Governor Chris Sununu, Selectmen and State Representatives Clyde Carson and David Herrick (sponsors of the legislation), Barbara's daughters, Deb and Karen and members of her extended family gathered to unveil the sign dedicating the Barbara J. Annis Memorial Roundabout.

Warner icon honored

Roundabout recognizes Barbara Annis' 50 years service

If there was job to be done in Warner, Barbara Annis probably did it at one time or another.

Tuesday afternoon Governor Chris Sununu joined local officials and family members to honor the memory of a woman who, in the words of the Governor, "Exemplified public service."

For a half century, Annis served Warner in several capacities, including Tax Collector, Selectmen's Secretary, Planning Board, Town Administrator and as volunteer extraordinaire.

As an original instigator and consistent proponent of the roundabout, it is a fitting tribute that it is named in her memory.

New London Select Board & Budget Committee meet

The Selectmen and Budget Committee have started the budget process for the fiscal year 2021 budget that will be presented to voters at Town Meeting in March. This budget starts on July 1, 2020 and ends on June 30, 2021.

The process starts with the board's meeting jointly to hear the initial budget presentations by town departments, social service organizations and nonprofit groups seeking funding from the town.

Once the Selectmen complete their budget, it will be forwarded to the Budget Committee and the Budget Committee will prepare the budget for presentation to town meeting voters.

Some of the budget recommendations include: ■ A part-time staff person in the finance office ■ Additional hours for the Town Planner ■ Building permit software ■ Additional full-time firefighter ■ Additional part-time staff in dispatching ■ Part-time to full-time in the Highway Department ■ Additional full-time staff in the Sewer Department ■ A change in employee life & disability policies that will save approximately 20% ■ A library bond for a sprinkler system.

A GoFundMe page established to assist the family of Emerson Quinonez

A GoFundMe page has been set up to help with funeral costs and other expenses for the family of Emerson Quinonez, 1, who died in a fire last week along with his father, Benjamin Fauteux of Hillsborough. The online fundraiser titled "Love and Help for the Family of Sweet Emerson" had raised nearly $12,000 by Thursday night with a goal of reaching $15,000. The deadly fire broke out on Oct. 11 at 90 Lovering Road. Emerson lived at the apartment with his mother, Marisa Quinonez, who is from Hillsborough but had moved to North Hampton several months ago but was not home when the fire began. Fauteux was staying with Emerson at the time of the blaze.

Emerson's mother and grandmother, Erika Folliard Of Hillsborough, issued a statement on behalf of the family:

"Our family would like to thank the incredible community for their outpouring of love and support during the worst time of our lives. Emerson was such a wonderful boy and he is so deeply missed. We are so grateful to the town of Hillsboro and the community at large who have been so gracious with all that they have donated. The support we have received is truly a blessing in this difficult time," the statement said. Quinn, a Hillsboro resident, described Emerson as a "water baby" who once swam with sharks with his mother, put his toes in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, and had kayaked since he was two months old. "The beach and ocean were his favorite places to be."

Anyone interested in donating to the GoFundMe page can visit https:// www.gofundme.com/f/love-andhelp-for-the-family-of-sweet-emersonRockingham-News@unionleader.com

The state Medical Examiner's Officer ruled their cause of deaths to be accidental due to smoke inhalation. The exact cause of the fire remains under investigation by the state Fire Marshal's Office.

Goffstown hosts a successful Pumpkin Regatta Weekend

The Goffstown Board of Selectmen won this year's Pumpkin Regatta thanks to Goffstown Selectman Chet Bowen who piloted his giant pumpkin down the Piscataquog. The regatta weekend raises money for the Goffstown Main Street Program, a nonprofit dedicated to the "promotion, preservation and economic vitality" of Goffstown Village. On Saturday, Peter Crisp of Nashua won the giant pumpkin weigh-in with his entry at 1,541 pounds.

John Stark's Lorraine Connell wins Voya Unsung Heroes Award

John Stark Regional High School science teacher Lorraine Connell was named a 2019 Voya Unsung Heroes winner for the Peer Leadership Program she spearheads at John Stark. The award comes with a $2,000 grant for the Peer Leadership program.

Peer Leadership at John Stark is a credit-bearing course open to juniors and seniors. Student Peer Leaders are trained in team building, class facilitation, content delivery, and community focus. They work collaboratively with each other, administration, faculty, and the greater student body.

One of their biggest projects matches them with incoming freshmen to foster personal, education, ethical, and moral growth. Other projects undertaken by the Peer Leaders include Safe Driving programs and last year's mental health awareness campaign.

"Peer Leaders help develop a positive school culture and gain valuable leadership experience. The Voya grant will help us continue our mission of building positive school culture," commented Mrs. Connell upon receiving the award. Plans for the grant include the Peer Leaders attending new conferences to expand their team-building skills during their annual retreat.

Soo-Nipi Quilters' Guild gifts 50 Comfort Quilts and 18 Afghans

The Soo-Nipi Quilters' Guild, which meets at South Congregational Church in Newport, NH at 10:30 AM on the third Thursday of each month, celebrated its annual Comfort Quilt Day on October 17 by donating 50 beautiful handmade quilts and 18 hand crocheted afghans to three local organizations: Project Linus Southwest NH Chapter serving much of NH and some locations in Vermont; TLC Family Resource Center located in Claremont; and Turning Points Network with offices in Newport and Claremont. Representatives from each of the organizations attended the meeting and described how the quilts and blankets are distributed to new parents and caregivers, as well as children, youth and adults who may be entering the hospital, recovering from abuse or violence, or just in need of an anonymous expression of warmth and love. The Soo-Nipi Quilters Guild also makes Quilts of Valor, which are awarded to U.S. military service members and veterans who have been touched by war. For more information on the guild, contact the Guild President at soonipiquiltersguild@gmail.com.

The Art Walk will take place on Friday evening, Nov. 1 in the Warner village. Opening artist receptions with refreshments will be held from 5:00 - 7:00 p.m. at the Upton Chandler House Museum at 10 West Main St., and 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. at MainStreet BookEnds Gallery, 16 East Main St. The Open Doors shopping event at the Upton Chandler House Museum will be held Sat. & Sun. Nov. 2 & 3, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. The Open Doors Art Show and sale at MainStreet BookEnds will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on those days.

Center Woods Elementary hosts "Invite A Grandparent Day"

Invite a grandparent or grand friend to school is always a grand day at Center Woods Elementary School. This year was no exception. Students invited grandparents and special friends to come to school for a visit and lunch.

Some students used scavenger hunts to help them tour guests to various spots in their classroom, while others conducted interviews with their guests for future writing projects, and others showed off the many things they'd learned so far this school year.

Lunch in the cafe was "bring your own" or buy the school's pizza lunch. The Weare PTO is a great sponsor of this event providing coffee and snacks for visitors while they wait to meet up with their students and dessert for all.

Transgender Policy deferred

The Franklin School Board met Monday evening to discuss a proposed policy on Transgender Students, which would require officials "not disclose information that may reveal a student's transgender status to others, including parents." After several people spoke in opposition, the matter was referred back to the Policy Committee for review.

Unspecified 'Safety Concerns' at Hopkinton High School

Hopkinton school officials and the Hopkinton Police are investigating "safety concerns" raised at the high school. Although no details were released, the matter was serious enough for Superintendent, Steven Chamberlin to issue the following e-mail to parents:

"The purpose of this email is to provide information regarding the recent safety concerns at Hopkinton High School. I hope to provide a balance between providing important information to the community and respecting the privacy of individual students. Fundamentally, the work of the District is to provide a safe, comfortable, and productive environment for all members of the school community, all students, faculty, and staff. Caring about every student is a guiding principle for this work.

On Thursday, a safety concern was brought to the attention of our school administration. The investigation began on Friday and continues through today. Part of the investigation is to work with the Hopkinton Police Department. I am very grateful for the collaborative relationship the District has with the town but especially the Hopkinton Police Department.

An essential aspect of my job is to ensure students can be and are safe in our schools. These decisions follow a deliberate and purposeful process with insights from administrators, counselors, and teachers. If your son/daughter feels unsafe in our schools, please have them reach out to an adult in school (or me directly). It is important that those concerns are addressed.

I am sorry that this is our current experience. Each day I see many examples of extraordinary care in our schools. I truly believe that caring about all students is the best way to support a safe environment. This is good, important work."

Liz Durant, Chair-Hopkinton School Board, added the following: The Hopkinton School Board held an emergency non-public meeting last night to review the reported safety risk at the High School. On Thursday, we will be reviewing the matter with our District's counsel. We understand the need to share additional information and will be discussing how best to do so while upholding our obligations to confidentiality and state statute. Thank you for your support in the School District's commitment to keeping all students safe.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Despite years of warnings that older adults shouldn't take sedative drugs that put them at risk of injury and death, a new study reveals how many primary care doctors are still prescribing them, how often, and exactly where. Mapped out county by county, the study shows wide variation in prescriptions of the drugs, called benzodiazepines. Some counties, especially in the Deep South and rural western states, had three times the level of sedative prescribing as others. The study also highlights gaps at the level of individual prescribers — some primary care providers prescribed more than six times more often than their peers. These high-intensity prescribers of drugs such as Xanax, Ativan and Valium also tended to be high-intensity prescribers of opioid painkillers.

A new study published in Circulation showed that fish oil — which contains the omega-3s EPA and DHA — did not increase perioperative bleeding in surgery patients. In fact, higher blood omega-3 levels were associated with lower risk of bleeding.

A drug first identified 150 years ago and used as a smooth-muscle relaxant might make tumors more sensitive to radiation therapy, according to a recent study published in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences. The researchers found that the drug, called papaverine, inhibits the respiration of mitochondria, the oxygen-consuming and energy-making components of cells, and sensitizes model tumors to radiation. They found that the drug does not affect the radiation sensitivity of well-oxygenated normal tissues. The study "represents a potential landmark in the six-decade-old quest to eliminate hypoxia as a cause for radiotherapy treatment failure."

WHAT IS DENTAL CARIES? TREATMENTS, SIGNS, AND SYMPTOMS

Dr. Esin Narli-Trangaris

Dental caries, which is also referred to as tooth decay or cavities, is one of the most common and widespread persistent diseases today and is also one of the most preventable. When you eat certain foods, the bacteria on your teeth break them down and produce acids that have the ability to seriously damage the hard tissues of your tooth. The result is the formation of dental caries (cavities).

What Causes Dental Caries?

Typically, dental caries can be spotted on two specific areas of the teeth: occlusal caries, which form on the topmost part of the tooth, where food particles repeatedly come in direct contact with the teeth; and interproximal caries, which are dental caries that form between the teeth. It's in these two locations where bacteria fester and pose a risk to your oral hygiene. If the teeth and surrounding areas are not cared for properly, the bacteria will begin to digest the sugars left over from food in your mouth and convert it into acids as a waste product. These acids are strong enough to demineralize the enamel on your teeth and form tiny holes—the first stage of dental caries. As the enamel begins to break down, the tooth loses the ability to reinforce the calcium and phosphate structures of the teeth naturally through saliva properties and, in time, acid penetrates into the tooth and destroys it from the inside out.

AARP has launched the Stop RX Greed campaign

CONCORD — Some Granite Staters are going without lifesaving medications as prescription drug costs continue to rise out-of-pace with incomes.

AARP has launched the Stop RX Greed campaign, as a nationwide effort to press Congress, the Trump administration and state officials to take action to lower drug prices.

Todd Fahey, state director of AARP New Hampshire, says he's spoken to people across the state who've had to ration their life-saving medications, cutting doses down to half or even a quarter of what their doctors prescribed — and without their approval.

"The average cost of prescription drug treatment increased 57.8% between 2012 and 2017, but the annual income for New Hampshire residents only increased by 13.2%," Fahey points out. "It's very clear that the cost of meds is greatly outpacing people's real wages and ability to pay for what they need to stay healthy."

The Stop RX Greed campaign is urging federal lawmakers to take swift action to pass the Prescription Drug Pricing Reduction Act when they return in September from their current recess.

Last spring, pharmaceutical manufacturers Amgen, Eli Lilly and Merck sued the Trump administration over a policy to require that drug prices be included in TV ads. According to the latest AARP survey on the topic, older Americans take an average of just over four medications, and they're paying twice as much for them as people in other wealthy nations. Fahey says 80% of that profit is going somewhere other than into research and development for new drugs.

"Americans pay the highest prescription drug prices in the world, and consumers need to know why," he states. "It's a big issue in New Hampshire.

"In many cases, people are having to make a choice between filling prescriptions or buying groceries." In the first six months of 2019, average drug prices increased 10.5%, which is five times the rate of inflation. Fahey hopes that greater transparency will help rein in rising costs.

On Wednesday, October 16th, about 30 Friends of the Northern Rail Trail in Merrimack County gathered around a long table at the Highland Lake Inn in Andover for the friends group's annual Self-congratulatory feast.

2nd Kearsarge Area Senior Luncheon to be held November 21

The second fun-filled 2019-2020 luncheon serving seniors in the Kearsarge Region will take place at the Wilmot Community Association (WCA) Red Barn at 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, November 21st and it is going to be an especially good one.

Brunswick Stew is on the menu and for the entertainment, private sponsors are making it possible for Ronnie Chase to regale us with keyboard music from the 20s and 30s.

Ronnie will bring his sidekick, Misty the Wonder Dog as well. Don't miss this special pre-holiday event in Wilmot.

Reservations are required for each luncheon. First time attendees wanting to enjoy a hot lunch, the camaraderie of other seniors and an occasional short program are requested to call the New London Council on Aging at 526 6368 by November 11th.

Door prizes and books will be given out and fun entertainment will follow the meal.

A $2 donation is suggested for the meal and a $3 donation for the WCA for providing the space and kitchen for a total of $5. For those aged 60 years and under, there is a $6 charge for lunch and a suggested donation of $3 for the WCA.

If the weather is frightful, please use your best judgement about venturing out. As a guide, however, the luncheons will be "on" if the Kearsarge Schools are open or delayed. If school is cancelled, the luncheon will also be cancelled.

The WCA Red Barn is located at 64 Village Road next to the Wilmot Post Office in Wilmot Flat. Parking is available in the WCA's upper parking lot, the Wilmot Baptist Church and across the street.

Language Matters for those with Substance Use Disorders

FRANKLIN – The National Institute on Drug Abuse lists New Hampshire among the top five states with the highest rate of opioid-involved deaths, 424 in 2017 alone. Yet substance misuse can occur with opioids, alcohol, stimulants, and a whole host of other substances. That's why this past month, a dedicated group of Franklin VNA & Hospice employees gathered together to learn about addiction, not just the ins and outs of opioid reversal drugs and how to recognize if someone might need them, but also the language of addiction and recovery.

The way we speak about addiction impacts the way a person with substance use disorder, or a person who cares about someone with substance use disorder, communicates with us. This can be the difference between someone asking for help or staying silent, and it's a much more likely scenario for us to encounter than needing to give someone Narcan. Annika Stanley-Smith, Director of Substance Misuse Prevention with Granite United Way, was on hand to present a compelling talk on exactly this topic. "Referring to someone as a junkie, considering medication that helps with recovery a crutch, and the clean vs. dirty terminology that even well-meaning people use can stigmatize the illness of addiction." Stanley-Smith says.

The National Council for Behavioral Health even has a clear handout that begins by noting, "Stigmatizing language perpetuates negative perceptions. Person first language focuses on the person, not the disorder."

And this notion of focusing on the whole person is true for all of us. Just as having diabetes or being a parent may be a part of who we are, it isn't the whole.

Tabitha Dowd, Executive Director for Franklin VNA & Hospice, says, "The consequences of substance use cause much suffering and are major public health and economic problems. Data indicates that substance-related consequences introduce systematic bias and degrade the validity of caring throughout the systems. Using language that takes away the stigma of substance misuse can allow a person with substance use disorder to ask for help. Those are the invaluable opportunities we can create with our words and our behavior. Each of our patients and community members is a whole person. Our services support that, and we need to ensure that our language when discussing substance use disorder, supports that as well."

Instead, we should recognize that people living with substance use disorder can be helped by medications as a treatment tool to help them begin to live in recovery. Stanley-Smith likens this to, "A person with diabetes who needs insulin to help control their blood sugar."
