Hopkinton Rotary honors

Hopkinton Rotary Club President recently presented

Rotarian Bill Siff with a Paul Harris pin and certificate to recognize his exemplary service to the Club and community. Recognition as a Paul Harris Fellow is one of the many ways in which Rotary honors a member of the Club or community for service above and beyond.

Mandy Fraser recognized

SAU 24 Futures Coordinator Mandy Fraser was among the 20 individuals and organizations recognized by Commissioner of the New Hampshire Department of Education Frank Edelblut, and Chancellor of the Community College System of NH Dr. Ross Gittell, for demonstrating excellence in one or more aspects of work-based learning. Work-based learning is a partnership between schools and employers offering all students opportunities for a practical education experience, including real-world occupational settings that expand career options.

The entire elementary school was on hand to witness H-D Principals Donna Furlong (l) and Jeni Laliberte (r) kiss a pig, in celebration of reaching the $75,000 goal to build a new playground.

Henniker Select Board approves utility pole - supports economic growth

Members of Henniker's Historic District Commission met with the Select Board Tuesday evening to recommend several changes to bring the Town Hall in line with its historic charter. Suggestions included: Remove the trash barrel, flower barrels and cigarette disposer; Improve the lighting and door hardware; Install two onion style lights; and, Move the flags up 18 inches. The Board asked them to come back with a budget to accomplish the changes.

Commission members were also present to express their opposition to placing a utility pole next to the park in order to provide three-phase power to the new ice cream shop. They were preempted by Highway Superintendent, Leo Aucoin who announced that Eversource had agreed to move the location down the street and away from the park. although the Commissioners and some abutters remained opposed Joshua Finet, owner of the parlor relayed how he and his family had moved to town to establish this business and that three-phase power was essential to its success. Residents Rocky Bostrom and Bill Marco urged the Select Board to approve the request to support economic development in Henniker. After a brief discussion the Board voted 4-0-1 to approve the pole location, with abutter Peter Flynn abstaining. The Board introduced new Town Administrator Joseph Devine and Police Chief Matt French introduced his newest office Jake Bois, whose wife and daughter pinned on his badge.

LOOKING BACK!
Eisenhower and JFK

When real Democrats and Republicans were running our country; we didn't hate each other. We didn't vote for parties. We voted for ideas that came from both parties that made us better as a country. We didn't label ideas or parties as racist, sexist or un-American. We did what we thought was best for "WE THE PEOPLE" And accepted the winner as a united country!!!

Franklin's ribbon cutting welcomes city's new business

SAU #24 recognizes and rewards "Moments of Excellence"

Each month, Assistant Superintendent Jacqueline Coe invites SAU 24 staffers to identify moments of excellence that spotlight the positive. She then (by random drawing) selects one and delivers coffee, tea or cocoa to them. Join us as we celebrate this month's Moment of Excellence winner, Center Woods Elementary School's Kate Rodgers, who shared this story about her CWES colleague Cheri Easter.

"Last week, there was a difficult situation on the playground where a student was very frustrated and angry. The student was throwing large metal play trucks. I saw this through my window and was interested in what approach the staff would take with this student. Cheri Easter, a para here at CWES, walked up to him on the slide, knelt down to his level and treated him with the most compassion and understanding. It was truly an honor to watch. Within moments, Cheri and the student were walking hand in hand. He walked over with her and picked up a large trash can that he had knocked down earlier and then went back to holding hands and walking inside with Cheri. I was just so amazed by the compassion and love she showed this student in a time where that was exactly what he needed.

Hillsborough man and 19 month old child die in North Hampton fire

Fire officials said Benjamin Fauteux, 23, of Hillsborough, and 1-year-old Emerson Quinonez, of North Hampton, died of smoke inhalation in a North Hampton house fire last week. Resident Susan MacDonald, who is in a wheelchair and has lived in the house for 45 years, said that when her smoke alarm started going off Friday night, she called the fire department and then her neighbors. "I called my next-door neighbors, and they came over, came into my bedroom and said, 'You've got to get out of the house. The upstairs is in flames,'" MacDonald said.

MacDonald lives on the first floor and said she rents the upstairs to a woman and her child. After she was helped outside, MacDonald said her first thoughts were for her tenants. "Flames were coming out of my dining room," she said. "Smoke was billowing out of my window, my sliders and the attic." MacDonald said her heart goes out to the victims and the child's mother.

"I'm grateful that I'm OK, but I've got so many mixed emotions," she said. "I can't even begin to put them into words." The deaths were ruled to be accidental, officials said. See Emerson's obituary on page 24.

EEE found in Frankestown

A Frankestown horse was found to have died from an infection of EEE. As a result, Lisa Morris, director of the state Division of Public Health Services, has raised to "high" the risk level in that town for transmission of the viral infection to people from mosquitoes. The risk level in the surrounding towns of Bennington, Deering, Greenfield, Lyndeborough, New Boston and Weare will be increased to "moderate."

The 2nd Annual Henniker Rotary Club "Fill The Van" event collected several thousand dollars worth of donations for the Hillsboro and Henniker Food Pantries. Special thanks to Shaw's, Hillsboro-Deering DECA and John Stark Spanish Honor Society members and the hundreds of people who contributed.

Hopkinton Rotary honors Connie Powers

Hopkinton Rotary recently paid tribute to Connie Powers (r) by making Connie an Honorary Member. This posthumous distinctive was in recognition of Connie's outstanding service to the Club, as well as District 7870, in her years accompanying PDG Pete Powers to numerous conferences, events, and work parties, like the 2018 Arbor Day tree planting (above photo). Connie passed away in June, but her infectious smile and good deeds will long be remembered by her many Rotarian friends.

Deering Town Administrator to Mogadishu

Deering Town Administrator Russ McAllister addressed the Select Board to a request for a leave of absence as he had been asked to deploy to Mogadishu and work for USAID as the Senior Transition Adviser on a short-term basis. He believes the experience will prove useful to Deering on his return. The Board discussed the request and voiced support for the experience and their desire to keep Mr. McAllister as the Town Administrator. McAllister explained that Diane Kendall was well qualified to assume the additional duties and responsibilities. The Board unanimously approved.

Dunbarton Crimes Against Children forum

The Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force and the Dunbarton Police Department have partnered together to present "Social Media: A Predator's Playground," on December 3rd at the Elementary School. This event is free and open to the general public. Learn about the dangers that face teens every day. In doing so, we'll discuss how computers, cell phones, iPads, digital cameras, gaming systems, social networking applications, and internet blogs all play a role in placing students and families at risk. This 1.5 hour presentation is specifically geared towards parents, educators and community leaders who are looking to better understand the technology available to teens today and the way in which child predators use it to exploit them. Please RSVP to Sergeant Christopher Remillard at chrisremillard@gsinet.net.

AN ENIGMA

Only in America are legal citizens labeled "racists" and "Nazis," but illegal aliens are called "Dreamers."

This crash in Henniker occurred when the vehicle failed to negotiate the turn onto River Road and struck the guardrail. The driver, Ethan Tessier, 17, of Concord was transported to the hospital for possible minor injuries. There were 3 other minors in the vehicle. 1 had minor injuries but was not transported. Speed and driver error appear to be factors. This crash is still being investigated, (left photo). This Peterborough crash occurred at the intersection of Rte. 101 and Elm Hill Rd. Fortunately there were only minor injuries to the five (5) people in these two vehicles, (right photo).

Publisher's Perspective by Leigh Bosse

The Politics of Hate in Peterborough

In response to a group led by Christopher Maidment, seeking to have the town abolish the Planning Board, Peterborough resident Liz Thomas blasted the petitioners as "Trump Supporters" and "Nazis."

In a letter to the Editor of the Monadnock Ledger Transcript, Thomas wrote, "These people must be Trump supporters — that's what he would do if a Planning Board annoyed him. Are we turning into Nazis here?"

Continuing her attack she wrote, "Why don't we also get rid of the Select Board, the Zoning Board, the Open Space Committee, the Conservation Commission, and all the other boards and committees that work so hard to help us and have just one self-appointed person to run the town as he sees best. Heil Hitler!"

Can we agree that the politics of hate has gone too far here. Of course, she is just as entitled to her opinion as the petitioners, but those opinions can be expressed without anger, hate and confrontation. I have no opinion if the petitioners are justified in their actions, but I do know that Liz Thomas's words should have no place in American politics.

Congratulations to the Hillsboro-Deering PTO

Two years ago, Hillsboro-Deering taxpayers were asked to fund a complete replacement of the Elementary School playground to the tune of $150,000. H-D voters disagreed and the measure was easily defeated. Undeterred, organizers regrouped and asked the School Board to support a warrant article matching $75,000 in private donations if the PTO could raise the initial fund. The School Board said yes, and so did School District voters.

Tuesday afternoon, the PTO held an assembly to announce that the goals had been met and the children would be getting a new playground.

Congratulations to those who worked so hard to accomplish this goal. This public/private partnership is a victory for all and demonstrates several facts;

1: Nothing is impossible if a group of dedicated and determined individuals are committed to accomplishing it.

2: Government programs and taxpayer funding are not the only ways to get things done.

Thank you to those who showed us the way. Our children will benefit from this project for years to come.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It's that time of year again! The Operation Christmas committee has begun meeting to prepare for Christmas 2019. Last year we helped 63 families with 108 children. Each year custodial parents fill out applications for their children age 16 and under to receive one toy and one article of clothing for each child. Each gift must be under $50. These requests are written on "gift tags" which are put out in several locations around Hillsboro for people to take and purchase the items. All items are collected by the committee and checked, and double checked, to make sure they are the right item, the right size, and age appropriate. Then the parents pick them up before Christmas so that they can be wrapped and placed under the tree to brighten a child's Christmas morning. What we are asking is that you donate to help us out. Every year, there are gift tags that don't get taken, gift tags that never get returned and families that we learn about at the last minute. Money donated to Operation Christmas is used to make sure no approved applicant goes without. If you can't donate money at this time, is there some other way you can help us? Please contact us at hillsboroooperationchristmas\(a\)yahoo.comyahoo.com) if you have questions or ideas.

success. Thank you to the Hillsboro-Deering High School principal, James O'Rourke and athletic director, Jay Wood for letting us use the high school junior varsity field for our program.

Athletes tend to remember the first time they played on the "big kid's field". Thank you to our sponsors, Yanni's Pizza, the Hillsborough Diner, and the Stonebridge Montessori School for their donations. This year we were able to purchase more balls, therefore allowing each young athlete to have a ball during the practice sessions, as well as being able to give them each a jersey and a ball bag.

Thanks to the coaches, Jack Ferguson, Julian Howell, Logan Clough, Brianna Cebollero, Patsy Hersey, Richie Stellato, Jaime Therrien, Brad O'Brien, Emily Howell, Michelle Decowski, Erin Delacy, and those behind the scene, Linda Stellato and Barbara Winters. Your efforts allow us to offer a quality experience to Hillsboro's future soccer players.

HALLOWEEN CANDY: YOUR DENTAL HEALTH SURVIVAL GUIDE PART II

Dr. Esin Narli-Trangaris

Sticky and Gummy Candies

Be picky if it's sticky. These are some of the worst candies for your teeth. This candy is harder to remove and may stay longer on your teeth, which gives that cavity-causing bacteria more time to work.

Hard Candy

Hard candies are also ones to watch on Halloween. You also tend to keep these kinds of candies in your mouth for longer periods of time, so the sugar is getting in your saliva and washing over your teeth.

Sour Candy

You might want to pass on things that make you pucker—especially if they are sticky and coated in sugar. Sour candy can be very acidic. And that acidity can weaken and damage the hard outer shell of your teeth, making your teeth more vulnerable to cavities.

Popcorn Balls

Have some floss handy if you're enjoying one of these fall favorites. Kernels can get stuck between your teeth. They are also sticky, sugary and can be hard.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Higher intake of omega-3 fatty acids was associated with better sleep quality and a decrease in depressive symptoms in lupus patients, among other patient-reported outcomes, according to new research findings presented at the ACR/ARHP Annual Meeting. Lupus is a chronic (long-term) inflammatory autoimmune disease in which an unknown trigger causes the body's immune system to attack its own healthy tissues. The most common type of lupus is systemic lupus erythematosus (SLE), a complex, multi-symptom disease that can cause inflammation, pain and damage to various parts of the body. While anyone can develop lupus, it occurs 9-10 times more often in women than in men, and is 2-3 times more common among women of color.

In just four months, high doses of vitamin D reduce arterial stiffness in young, overweight/obese, vitamin-deficient, but otherwise still healthy African-Americans, researchers write in the journal PLOS ONE. Rigid artery walls are an independent predictor of cardiovascular-related disease and death. Vitamin D deficiency appears to be a contributor.

Vitamin C may reduce the harm done to lungs in infants born to mothers who smoke during their pregnancy, according to a randomized, controlled trial published online in the American Thoracic Society's American Journal of Respiratory and Critical Care Medicine. At three months of age, the infants whose mothers took 500 mg of vitamin C in addition to their prenatal vitamin had significantly better forced expiratory flows (FEFs). FEFs measure how fast air can be exhaled from the lung and are an important measure of lung function because they can detect airway obstruction.

COLBY-SAWYER HALL OF FAME

Colby-Sawyer College held its 14th Annual Athletic Hall of Fame induction ceremony on Sunday, October 6. This year's honorees were Cailin Bullett '13 (Women's Basketball), Shawn Dunstan '12 (Alpine Skiing), Allyson Le-Bruno '14 (Women's Volleyball), Danielle Shannon '11 (Alpine Skiing) and Jennifer LaChance Taylor '10 (Women's Tennis).

Sports

Cailin Bullett is one of the best point guards in women's basketball program history. She is the only player with at least 1000 points, 500 rebounds and 500 assists. Cailin is the all-time leader in career assists with 583 and holds the top two single-season assist totals with 197 and 177. Her successful career in the gym and the classroom culminated by being named the 2012-13 NAC Woman of the Year award; the first Colby-Sawyer student-athlete to be honored.

Shawn Dunstan turned in one of the most impressive careers on snow in men's alpine ski program history. He has the distinction as the only male student-athlete to have earned the Charger Award for Outstanding Male Athlete three times. His illustrious career began in grand fashion as he helped the Chargers win the 2009 United States Collegiate Ski & Snowboard Association (USCSA).

Allyson Le-Bruno is arguably the best to have played volleyball at Colby-Sawyer. Her numbers back it up as she holds numerous career and single season records. She is the all-time leader in digs with 2577 and digs per set at 5.49. The 2577 digs is also a New England Women's Volleyball Association (NEWVA) record. In addition, Allyson is the single-season record-holder in digs with 768 and has four of the top nine totals. Her 6.24 digs per set in 2010 is a record and 6.02 in 2011 is second best.

Danielle Shannon is the first three-time recipient of the Charger Award for Outstanding Female Athlete. She is undoubtedly the most successful alpine skier in program history and her accolades are a confirmation of an illustrious career. Danielle dominated the MacConnell division by winning 13 races and added a few second-place finishes as well. She led the team to a pair of MacConnell Division titles and was a two-time MacConnell Division Individual Champion.

Jennifer LaChance Taylor was an integral member of the 2009-10 Commonwealth Coast Conference (CCC) Championship Team that made the program's first appearance in the NCAA Tournament. She collected 107 career wins with 53 coming in singles and 54 in doubles. An inspiration to her teammates, Jennifer worked just as hard in practice as she did on game day. The perseverance paid off for Jennifer as she was named to the CCC Singles Second Team three times, the CCC Doubles First Team three times, the CCC Doubles Second Team once and the CCC Singles Honorable Mention Team once.

Volunteer Fair to be a part of Peak into Peterborough

The Monadnock Nonprofit Network is excited to announce that many of our local nonprofits will be holding a volunteer fair at this year's Peak into Peterborough October 19th, 10am-4pm. This event will provide an opportunity for individuals to connect with local organizations one-on-one.

It is the group's hope that this collaborative effort will increase the awareness of the needs within the community, as well as provide the opportunity for volunteers to share their volunteer spirit amongst more than one organization. The fair will be a grouping of tables located in Depot Square where people can stop by and check out the many volunteer opportunities available. Whether you are already a volunteer, a student, new to town, enjoying retirement, or just curious about volunteering in the community, we encourage you to come and learn what rewarding opportunities are available. This is also a great chance for students with service hours to complete during the school year to connect with nonprofits. The group plans a casual, fun atmosphere with goodies, a scavenger hunt and a chance to win a prize!

Members of the Peterborough Fire Department recently hosted a group of students from Peterborough Elementary School.

ConVal trio at the 2020 Hugh O'Brien Leadership Conference

The ConVal Regional High School Counseling Department has announced that sophomores Eva Calcutt, Fletcher Maggs, and Riley Momenee were selected to represent ConVal at the 2020 Hugh O'Brien Leadership Conference in May. The HOBY Conference is a weekend-long program held at St. Anselm College, and will host sophomore student leaders from across New Hampshire.

Calcutt, Maggs and Momenee were three of twenty-five sophomores nominated by school staff for the conference. Thirteen candidates were interviewed by the committee.

Eva Calcutt is the daughter of Tiffany and Dennis Calcutt of Francestown. She is a varsity player for ConVal's nordic ski, tennis, and soccer teams. Outside of school she volunteers at a horse barn and is an active rider and vaulter. As a freshman, Eva received the coaches award in tennis and recently had a piece of writing published.

Fletcher Maggs is the son of Wesley Maggs of Peterborough and Kate Maggs of Hancock. He is a member of the ConVal varsity soccer team and is vice president of the sophomore class. Fletcher's short film was recognized this year with a Best Film Award and he received a New Hampshire Scholastic Art Silver Key this past January.

Riley Momenee is the son of Mark and Tabitha Momenee of Francestown. He is a member of the ConVal varsity tennis, ski and golf teams. He received a New Hampshire Scholastic Art Gold Key award and volunteers for Earth Day, Community Suppers, and Milford Share Program.

The seminar provides an opportunity for high school sophomores to recognize their potential talents and apply them in becoming effective, ethical leaders.

Ways to support shelter animals if you're not ready to adopt

The winter months, which are often considered some of the busiest for animal shelters, are approaching. According to the ASPCA, approximately 6.5 million companion animals enter shelters every year. Adding a shelter pet to your family can be fulfilling, but what if you're not ready or able to adopt? Hartz Loving Paws is committed to supporting companion animals in shelters through product donations and volunteer events. October is Adopt-A-Shelter-Dog Month, and Hartz is partnering with the Humane Society of the New Braunfels Area in Texas to share opportunities for you to give back to pets in need if you're not ready or able to adopt.

1. Donate money or product. Many animal shelters and rescue organizations have direct donation links posted on their websites. Monetary donations go toward pet food, medical attention and vaccines for the animals. Animal shelters and rescue organizations also often create Amazon wish lists with desired products. Shelters typically ask for pet treats, toys and grooming supplies. Sarah Hammond, executive director of the Humane Society of the New Braunfels Area in Texas, said she is grateful for donations from Hartz Loving Paws, which has given more than $2 million worth of product to shelters and organizations, including her own, since its inception in 2016.

2. Provide a temporary home. An increased number of animals placed in shelters need foster care before they are ready to find their forever homes. Foster needs range from post-op surgical care to puppy growth care and medical support. Food, medication and other supplies are typically provided when fostering, and the length of time a foster pet may stay in your home varies depending on the animal's needs. Contact your local shelter to fill out an application. Once approved, your local shelter will work closely with you to find the right foster pet for your household.

3. Volunteer at your local shelter or rescue organization. Animal shelters and rescue organizations offer numerous volunteer roles, such as dog walkers, adoption support and training support. Many positions don't require prior experience and can be applied for on your local shelter or rescue organization's website. Volunteer positions vary in expectations and demand, so there is a position for everyone. You can also volunteer to participate in a shelter rebuild project. Hartz Loving Paws renovates shelters twice a year in partnership with GreaterGood.org's Rescue Rebuild program. These teams work with shelters to create playful and welcoming environments for animals.

4. Take photos of adoptable pets. Help animals find homes sooner by taking adoption photos for local shelters. Many people search for adoptable pets online, and with a great profile picture, animals have a greater chance at being adopted. If you're new to photography, there are free training videos available on the One Picture Saves a Life website that show how to take better photos of shelter pets.

5. Become an advocate. Follow animal shelters and rescue organizations on social media and reshare their content. Talk to your family and friends about the importance of caring for shelter pets while they await their forever homes and share how they can help. (BPT)
