"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

Thomas Jefferson

"We believe -- and we believe it so deeply that Americans know these words by heart -- we believe "that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." Take an American student or teacher aside later today and ask if he or she hasn't committed those words to memory. They are from the document by which we created our nation, the Declaration of Independence."

President Ronald Reagan

"What makes us exceptional -- what makes us American -- is our allegiance to an idea articulated in a declaration made more than two centuries ago: 'We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.' Today we continue a never-ending journey to bridge the meaning of those words with the realities of our time."

President Barack Obama

A band of masked vandals virtually destroyed the old HDES playground over the weekend. The H-D PTO plans to finish the job before installing the new one. Great job on a terrific community project.

Project Genesis Fundraiser

Major renovations underway at the town's Youth Center

Hillsborough's Office of Youth Services and Project Genesis Community Youth Center are in need of major repairs and renovations. A flood in March destroyed the basement and the flooring on the first floor of Project Genesis.

Since the flood, they have been able to start the installation of new flooring on the first floor and it kick-started the desire to redo the entire inside of Project Genesis.

As luck (and a sense of community) would have it, Fran and Bob Charron of Hillsboro reached out looking to make a donation towards Project Genesis in honor of their late son, Jeremy, who was killed in the line of duty for the Epsom Police Department. To date, Project Genesis has secured $11,700 from 2 local donors---Mr. and Mrs. Charron and a second anonymous Hillsboro resident who donated $2,000.

They also now have another anonymous local donor who has said they will match any funds we are able to raise up to $1,000.

A contractor has been secured and volunteers are assisting with various demo, painting and cleaning projects to help reduce project costs. From July 1-July 10 Project Genesis is running a fundraiser to reach its $1,000 goal that will be matched by our 3 anonymous donors. To help, please send your check to Project Genesis, P.O. Box 7, Hillsborough, NH 03244.

Hancock seeking ways to maintain 2020 Old Home Days

Although there will be no Run for the Honey book sale this year, the Hancock Select Board would like to come up with something creative in order for the town to maintain the distinction of holding the longest record of consecutive Old Home Day events. The town needs to find a way to celebrate while adhering to social distancing requirements. The Fire Department could potentially do a chicken barbeque with to-go meals or delivering meals to residents who may not want to leave their residence.

There was a discussion regarding how Old Home Day was handled during the Spanish Influenza pandemic of 1918. A notice in Hancock Happenings will seek input for Old Home Day; if there is limited or no input the Board may consider canceling Old Home Day.

New Hampshire Career Academy announces its inaugural class

The New Hampshire Department of Education today welcomed the inaugural and pilot class of New Hampshire Career Academy. The innovative partnership between high schools, community colleges, and local businesses offers students entering their senior year of high school a chance to earn their high school diploma and Associates Degree at no cost. In September, 12 students will start classes at five community colleges across New Hampshire.

“Last year we announced the creation of the New Hampshire Career Academy, an innovative program that allows for students in New Hampshire schools to receive a high school diploma, associate’s degree, and a guaranteed job interview – all at no extra cost to the student or taxpayer,” said Governor Chris Sununu.

“I’m a hands-on learner and I really like the manufacturing class I took at MST,” says Andrew Coutu (Not pictured) from Bedford, who will be enrolling in Mechanical Engineering at NHTI this fall. “My MST teacher told me about this opportunity and it really intrigued me.”

Isabella Edwards from Madbury will be studying Criminal Justice at Great Bay

Community College. “I was drawn to the Career Academy as it was the best opportunity for me pursue my passion for Criminal Justice,” Edwards says. “From a young age, I have been confident in my future in this field, which is not something that is expected of younger individuals. But this program has given me the option to pursue my education in a personalized, timely, and affordable manner.”

Twin brothers Nicholas and Nathan Spires of Salem have both been accepted into New Hampshire Career Academy. Nicholas will be enrolled in Engineering Technology at NHTI, and Nathan will be enrolled in Finance and Accounting at Great Bay Community College.

“We’ve been saving for college since they were infants,” says their mother, Margaret Spires. “If they can do this program and transfer to a four-year college, and come out of it with no debt, that would be fantastic.”

Spires says she learned about the program on Facebook, and asked the Salem High School guidance department for help with the application process.

“The first class of New Hampshire Career Academy students are choosing their own paths to bright futures, and demonstrating the potential of the program for students to follow,” said Education Commissioner Frank Edelblut. “Uncertainty about going back to school in the fall makes this a challenging time to start a pilot program, so I salute these ambitious students for helping us launch New Hampshire Career Academy.”

New Hampshire Career Academy students enter the program at the start of their senior year of high school, and complete both their high school graduation requirements and associate degree or certificate program requirements two years later equipped with the knowledge and skills. Tuition costs are paid to the Community College System of New Hampshire.

Other costs are picked up by local business partners, who also provide internships, work experience, and job interviews as part of the New Hampshire Career Academy program.

Deering Select Board considering adding a Deputy Fire Chief

Fire Chief Daniel Gorman met with the Select Board to discuss his proposal to staff a Deputy Fire Chief. He explained that the position will be scheduled to work when he himself is not available so that there is better coverage.

The candidate he is looking to promote is Jeff LeBlanc who has a 35-year background in the Lebanon fire department as both a fire fighter and paramedic. He is a flight medic with DHART and he has been with the per diem program since its inception. The additional cost for the rest of the year is about $5,400.

The Board was receptive to the proposal and asked to have Mr. Leblanc attend a future meeting. In the meantime, the Board directed Chief Gorman to have Mr. LeBlanc meet with the Town Administrator and discuss the proposal. The Board inquired about the status of the new truck and directed Chief Gorman to keep Deering TA apprised of the status so that the timely financing of the remaining cost would go smoothly.

The Board also inquired about the status of the new SCBA gear. Chief Gorman explained that they had received quotes and he will provide more information.

ANTIBIOTICS NOT NECESSARY FOR MOST TOOTHACHES, ACCORDING TO NEW GUIDELINE

Dr. Esin Narli-Trangaris

The American Dental Association (ADA) has announced a new guideline indicating that in most cases, antibiotics are not recommended for toothaches.

Patients with toothaches are often prescribed antibiotics by physicians and dentists to help relieve signs and symptoms and prevent progression to a more serious condition. However, the new guideline and accompanying systematic review find that healthy adults experiencing a toothache are best served not by antibiotics but by dental treatment and, if needed, over-the-counter pain relievers such as acetaminophen and ibuprofen.

Studies have shown that antibiotics, which are designed to stop or slow the growth of bacterial infections, don't necessarily help patients experiencing a toothache. In addition, antibiotics can cause serious side effects, and overuse has resulted in bacterial strains that are resistant to antibiotics.

The guideline offers example scenarios when antibiotics may be prescribed for a toothache. When dental treatment is not immediately available and the patient has signs and symptoms such as fever, swollen lymph nodes, or extreme fatigue, antibiotics may be appropriate. But in most cases when adults have a toothache and access to dental treatment, antibiotics may actually do more harm than good.

The Grapevine and Avenue A Teen Center held two sessions for teens to share and process the recent loss of 16-year-old Liam McCartney of Frankestown. They took place in small groups outdoors in a private setting near the teen center to accommodate social distance guidelines.

Beepa and Lulu now open in Peterborough

After a three month COVID-19 delay, Bennington Police Chief Bret Sullivan and his wife Lisa were finally able to open "Beepa and Lulu" in Peterborough, a restaurant that carries the names their grandchildren gave them. Originally scheduled for March 16, when emergency orders prohibited indoor dining. The Sullivans decided to wait until they could provide indoor seating. Beepa and Lulu last Friday morning served breakfast and lunch, and will soon add mimosas and other breakfast cocktails.

Hopkinton issues ban on outdoor water use

The Hopkinton Village Precinct Water Department has issued a ban on outdoor water use. The Department said it "has already had complaints of low water pressure from multiple customers. Given there is no clear relief predicted for these dry conditions, we need to put in place a mandatory ban on outdoor water usage for all water system users." There can be no sprinkler systems or outdoor lawn watering, no washing down of driveways or patios, and no power-washing or car washing. Hand irrigation of crops for food and water to animals is not restricted.

Greenfield's Library now open to patrons

The Stephenson Memorial Library in Greenfield has begun allowing patrons without computer access to use library computers and has resumed some other services. Patrons may now return books in the book drop, reserve times to use the computer inside, and select free books from a cart outside. Appointments can be made between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. to use the computer.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

A new study, published in Molecular Psychiatry, suggests that ezogabine, part of a class of drugs known as potassium channel openers, may have an antidepressant affect in humans. Researchers found that patients with Major Depressive Disorder (MDD) exhibited a significant reduction of depressive symptoms after being treated with ezogabine, an FDA approved drug used to treat seizures. After treatment, patients showed a 45 percent reduction in depression, a significant reduction in anhedonia, the inability to feel pleasure; and a significant increase in resilience.

The net clinical benefit of anticoagulants for atrial fibrillation (AF)—one of the most important causes of irregular heartbeats and a leading cause of stroke—decreases with age, as the risk of death from other factors diminishes their benefit in older patients, according to a new study in Circulation: Cardiovascular Quality and Outcomes. The multi-institutional study of nearly 15,000 AF patients found that the anticoagulant warfarin was not beneficial after age 87 and another, apixaban, after age 92.

A new study published in CANCER, a peer-reviewed journal of the American Cancer Society, reveals that preventive medications—such as those to lower blood pressure or cholesterol, or to protect bone health, among others—are commonly prescribed during the last year of life of older adults with cancer, even though they are unlikely to provide meaningful benefits. Many older adults take multiple medications concomitantly, which increases the risk of experiencing serious side effects. For older patients with cancer, the benefit of each additional medicine gradually decreases while the risk of harm increases as the illness progresses and prognosis worsens.

Antrim's Hawthorne Academy graduates its first high school class

Hawthorne Academy, a Christian high school located in Antrim, held its first commencement exercises on Saturday, June 27. The commencement was held outside with immediate families sitting together, separated by 6 feet between families. Parents awarded diplomas to their own children. The program began with the Pledge of Allegiance and National Anthem led by James Raymond. Valedictorian Stephen Reed encouraged the graduates to meet each issue in life immediately -- "Just do it" -- instead of waiting for the perfect time or motivation, always keeping God first in their lives. In addition to the valedictorian speech, each graduate gave a small speech of encouragement and thanks. Guest speaker Rudy Galdonik used examples related to her son's experience hiking the Appalachian Trail to motivate the graduates to face the many situations God may put in their lives while always trusting and looking to Jesus.

Weare Police Speed Trailer

Police Chief Moore spoke of a solar operated Speed Trailer that he purchased for $400.00. Sergeant Montplaisir inspected it prior to purchasing it, and has already striped the decals and started painting it, new decals to be ordered. It will be up and running in under 30 days. Selectman Van questioned the price of a new radar trailer and how it will be towed. Chief Moore responded he will get that information, they are thousands, DPW will assist with moving the trailer until vehicle #6 is setup for towing, at a cost of roughly $300.00.

REFINANCING: GETTING CASH OUT FROM THE EQUITY BUILT UP IN YOUR HOME

By: Joyce Bosse

Home equity is the dollar-value difference between the balance you owe on your mortgage and the value of your property. When you refinance for an amount greater than what you owe on your home, you can receive the difference in a cash payment (this is called a cash-out refinancing). You might choose to do this, for example, if you need cash to make home improvements or pay for a child's education.

Remember, though, that when you take out equity, you own less of your home. It will take time to build your equity back up. This means that if you need to sell your home, you will not put as much money in your pocket after the sale.

If you are considering a cash-out refinancing, think about other alternatives as well. You could shop for a home equity loan or home equity line of credit instead. Compare a home equity loan with a cash-out refinancing to see which is a better deal for you.

Refinancing may not be a good idea if you've had your mortgage for a long time.

The proportion of your mortgage payment that is credited to the principal of your loan increases each year, while the proportion credited to the interest decreases each year. In the later years of your mortgage, more of your payment applies to principal and helps build equity. By refinancing late in your mortgage, you will restart the amortization process, and most of your monthly payment will be credited to paying interest again and not to building equity.

Peterborough woman is ConVal Principal

Heather McKillop has been named the new Principal at ConVal High School. ConVal had narrowed the search down to two candidates from the 25 applications received and the seven interviewed. The search was required after Principal Michelle Voto resigned at the end of this school year. The two finalists were Dr. Dorothy Mohr and Heather McKillop. Mohr has served as principal at Pelham High School and interim Principal in Farmington. McKillop is currently the Assistant Principal at Nashua High School North.

Warner approves highway 10-Wheeler repairs

Warner Highway Superintendent Tim Allen informed the Select Board that the 10-wheeler is in dire need of sandblasting and painting, the body and plow frames especially. He gave the Board 3 estimates, and would like to go with the lowest. He originally budgeted $8,500 for the project, but will need another $4,000. Chair Clyde Carson asked what the sandblasting and painting does for the life of the 10-wheeler. Allen said the 10-wheeler is scheduled to be replaced in 2023 and when it comes time to replace the truck he would like to order just a chassis and take the dump body and the plow equipment and put it on the new chassis. The potential savings is about $50,000. Carson then asked if this project can be pushed out to August or September, as he is concerned about cash flow. Allen was not in favor of holding off on this project, as this work should have been completed last year and he recommended no later than August. The vendor he wants to use is already 4 weeks out until he can service the 10-wheeler. The Board approved and complimented him for using his budget in the best manageable way to take care of the equipment he has.

Greenfield Select Board may reduce spending

Greenfield is bracing for potential losses during this round of tax collection and may decide to delay certain projects after the July 15 deadline. "Depending on how strong the tax payments are in light of the current economy, the Board will make decisions about outstanding projects," Greenfield Town Administrator Aaron Patt reports that the Select Board is considering postponing several approved expenditures, including the final stage of paving East Road, purchasing a dump truck and a large amount of gravel. The Board is also considering withholding deposits to Capital Reserve accounts beyond December, which would require a special town meeting if the state doesn't issue an exemption. The matter comes as a result of potential revenue losses because of the pandemic.

New London officials discuss the use and parking at town beaches

The New London Select Board met at Elkins Beach with Police Chief Cobb and Sgt. Keith, Recreation Director Scott Blewitt and Asst. Beach Manager/Life-guard Logan Montminy, members of the Recreation Commission, Town Administrator Kim Hallquist and several Elkins residents. The focus of the discussion was how beach staff could keep track of the people coming to the beach in light of the limitations instituted due to the coronavirus.

Elkins Beach is limited to 75 people and Bucklin Beach is limited to 80 people. Given the need to limit attendance, the Selectmen previously temporarily suspended issuance of guest passes; parking was reduced at Bucklin Beach.

Concerns were expressed by some Elkins residents that the Elkins Beach was not being adequately monitored to ensure that only New London residents are using the beach. While Bucklin Beach has one entrance, Elkins Beach presents challenges due to the number of entrance points. Parking at both beaches is by permit only. Chief Cobb noted that while the patrol officer on duty does go to the beach area as time allows during each shift, he or she can not spend the time necessary to ensure that all cars parked at the beaches have the beach sticker affixed to the windshield. Prior to considering the adoption of a towing policy, the town would hire additional staff to check the parking lot periodically and inform people of the permit parking only rule. The group also viewed the Pleasant Lake dam area to discuss the practice by some of jumping off of the dam to swim in the lake.

At Troop 2's outdoor Court of Honor and BBQ at Gregg Lake this past week, Senior Patrol Leader Hunter was awarded a certificate of appreciation from Commander Steve Roy of the Myers-Prescott-Olson American Legion Post 50 in recognition of his efforts to lead the installation of a new flag pole and flower bed for the Legion in time for Memorial Day.

Clean-up of Bradford property to continue

Michelle Turco Magistro, of 340 Fairgrounds Road, met with the Bradford Select Board provide an update on cleaning up her property. She said they have been able to get rid of 10-12 vehicles and have been cleaning up the scrape metal. She stated that with the Coronavirus it has been difficult to get rid of items but they are working on cleaning up the site. James felt the process should not be stopped, but is not interested in collecting fines as long as the property concerns are being addressed. Beth Downs urged the Board to monitor what is happening at the property as, while there was some progress, there is still more to do. She also registered a complaint about explosion noise in the middle of the night, screeching tires and revving engines.

Bennington Town Hall repairs delay opening

Plans to renovate Bennington's Town Hall have stalled and the Select Board has decided to continue minimizing in-person services until improvements could be made. Plans initially called for proposals for the renovations due by June 30th, but none were received. The town is also looking for a contractor to repair the roof of the building, the cupola, and the second story's tin ceiling.

Publisher's Perspective

We all passed the tests

If you have read any of my prior Perspectives you know that I have always been a proud American.

Never has that been more true than in the last few months as we all grapple with the frustrations and adjustments to the current pandemic, and the recent killing of George Floyd.

As is our tradition, in times of crisis, Americans of all races, creeds, colors and income levels have banded together to defeat a common enemy.

In the past several weeks, The Messenger has proudly featured the efforts of Neighbors Helping Neighbors. From Monica Rico, the Henniker woman who has raised nearly $25,000 in her Meals For Henniker project to corporate giants like WalMart which contributed $500 million to the relief effort, America has stood proud and united.

Yes, the recent looting and rioting is deplorable, but does nothing to detract from the fact that the vast majority of Americans of all races have joined in peaceful protests and rededicated themselves to ending the vestiges of racism that remain in this country.

These two challenges have truly put us to the test - we passed.

Susanne White announces for NH House of Representatives

Susanne White announced her candidacy for State Representative from Hillsborough County District 1. She will be running with long-serving Representative Marjorie Porter. White moved to Hillsborough in 2009 after retiring from the Massachusetts

Trial Court Administrative Office where she was the Change Management Lead for the implementation of a statewide electronic case management system. Since arriving in Hillsborough, she has volunteered in numerous capacities, including the Living History Event, Balloonfest, Hillsboro Reborn, the Plan NH Charrette, and served as a member and then Chair of the Chamber of Commerce. She was a member of the Economic Development Commission and currently serves as Vice Chair of the Planning Board. In addition, she runs a part-time home-based sewing business, and you might have seen her as Mrs. Claus during Hillsborough's Olde Fashioned Christmas.

"Building and strengthening communities has been a passion for most of my adult life," White says. In her former city of Somerville, MA, as a member of the Board of Directors of the Somerville Community Corporation (SCC) for nearly a decade, she helped lead SCC's missions which include construction, rehabilitating and managing affordable housing for middle income residents, as well as leadership and financial management education programs for those who need it. She helped initiate partnerships with the city administration that led to Somerville being selected as an All-America City and organized the first block party in her neighborhood which became an annual event enabling current residents to meet old and new neighbors.

Community economic development has been part of life since White was a child, growing up in Rangeley, Maine. "My dad was one of the original organizers of Saddleback Mountain Ski Area and I witnessed first hand the difference those jobs made in a community where the goal was to get everyone through the winter. In Somerville, I saw the difference an affordable home could make for a family," White stated.

"Economy, education and community will be my focus as a state representative. Hillsborough, Antrim and Windsor are small towns smack dab in the middle of southwestern NH. Osram is a major employer here and if anything happens to Osram, the area would be in dire straits. I hope, as a representative, to work with other representatives and senators to bring economic development to this area. A technical school, senior housing, a community center are just three of my objectives. Finally, I want to be a connector - that person who brings together people with ideas, people with the know-how, and people with funding to build a solid future for this area." White holds a BA from Boston University, and MBA from Bentley University, and is a retired member of the Massachusetts Bar, having earned her JD from Suffolk University Law School.
