Remembering Jesse Levine

Hopkinton native succumbs to Lou Gehrig's disease

Former Sullivan County Manager and New London Town Administrator Jessie Levine, 50, died Saturday from complications of Lou Gehrig's disease. In a Facebook post, Sullivan County officials praised Levine, saying, "Jessie was an accomplished leader in New Hampshire municipal government and her legacy lives on through the many projects and policies she initiated during her (more than) three years as our county manager." A public trail on the Unity campus was named in her honor as well as a roundabout on Route 11 in New London. A Hopkinton native, Levine served as Town Administrator in New London for almost 11 years before becoming Sullivan County Manager in 2013. A celebration of life service is planned for Levine on Sunday, July 18 at 11 a.m. at Musterfield Farm in Sutton.

ConVal Assistant Superintendent is honored

ConVal's Assistant Superintendent Dr. Ann Forrest has been honored by the New Hampshire School Administrators Association for exemplary achievement and leadership.

Dr. Forrest received the 2021 Outstanding Service Award on Monday, June 28 at the NHSAA's Annual Conference on Educational Leadership and 80th Business Meeting in Whitefield. The Outstanding Service Award recognizes educational leaders who are not superintendents who are judged for initiative, growth, service to public education, and contributions to the educational achievements of their District.

Weare BSA Troop 24's Spencer Grant is newest Eagle Scout

Weare BSA Troop 24 recently held their Court of Honor at Osborne Hall in Weare.

The Troop collectively earned 11 Rank Advancements and 18 Merit Badges. Spencer Grant, an eleven-year member of Boy Scouts of America, earned his BSA Eagle Rank.

Merit badges ranged in interest from Fingerprinting to Disabilities Awareness. The Court of Honor was well attended by Scout families, Scout leadership, and community members. After the awarding of rank and merit badges, led by the Troop Scoutmaster Marc Halle and the Leadership Corp of Scouts from Troop 24, Matthew Jezierski--an Eagle Rank Scout and Troop 24 Leader--led the proceedings to celebrate the awarding of Spencer's Eagle Achievement. Spencer's parents, Lorrie Piper and Dennis Grant, along with his Scoutmaster received recognition pins, while Spencer received his Eagle Rank Medal.

Spencer took a reaffirmation oath,

promising to uphold the values and beliefs in Scouting. He then took that moment to thank his Scout Leaders, his parents, merit badge counselors, and the Weare community-at-large for their support along his path to Eagle. Spencer has earned a total of 32 badges and volunteered hundreds of hours over his many years in Scouting. Spencer continued volunteering, even after achieving his requirement, by working at the Weare Food Pantry on a weekly basis.

Spencer completed his Eagle Project by building new team benches for the Weare Athletic Committee which are proudly displayed at Bolton Memorial Field. Troop 24 and the Boy Scouts of America recognize his achievements and dedication to scouting and the Weare Community.

Spencer received letters of congratulations from the BSA Daniel Webster Council, as well as Dean Kamen, New Hampshire inventor and philanthropist.

Eagle Scout is the highest achievement or rank attainable in the Scouts BSA program of the Boy Scouts of America (BSA). Only 8% percent of all Scouts BSA earned the Eagle Scout rank.

Lavender Fields at Warner's Pumpkin Hill Farm named "Best of NH"

Owners Missy and Mike Biagiotti of Lavender Fields at Pumpkin Blossom Farm in Warner always knew their farm was a special place, but their experience over the last year solidified that they weren't the only ones who noticed its magic.

"With so much uncertainty and stress caused by COVID, our lavender field provided a place for guests to take a deep breath and find a retreat from day-to-day stress," says Missy. "Nature provides its own healing, and we provided a place for people to enjoy it."

Throughout the year, Missy and Mike were able to host a wedding for a couple impacted by the pandemic, offer after-hours visits for immunocompromised guests, host retreats for teachers and mental health counselors, and provide lavender bunches to nursing homes as a way to bring the outdoors inside. Their generosity did not go unnoticed. "Lavender Fields at Pumpkin Blossom Farm and its owners have been a tremendous help to its local community, and really to the entire state during this trying time in our country," says Tracey Schneider. "Even though they are a new business and struggling to stay afloat, they have opened their farm and hearts to many in need, like hosting healthcare workers at the farm and making special arrangements to pamper cancer patients. They go above and beyond to share their slice of heaven with as many people as possible." For Missy and Mike, their mission is simple — serve the community. "We are fortunate stewards of this place for solace, and we are happy to share it with others," says Missy. "We are one family welcoming other families to share in our home, our harvest, and our love of lavender."

The folks at Edmunds recently threw a gala retirement party for Joanne Grendell who has worked for three generations of Edmunds.

The Hillsborough Select Board reviewed several bids at a special Wednesday meeting.

Gemini Electric submitted a bid of $16,758 for a Lighting Upgrade at the Transfer Station, including the installation of two new 25' light poles and five new LED light fixtures.

There is a $500 incentive available from Eversource and Gemini will deduct an additional $3,000 if the town does its own site work.

Gemini also bid $10,810 to provide new LED lighting to the main Transfer Station Building and Associated Buildings. Eversource is offering a $1,400 incentive for this work.

Finally Gemini bid $3,700 to evaluate the 20 post light fixtures in Central Square and provide a new

LED retrofit.

The Board approved all three.

Tony Riccio bid $7,976 to provide the labor and materials needed to repair the roof on the Hillsborough Center Carriage Shed. The Board held off pending receipts of the cost to repair the Museum.

Chair Jim Bailey (R) swears in Meleny Nagy (L) as the newest member of the Select Board, filling the seat of David Rogers.

Historic hand painted stage curtains restored at “Grasmere Town Hall”

The Town of Goffstown and the Goffstown Historic District & Heritage Commission (HDC) is proud to announce the preservation and installation of historic hand painted stage curtains at the Grasmere Schoolhouse #9 and Town Hall (commonly referred to as “Grasmere Town Hall”); a Town owned building that is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The Town of Goffstown received an Arts Conservation (“Moose Plate”) Grant to conserve four historic painted stage curtains owned by the Town.

Conservators expertly cleaned the curtains of existing dust and dirt, mended the curtains by stabilizing any rips and tears throughout, and stabilized raw edges at top, bottom and side edges as needed to prevent vertical or horizontal rips. They selectively in-painted mended areas and disfiguring stains using appropriate paints. The conservators, with Town staff and HDC volunteers, replaced the curtain top boards, installed new ropes with the original pulleys, and hung three of the hand painted curtains on the stage of the restored 2nd floor theater at Grasmere Town Hall. The fourth curtain was fully cleaned, wrapped, and will be stored at Grasmere Town Hall.

Chris Hadsel, the Project Director from Curtains Without Borders, presented the preserved hand painted curtains and gave an informational slide show about historic hand painted curtains in New Hampshire to the Goffstown HDC at the Commission’s regular June meeting.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

A new study published recently in Mayo Clinic Proceedings provides the most comprehensive analysis of the role of omega-3 dosage on cardiovascular prevention to date. The meta-analysis, which is an in-depth review of 40 clinical trials, provides authoritative evidence for consuming more EPA (eicosapentaenoic acid) and DHA (docosahexaenoic acid) omega-3 fats. The research concludes that EPA and DHA omega-3 intake is associated with reduced risk of coronary heart disease (CHD) events, the cause of 7.4 million deaths globally each year, and reduced risk of myocardial infarction (heart attack), including fatal heart attack.

A new study published in the journal Social Cognitive and Affective Neuroscience showed that acetaminophen makes risky moves seem less dangerous. Those under the influence of acetaminophen rated activities like bungee jumping, walking home alone at night in an unsafe area of town, starting a new career in your mid-30s, and taking a skydiving class as less risky than those who took the placebo. Previous research has shown that acetaminophen, the main ingredient in the pain-reliever Tylenol and nearly 600 other medicines, reduces positive and negative emotions, including hurt feelings, distress over another's suffering and even your own joy.

Metformin is the first-line treatment for most cases of type 2 diabetes and one of the most commonly prescribed medications worldwide, with millions of individuals using it to optimize their blood glucose levels. A new research study published in the journal Diabetes Care has revealed an additional effect: individuals with type 2 diabetes who used metformin experienced slower cognitive decline with lower dementia rates than those who did not use the medication.

EXPECTANT MOTHERS' PERIODONTAL HEALTH VITAL TO HEALTH OF HER BABY

When a woman becomes pregnant, she knows it is important to maintain a healthy lifestyle to ensure both her own health and the health of her baby. New clinical recommendations from the American Academy of Periodontology (AAP) and the European Federation of Periodontology (EFP) urge pregnant women to maintain periodontal health as well.

Periodontal disease is a chronic, bacteria-induced, inflammatory condition that attacks the gum tissue and in more severe cases, the bone supporting the teeth. If left untreated, periodontal disease, also known as gum disease, can lead to tooth loss. It has also been associated with other systemic diseases, such as diabetes and cardiovascular disease.

Tenderness, redness, or swollen gums are a few indications of periodontal disease. Other symptoms include gums that bleed with toothbrushing or eating, gums that are pulling away from the teeth, bad breath, and loose teeth. These signs, especially during pregnancy, should not be ignored and may require treatment from a dental professional.

Several research studies have suggested that women with periodontal disease may be more likely to deliver babies prematurely or with low birth weight than mothers with healthy gums. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), babies with a birth weight of less than 5.5 pounds may be at risk of long-term health problems such as delayed motor skills, social growth, or learning disabilities. Similar complications are true for babies born at least three weeks earlier than the due date. Other issues associated with pre-term birth include respiratory problems, vision and hearing loss, or feeding and digestive problems.

A second crane toppled over in Peterborough last week. A truck-mounted crane was removed from Contoocook Lane after it tipped over on Friday morning. Fire Chief Ed Walker reports that the crew removed the truck late that evening, and the severed boom was retrieved the following day.

Peterborough pair arrested for car theft

After a week-long investigation into the theft of two cars, which were later found abandoned, Peterborough Police arrested Branden M. French, 18, and Antonio M. Brito, 22, both of Peterborough, on charges of Theft by Unauthorized Taking, Criminal Trespass, and Criminal Liability for the Conduct of Another. Both men are currently being held at the Valley Street jail in Manchester pending arraignment.

Dr. Greg Kriebel joins ConVal School Board

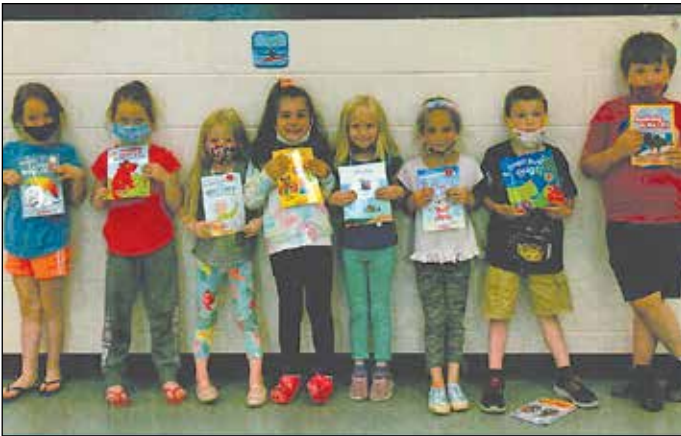

The ConVal School Board will have a new member in Dr.

Greg Kriebel of Peterborough, who was chosen to replace Robert Short, Jr. on the ConVal School Board. Kriebel's appointment is to fill the vacancy until the next District elections in March 2022. Kriebel will be officially sworn in sometime before the next Board meeting on July 13.

Antrim Select Board adopts Fireworks & Tannerite restrictions

Antrim's new fireworks and Tannerite ordinance is designed to define safe and responsible displays in advance of Independence Day.

Antrim's Fire Chief Marshall Gale, former Police Chief Scott Lester and current Police Chief Brian Lord drafted the ordinance, modeling it after laws enacted in other New Hampshire towns.

The Select Board made final revisions and then adopted it on June 21, just in time for the 4th of July. While the ordinance references the potential for frightening pets and livestock with fireworks, or causing public annoyance, alarm, or a breach of the peace with Tannerite, Gale stressed that safety is its primary goal, more than noise control.

The ordinance defines permissible classes of fireworks and limits their discharge to Fridays and Saturdays between 6 and 11 p.m., except for New Years Eve and July 4. Residents can also apply for special events exceptions.

As we celebrate the 4th - A word of caution

In listening to the debate over state and federal budget cuts, I am reminded of the old warning that "those who ignore history are bound to relive it."

When conservatives talk of restructuring medicare, medicaid and the other "entitlement" programs, they are castigated as "heartless" individuals who care nothing about their fellow man. Though they know that these programs are underfunded and will be bankrupt in the future, liberals refuse to face the reality that the more people who are "entitled" to these tax dollars, there are fewer of us left to provide them.

I hope my liberal friends will take a moment to read what Alexander Tyler, a Scottish history professor at the University of Edinburgh, in 1887, had to say about the fall of the Athenian Republic some 2,000 years prior:

"A democracy is always temporary in nature; it simply cannot exist as a permanent form of government.

A democracy will continue to exist up until the time that voters discover that they can vote themselves generous gifts from the public treasury. From that moment on, the majority always votes for the candidates who promise the most benefits from the public treasury, with the result that every democracy will finally collapse over loose fiscal policy, which is always followed by a dictatorship."

"The average age of the world's greatest civilizations from the beginning of history, has been about 200 years. During those 200 years, these nations always progressed through the following sequence: 1. From bondage to spiritual faith; 2. From spiritual faith to great courage; 3. From courage to liberty; 4. From liberty to abundance; 5. From abundance to complacency; 6. From complacency to apathy; 7. From apathy to dependence; 8. From dependence back into bondage."

America is quickly approaching step 7. The trend must be reversed!

Hillsboro Lions Club President Leigh Bosse (r) presented Roger Racette with a small token in appreciation of his exemplary service as Chair of the Club's Scholarship Programs. Under his leadership the Club was able to award a record $13,000 in scholarships to these deserving HDHS graduates: Erin Dean, Gracie Atkins, Cassidy Marshall, Elizabeth LaBier, Alexis McClure, Serena Havunen, Hannah Faulkingham, Rachel VanOlmen, Olivia Zdon, Makala Granger, Cheyenne Elliot, Samuel Zdon and Izabella Warren.

Henniker Rotarian Joe Clement (r) presents a check to Henniker President Frank Malinowski for over $6600. Joe and Frank both played in the Milford's club's annual fundraiser where each golfer plays 100 holes of golf in one day and half of the money that's raised goes back to the individual clubs.

HOME IMPROVEMENTS FOR RESALE—PART III

Remodeling.com's Cost vs. Value report took the most popular remodeling projects in 149 different markets across the United States, gauging the cost and resale value after completion to find out which projects provide the most return on investment for the average homeowner. We continue to highlight some projects that are the best home improvements for resale:

New Wood Deck
Job Cost: $10,950 — Added Resale Value: $9,065
Cost Recouped: 82.8% — Estimated Loss: -$1,885

By: Joyce Bosse

A wooden deck is much nicer and more appealing than a simple set of stairs leading out the back door of your house into the backyard. By adding a 16-foot by 20-foot, pressure-treated deck with stairs, a bench and built-in plant planters, you'll add just over $9,000 to the resale value of your home. Recouping more than 82% of your investment is also a major plus.

Minor Kitchen Remodel
Job Cost: $21,198 — Added Resale Value: $17,193
Cost Recouped: 81.1% — Estimated Loss: -$4,005

Before upgrading your entire kitchen to reflect the modernity you saw on a major-network reality TV show, slow down and think about the resale value. While your updated kitchen will have a more aesthetically appealing glow to it, will anyone be willing to pay what you spent to upgrade it? Probably not.

Instead, upgrade the outdated kitchen, cabinetry and countertops with new materials. This minor remodel calls for a 200-square-foot kitchen with 30 linear feet of countertops and cabinetry. Keep your old cabinet boxes in place, just replace the front drawers and wood panels. Replace your appliances with new energy-efficient models and redo the tile floor.
