Arvanetakis are Community Builders

Giving Something Back is a way of life for this couple

The Masons of Harmony Lodge presented their 2019 Community Builders Award to George and Estelle Arvanetaki on Sunday. Mention the name Arvanetaki and the first word that comes to mind is "Volunteer." "Give Something Back" is more than a slogan to this octogenarian couple, it is a way of life. Since moving to Hillsborough 20 years ago, they have made their adopted town their own.

A renowned painter, Stella annually donates 10-12 of her paintings to local non-profits to use as a fundraiser. A partial list of those benefitting includes, Goodwill, The Salvation Army, The Hillsboro Lions Club, The Chamber of Commerce, Police K-9 Unit, Rescue Squad, Fire Department, and the Food Pantry.

It has been rumored that the Energizer Bunny is patterned after George, who volunteers to assist virtually any non-profit group. George consistently volunteers to "do the jobs no one else wants to do;" he nearly singlehandedly manages the trash removal at the annual Fest & Fair and the History Alive event and prepares the hot cider for the caroling and tree lighting during the Olde Fashion Christmas celebration.

If that were not enough, this dynamic duo spends the whole year gathering donations for their Annual Yard Sale, which raises thousands of dollars, 100% of which is donated to worthy groups. The Arvanetakis are more than Good Neighbors, they are Community Builders.

Separate Newbury Fire and Police facilities proposed

Newbury's newly appointed Safety Services Building Committee has recommended that the town build a new Fire Station at the Bald Sunapee/Camacho property off Route 103 and renovate the existing facility for expanded use by the Police Department.

The Committee presented its 10 page report to the Select Board, estimating the total cost of the two projects at $4,760,000.

The proposal suggests staggering the projects over the next few years to limit the tax impact.

In March a $3.8 million warrant article to build a combined facility failed to receive the necessary 2/3 support and was defeated for the third year in a row.

Mount Sunapee Resort hosts 86th Annual Craftsmen Fair

The 86th annual Craftsmen Fair will be held Aug. 3 to 11 at Mount Sunapee Resort in Newbury. The League is anticipating more than 25,000 will come during the week to meet with artisans and shop their works. The fair largely exhibits the works of its juried members representing forms such as basket-weaving, handblown glass, functional and decorative ceramics, print-making and painting, metal sculptures, folk art, furniture-making, quilting and wearable art and jewelry.

“This year it’s all about the new – exhibitions, workshops, bands and food, as well as inspiring crafts,” said Miriam Carter, executive director of League of NH Craftsmen, in statement.

“This is more than a shopping experience, it’s an opportunity to explore the world of fine craft making. As a statewide arts organization and nonprofit, this is our yearly opportunity to celebrate our members and their extraordinary talent.”

The new presentations include “Art, Craft & Design: The exhibition,” which intends to explore ideas about how to use fine crafts in everyday life. Likewise, the “Sculpture Garden” will present ideas to visitors on how to incorporate art and plantings in their own yards.

The 2019 fair will also feature guest artists who are not members of the League, but have gone through a similar jurying process to be accepted. Those artists are Jennifer Armstrong, a fiber artist from Kennebunk, Maine; Lori Austill, a mixed media artist from Portland, Maine; Pong Gaddi, a leatherworker from Buffalo, NY; Joel Hokkanen, a woodworker from Rockport, Mass.; Shaari Horowitz, a woodworker from Sharon, CT; Chong and Judi Lim, mixed media artists from Scarborough, Maine;

Huge crowds are expected at the annual Craftsmen Fair at Mount Sunapee.

Kent Maxwell, a mixed media artist from Portsmouth; Trenny Rob and Bob Michaud, mixed-media artists from Sutton, VT; and Sumiyo Toribe, a watercolor painter from Mullbury, MA.

Among the exhibitors, 25 members of the New Hampshire Art Association will be displaying and selling their work. The artists include painters, photographers and printmakers.

In addition to the NHAA items for sale, the association will hold a Plein Air Paint Out and Wet Paint Sale on Aug. 7 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Visitors can watch the artists create their paintings, ask about their process, and view completed projects. Artists working at the Paint Out include Phil Bean, Eileen Belanger, Debbie Campbell and Maryclare Hefferman.

Loretta Hubley, an etching artist, will present a demonstration on Aug. 9 from 1 to 5 p.m. The etching process will be discussed in relation to Rembrandt’s intaglio techniques.

Other participating artists include Barbara Stevens Adams, Diane Bragdon, Elizabeth Craumer, Becky Darling, Sherie Dowsett, Elaine Farmer, Mark Giuliucci, Robert Goldenberg, Duane Hammond, Laura Cassinari King, Luci Lesmerises, Judith McKenna, Diane Orzel, Susan Peterson, Marilene Sawaf, Jef Steingrebe, Marianne Stillwagon, Liane Whittum, Debra Woodward and David Zerba.

A returning fair feature will be the Next Generation tent featuring the works of young artists ages 12 to 19 who are mentored by the juried members of the League.

The fair will also provide musical entertainment and a variety of food offerings, including craft beer and wine.

The fair will be held daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. General admission is $15; veterans, active military and seniors are $13; children 12 and younger are free. Please, no dogs other than service animals.

Webster man indicted for Franklin Hit & Run

A Merrimack County grand jury indicted Kevin Muzzey, 51, of Webster, who authorities say was driving in a hit-and-run incident in Franklin in February. Muzzey faces a felony charge of conduct after an accident. Muzzey turned himself in to police in May, months after the incident. Edward Douglas, 53, of Franklin, was found lying in the road on Central Street after he was hit by a car while attempting to cross about 6 p.m. on Feb. 27. He was taken to Concord Hospital with serious bodily injuries. Muzzey fled the scene, setting off a search by state police for a 2011 Mazda 6, which was later found at Muzzey’s Webster home.

Hillsborough historic documents discovered

Historic documents recently found in the Gilbert Room in the Fuller Public Library will be on display Thursday, August 15 from 9am-7pm. The documents include Joseph Gilbert’s military commission into the Massachusetts-Bay Colony Company Arms dated May 19, 1775 and George Washington’s Army dated January 1, 1776. Through the generosity of a Hillsborough resident the documents were conserved for the town. Hillsborough Historical Society member Gary Sparks has researched the Gilbert family and has created a great pamphlet documenting Joseph Gilbert’s life. We invite you to our Open House to view the documents and learn about our local history and the people who lived here.

Missing Hillsborough woman's body found in her storage unit

The body of a Hillsborough woman, missing for several months, has been located in a storage unit at Hillsborough Mini-Storage on Henniker Street. Linda Minery, 53, had been missing since leaving her elderly mother suddenly at 2:30 a.m. on Sunday April 7th, without saying where she was going or what she was doing.

Minery was last seen wearing a black jacket and black pants and carrying a blue bag. Police had distributed a picture of Minery from 10 years ago to help in the search.

Reports indicated that she may have left on a maroon-colored road bicycle, which is missing. Her vehicle was left in the driveway. Family members told police that she has undiagnosed mental health issues and had been displaying extreme paranoid behavior. In fact, Minery had stopped speaking, and was only communicating by writing things down.

Workmen at the mini-storage opened

Minery's unit to check on repairs to the adjacent unit and discovered the body. Authorities list the date of her death as April 7th, the day she disappeared. Foul play is not suspected and Hillsboro Police stress that there is no danger to the public.

Her obituary is printed on page 24.

Linda Minery's body was found in a storage unit she had been renting.

TEETH GRINDING

Dr. Esin Narli-Trangaris

Teeth grinding, also called bruxism, can be caused not just by stress and anxiety but by sleep disorders, an abnormal bite or teeth that are missing or crooked. A study in the November 2016 issue of the Journal of the American Dental Association suggests that teeth grinding is also associated with alcohol and tobacco use. People who drink alcohol and smokers are approximately twice as likely to grind their teeth. The symptoms of teeth grinding include dull headaches, jaw soreness, teeth that are painful or loose, and fractured teeth.

Your dentist can fit you with a mouth guard to protect your teeth during sleep. In some cases, your dentist or physician may recommend taking a muscle relaxant before bedtime. If stress is the cause, you need to find a way to relax. Meditation, counseling and exercise can all help reduce stress and anxiety.

Teeth grinding is also common in children. However, because their teeth and jaws change and grow so quickly it is not usually a damaging habit that requires treatment; most outgrow it by adolescence. Although in adults teeth grinding is often the result of stress, the same is not always true with children. Other possible causes of teeth grinding in children include irritation in the mouth, allergies, and misaligned teeth.

If you're concerned about your child's teeth grinding, ask your dentist about the potential causes and, if necessary, the possible solutions.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Historically, many weight-loss agents have had adverse cardiovascular effects, leading to dangerous conditions such as strokes, heart attacks, pulmonary hypertension and valvular heart disease, and have been withdrawn from the market. Balancing the need for treatments for obesity and the potential risk of such therapies, the FDA has approved weight-loss agents like lorcaserin contingent on dedicated follow-up studies to assess the risk of adverse cardiovascular outcomes. Now a study described in the New England Journal of Medicine has shown that lorcaserin helps people lose weight without causing an increase in adverse cardiovascular events in a population at higher risk for heart attacks and strokes.

There is no significant difference between zinc acetate lozenges and zinc gluconate lozenges regarding their efficacy in shortening the duration of common colds, according to a meta-analysis published in Journal of the Royal Society of Medicine Open. Seven randomized trials with zinc acetate and zinc gluconate lozenges found that the duration of colds was shortened on average by 33%.

New research published in Diabetologia (the journal of the European Association for the Study of Diabetes [EASD]) suggests that omega 3 polyunsaturated fatty acids (PUFAs), derived primarily from fish in maternal diet during pregnancy or lactation, may help protect infants at high risk of type 1 diabetes (T1D) from developing the disease.

Treatment options currently are limited for people suffering from secondary progressive multiple sclerosis. However, a pilot study suggests over-the-counter antioxidant lipoic acid holds promise in improving patients' lives. The research was published in the journal Neuroimmunology & Neuroinflammation.

New Jersey man rescued from Fox Forest

A New Jersey man was transported out of the Fox State Forest on Tuesday by local firefighters after suffering a serious medical issue while hiking. According to New Hampshire Fish and Game Lt. William Boudreau, around 11:05 a.m. on Tuesday conservation officers received a call from Hillsborough Police seeking assistance with a 64-year-old male hiker suffering from a serious medical issue in Fox State Forest. Hillsborough police, firefighters, and conservation officers responded to the park. The hiker, identified as Jurgen Lange of Toms River, NJ, had called 911 but was unable to give his exact location before losing cell phone reception. Just before conservation officers arrived Lange was located around 12:03 p.m. on the Ridge Trail by a member of the Hillsborough fire department. Lange was transported out of the woods to Center Road by Hillsborough fire personnel using a UTV, then taken by ambulance to Concord Hospital.

Deering Police, Fire & Rescue recover submerged motor boat

On the afternoon of Wednesday July 24th, Deering Fire & Rescue (DFR) and the Deering Police Department (DPD) were dispatched to Barnes Road for a motor boat submerged under water. Engine 2, Ambulance 1 and Car 1 with Boat one responded immediately.

On arrival, the day crew and call members found an overturned boat under the water, attached to a dock. Using ropes and manpower, crews were able to upright the boat, pull it toward the shore, remove the water inside the boat, and remove the boat from the water. A small amount of fuel did leak into the water. Haz-Mat booms were placed around the spill to contain it. NH Department of Environmental Services (NHDES) was notified, and responded to the scene and determined the spill was contained. DES stated that the booms should be removed in a day or two. No injuries were noted. It is not always about saving lives and property for the Firefighters and EMTs of DFR. The Deering Reservoir is a gem in the Town of Deering, and we were glad that we were able to prevent a potential for a larger spill of oil and gasoline from entering the water by removing the boat from the water, thus preventing an environmental contamination. Great teamwork by the day crew and call personnel and Officer Steve Bell of DPD.

Hillsborough Rescue Association donates $15,000 CPR Device

During Tuesday's Hillsborough Select Board meeting the Board held a brief public hearing on the acceptance of a gift from the Fire Department. The Hillsborough Rescue Association has purchased and donated a Lucas3 CPR Device valued at $15,000 and NH law requires a public hearing before such a gift can be accepted. Chief Ken Stafford explained that one ambulance is currently equipped with the same device, which is invaluable in saving lives. As expected, and with no discussion, the Board gratefully accepted the generous donation. The Chief mentioned that the Fire Department is proud to display and demonstrate its varied equipment, much of which has been donated by Fire or Rescue Association members without tax dollars.

Planning Director Robyn Payson briefed the Board on plans for an organizational meeting of Town Board and the School Board to outline and coordinate spending options. She hopes to schedule it on August 25th at 7 p.m. at the school, anticipating that the Charrette Report will have been received prior to that.

In other business, the board autho-

Publisher's Perspective by Leigh Bosse

Hillcat Theatre - Are they really amateurs?

They did it again. Joyce and I have attended every production of the Hillcat Theatre since its inception in the 2002-2003 school year, and every year we come away amazed at the talent of this eclectic cast which ranges from elementary school to senior citizens.

Young Regan Gaffey carried off the title role of Matilda to perfection, appearing in nearly all the scenes. Kathryn Thyng returned for a second year, this time as Lavender. Shy as he is, Joey Gillett was a perfect Rudolpho. Chris McCartie joined the cast and pulled off his triple roles to perfection while Tucker Bettez, as Mr. Wormwood brought the house down with his monologue to close the first act. One thing is perplexing though. I have always known Heidi Doyle to be a jovial woman who always smiles, but her presentation of the mean spirited Agatha Trunchbull was soo realistic, I wonder if she was really acting.

Weare officer shot responding to domestic

As we go to press, NH State Police and Weare Police remain on the scene at Buckley Road where an officer was shot early Thursday morning. The officer, who was shot twice in the arm, is in stable condition and good spirits, at Concord Hospital. Weare police, fire and rescue teams to a report of a domestic incident where a man was reportedly having a mental health incident and was in possession of a firearm. Police were tipped off about the incident by a relative in another community. The first officer reported that the suspect fired upon them but they had the woman and she was safe. A second ambulance was called to the scene as well as other police units including state police and police from Merrimack County.

Tempers flare at Newport School Board

The discussion turn heated at a recent Newport School Board meeting as frequent critic Burt Spaulding was reading a letter from 11 residents critical of the Board's new policy limiting public comment to 3 minutes. The problem was that Spaulding was exceeding his allocated 3 minutes. At that point, District Business Administrator George Caccavaro shouted out, "You two idiot have done nothing but hurt this community for two years," apparently referring to Spaulding and Kurt Minich. Selectman Todd Fratzel has urged the school Board to reconsider its policy citing the Select Board's policy of allowing an open discussion.

Sunapee's Stagecoach Road drainage project has been completed

Sunapee Highway Director Scott A. Hazelton reports that the Stagecoach Road drainage construction project located between Route 103B and Stagecoach Lane has been completed. The Highway crew ended up discovering many unknown items and/or experienced some untimely issues (i.e. rain and equipment failure) as they constructed the project, and some of these items resulted with project delays.

The purpose of the project was to mitigate the significant amount of groundwater that had been flowing through the surface of the road for decades, to install a drainage system to manage surface water (rain water) along the west side of the road, to extend the structural gravel base on the east side of the road, and we also ended up stabilizing the embankment that is located on the west side of the road.

All of this work was completed in preparation for grinding and repaving the road during the second week of September. The road closure and detour sign package was removed Thursday afternoon, and this section of Stagecoach Road was open to two-way traffic on Thursday afternoon. There are still a couple of minor items that remain to be completed on this section of road, and there are still a handful of other sections of Stagecoach Road that need to be repaired in preparation for paving. Temporary road closures from 6:30am-4:30pm will be necessary to complete the remaining construction on Stagecoach Road.

Antrim girl rescued from tree

A six-year-old Antrim girl was rescued from a tree after she refused to come down Saturday evening. Antrim Firefighters arrived about 5:30 p.m. to find the girl in a tree about 60 feet into the woods. Fire Chief Marshall Gale reports that the girl had climbed to the top of the tree with her brother, but became scared halfway down and refused to climb any further. An Antrim fire-fighter climbed up to keep the girl calm as the rest of the crew threaded a ground ladder into the branches to get her down.

Newport neighbors driveway dispute escalates

A shooting in Newport appears to have been caused by a toy boat. The alleged shooter, 58-year-old Oliver Renehan and Paula Cain, 57, reside at 214 South Main Street. Kevin Nottage III, 24, and Vallarie Ellsey live at 220 South Main Street. Ellsey was pulling into the shared drive, when she hit what is reported to be a boat-shaped sandbox with her car. She was approached by Cain with a pistol. The two women began fighting. Renehan then left his house, also with a pistol, and fired two shots, one hitting Nuttage below the knee. Renehan is being held without bail on counts of first-degree assault and first-degree attempted assault.

Town of Newport has been awarded a $354,000 Federal Grant

The Town of Newport has received $354,180 for water infrastructure upgrades. NH's Congressional Delegation has announced that the Town of Newport will receive $354,180 for a project that will replace the water intake pipe system that is currently 8'x9' and is constructed of 2"x6" pieces of wood at Gilman Pond, Newport's primary water supply. It will increase water capacity and prevent water bans during droughts and ensure business operations can continue uninterrupted.

Water intake system upgrades will help meet current water demands while preparing the town for decades of residential and industrial growth. The project is expected to begin in spring 2020.

Newport's strong financial services sector will see a new member at the Sugar River Plaza on John Stark Highway in 2020 when One Credit Union opens.

The Hillcat Theatre presented "Matilda" to rave reviews over the weekend.

Peterborough's Recreation Director on paid administrative leave

Peterborough Town Administrator Rodney Bartlett has announced that Recreation Director Jeffrey King has been placed on paid administrative leave, pending resolution of concerns that were brought to the town's attention. Although Bartlett confirmed that King was on leave, he refused further details, citing that it is a personnel matter. He would not say when the leave started, but stressed that King would remain on leave throughout a review process.

King has been employed by the town since April 2003. He oversees two full-time year-round staff, three part-time year-round staff, and 43 seasonal employees, at an annual salary of $78,561. Selectwoman Karen Hatcher said that grievances against a department director must be submitted to the town administrator within five working days. The town administrator must then render a written decision within 10 working days from when the grievance was received.

If no decision is reached, or the employee does not agree with the decision of the town administrator, the complainant may request the matter be submitted to the Select Board, which can review written briefs or oral arguments within 15 calendar days, and can submit a final decision within 15 days of their final meeting on the matter.

Court denies ConVal's motion for $3 million transportation costs

The state is not going to have to pay close to $3 million for school transportation costs, yet, after Cheshire Superior Court Judge David Ruoff denied the motion brought by the Contoocook Valley Regional School District.

ConVal won its lawsuit against the state when Ruoff ruled last month that the state is in violation of the New Hampshire constitution by failing to fund education as per the Claremont decisions.

ConVal and the other districts filed a motion for reconsideration, seeking immediate money to fund transportation, but Ruoff denied that motion, sticking to the philosophy behind his original order. Ruoff wants the state's lawmakers to fix the funding, including funding for transportation. "The Court will not instruct the Legislature on how to fund transportation; only that, if the Legislature determines transportation is part of the constitutional, fundamental right to the opportunity to an adequate education, it must cost and fully fund it for every student in the State in a way that withstands strict scrutiny review," Ruoff wrote.
