as we did.

Jeannine Aucoin, Henniker

A CORRECTION & APOLOGY

Although we strive for accuracy, last week we made two major mistakes. 1. In the page 7 caption on the Ribbon Cutting at Anything Wood & Endless Art, we listed the owners as Cameron and Lou Cutter, instead of Cutler. 2. On the page 5 story and cut line on the Dutton Twins, we listed the taxes as $320,000 not the correct $32,000. That's quite a difference, but still a hefty tax bill. We sincerely apologize for both. LDB

Tips for having pets:

Change might make an already-anxious cat more nervous and ready to lash out. The more preparation you do in a gradual and controlled way, the better it will be when big change happens, like a new baby. Ease the kitty into the new situation well in advance. paint the nursery, set up toys and play tapes of baby crying.

Adding a cat or dog to your household can mean more to your child than just companionship. When children interact with pets, they learn valuable lessons, as well as the opportunity to learn patience and respect. Encouraging children to care for their family pets is an excellent way to teach them a sense of responsibility.

Osselets refers to swellings that appear along the front and sides of a horse's ankle joint, in the area just below the cannon bone. Osselets are commonly seen in young horses that are broken early and used hard.

When your dog is distracted, time your "come" cue for the moment the dog can most easily disengage from his other activity—for example, when he turns away from another dog he just greeted.

Dogs should not wear any gear when playing in groups. We have seen far too many dog fatalities—death by choking or a broken neck—and injuries caused by one dog getting his jaw caught in another dog's collar or harness.

Mayor Tony Giunta joins Watts employees to celebrate service milestones

Mayor Tony Giunta joined Watts CEO Bob Pagano, Munish Nanda, President, Americas and Europe, and hundreds of Watts employees to celebrate longtime service milestones for several Franklin-based employees.

Watts hosted a picnic at its Franklin, NH site, which is the company's largest factory in the world. Employees were treated to a cookout lunch, entered into a raffle for a series of prizes and all took home new Watts T-Shirts.

Mayor Giunta addressed the crowd and emphasized the importance of Watts' 60-year relationship with the town, while Pagano and Nanda thanked the site for its hard work and collective efforts.

Watts Water Technologies, Inc.,

Superintendent meets Board

Newport Select Board Chairman Jeff Kessler introduced Dr. Brendan Minnihan, Interim School Superintendent. Dr. Minnihan had been invited to the BOS meeting for a "meet and greet," Dr. Minnihan addressed the Board and stated he would come to the BOS periodically to discuss things happening in the school.

Martin's Point Health Care sponsors 32nd Annual Senior Games

The New Hampshire Senior Games (NHSG) is pleased to announce that registration for the 2019 Games is now open. Martin's Point Health Care will support the effort to promote healthy aging in New Hampshire as the Games' major sponsor.

"Beyond the high-quality Medicare Advantage plans and primary care, we provide in New Hampshire and Maine, investing in partnerships to promote healthy communities is an important part of our mission," said Dr. David Howes, President and CEO of Martin's Point Health Care.

"We've advocated for senior health and wellness through our long-term partnership with the Maine Area Agency on Aging—serving as lead sponsor for the Maine Senior Games for over ten years. We're very excited to now join the New Hampshire Senior Games in their cause." "We're thrilled to welcome Martin's Point as a sponsor and supporter," said Larry Flint, Chair of The New Hampshire Senior Games. "Our primary goal is supporting active, older adults in healthy competition and their mission is very much in alignment with our efforts." NHSG will be offering 17 different events and sports throughout New Hampshire over the next two months. Dr. Howes noted that, beyond the financial support, Martin's Point Health Care employees volunteer at a broad range of non-profits in the communities they serve.

"As a community-based organization, our employees share an enduring commitment to the good health of our patients and members. Service to our valued non-profit partners is an extension of that and part of our culture."

Now celebrating its 32nd year, the Games provide a blend of competitive sports and social interactions for active older adults. Flint said that, over the years, thousands of athletes from New Hampshire and throughout New England have taken part. "Our slogan— 'where fun and fitness meet'—truly embodies the spirit of the Games," he said. "Whether one is a competitive athlete or trying a sport for the first time, we offer something for everyone." For the most part, the Games are held each Friday–Sunday from late June through late August. The games offer individual sports, doubles competition in sports such as tennis and pickleball, and three-on-three basketball. The Games are open to age groups 40–44, 45–49, 50–54, 55–59, 60–64, 65–69, 70–74, 75–79, 80–84, 85–89 and 90+.

Online registration is now open. Athletes can register online up to one week before their event. Same day sign up is available for selected events and can be paid for by check or cash. To learn more or sign up for the 2019 Games, please visit www.NHsenior-games.org.

AARP warns seniors - beware of elder scams

New frauds and scams seem to crop up weekly. Identity theft and other scams rob millions of Americans of their hard-earned money. Last year alone, Americans lost $18 billion to fraud and scams. In fact, every two seconds, a con artist steals someone's identity.

What tricks do con artists use to steal your money? How can you outsmart scammers before they strike? Beat the con artists at their game. Medicare fraud 101 According to government estimates, Medicare lost $52 billion to fraud, abuse and improper billing in FY2017. Medicare fraud typically involves rogue health care providers or medical suppliers who bill the program for services, equipment or medication that they don't actually provide – or else inflate the cost of those items. Some will even falsify patients' diagnoses to justify unnecessary tests, surgeries and other procedures or write prescriptions for patients they've never examined. Others use genuine patient information, sometimes obtained through identity theft, to create fake claims. One of the most effective ways to combat against Medicare fraud is to review your Medicare statements and make sure the dates and services listed are correct. If something doesn't look right, call your medical provider's office.

Do me a favor scam

We all want to please our bosses, especially when they need help. This fact is not lost on some scammers who have started sending fake boss messages asking employees for a favor. Several reports have emerged this summer of employees getting texts or emails from their "boss" asking them to purchase gift cards and send the account numbers. The supposed boss might be traveling or claim they are too busy to take care of the task. But once the gift cards are purchased and the information sent, the money is gone. Because scammers are good at spoofing email addresses and phone numbers, you don't always know when your boss really is your boss. However, whenever you are asked to purchase a gift card and give out the card information by phone or email, it is likely a scam.

Free medicare device scam

One tell-tale sign that should make every consumer suspicious is when something is offered "for free." These free offer scams are often associated with Medicare. The program spends around $6 billion a year on medical devices, and a market this big draws scammers. In a medical equipment scam, someone reaches out with an offer of a free brace, wheelchair or other device. All they need is your Medicare number. Once they have it, scammers can use it to bill the government for devices and services that aren't needed. Medicare fraud results in higher deductibles and copays for Medicare beneficiaries, and can even put affected patients at risk. Be suspicious of unsolicited free offers and never give out your Medicare number to anyone who isn't a trusted health care provider. Get more information on frauds and scams at AARP's Fraud Watch Network ataarp.org/fraudwatchnetwork. Sign up for Watchdog Alerts and stay alert on con artist's latest tricks. It's free of charge for everyone – AARP members, non-members, general public and people of all ages. Be a fraud fighter! If you can spot a scam, you can stop scam.

Sex offender arrested after walking naked through Hopkinton

A sex offender who has previously lived in both New Hampshire and Maine was arrested last week on a criminal trespass charge after reportedly being found by police walking naked through Hopkinton. Police were called to Farrington Corner Road near Stickney Hill Road at just before 6:30 p.m. last Wednesday for a report of a man walking down the road naked. A sergeant – who was in the area investigating an uninvited guest call – headed to the scene to see if the man walking naked was connected to the case he was investigating.

At that previous call, on the same road a little less than a mile away, a woman stated that an unknown man entered her home uninvited, used the bathroom, helped himself to a glass of water, and then exited her home.

"He engaged the homeowner outside and the homeowner said she lived there for the past 50 years and there was no one by that name that lived there."

She asked the man to leave but he refused even after being asked multiple times so she called police. Eventually, the man left, and as he did, the woman took pictures of him.

The sergeant located the man walking naked, matched the tattoos from the previous trespassing call made by the woman, and gave him a blanket.

For more than 75 years, the Cuddemi family has been serving "The Best Food By A Dam Site" at Alberto's Italian Restaurant in Bennington. Current owner Joe Cuddemi inherited the business from his father, Albert "Bat" Cuddemi who began the business as The Riverside Cafe in 1943.

Dr. James P. Powers

HILLSBORO - The family of Dr. James P. Powers is sad to announce his passing on July 19, 2019. Born in Yonkers, New York December 10, 1954, he was the youngest child of the late James E. Powers and Victoria (Tolany) Powers. A graduate of Kennedy Catholic High School in Somers, NY where he met his future bride, he also earned a BS from SUNY Oneonta and was awarded a doctorate from Life Chiropractic College in Marietta, GA. Recognized as Top Chiropractor 2015 by NH Magazine, he was also a certified Applied Kinesiologist. He and his wife operated the Hillsboro Chiropractor Center in their home/office for over 35 years, retiring in 2016. He was so very proud and grateful that his daughter Olivia has continued care of many of his former patients at her own office in New London. He is survived by his loving wife of 42 years, Pamela Wray Powers and his three children - Jared Powers of Hillsboro, Dr. Olivia Weathers and her husband Brooks of Springfield NH and Mariah Powers and Frank Main whom reside in Warwick, RI. Sadly, his cherished grandsons, Hazen and Hudson Weathers will miss their beloved "Jimmy." Dr. Powers also leaves two sisters, Lois Powers of Cold Springs NY and Kathleen Upham (Bruce) of Carmel, NY and terrific nephews Gable and Das. He is also survived by his caring mother-in-law Diana Wray of Middletown, RI and his wife's siblings Eddie Wray (Mary), David Wray (Jami), and Vickie Blackmore (Peter). Jim enjoyed fishing, kayaking, organic gardening, woodworking, Reggae music and vacationing at Palm Island, FL. It meant a lot to him that his good buddies each showed their devoted friendship by calling, visiting, or taking him on fun outings as his illness progressed. He passed with a deep thankfulness for his daughter Mariah's loving dedication to his care during his final months. The family would like to thank the CRVNA Hospice for their professional and compassionate care and guidance. As requested by Jim there will be no services and in lieu of flowers please make a donation to NH Fish and Game Department.

James "Jim" F. Dellogono

HILLSBOROUGH - James "Jim" F. Dellogono, age 59, passed away at home on July 19th, 2019. He was born on April 11, 1960, in Fitchburg, MA to Pasquale and Annette Dellogono. He was survived by his loving wife Ivy SoChan, his children Alissa Hebert, Justin Dellogono and Hazel So; five grandchildren; brothers, John and Thomas
