Vertex Tower Associates granted extension in Antrim

A company with plans to build a cell tower in Antrim has been granted an extension by the Antrim Planning Board. Vertex Tower Associates received an extension for their cell tower conditional use permit and site plan at a recent Antrim Planning Board meeting. The original permit required a complete and operational tower by October 31st. The company had just begun to apply for a building permit, having finally completed all federal legal requirements. The extended permit's deadline is March 31st, but the company anticipates having the cell tower up and operational by the start of November. The 175-foot tower will stand off Loverens Mill Road.

James Faulkner Elementary School in Stoddard opened a farm stand

Upper Elementary students (grades 3-5) at James Faulkner Elementary School in Stoddard opened a farm stand to sell produce harvested from their school garden. Items for sale included zucchini, cucumbers, purple beans, leeks, basil, onions, and more. They timed the farm stand to be open at the end of a school day, just when parents would be there to pick up their kids.

"The garden project begins during the winter when we research what we'd like to grow," said JFES teacher Jacquelyn Cornwell. "We then start seeds indoors, eventually moving plants into the school's greenhouse. Once it has warmed up enough, students transplant their veggies and flowers into the garden," she continued.

While they are away for the summer, students participating in the JFES Adventure Camp tend to the garden, harvest what's ready and eat it for a snack, and replant as needed. When the Upper Elementary students return in late August, they take over the weeding, harvesting, and garden cleanup.

"Our students learn where food comes from by participating in the project. They understand the whole growth cycle as well as what works and what doesn't depending on what Mother Nature deals us," continued Ms. Cornwell.

"They also learn about what produce tastes like fresh and what they can make from their harvest. Anything leftover from the farm stand gets made into zucchini bread, potato leek soup, kale chips, and pesto pasta." Last week, JFES kindergartners made potato leek soup with the main ingredients coming directly from the garden, and excitedly shared some soup with each class.

Salesmanship, marketing, and math skills also come into play with the project. Its students who set up the farm stand display and make signs. Others have the job of encouraging customers over, and some take care of bagging orders. Still, others calculate the sale total, take money, and make the change. During the first farm stand this year, James Faulkner students made $27 in 15 minutes. All profits go toward purchasing ingredients for fall cooking. They hope to hold one more farm stand before the end of the season.

300 rally in protest of Merrimack Station powerplant

Sixty-seven protesters were arrested Saturday for trespassing at Bow's Merrimack Station coal-burning power plant, in what organizers said was the largest environmental civil disobedience action since the Clamshell Alliance demonstrations against the Seabrook nuclear plant in the 1970s. They chose the Bow plant on the Merrimack River because it has two coal-fired steam units, along with two kerosene-powered turbine units.

Officials said those arrested were released on personal recognizance. Bow police said no injuries or property damage were reported. Earlier in the day, police also arrested Jay O'Hara of Portland, Maine, on a warrant for illegal dumping, in front of the State House.

Henniker Select Board torn between two worthy goals

The opening of Henniker's new ice-cream parlor has hit a snag. Highway Supervisor Leo Aucoin informed the select Board that the owners have requested the installation of 3-phase power to operate their equipment.

Representatives of Eversource contacted Aucoin and told him that in order to do that, the company would need to install a new telephone pole across Main Street, in front of the park. Board members were torn between wanting to support a new business coming to town and the potential negative visual aesthetics affecting the park. The Board deferred their decision for two weeks until its next meeting.

Aucoin also briefed the board on various street improvement projects. He asked for and was granted approval to submit a Request For Proposal (RFP) to complete Western Avenue to Cote Hill, at an estimated cost of $1,051,582. Hall Avenue is virtually complete with a finish coat to be applied in the spring.

This shop's opening may be delayed.

Members of the hazard Mitigation Committee outlined the committee's updates to the plan which were reviewed by the board. The plan must now be revved by FEM and Homeland Security before being returned to the town for approval.

Drivers seriously injured in Franklin crash

Two Franklin residents were seriously injured when their vehicles collided on Old South Main Street. Drivers Daniel Sullivan and Lisa Marie Judkins were transported to Concord Hospital and were expected to undergo surgery as soon as possible, Franklin Police Chief David Goldstein reported that firefighters had to extricate both drivers from their vehicles as they were trapped following the collision. Deputy Fire Chief David Hall said that extrication was "prolonged due to limited initial manpower and equipment." Officials said it took roughly an hour for emergency responders to safely get Judkins out of her Chevy and into an ambulance. Due to the seriousness of the call, the fire department immediately requested additional personnel to the scene, including some off-duty staff, Hall said.

Court rule against Monadnock Rod & Gun Club

The Superior Court has ruled against the Monadnock Rod and Gun Club in a land dispute with an abutter. The club sued its neighbors, Scott and Bridgette Perry, claiming possession of a portion of the Perrys' land, arguing that the club has used the land for so long without challenge that the land now belongs to the gun club. The court has yet to rule on a counter-claim filed by the Perrys, alleging the club cut down trees on the property and caused lead contamination. A damage hearing on the counter-claim is pending.

Goffstown teenager is indicted for murder

A Goffstown teenager faces murder charges stemming from the shooting of a Manchester high school student in November 2017. Jaiden Ciruzzi, who turned 18 last month, was 16 when Ian Jewell, a student at Memorial High School, was shot and killed in Goffstown, according to the Hillsborough County grand jury indictment. Under New Hampshire law, a person who commits a serious crime as a youth can only be tried in public after being certified as an adult, a lengthy, closed-door court process that ends with a judge deciding whether to charge the youth. The first-degree charge accuses him of engaging in a robbery with a handgun on causing Jewell's death. The second degree charge accuses Ciruzzi of recklessly causing Jewell's death.

The Franklin Animal Shelter breaks ground on its new facility

The Franklin Animal Shelter (FAS) has put shovel to ground and has begun the process of enhancing its operating facility. The mission of FAS has been to shelter, care for, and advocate for the abused, neglected and abandoned cats and dogs of the communities we serve by taking steps to control overpopulation and providing healthy animals that will be adopted into loving 'forever' homes and this step begins to fulfill our mission.

As one might imagine, the current facility has been barely adequate for providing the most basic care and support for animals that are lost or abandoned in the City of Franklin.

We thank those who have contributed toward this effort by donating to the Capital Campaign and look forward to our new home for our furry friends.

Suicide of Antrim 8th grade student at Great Brook School

The girl was in the eighth grade at Great Brook School. Antrim Police Chief Scott Lester has confirmed that an Antrim middle school student died by suicide Monday night.

The girl, an eighth grader at Great Brook School, was not further identified. Lester said his department is working with the school and the family and declined to comment further. ConVal School District Superintendent Kimberly Rizzo Saunders sent an email to parents throughout the district. "Communication at times like this is as difficult as it is important." Saunders did not say how the child died, but does list resources at the bottom of the letter, including the number for the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline. Saunders also told parents to reach out to any school counseling team members if they or their children are in need of assistance.

Publisher's Perspective by Leigh Bosse

Politics as it once was - and should be again

On Monday, the City of Franklin conducted its municipal elections, featuring a hotly contested mayoral rematch between the incumbent Tony Giunta and Leigh Webb.

The two candidates had distinctly different views on several major issues, including, the City's Tax Cap, the Governor's budget veto and adequate school funding.

Each man outlined his position elo-quently, clearly pointing out the difference between them, but without a hint of rancor or personal attack. Both are to be commended for the way they campaigned. This is the way American politics used to be, debating policies, not personalities. Today's climate of poetical hate diminishes us all and is destroying the system and our country itself. Giunta and Webb have shown us politicians can still behave like gentlemen.

Colby-Sawyer College raises a record $10.6 million

Colby-Sawyer College raised a record $10.6 million in fiscal year 2019, marking the successful conclusion of its Power of Infinity Campaign — a multiyear comprehensive fundraising effort. Money raised helps fund a number of key initiatives on campus, and brings the college's total endowment to more than $39 million.

The $10.6 million raised, the highest single-year total in the college's 182-year history, represents a 127% increase from last year's fundraising total, and includes the largest bequest ever received by Colby-Sawyer — a $2.5 million gift from former trustee Janice Wilkins '41. The college also saw a 20% increase in overall donors, as well as a 45% increase in alumni donors who graduated within the last 25 years.

The first Stop the Bleed training session was held this week at SAU 34, taught by Heather Ann LaBier, Hillsboro-Deering School District Nurse.

SAU #34 Schools are equipped with Stop the Bleed Kits

SAU 34 is grateful for the funding donations provided by the American Legion, Davis & Towle and the Concord Hospital Trust, which has supplied all the classrooms within the districts of SAU 34 with Stop the Bleed Kits.

Stop the Bleed is a national campaign created by the White House and the Department of Homeland Security to help improve survival from life-threatening bleeding.

Stop the Bleed Kits provide life-saving resources like tourniquets, gauze bandages, pressure dressings, and more. Currently, SAU 34 has several trainers for this program and training opportunities for staff are being scheduled throughout the year.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

To the Residents of Deering and Hillsborough... We are writing to express our appreciation of thanks, to all the local businesses who donated to our annual Pig Roast Fund Raiser at Oxbow Campground on August 31. During the Pig Roast we held a Fund Raiser where we raffled off many gift certificates to local businesses along with many gift baskets that were donated by campers at Oxbow. All the proceeds go to benefit the Deering and Hillsborough Fire/Rescue Departments.

We got to see firsthand, how the local businesses came through with a donation to make this such a successful Fund Raiser. We want to thank the following businesses for their donation. High Tide, Hillsboro Diner, The Brickhouse, Yanni's Pizza, Ming Du, Sampan, Angus Lea Golf Course, Edmund's Hardware, Morse Sporting Goods, Liv-ington's, Alene Candles of Milford, Pure Romance by Bernice Rankins and Tom Irving of Oxbow Campground.

Without all the businesses help and the generosity of the campers at Oxbow, this Fund Raiser wouldn't have been as successful as it was. Between all the raffles we were able to raise $1,308, which will be split between the two departments. We are already making plans to do it again next year (Aug 29) and again all proceeds will go to the two fire departments. The residents of Deering and Hillsborough, are very fortunate to have such a dedicated group of men and women, which make up your fire/rescue departments. We don't realize how important they are, until we need them and thought this could be one way to help show our appreciation to them.

TONGUE SCRAPERS AND CLEANERS

Dr. Esin Narli-Trangaris

A tongue scraper is a tool used to help clean your tongue. Tongue scrapers come in a variety of shapes and sizes, and work by starting at the back of the tongue and pulling the scraper forward. Some people choose to clean their tongue by using their toothbrush as well.

Some say that cleaning your tongue helps keep your breath fresh, but there is no evidence that brushing or scraping your tongue will prevent bad breath or improve halitosis (chronic bad breath). In fact, bad breath bacteria can grow back just as fast as you remove it.

If you like the way your mouth feels after you clean your tongue, keep it up as part of your daily dental routine. It can be a great way to go the extra mile for your mouth, but comes down to personal preference and is not a necessary step. However, there are four things you can do to make sure your mouth is healthy:

- Brush your teeth twice a day with a fluoride toothpaste.
- Clean between your teeth daily.
- Eat a healthy diet that limits sugary beverages and snacks.
- See your dentist regularly for prevention and treatment of dental disease.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Scientists have discovered how vitamin A drives the lung immune system to deal with tuberculosis (TB). The findings have just been published in a top respiratory journal, the American Journal of Respiratory Cell and Molecular Biology. TB is the biggest infectious killer in the world, and multiple-drug resistant TB, which does not respond to regular antibiotics, is a major threat to global health. TB killed 1.7 million people in 2016 and is considered the top cause of death related to infection worldwide. With the increased incidence of drug-resistant TB at home and abroad, additional strategies are required to treat the disease. Unlike in the case of antibiotics, TB resistance should not develop against vitamin A.

Young girls are stronger with higher levels of vitamin D, but the association was not found in boys. These are the results from a new large study recently published in the Journal of Clinical Endocrinology and Metabolism. Girls with low vitamin D were found to have a 70 percent increased risk of being among the lowest 10 percent in a test for muscle strength.

Vitamin D levels in the blood are linked to cardiorespiratory fitness, according to a study published in the European Journal of Preventive Cardiology, a publication of the European Society of Cardiology (ESC). It is well established that vitamin D is important for healthy bones, but there is increasing evidence that it plays a role in other areas of the body, including the heart and muscles. The study shows that higher levels of vitamin D are associated with better exercise capacity.

representing schools from Amherst to Whitefield. Chris Seaver, a member of Team Oz-Ram of Contoocook, which included students from both Hopkinton High School and John Stark Regional High School, said he likes the challenge of working with robots and enjoys being able to solve the challenges posed. "Seeing it do what you want it to do, even if you don't win, is just awesome," Seaver said. "And then that you made it with your own hands." Set to graduate in June, Seaver said, he wants to pursue mechanical engineering in college and is also considering attending NHTI.

Annual NH Wool Arts Tour, celebrating its 36th Anniversary

Columbus Day Weekend, features New Hampshire Fiber Artists October 12th & 13th. Saturday 10-5, Sunday 10-4.

The FREE annual fiber arts tour is scheduled for the peak of New Hampshire's colorful fall leaf season. Hand painted sheep signs guide visitors to and from four official Wool Arts Tour stops consisting of fiber producing farms and studios.

Each farm stop features many of New Hampshire's best fiber artists, one-of-a-kind fiber arts and locally-produced animal fibers. Most sites have fiber-producing animals on display.

Demonstrations of knitting, weaving, dyeing, spinning, rug hooking, felt making, as well as other fiber-related crafts, will be ongoing daily. Locally-produced sheep wool, alpaca, llama, angora rabbit, and mohair will be available and vendors will be offering handspun and commercially-spun yarns, kits, artwork and a variety of beautifully, handcrafted products for that special purchase.

The Wool Arts Tour was established by a small group of local wool producers 36 years ago. They did so to raise awareness of, and to share both their passion and love for, natural fibers and the animals they harvested it from. This tradition is carried forward with the 2019 host sites for the New Hampshire Wool Arts Tour as follows: Spring Pond Farm, a working alpaca & honey bee farm in Greenfield; Spinner Farm, a working sheep farm and equestrian facility in Deering; Brimstone Hollow Farm in Hancock, featuring Romney sheep, all-things-fiber and farm fresh, organic vegetables; and new this year, Glory Be Farm, an organically raised Purebred Navajo Churro sheep farm selling meat, fiber products and heritage vegetables.

Raffles at each Farm Stop! Food and other amenities may be available at host sites.

Hours for this event are Saturday 10-5 and Sunday 10-4. For Farm Tour directions, list of vendors and more information go to www.WoolArtsTourNH.com or The Wool Arts Tour on Facebook. Come travel the colorful autumn roads of New Hampshire, be inspired and find the artist in you.

Muddy Ruckus Performing at Medallion Opera House

Gorham, NH on Friday, September 20th, 2019. Rock duo Muddy Ruckus is pleased to announce that they are performing on Friday, September 20th at the Medallion Opera House, 20 Park St, Gorham Town Hall. Doors open at 7 pm and the show begins at 7:30 pm. Tickets are $12 in advance/$15 day of show and can be purchased at the Gorham Town Hall, White Mountain Café and online at www.medallionoperahouse.org. The concert is sponsored by Northeast Snowmobile & ATV Rentals.

ABOUT MUDDY RUCKUS

Muddy Ruckus is a punk blues rock duo from Portland, Maine. The stripped-down power duo features guitarist Ryan Flaherty and percussionist Erika Stahl. The band blends rootsy guitar and edgy percussion on a suitcase drum kit and is known for a full rock band sound, despite the fact that they're a duo. They season their music with the salt of the eastern old ports, backroad electric grooves, and the mud of the Mississippi River where Flaherty grew up. The New York Music Daily calls Muddy Ruckus "Darkly Inventive Americana." In April 2016, Muddy Ruckus was awarded "Best in State of Maine" by the New England Music Awards. The lyrics of Muddy Ruckus' songs call for your attention and the soulfulness of both Erika and Ryan's vocals draw in the salt and shadow of the band's murky beginnings and luminous future.

2019 has been a busy year so far for the duo. They have released four studio singles so far. "Chasm" is their most recent single along with a video by filmmaker Jason Elon Goodman.

SHOW INFO: Muddy Ruckus, Friday September 20th Medallion Opera House, 20 Park Street Gorham, NH. Ticket link / FB event. Doors at 7, show at 7:30. All Ages, $12 adv/$15 DOS.

Bustling Summer in the White Mountains forecasts vibrant Fall Foliage

Scores of vacationers wanting to squeeze out the last bit of their summer headed to the White Mountains during a busy and enjoyable Labor Day weekend.

"We've received many positive comments from our local businesses about how visitor numbers have been up this summer and spending was on the rise over the holiday weekend." Said Charyl Reardon, President of the White Mountains Attractions Association. "Travel over Labor Day weekend is most often weather dependent and thankfully the forecast, other than Monday, was for a gorgeous weekend. Certainly, a nice way to end the summer season."

Susan Logan, Marketing Manager at the Conway Scenic Railroad reported that the attraction ended summer on a high note with a successful Labor Day weekend. "We were exceedingly busy over the holiday weekend and sold out on Monday. We were up about 14% over Labor Day 2018." Becca Deschenes, Director of Marketing at Cranmore Mountain Resort stated, "We had a strong week leading up to the holiday weekend, and overall for the summer, were up about 13% from last summer."

Restaurants like Polly's Pancake Parlor stayed busy throughout the summer and businesses like Settlers Green, Kinsman Lodge and the Conway Scenic Railroad reported seeing an increase in Canadian travelers this summer. Christopher Bellis from the Cranmore Inn suggests that the rise in confidence in the economy has allowed consumers to feel comfortable taking vacations and spending more.

With summer quickly transitioning to fall, the White Mountains region looks forward to another strong foliage season. "We expect to have a great Fall season as long as the weather supports visitors coming to the White Mountains," stated Reardon. When asked about the upcoming fall season, many local hotels and attractions are reporting September and October reservations are pacing 10%-20% ahead of 2018.

Susan Logan of the Conway Scenic Railroad indicated that advanced reservations for the foliage season are strong and several dates in October are already sold out. Anticipation for the Autumn season does seem to be growing, as the White Mountains was recently named the #2 Best Destination for Fall Foliage by USA Today/10Best Reader's Choice viewers. Twenty destinations across the country were nominated by travel experts from USA Today and those were narrowed down to the top 10 based on the daily votes of fans and followers. "We're so lucky to live, work, and play in the White Mountains, where the stunning fall foliage brings visitors from around the world." Reardon, said. "We expect to see fall visitors from places such as Canada, Japan, Germany, and Australia in addition to all over the United States."

Visitors will have many ways to enjoy the mountains this fall as most of the White Mountains attractions remain open into October and some even into November. Scenic train rides at the Hobo Railroad, Conway Scenic Railroad and the Cog Railway are unique ways to view the fall foliage as are aerial lifts and ziplines, like the ones at Attitash Mountain Resort, Cannon Mountain, Loon Mountain Resort, Cranmore Mountain Resort, Wildcat Mountain, and Alpine Adventures. For weekly foliage reports and to plan your upcoming Autumn getaway in the White Mountains, be sure to visit VisitWhiteMountains.com.

Halloween Haunts range from scare-your-pants-off to Trick or Treat fun

North Conway, NH - From scare-your-pants-off frights to sweet and toddler-friendly, visitors to Mt Washington Valley, NH will find something for everyone looking for Halloween haunts and hilarity. While ghostly shadows and things that go bump in the night are certainly part of the Halloween scene here, there's certainly plenty of tamer Halloween fun throughout October in Mt Washington Valley. The calendar is packed with fun for the whole family, so get into the spirit this Halloween with everything from giant swings to ghosts and ghouls. Add in a leaf-peeping scenic drive mtwashingtonvalley.org.

It all starts with The Ghoulog and Haunted Playground at Cranmore Mountain Resort, North Conway, Weekends, September 28-November 2, 2019: Celebrating its 13th year of fear, Cranmore Mountain Resort is once again transformed into a fabulous haunted set, offering something for every taste in spooky. The Ghoulog is a 50-minute haunt featuring over 15,000 square feet of indoor space through a series of dark rooms, scary mazes and unknown places, plus an outdoor element which leads the unsuspecting through the dark woods with all of sudden frights and jumps. This haunted experience is best suited for the older kids, 10 and up. For those that need something a little tamer, the Haunted Playground offers plenty of less frightening Halloween family fun on a transformed Mountain Coaster, Giant Swing and Soaring Eagle Zip line. All the Haunted Playground rides offer a unique night-time experience with special lighting, effects and the occasional ghost or ghoul when you least expect it. End the night in the Broken Skull Pub and stop by the Rotting Corpse Gift Shop for some ghostly Ghoulog goodies. Info, schedules, rates: theghoulog.com.

Solve the Murder Mystery on the Dinner Train

aboard Conway Scenic RR, October 25 & 26, Nov 1 & 2: What do washed up musicians do when they've lost all their money, fame and fortune, not to mention their looks and talent? Get the band back together, of course, for one last hurrah! But not everyone lives to rock another day! Join the fun, dress as your favorite 80s rock star or come as groupie and shower the band with ▶

GET OUT AND HIKE! EAGLE CLIFF TRAIL

534 US Route 3, Holderness, NH. Phone: 603-968-7336. Now that the high heat of summer is behind us, it's time to take out the hiking gear, hit the trail and enjoy the cooler temps. Over the next few months, there will be a hike scheduled each week. This is a great opportunity to learn about the Squam Ranger program, meet other folks interested in hiking, and enjoy a day out on the trail. This hike starts at the Eagle Cliff Trail trailhead located on Squam Lake Road (named Bean Road in Center Harbor) and is a 5 mile round trip hike that climbs moderate and steep grades to Eagle Cliff (.6 miles) and continues to Red Hill with great views from the fire tower. There is also the option to take the Teedie Trail on the way back and have a short road walk back to the Eagle Cliff Trail parking area. Hike as much or as little as you'd like. Timing is hard to predict since it depends on the hikers so we may end a bit earlier or go later. Folks are welcome to hike at their own pace as this is not intended to be a guided hike. Since hikes are weather dependent, we will contact those who have signed up if any changes to plans arise.

UNH Department of Theatre and Dance presents the bluegrass musical Bright Star

October 2th - October 6th. Inspired by a real event and featuring the Grammy-nominated bluegrass score by Steve Martin and Edie Brickell, Bright Star tells a sweeping tale of love and redemption set against the rich backdrop of the American South in the 1920's and 1940's. The arrival of a young soldier just home from World War II, sets Alice Murphy on a journey to understand her past; what she finds has the power to transform both of their lives.

Winner of the 2016 Drama Desk Award, Bright Star is as refreshingly genuine as it is daring and hopeful. Directed by Professor Deborah Kinghorn with music directed by Professor John Berst and starring a cast of talented UNH students, this tale of love, loss, forgiveness, and redemption will transport audiences to the Blue Ridge Mountains for a story that is truly moving. An ensemble of onstage live musicians playing the bluegrass inspired music and engaging dancers, seamlessly move this story from the 1940's to the 1920's and back again.

Get your tickets today by visiting www.UNHArts.com or by calling the PCAC Box Office (M-F, 12pm-3pm) at 603-862-PCAC (7222). ## Franklin Opera House proudly presents “Beatles For Sale”

The music of the Beatles will fill the air at the Franklin Opera House on October 19, 2019. “Beatles For Sale” is a New England-based Beatles tribute band that is committed to recreating the sounds of The Beatles live in concert. Formed in 2007, this band of talented musicians was drawn together by their love of The Beatles music and the desire to keep the music alive, bringing it to a whole new generation of Beatles fans. But don't expect to see Beatle wigs or Sgt. Pepper suits. They feel that the most important thing about the show is the music. What you will see and hear is a fun and energetic performance complete with original instrumentation and vocal harmonies that are as accurate as possible to the original recordings. Every show includes music that spans their entire career - from pre-Beatlemania to the closing chapter at Abbey Road. There are no "sampling" or "midi tricks" - everything you hear is performed completely live.

Reserved seating tickets for the 7:30 p.m. show are $18 for adults, $16 for seniors and students, and are available online through the Franklin Opera House website, franklinoperahouse.org, or by calling the business office at (603) 934-1901 during office hours.

Beatles For Sale are past recipients of Lighthouse Magazine's “Best Tribute Band” award for the New England area as well as several nominations and wins in similar categories.

Re-established in 2000, Franklin Opera House is the home of community arts and entertainment located within Franklin's historic Soldiers Memorial Hall (City Hall) in downtown Franklin, New Hampshire.

Stark students attend New Hampshire Construction Career Days

More than 40 John Stark Regional High School students spent the day at the 11th Annual New Hampshire Construction Career Days held September 26 and 27 on the Hillsborough County Fairgrounds. Students traversed the fields and barns to see the more than 100 exhibitors and sponsors and try their hand at heavy equipment operating, welding, carpentry, and more. Construction Career Days is a non-profit organization devoted to promoting the construction industry to New Hampshire's Youth.

"I cannot stress strongly enough how valuable this event is for our students," said JSRHS Tech Ed Teacher Joab Owen. Owen has taken a group of John Stark students to Construction Days for the last five years.

"It opens up a whole range of opportunities for career paths students may not have thought about before or even knew existed. It also can be a huge confidence booster for others. Every year, there's a student who reluctantly climbs into a big piece of equipment and finds that they can do it. It's wonderful to see a student beaming about their accomplishment." Tech Ed and John Stark Connections students attended the field trip to NH Construction Career Days.

Take a History Walk through the Peterborough Village Cemetery

The Monadnock Center for History and Culture will host a history walk in the Peterborough Village Cemetery on Saturday, October 5 at 10:30 a.m.

The Village Cemetery is the final resting place of the town's 19th century citizens. On the tour, participants will learn about the careers of Charles Wilder of the Wilder Thermometer and Barometer Company; Amzi Childs, the founder of Peterborough's famed basket industry; and Joseph and Albert Noone who operated the Noone Woolen Mill. The walk will also examine the lives of some of the workers who contributed to the town's vitality such as twin sisters Elvira and Elmira Fife who spent their lives working in the Peterborough mills.

The cemetery also documents some of the town's Civil War history. Learn about Timothy Kneeland Ames, killed at the second battle of Bull Run, and hear the story about two Peterborough women who lost their lives on the Potomac in a tragic steamship disaster in 1862.

The walk will also look at the shift from graveyard to cemetery in the early 19th century and examine gravestone art and iconography.

The tour is free and all are welcome. Guests should wear walking shoes and be prepared for uneven terrain. The tour will be held rain or shine.

The Village Cemetery is on the east side of Concord Street, just north of All Saints' Episcopal Church. Participants should park along the road or turn into the cemetery and park at the rear.

Sarah Bresslin representing the NHIAA Life of an Athlete program visited Newport to address the Life of a Tiger community. Sarah was impressed that the program has expanded from an initial seven members to the current membership of thirty-two students. She informed the members of upcoming events and brainstormed ideas that the Newport chapter could use during the upcoming school year.
