Congrats on 35 Years

Congratulations to Peterborough Police Chief Scott Guinard for 35 years of Full-Time Service to the Town of Peterborough and its residents. Thank you, Sir, for your continued dedication.

Once a government is committed to the principle of silencing the voice of opposition, it has only one way to go, and that is down the path of increasingly repressive measures, until it becomes a source of terror to all its citizens and creates a country where everyone lives in fear.

Special Message to the Congress on the Internal Security of the United States, August 8, 1950.

ConVal announced settlement of lawsuit against Monadnock Tent

Superintendent Kimberly Rizzo Saunders has announced that the ConVal School District has settled a lawsuit against a rental company that provided unusable outdoor tents last year. During the summer of 2020, the District rented large tents from Monadnock Tent & Event to support in-person learning upon the reopening of school on Sept. 8.

The District later became aware that the rented tents larger than 400 square feet would not meet the State of New Hampshire’s permitting requirements.

As a result, students at the Great Brook and South Meadow Schools as well as ConVal Regional High School, who were scheduled to attend classes in-person, were required to begin the school year under a remote learning model.

The lawsuit alleged that the permitting challenges were created by the vendor’s inability to provide the necessary data, certificates, and other documentation, per the contract and the representations made by the vendor. The vendor denied liability and brought a countersuit.

Under terms of the settlement: Monadnock Tent & Event will pay the District $75,000. The District will release all property belonging to the company. The District will drop its lawsuit against the company, which in turn will drop its countersuit against the District.

Bob Nash (r), Chair of the Greater Hillsborough Republican Committee welcomed Joe Mendola, President of the Norwood Group, who spoke of the dangers of Critical Race Theory.

John Stark announced its 2021 Valedictorian and Salutatorian

The John Stark Regional High School Valedictorian for 2021 is Delaney Forrestall and Salutatorian is Nathan Chasse.

Delaney Forrestall of Henniker is President of John Stark Chapter of the National Honor Society and Vice President of the Spanish Honor Society. She also serves on the Student Council where she has been a student representative to the school board and is currently secretary.

Earlier this spring, she was named a Presidential Scholar Semifinalist. Forrestall played John Stark Varsity Field Hockey for four years and was the captain of the team in her last two seasons. She also played on the Unified Basketball team for the past three years.

“I think experiencing the last fifteen months of the pandemic as a student has really put an emphasis on just how important it is to prioritize and nourish both your mental health and social life to the same extent as your education,” commented Forrestall on the last two years of school. “The social interaction, skills, and collaboration you get from an in-person school environment contributes to your growth as a person in a much more meaningful way than any test or subject matter ever will.”

Delaney Forrestall is the daughter of Rebecca Wilson and James Forrestall. She will attend the University of Richmond to study psychology. She also hopes to play club field hockey.

Nathan Chasse of Weare is Salutatorian. He is the current President of the Tri-M Music Honor Society and Secretary of the John Stark Chapter of National Honor Society. He is also a member of John Stark’s Peer Leadership, stage band, and math team. Chasse is an AIME (American Invitational Mathematics Examination) qualifier and was invited to the state math team and national math meet.

Nathan Chasse is the son of Peter and Catherine Chasse and will attend the University of New Hampshire Honors Program to study data science.

John Stark Regional High School graduation will be held outside on June 12 at 10 AM. It is rain or shine and only moderate to severe weather will move the time to later that day or date to Sunday. Ticketed guests only.

Hillsborough Select Board refuses to remove Noise Ordinance from agenda

The proposed Noise Ordinance again dominated the early discussion at Wednesday's Hillsborough Select Board meeting. Chamber Secretary Riche Colcombe suggested that as both the Town Council and Municipal Association had ruled that the Select Board lack the authority to enact a noise ordinance, the Board should remove it from the Long Term Projects list on the agenda.

Town Administrator Laura Bouno then suggested the Board may want to keep it as draft to be presented at the next town meeting.

Reminded that 258 residents and 50 businesses had signed petitions opposing the ordinance, Chair JP Stohrer responded that there are 6,000+ residents in town and that 258 is a small sample.

In other business, Parks Director Scott Yeaton presented the Board with a proposal to allow the Hillsborough Youth Athletic Association to store an athletic equipment container next to the storage shed at Grimes Field. The Board approved.

Jim Stafford (c) was one of many who stopped by for a free map during Hillsborough's Town Wide Yard Sale Day. A record 44 signed up to be on the map.

Boy Scout Troop 2 recently held an Eagle Court of Honor for Garrick Colby of Antrim. Last year Colby finished more than the required badges, to be made an Eagle Scout, but because of COVID had to postpone the ceremony. Garrick's Eagle Scout project was the construction of a food drop off "box" in the shape of a church. In addition to his Eagle Scout status, he was also elected into the Order of the Arrow, the national honor society of the Boy Scouts of America.

Goffstown Police seeking public assistance

On May 22nd, Goffstown Police attempted to stop a vehicle for operating with no headlights in the area of the Shell gas station on Mast Road. The vehicle failed to stop and increased speed to evade the officer. A brief pursuit was initiated, then terminated, due to unsafe speeds by the suspect vehicle. The suspect vehicle was eventually located in the area of Mast Road and Henry Bridge Road, unoccupied. Goffstown Police officers were able to observe a male flee from the scene into a wooded area. A K9 track was initiated but the suspect was not able to be located. A backpack was recovered from the area with a large amount of suspected narcotics and ammunition. This is an active investigation, anyone with any information is asked to contact the Goffstown Police Department (603) 497-4858.

Bystanders' quick action saves elderly man

Bystanders at the Hancock Transfer Station came to the rescue of an elderly man who was pinned between a car and a building. According to Police Chief Thomas Horne, an 85-year-old woman driving a 2006 Toyota Prius hit a 73-year-old man while he was walking near the trash compactor, and pinned him between her car and the transfer station building. Patrons at the transfer station went into action, freeing the man and administering first aid. The man suffered serious injuries in the crash and he was taken to Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center in Lebanon via helicopter. The woman was injured in the crash as well, and was taken to Monadnock Community Hospital.

Bennington residents relieved - Police Department reinstated

Bennington residents appeared at Tuesday's regularly scheduled Selectmen's meeting to voice concerns over the running of the town, particularly the Police Department. After the resignations of some town highway and administrative personnel and notice of retirement by Police Chief Bret Sullivan and news that Police Sergeant Jason LePine was leaving for Hancock, residents worried that the Town was in trouble.

The meeting began with Recreation Director Bethany Craig giving the Board updates on summer programs and the VFW building, but when Chief Sullivan and Sgt LePine appeared at the meeting the Board immediately went into a non-public session. During that session a notice of a meeting of the Board on Wednesday, May 26, 2021 was posted outside. After 45 minutes, the Board reconvened the public session but without a definitive statement about the non-public session.

Sergeant LePine (left) and Chief Sullivan have reconsidered and both are staying in Bennington.

At Wednesday's meeting, the Board immediately convened a non-public session, which lasted less than a half hour. When the public meeting resumed, Board Chair Cleary announced that Chief Sullivan would be staying on as a part-time Chief of Police and Sgt LePine would be a full time employee of the Bennington Police Department. The residents clapped in appreciation. Chief Sullivan expressed his gratitude toward the people of Bennington and said that most police departments in the State were having difficulty maintaining full staffs, but positions aren't just about money and he was grateful for the support of the public. Cleary finalized the meeting by saying that there are no plans to merge with Hancock or have either the State Police or Sheriff's Department cover Bennington.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

As the antimalarial drugs hydroxychloroquine and chloroquine have drawn attention as potential therapies for COVID-19 and are being widely used off-label, it's now more important than ever to have a thorough assessment of the safety of these medications. A recent analysis published in the British Journal of Clinical Pharmacology provides new insights. In the analysis of real-world data from the Food and Drug Administration Adverse Events Reporting System, a global database of post-marketing safety reports, hydroxychloroquine and chloroquine were associated with higher rates of various cardiovascular problems, including life-threatening heart rhythm events, heart failure, and damage to the heart muscle itself (termed cardiomyopathy).

A new study led by a cardiologist from Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston has assessed the cardiovascular and renal outcomes for ertugliflozin, an SGLT2 inhibitor prescribed for patients with type 2 diabetes to help them control blood sugar levels. The Evaluation of Ertugliflozin Efficacy and Safety Cardiovascular Outcomes Trial (VERTIS CV) found that the drug had a safety profile similar to that of other SGLT2 inhibitors and did not increase risk of major adverse events compared to the placebo. The results did not show a statistically significant benefit, but, taken together with other recent studies of SGLT2 inhibitors, the study results add to a growing body of evidence that supports guidelines for using this class of drugs to help prevent adverse cardiovascular outcomes. The findings of their study were published in the New England Journal of Medicine. Type 2 diabetes can lead to heart failure, hospitalization, and renal disease progression, with adult type 2 diabetic patients and their clinicians often navigating cardiovascular and renal concerns while working to control blood sugar levels. Recent studies of other SGLT2 inhibitors have found that they may provide a benefit to both renal and cardiovascular health.

New England College mandates vaccinations

New England College in Henniker says it will require that students attending classes on campus this fall be fully vaccinated, as well as faculty and staff. "With the COVID-19 vaccine now widely available throughout the country, we will add it to our list of required vaccinations," President Michele Perkins said in a statement Friday. "With limited exceptions, all students attending classes on campus in fall 2021 must be fully vaccinated. Faculty and staff must also be fully vaccinated by August 1, 2021 if they work on campus." Perkins said vaccination of the on-campus community will allow more face-to-face classes, field trips, athletic competitions, and opening up its galleries and theater.

Hancock man uninjured in Peterborough crash

A Hancock man was uninjured after crashing his car while swerving to avoid a squirrel on Route 202 in Peterborough last Thursday morning. Police reports indicate that Michael Regan, 39, of Hancock was traveling northbound in a 2012 Ford Focus on Route 202 just south of the Plaza when a squirrel jumped out into the road and he swerved to avoid it. Peterborough Police Chief Scott Guinard indicated that the vehicle went off the road and into a bank, causing quite a bit of damage to the front right-hand side of the vehicle.

TOOTHACHES—PART II

What Happens When I Go to the Dentist for a Toothache?

To treat your toothache, your dentist will first obtain your medical history and conduct a physical exam. He or she will ask you questions about the pain, such as when the pain started, how severe it is, where the pain is located, what makes the pain worse, and what makes it better. Your dentist will examine your mouth, teeth, gums, jaws, tongue, throat, sinuses, ears, nose, and neck. X-rays may be taken as well as other tests, depending on what your dentist suspects is causing your toothache.

What Treatments Are Available for a Toothache?

Treatment for a toothache depends on the cause. If a cavity is causing the toothache, your dentist will fill the cavity or possibly extract the tooth, if necessary. A root canal might be needed if the cause of the toothache is determined to be an infection of the tooth's nerve. Bacteria that have worked their way into the inner aspects of the tooth cause such an infection. An antibiotic may be prescribed if there is fever or swelling of the jaw.

How Can Toothaches Be Prevented?

Since most toothaches are the result of tooth decay, following good oral hygiene practices is the best way to prevent toothaches. Good oral hygiene practices consist of brushing regularly with a fluoride-containing toothpaste, flossing at least once daily, rinsing once or twice a day with an antiseptic mouthwash, and seeing your dentist twice a year for professional cleaning. In addition to these practices, eat foods low in sugar and ask your dentist about sealants and fluoride applications.

HDES students build community through school wide mail system

You've got mail! Students throughout the Hillsboro-Deering Elementary School are abuzz about a new school-wide mail delivery system.

The school counselors, Cara Juliano and Shannon Rockwell, spearheaded the development of this program, and requested and received funding through the Project AWARE grant.

All classrooms have been given stationery, stickers (stamps), and sample letters so they can participate. Through this opportunity, the students at HDES have been given a chance to advocate for their learning and become closer as a school community through sending mail within the school.

Students throughout the building have been able to participate even further by being chosen to be special helpers for collecting, sorting, and delivering the mail. This activity is designed to increase student social-emotional well-being and provide a stronger sense of community across the school.

HDES School Counselor Shannon Rockwell shared that "The letter system has allowed kids to send positive messages to friends, former teachers, and even use it as a means for having a voice.

We are looking forward to starting next year with this program already in place so we can keep the spirit going!"

Greenfield bomber sentenced to probation

Alex Arsenault, 35, of Greenfield man has been sentenced to four years of probation, mandatory mental health treatment, and no contact with the victims after pleading guilty to possessing an unregistered firearm in February. The charge stemmed Arsenault detonating a homemade car bomb in his neighbor's unoccupied vehicle in December 2018. On the morning of Dec. 1, 2018, Alex Arsenault, 35, blew up a Jeep Grand Cherokee sitting outside the home of neighbors Leela and James Conway.

Fracestown's denial of Shattuck's subdivision overturned

Ron and Melissa Shattuck's subdivision has been given new life after the NH Housing Appeals Board reversed the Fracestown Planning Board's decision to deny their proposal for a four-lot subdivision at the corner of Stevens Road and the 2nd New Hampshire Turnpike. The Planning Board denied the application to merge two existing lots and create four additional lots, claiming it didn't conform to the town's subdivision regulations, and was inconsistent with the intent and spirit of the town's zoning ordinance.

In ruling in favor of the Shattucks, the HAB determined that the Planning Board made an "unreasonable" decision. Furthermore, the HAB determined that the "Purpose" section of the subdivision regulations and the "Preamble" section of the Zoning ordinance, both cited by the Planning Board in their denial, are "not specific regulatory provisions but are designed to provide guidance to the Planning Board... in preparing land use requests."

"To suggest that single family residential construction on four (4) conforming lots realistically impacts "viewshed and character" of the neighborhood is not supported by any objective facts," the HAB wrote in their decision. "Instead of clearly "designating building envelopes," specifically stating what "public benefits" they felt important... Planning Board relied on opinions and concerns which were subjective, legally undefined, or unreasonable in denying this subdivision."

Let's Drop The Labels

Do you remember "The Silent Majority" of the 1960's and 70's? Just as America reacted to the radical protests and lifestyles of that era, the anti-Trump movement has renewed a spirit of anger and frustration in average Americans as our traditional values are being undermined and our opinions ignored. Adding to that frustration is the fact that our liberal opponents refuse to debate the merits of the issues facing us.

They ignore the message, and simply attack the messengers with hateful labels. I, for one, hereby reject those labels:

I am not a Racist because I believe we need a tough policy on Illegal Immigration. Legal immigration has given us the strength of cultural diversity. It is a constant source of new blood and new ideas and is to be encouraged. But the flood of illegal immigration threatens our economy, and our ability to care for our own citizens.

I am not a Religious Fanatic because I believe life begins at conception, that all life is precious and where life begins the choice to terminate it ceases.

I am not an Anarchist because I believe the Second Amendment gives us an individual as well as a collective right to keep and bear arms.

I am not Heartless because I believe that failure is as much a part of free enterprise as success. That government should neither reward failure nor punish success. That those less fortunate need a hand up not a hand out and that capitalism raises the economic standards of us all, not just the rich.

I am not an Elitist because I believe that individual rights carry equal individual responsibilities. That government should do for me, only what I can not do myself, or collectively with my neighbors.

I am not an Extremist because I believe government has grown too big, too powerful and too intrusive in all aspects of our lives. That our freedoms are now more threatened from within than without our borders.

I am not a War Monger because I believe in Peace Through Strength, and that America can not surrender its military, economic and moral leadership in the world.

I am not a Right Wing Radical because I believe our country is headed in the wrong direction, and if we don't reverse course now, we face a generation demanding more "Rights" and "Entitlements" that will bankrupt us all.

I do not Apologize because I believe that the great continuing experiment in freedom and democracy we call America has been a force for good in the world. That despite our faults, America has done more to promote individual freedom, and economic justice than any other nation on earth.

I am simply a Conservative who believes in low taxes, limited government, individual freedom and a strong national defense. In short. I am an American!

Let's drop the labels and begin the great debate on America's future.

TRUE THEN • TRUE TODAY

To compel a man to subsidize with his taxes the propagation of ideas which he disbelieves and abhors is sinful and tyrannical.

The strongest reason for the people to retain the right to keep and bear arms is, as a last resort, to protect themselves against tyranny in government.

TRACK

HOPKINTON #1: Freshman Grace Hall won both the long jump and triple jump titles, a strong group of distance runners won the 4x800-meter relay, and the Hawks had a smattering of points across several other events to claim the 2021 Division III girls' track and field crown on Tuesday at Gilford High School. Another senior, "Fresh" Nate Ledvina, placed second in the triple jump with the longest TJ of his high school career. Finally, senior Rachel Vanolmen came in third in the discus, bettering her previous best throw by nearly ten feet. She also set a personal best mark in the shot put.

Other personal bests: Michael Denslow: discus (third place) and 800m; Greg Leblanc: discus and 400m; Signe Burke-Smith: 200m (third place); Ally Whisman: long jump.

Obituaries: Friends & Neighbors Remembered

Michael J. and Isabel (Peasley) Sullivan. He will be dearly missed by numerous nieces, nephews, great-nieces, and great-nephews. Wherever Jimmy went, so did his beloved dog, Maggie. He was predeceased by brothers Sheridan Sullivan and Ronald Sullivan. The graveside service, with full military honors, will be held at the Norway Plain Cemetery, Hancock, NH on Saturday, August 14, 2021 (time will be announced at a later date). Julia Older

PETERBOROUGH - Writer Julia Older died at age 79 on April 17, 2021, in Peterborough, NH. Born May 25, 1941, in Chicago, IL, she and writer Steve Sherman settled in Hancock, NH, in 1972, where she lived until the end of her life. She is survived by Steve Sherman, sisters Priscilla Older and Deborah Hall, nieces and nephews, and many

dear friends. From the time they met at MacDowell Colony and through-hiked the Appalachian Trail for their honeymoon, Steve Sherman was at Julia's side, collaborating with her, cheering her on, caring for her when she was ill, and responding to her work. Friends and family will always remember what fun it was to be with them—enjoying their fabulous meals, laughing and talking, lifted by Julia's gaiety, capacity for life, generosity, and perhaps by seeing her launch into a pirouette or two just for the joy of it.

STAGING A HOUSE—PART II

By: Joyce Bosse

If you want to sell your home faster, staging the house may help. Staging a house gets your place showroom-ready and allows buyers to imagine themselves living there.

Get rid of clutter.

The most essential task when staging a house involves purging and cleaning—a clean, empty-as-possible house looks bigger. Remove knick-knacks and personal items from all surfaces. Don't just put them in closets; potential buyers usually look in those, and you want yours to appear roomy. Box up spare belongings and get them out of the house.

With the clutter gone, do a deep cleaning. Make your kitchen and bathroom sparkle and be sure to close the toilet lid before any showings. Air out the entire house by opening the windows—air fresheners or scented candles can trigger allergies, and you don't want prospective buyers feeling itchy. If you have pets, wash everything they touch—no one likes pet odor. Consider hiring a pro for the deep clean if you have room in your home-selling budget.

Aim for a light and bright look.

Buyers typically like to see bright rooms, so lighting is an essential part of staging a house. Open your blinds or pull your curtains back before a showing. Make sure your light fixtures look appealing. If your lampshades are dingy or your fixtures are dated, consider replacing them. Even dusting your bulbs and fixtures can help let more light through.

Play with different color temperatures of lighting as well—the whiter the light, the more it will look like daylight. You can check the Kelvin rating on light bulb boxes to help you choose the right one: soft white is typically 2700K-3000K, and daylight runs between 5000K-6500K.
