Henniker's Mitchie Corp, in conjunction with the Henniker Rotary Club's Flag Project, erected 13 American Flags to honor the 13 service men and women who lost their lives in the ISIS suicide attack in Afghanistan and the 20th Anniversary of 9/11.

Deering Erupts In Protest

Select Board members criticize Patriotic Celebration

Reacting to the deaths of 13 American service men and women killed in an ISIS suicide attack in Afghanistan, on the eve of the 20th anniversary of the attack of 9/11, J.P. and Donna Marzullo placed 13 American flags on the Deering Common, at the Veteran's Memorial.

Also, with little more than a day's notice, Don Mann posted a Facebook request for Deering residents to join in a nationwide rally honoring those deaths and in support of our troops. These demonstrations of Patriotism were covered on pages

7 and 11 of last week's Messenger.

Rather than celebrate and support the sincere outpourings of its citizens, two members of the Select Board criticized the placing of the flags without the Board's permission and chastised the use of a fire engine during the rally.

The residents' Facebook reaction was instant and overwhelming, with calls for their removal or resignation. Mann and Marzullo have urged their fellow citizens to attend the next Board meeting, Thursday, September 16th to express their feelings.

Domino's Pizza's Hillsborough application back on the front burner

During last week's Hillsborough Planning Board meeting, Domino's application for a store on West Main Street was continued until October after Select Board representative Jim Bailey urged the Board to require the applicant to post a bond for a new sidewalk on the north side of the street. Planning Director Robyn Payson advised against it saying there was no requirement in the Site Plan of subdivision regulations. In addition, she read a portion of a letter from NH DOT advising against it.

Nonetheless, the Board voted 3-2 with 2 abstentions to continue the hearing to allow time to confer with DOT as to how to impose the requirement.

Wednesday's Select Board meeting was scheduled to include a discussion with the Planning Board on the sidewalk issue but was cut short when Payson reported that Town Council has advised that the Board has no authority to require the sidewalk.

In light of the ruling, the Planning Board has rescheduled the Domino's hearing for next Wednesday when approval is expected.

Potential developer exploring a brew pub at 2 & 8 Bridge Street

Hillsborough Town Administrator Laura Buono said there was a discussion at the last Economic Development Committee Meeting between committee members, a real estate developer, and a potential commercial tenant with regard to 2 Bridge Street and 8 Bridge Street. She said it was a productive discussion and the potential commercial tenant currently owns a brew pub in Manchester and is interested in relocating it to Hillsborough since they live here.

Chris Seig was in attendance from the Water & Sewer Commission and his purpose appeared to be to tell the brew pub owners that they could not have such a business in that area due to the waste that brewing beer produced, reportedly even when the owners said they know how to handle the waste without dumping it into the system and told him they are working with NHDES as well. Buono called Seig argumenaitive which was very concerning to the Committee members since they have worked hard, along with the Chamber, to entice people to come to Town and here is a member of the Water & Sewer Commission deterring it. Both Riché Colcombe and Sara Edie, who serve on the EDC, verified what took place and felt that an EDC meeting was not the time for this Commissioner to try and discourage a business, especially since there was no plan being sent to the Planning Board.

This began a conversation about some history involving at least one past project and additional concern over the intent of the Commission. Chairman Bailey said he feels the Commission does a good job managing the system that is in place although he agreed the meeting was not the place for that discussion. Selectwoman Nagy said she has concerns about some of the information that was discussed and suggested the Board invite the Commissioners to a meeting.

Warner Select Board approves partial waiver of Planning Board condition

Adam Quinn of Comet, LLC met with the Warner Select Board via Zoom, on Tuesday evening to request issuance of a building permit despite lack of a condition imposed by the Planning Board.

Comet, LLC operates the Dunkin Donuts at the Warner roundabout, whose lease will expire on December 31st. In March Quinn applied to the Planning Board for approval to build a new store at the other end of the roundabout.

Concurrently, he applied to the Department of Transportation for a driveway permit off the state highway.

In May, the Planning Board granted the application, subject to Quinn obtaining the driveway permit.

Since then, despite several assurances that all is in order, DOT has failed to issue the permit. DOT officials now say it could take at least another four weeks.

Quinn fears that further delays in construction will prevent him from completing the new store before his current lease expires.

After verifying that the driveway permit was the only unmet Planning Board condition, the Select Board granted a partial waiver to allow Quinn to proceed to install underground electrical and plumbing and pour the slab, in hopes DOT will come through before further work is needed.

The Deering Police Department reports the breaking of a major crime ring with the arrest of four of its suspicious leaders.

Hillsborough's 2021 History Alive proudly featured Abenaki culture

The History Alive Event in Hillsborough Center this year was blessed by the presence of a number of Abenaki neighbors who gave talks, led exhibits on basket making, canoe building, pottery, and answered many questions about what is known of the Abenakis who have lived here for thousands of years and who still live here today.

This is a part of NH local history that many of us have not known much about. Everyone on Saturday enjoyed the Abenaki music of Bryan Blanchette, the Abenaki stories told by Brian Chenevert, as well as talks by Robert Goodby and Michael Gagnon about the archeology and the forestry of the Hillsboro area when the white settlers first arrived.

Girl Scouts worked hard making mats for the wigwam, and the Monadnock Herb Society shared information about how Abenaki people shared with the first settlers how to use local plants for food, medicine, dyes, and fiber.

We could not have done the event without the financial support of NH Humanities Council who awarded us a grant that was sponsored in part by the National Endowment for the Humanities. It enabled us to pay for all the speakers/performers about Abenaki culture.

We also could not have done the event without the heroic efforts of many local volunteers who organized the event.

Hillsboro-Deering School Board changes policy - mandates masks

Although it wasn't on the agenda, the topic of wearing masks in classrooms took up most of the H-D School Board meeting. Superintendent Patricia Parenteau read a number of letters sent to the SAU, most pleading with the Board to reconsider the current policy of allowing parents the ability to send their children to school with or without masks, as they deem appropriate.

Instead they asked the Board to apply a mask mandate for all students and staff while in the building. Impassioned pleas from both those who wanted a mandate and those who wish no masks at all were again heard during public comments, as they were two weeks ago, except that this time more people were in favor of masking.

But the most persuasive argument was from Dr. Jennifer Crawford who gave the Board an update on the number of positive COVID cases, the number of those pending test results and the number of children who had the policy and as of September 9, everyone should be wearing masks.

The Deering Community Church, UCC, contributed again to the annual efforts of sending a big container full of donations for partner churches in Zimbabwe, Africa. Deering Church members donated, among other items, clothing and shoes; children's books; medical supplies; masks; two lap top computers and a printer. With the help of Denis Laliberte of Deering who donated maintenance and boxes, we were also able to send three bikes. Many other UCC Church members came together on August 31 to load their boxes into the waiting big container in Rochester, NH. It is scheduled to arrive in Zimbabwe in October or November.

Guest Editorial by Grant Bosse

The Light Of Freedom

Our son Grant, then on the staff of Senator John Sununu, wrote this essay shortly after the attacks on the World Trade Center on September 11, 2001. We reprint it today as a reminder that the War On Terror has not yet been won. Victory belongs to the vigilant. Leigh Bosse

A dark shadow passed over the United States this week. The deadliest attacks ever launched against American civilians hit our symbols of economic and military Power and shook our civilization awake to the realization that we live in a dangerous world. The monstrous barbarism we endured was not directed at the passengers and crew flying in hijacked airliners, or at the employees doing their jobs at the World Trade Center or even at the soldiers protecting our nation from the Pentagon. The thousands of innocent victims killed on Tuesday were not the true target of these attacks.

The motive behind these atrocities was to incite fear and uncertainty into the hearts of the millions of Americans who survived. Those behind these acts of terror hoped to strike at the heart of the American financial sector and at the nerve center of our armed forces. While they may resent American money and American muscle, what they fear is the American way of life. Stocks and bonds do not make America great. Freedom does. It is freedom that drives our economy to lead the world. It is freedom that rallies people to democracy wherever and whenever they taste it: And it is freedom that threatens tyrants holding onto power at the expense of their subjects. Freedom to travel, freedom to work, freedom to live in safety all came under fire from the forces of darkness.

Our enemies are trying to break our spirit. They express their political will not through democracy and diplomacy but in blood and rubble.

Frightened men who live in shadows and send suicidal soldiers to kill defenseless civilians; these are the enemies of freedom. We are neither invulnerable nor invincible. In fact, the freedoms we enjoy in the United States provide opportunity for our enemies. Freedom brings risk, and we have paid a terrible price. Even as we assess the final cost of these attacks, we should remember the rewards of living in the greatest civilization in the history of man. We have built a nation of unparalleled prosperity and opportunity and set an example for the world. Our ongoing experiment in democracy has spread across the continents and provided every American with freedoms never contemplated in an earlier age.

I was shocked and saddened at our tremendous national loss but had controlled my emotions throughout the day. Then I watched members of Congress gather on the Capital steps, offering words of support for the President. As the press conference broke up, these men and women who devote much of each day to each other's political downfall, joined in singing "God Bless America." And, for the first time all day, I cried. I am an American, and I live in a land where factions struggle for political control but stand shoulder to shoulder in times of crisis. I am an American, and I am proud and grateful.

We will track down those behind these attacks. We will strike back. Not for revenge but for Justice. Our retaliation will not replace the loss we feel from our departed friends but it will show other tyrants and thugs that freedom can not be attacked with impunity. We stand today as a nation, strong and resolute wounded but not weakened attacked but not defeated. The enemies of freedom lurk in the shadows, mistaking our liberty for weakness. They can only survive in darkness, but the light of freedom shall carry the day.

Publisher's Perspective

Rare Politicians Deserve Our Support

It might be contagious. In last week's Messenger we praised newly appointed Warner Selectwoman Christine Frost for setting up meeting time for residents to share their opinions and concerns with her.

Now comes Hillsborough's newly appointed Selectwoman Meleny Vasquez-Nagy, who dared to invite citizens to come to the Selectboard meeting this Wednesday at 6pm, located at Town Hall behind the Library. "I'd love to have you all there to share your points and for you all to get to hear the board's perspective on current projects!" she said.

Please, please, Warner and Hillsborough voters remember these extraordinary women when they stand for election in March. They are KEEPERS!

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

International guidelines for asthma treatment recommend clinicians find the minimum effective dose that can control symptoms, yet asthma patients are increasingly prescribed high doses of medication. A study published in PLoS Medicine found that stepping-down medication doses did not increase asthma exacerbations and could significantly reduce medication costs. Over 5.4 million people receive asthma treatment in the UK and asthma medication comprises 13% of total primary care prescribing costs. Additionally, prolonged use and higher doses of asthma medications are associated with a higher risk for systemic adverse effects and high medication costs.

A new, multi-ethnic study published in The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition found older adults with low vitamin K levels were more likely to die within 13 years compared to those whose vitamin K levels were adequate. The results suggest vitamin K, a nutrient found in leafy greens and vegetable oils, may have protective health benefits as we age, according to the researchers.

Doctors have traditionally avoided prescribing nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory medications (NSAIDs) such as ibuprofen to patients with fractures. This belief is based on basic science research that supports delayed bone healing in some animal models, as well as in some spinal fusion cases. However, a new study from the University of Missouri School of Medicine and MU Health Care shows ibuprofen is an effective medication for fracture pain in children and its use does not affect fracture healing.

TRAINING TO BECOME A SCUBA DIVER? START AT THE DENTIST

Scuba divers may want to stop by their dentist's office before taking their next plunge. A new pilot study found that 41 percent of divers experienced dental symptoms in the water, according to new research.

Due to the constant jaw clenching and fluctuations in the atmospheric pressure underwater, divers may experience symptoms that range from tooth, jaw and gum pain to loosened crowns and broken dental fillings. Considering the air supply regulator is held in the mouth, any disorder in the oral cavity can potentially increase the diver's risk of injury. A dentist can look and see if diving is affecting a patient's oral health.

The research was inspired by a dental student's first experience with scuba diving in 2013. Although she enjoyed being in the water, she couldn't help but notice a squeezing sensation in her teeth, a condition known as barodontalgia.

Published research on dental symptoms experienced while scuba diving is scarce or focuses largely on military divers, so she crafted her own study. She created an online survey that was distributed to 100 certified recreational divers. Of the 41 participants who reported dental symptoms, 42 percent experienced barodontalgia, 24 percent described pain from holding the air regulator in their mouths too tightly and 22 percent reported jaw pain. Another five percent noted that their crowns were loosened during their dive, and one person reported a broken dental filling.

An unhealthy tooth underwater would be much more obvious than on the surface. One hundred feet underwater is the last place you want to be with a fractured tooth.

Patients should ensure that dental decay and restorations are addressed before a dive.

Another successful rescue.

Firefighters save missing Goffstown dog

A missing dog that had been hit by a car was found by a hiker in Goffstown. Firefighters went into the woods near Joppa Hill Road to rescue the dog named Sophie. She was hit by a car Thursday and then ran away. Firefighters said Sophie's legs were injured and she couldn't walk, so they carried her out of the woods. She is now at an emergency veterinarian. She was rescued thanks to an observant hiker, according to firefighters.

Peterborough recovers $594,000 from scam

Peterborough Town Administrator Nicole MacStay has announced that the U.S. Secret Service, working with People's United Bank and HSBC Bank, were able to recover over $594,000 in funds that had been stolen from the taxpayers of Peterborough through the email-based fraud announced on August 24th.

Select Board approves an OHRV Poker Run

Beky Johnson met with the Board to discuss the final plans for the Poker Run fundraiser for the Community Center. She explained that the route will begin at Grimes Field and run approximately 10 – 12 miles on state approved ATV trails. They stressed that only legally registered OHRVs will be able to participate and the speed limit is set at 20MPH and they have many volunteers to enforce compliance. The route was reviewed again with a majority of it running through the trails in Henniker. The Board approved the plan for the fundraiser.

Francestown approves Police Dept incentives

Scot Heath and Betsy Hardwick of the Francestown Land Trust presented the reasons they want to acquire the property on 2nd NH Turnpike South. Grant money is available from DES Source Water Protection and they were seeking a letter of recommendation supporting the acquisition. Mr. Ravalico moved that the Board provide a letter of recommendation in support of applying for the grant seconded by Ms. Dixon. Mr. Kunhardt was opposed. Motion passed. Police Chief Fred Douglas asked the Board to consider educational incentives to encourage or reward applicants or employees to seek higher education. There was discussion about keeping the PD building open to the public. Chief Douglas explained that it is kept locked until the automatic closing mechanism is installed on the inner door.
