45th Annual Senior Dinner

Hillsboro Lions Club Gives Thanks To Area Seniors

After last year's Covid modified takeout only service, the 45th Lions Club Senior Dinner returned to its traditional sit-down format. The festivities opened with veterans being asked to stand and be recognized for their service and lead the Pledge of Allegiance.

United Methodist Pastor Paul O'Neil and guitarist Brian Blanchard then led a rousing sing-a-long before Smith Church's Rev. Donna Vuilleumier gave the blessing. In addition to Hillsboro residents, seniors came from Antrim, Bennington, Deering, Henniker and Washington, 125 strong, filling the American Legion Hall, with an additional 125 meals served take-home style.

Lions President Mary Morehouse Rogers was overwhelmed with the turnout. "This long-standing project is one of our club's favorites as a way to give back to the community," she said.

In addition to the traditional assistance from the Girl Scouts, the club was thankful for several friends who assisted in the preparation and meal service.

Henniker Select Board approves administrator's recommended savings

With the staff turnover in Town Hall, Henniker Town Administrator Joe Devine suggested that it was a good time to review current staffing levels to ensure we are correctly managing the Town Hall. After reviewing staffing and the processes that occur, Devine recommended not filling the full-time Assessing Technician position, hiring a part-time land use clerk and moving the assessing roles to the Executive Assistant. He also suggested that with the reduction of staff in the Town Clerk/Tax Collectors Office, to close the office again on Thursdays and Tuesdays; the staff in that office work a modified schedule of 10 a.m. -6 p.m.

He concluded by saying that by making these changes and reallocating staff members, the town would see a reduction to the Town Hall budget of $85,454, which is a 35.6% reduction. When Vice-Chair Tia Hooper questioned the $85,454 figure, Devine said that $25,000 is saved by not hiring the new part-time clerk position. Hooper then asked when that position was authorized and Devine reported that it was done in an executive session during a meeting Hooper missed.

That brought Hooper's further objection, saying positions can only be created in open session. The Board then voted 4-1 to adopt Devine's recomendation.

Later, during Public Comment, both Bill Marco and Holly Aucoin expressed their displeasure that the Board took that action in executive session.

Goffstown Boy Scouts enjoyed Wilderness Survival camping weekend, which also included the wonderful Thanksgiving in the Woods, a Troop 99 tradition.

John Stark students joined the American Mathematical Competition

John Stark Regional High School students joined thousands of high school students around the country competing in the American Mathematical Competition (AMC) in November. The AMC 10 (students in 10th grade and below) and AMC 12 (students in grade 12 and below) are 25-question, 75-minute, multiplechoice examinations in high school mathematics designed to promote the development and enhancement of problem-solving skills. The AMC 10 covers the high school curriculum up to 10th grade. The AMC 12 covers the entire high school curriculum--trigonometry, advanced algebra, and advanced geometry, but excluding calculus.

"This is the fifth year John Stark has administered the AMC competition. We had 18 students take the exam; that's the greatest number of students at John Stark to participate in the last five years," said JSRHS Math teacher Matthew Caputo.

John Stark Students (I-r) Nathan Grandmaison and Logan Pike were among the 18 John Stark students who took the American Mathematics Competition Exam in November. Matthew Caputo photo.

Caputo added that students who score well, about the top 10%, will have the opportunity to move on to the AIME, the American Invitational Mathematics Examination. The AMC began in 1950 with 200 schools with about 6,000 students participating in the New York area. Today, it has grown to 300,000 students in over 6,000 schools. The AMC provides an opportunity for high school students to develop positive attitudes towards analytical thinking and mathematics that can assist in future careers. The AMC 10 and 12 are the first in a series of competitions that eventually lead to the International Mathematical Olympiad.

Third Grade Garden Project Grows into Lessons about Courage and Soup

The Center Woods Elementary School garden provided experiences for third graders beyond gardening. The garden project grew to include preparing, cooking, and tasting homemade soup. It also offered them the opportunity to talk about courage, their first CHOOSE LOVE focus from the social/ emotional learning curriculum. Their teacher, Ms. Descoteau, spoke with students about how it takes courage to try new things. She pointed out that everyone tried at least one new thing pulling carrots and weeds, washing and cutting vegetables, opening cans, adding spices, measuring ingredients, and trying new food, their homemade soup!

"The students were enthusiastic and had great confidence in all aspects of the project," commented Ms. Descoteau. "We had a team of incredible adults helping as well." Math Interventionist Mrs. Keegan-Dayton worked with students on the project from start to finish. Assistant Principal Cornwell helped students cut the vegetables and cook the soup, stirring the soup often to be sure it didn't burn. K-8 Math Coach Mrs. Kenney oversaw handwashing and vegetable scrubbing while paraeducator Mrs. Wing offered classroom support as the various stations were running. Interventionist Mrs. Dionne, occupational therapist Ms. Scholl, and physical therapist Ms. Kelsey helped to serve the soup. Lastly, CWES kindergarten teacher Mrs. Tucker stopped by to check out the project and see some of the students she had when they were in kindergarten, and they all worked on a soup project.

DIRECT AND INDIRECT RESTORATIONS

Q: What's the difference between a direct and an indirect restoration?

A: We'll begin with what they have in common: each is a type of filling or device used to repair a tooth damaged by decay or injury. A direct restoration is done in one visit to the dentist and includes the traditional silver-colored dental amalgam that the dentist puts into a cavity that has been cleaned out and prepared for the filling. Direct restoration may also include glass monomers, resin ionomers and some composite resin fillings.

Indirect restorations are made at a dental laboratory to conform with an impression of the tooth made by your dentist at a visit and provided to the lab. So an indirect restoration is going to require at least two visits. Indirect restorations include inlays, crowns, veneers, onlays and bridges. These may be made with gold, base metal alloys, ceramics and composites. There are lots of options, so it is important to talk with your dentist about which is right for you. Among the factors the dentist will consider is the role of the tooth that needs repair. How much pressure does it bear in, say, chewing? Or is the work being done more for cosmetic purposes? As with any interaction with your dentist, don't hesitate to ask questions and be clear on the costs.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

A landmark paper published in the New England Journal of Medicine describes the results from a global trial across 148 sites in 23 countries, showing a 30 per cent improvement in survival in patients with acute myeloid leukemia (AML). The Phase 3 clinical trial called QUAZAR, showed that a drug, called CC-486, significantly improved survival in older patients, over the age of 55, with the disease. AML is the most acute blood cancer in adults and its incidence increases with age, with a poor prognosis. With current treatments, the majority of older patients will die of their disease within 2 years of diagnosis.

Small studies have suggested that a group of medications called RAS inhibitors may be harmful in persons with advanced chronic kidney disease, and physicians therefore often stop the treatment in such patients. New research published in The Journal of the American Society of Nephrology shows that although stopping the treatment is linked to a lower risk of requiring dialysis, it is also linked to a higher risk of cardiovascular events and death. Chronic kidney disease (CKD) affects approximately ten percent of the global population. Hypertension is the most common comorbidity. Patients with CKD have an increased risk of cardiovascular disease and death. Advanced chronic kidney disease is classified as 'severely decreased kidney function' and is defined as the kidney's ability to clean the blood being less than approximately 30 percent of normal for a young adult. In some patients, CKD progresses to the point that dialysis or transplantation is required as a kidney replacement therapy to prolong life. Renin-angiotensin system inhibitors (RAS inhibitors), including both ACE inhibitors (ending in 'pril') and ARBs (ending in 'sartan'), are common medications for the treatment of hypertension, cardiovascular disease, heart failure and CKD.

Weare boy shoots himself in the hand

A 4-year-old boy shot himself in the hand in a Weare home on Thursday and was taken to a hospital, investigators said. Officials said the bullet ended up lodged in a wall. There were two other people, including the boy's mother, in the apartment at 299 North Stark Highway at the time of the shooting around 8 a.m., but no one else was injured. "This is a tragic event, but we take this opportunity to always share with the public the need to have a refresher — a reminder that in an instant, things can change," said Lt. Frank Hebert. Police said they are looking into how the boy got access to the 9mm handgun and who owns the weapon. Officials said the investigation is ongoing, but it's safe to say the handgun wasn't stored properly.

Gun safety experts said regardless of its type or purpose, that a gun should have been locked away, out of reach for children. "It needs to be in some sort of lockable or uniquely-accessed container. So, that's the advice. If you're going to have a firearm for self-defense, you're going to have to keep it in a way that's accessible but that you have control over who has access to it," said Tom Brown, gun safety instructor at Manchester Firing Line. There are plenty of free safety courses and resources in the state of New Hampshire, available at most gun ranges and responsible gun owners should be aware of them. "For all we know, it might have been properly secured, and only momentarily accessible to the child. So I hope that the parents were responsible and didn't just keep it loaded in a drawer that the child could access," Brown said.

Police said the family is cooperating with the investigation, but it's too soon to say whether any charges will be filed. The county attorney's office and the Division of Children, Youth and Families have been notified.

Now More Than Ever It's Important To Shop Locally

This year, more than ever, it is essential to support our local merchants as much as possible.

Covid-19 has taken a toll on the economy and many of our neighbors are struggling to keep their business open. Even if it costs a few dollars more, here are several reasons why it's important to Shop Local.

1. Protect Local Character and Prosperity:

By supporting locally-owned businesses, you help maintain our unique community. Can you imagine Henniker without the Pharmacy? Hillsborough without Eaton's? Bradford without Barns? Goffstown without Sully's? or Antrim without Antrim Lumber?

2. Community Well-Being:

Locally owned businesses build strong neighborhoods by sustaining communities, linking neighbors, and by contributing to local causes. Antrim Lumber, Edmunds, New Boston Hardware and Lumber Barn carry better quality products than Lowes or Home Depot and they support our Lions, Rotary Clubs, schools and churches.

3. Local Decision Making:

Local ownership means that important decisions are made locally by people who live in the community and who will feel the impacts of those decisions. Wyman's, Hillsboro Chrysler and Hillsboro Ford do more to support local Scouts and youth athletic organizations than big city dealerships.

4. Keeping Dollars in the Local Economy:

Dollars spent in locally-owned businesses have three times the impact on the community as dollars spent at national chains. If you buy a snowmobile from Livingston's you support Gene and Steve as they give back countless hours and services to the community. Money used buying a chair or sofa from Barns of Bradford or Eaton's as opposed to Bob's Discount is recycled locally many times over.

5. Jobs and Wages:

When shopping locally, you create jobs and promote community development. Locally-owned businesses create more jobs locally and generally provide better wages and benefits than chains do. You can buy them in Concord or Keene, but if you buy a snowblower from Tyler's, or a tool box from Goffstown Hardware, you keep local people employed who also spend their money in town.

6. Support Entrepreneurship:

Entrepreneurship fuels our economy and elevates our families. Eating at Peter Christian's, Tooky Mills, Bubba's, Mama's, Mediterrano's, Country Spirit or Daniel's does more to keep our neighbors employed and our communities flourishing than the same meal at Longhorn or Olive Garden.

7. Product Diversity:

A multitude of small businesses, each selecting products based on the needs of local customers guarantees a broader range of product choices. Have you seen the selections at Hubert's or Morse Sporting Goods? They carry a greater selection of products than Dick's or Cabela's and their profits are recycled locally.

Hillsboro-Deering High School's DECA chapter recently participated in a unique fundraising opportunity. Students were challenged to sell bundles of unique, stylish and comfortable socks which included a new pair that would be donated to the Hillsboro Food Pantry. Students donated 129 pairs!

DECA President Serenedy Kelley organized the donation. The drive was coordinated in part by CFS – Custom Fundraising Solutions. All DECA members participated in the effort and the competition between students was intense. The top three students were Ben Perrin, Manny Valezquez, and Kyle Nickulas. By participating in this community service project, students learned valuable skills in digital marketing and social media, all while helping to keep local feet warm for the holidays and winter.

Why you should nt use a travel agent:

In the interest of fairness here are 10 reasons why you should NOT be going to your friendly neighborhood Travel Consultant.

- 1. It is more fun to go searching for lodging, ground transportation, activities, tours from multiple sources than with 1 call to your agency.
- 2. When problems occur during your trip you enjoy being confrontational and thrive on dealing directly with the source.
- 3. You'll rob yourself of the experience of flying into the other Charleston airport CHS not CRW/Charleston W.Va.
- 4. You enjoy all the time consuming detailed work of planning a complex itinerary.
- 5. You want to work anonymously on numerous websites
- 6. Documents? What documents? You'll just sort required travel documents like visas and passports as you go. Besides when you sailed 20 years ago you just needed a birth certificate.
- 7. You don't care that you don't have access to travel suppliers who exercise their clout with hotels, resorts to provide such amenities as early check-in, late checkout, room upgrade; dollar resort credits complimentary meals.
- 8. Your time and expertise will get you the best bang for your travel dollar!
- 9. You will thoroughly enjoying blaming yourself when something on your trip goes wrong!
- 10. There are two trips out there-a great one and the one from hell. You can easily guess which is the great one!

PS: Trip adviser is your best friend and you don't care if one hotelier just posted over 100 glowing reports about his property!
PSS: Of course you know best what to do with your time and money!
So why seek expert advice and opinions?
But just in case I haven't convinced you, stop by or contact your local travel agent! They get paid to tell you where to go!

John Stark's High School Quiz Bowl Team

The John Stark Regional High School Quiz Bowl team attended the GHOST Quiz Bowl tournament on November 30 at Hanover High (NH) with the match-up of VT vs. NH schools. John Stark competed against teams from South Burlington and Montpelier. They won four games and took 3rd place for the costume contest (they were dressed as Roman Scholars). In addition to scoring points for costumes, there was a coaches' competition and student trivia rounds. Ultimately Vermont schools won the tournament, but everyone had a great time.

Weare Middle School sets Dean's Advisory

The Dean's Advisory at Weare Middle School, a group of about 30 8th-grade students, was the brainchild of Assistant Dean Jake Morrill to provide 8th graders with an opportunity to have a voice at WMS and to make a positive impact on the school community. The Dean's Advisory meets every other week during Flex blocks. In last week's activity, the Advisory group gathered to write thank you cards for all Weare Middle/Center Woods Upper Elementary School teachers and staff. It was an opportunity for students to show their gratitude for the adults who work so hard to create a caring learning community every day. Paraeducator and Registered Behavior Technician Kristen Lundeen helped plan this activity with Mr. Morrill.

Why you should use a travel agent:

We had a lively debate recently on the merits of whether to use a live travel agent to book your vacation or to go it alone by using the Internet. Here are some of the reasons to consider a personal travel consultant.

- 1. You've Googled "Mexico vacation," and come up with 17.8 million responses. Need a little help editing those choices?
- 2. Remember when you used that obscure website to book your hotel, and when you got there you spent your beach vacation overlooking a parking lot?
- 3. How many hours were you on hold with the airline when your flight was canceled because of a snowstorm?
- 4. Did you really mean to spend your honeymoon at that resort whose one tiny pool was filled all day with 12 screaming children?
- 5. Who knew that when you booked that "villa" in Tuscany, it would be a small room with a kitchenette and no air conditioning? Funny, it looked much better on your computer screen.
- 6. No one explained to you that in July, it's winter time in Rio, and so you showed up there with nothing but five Hawaiian shirts and three pairs of swimming trunks.
- 7. How about the time you really needed a restful vacation, and you ended up in New Orleans during Mardi Gras and someone threw up on your shoes?
- 8. Yes, I guess that hotel must have used a telephoto lens when they took a picture of those guest rooms that you saw on their website.
- 9. I suppose contacting the Attorney General to resolve the fact that that Internet site has billed your credit card three times instead of once is the only route to take at this point.
- 10. It was definitely odd that there were no cab drivers at the airport at 3 o'clock in the morning when you finally landed in Costa Rica, but booking a transfer to your very remote hotel would have been a good thing to remember when you purchased your airline ticket and hotel online.

The Toadstool Bookshop

"Iron Roads of the Monadnock Region. Vols I and II: Railroads of Southwestern New Hampshire and North-Central Massachusetts" by Bradford Blodget and Richard Richards brings to life the story of now largely forgotten railroads that once operated in the area, shining new light on the roads' stories from their beginnings to the present. The authors detail how and why the roads were built in the first place, where they went and what they did, their roles in the economy of the Monadnock Region, and what became of them.

"Becoming a Good Creature" by Sy Montgomery School is not the only place to find a teacher. In this picture book adaptation of

Sy Montgomery and Rebecca Green's New York Times bestselling How to Be a Good Creature, learn the many surprising lessons animals have to teach us about friendship, compassion, and how to be a better creature in the world.

"A Cry from the Far Middle: Dispatches from a Divided Land" by P.J. O'Rourke This uproarious look at the current state of these United States includes essays like "Woke to the Sound of Laughter," about the upside of being "woke" (and unable to get back to sleep); "Sympathy vs. Empathy," which considers whether it's better to hold people's hands or bust into their heads; a brief digression "On the Additional Hell of the Internet of Things" because your juicer is sending fake news to your FitBit about what's in your refrigerator; and many more.

REVERSE MORTGAGES

Reverse mortgages are a new type of mortgage designed specifically to be appealing to older homeowners. In regular mortgages, the homeowner pays the lender. In reverse mortgages the opposite is true — homeowners receive money that does not need to be repaid until the home is sold, the homeowner dies, or does not use the home as the primary residence.

Many homeowners use a reverse mortgage to supplement their retirement income. There are also tax advantages

A reverse mortgage might be a good idea for a homeowner who has a great deal of equity in their home but no other assets or sufficient retirement savings, and wishes to stay in their home rather than downsize.

There are other factors to consider. If you dream of giving your home to your children after you die, a reverse mortgage may make that difficult since the equity in the home will have been depleted.

Reverse mortgage programs usually come with requirements, like:

- The homeowners must be at least 62 years of age.
- The home must be the primary residence.

Before committing to a reverse mortgage, be sure to do your research to make sure it is right for you.
