Weare Principal leaving

Center Woods Upper/Weare Middle

School Principal Shawne Hilliard has announced she will leave at the end of the 2021-2022 school year after seven years in the Weare School District. Mrs. Hilliard joined the Weare School District in 2015. In 2018, she became Interim Principal, and in 2019 she was named Principal of grades 4-8. Throughout the pandemic, she provided steady and consistent leadership to keep the school moving forward.

“Open inquiry and honest discussion” about U.S. history

At last Wednesday's Deliberative Session, Weare School District voters passed along an operating budget of $17.3 million, which would raise the tax bill on a house assessed at $350,000 by an estimated $371 a year, a two-year teachers contract that would give raises of about 5% each year, and a one-year contract for support staff including paraprofessionals that would raise the average hourly rate from $14.05 to a projected $15.25. Also approved was changing half-day kindergarten to full-day kindergarten. The estimated cost of $227,029 would be more than offset by $246,133 from the state's adequacy funding, and extra staffing would be balanced by removing the current cost of mid-day bus transportation.

Discussion of those items was relatively routine compared to the remainder of the meeting which began when School Board Member Daniel Recupero refused to wear a mask or move from his seat in the middle of the table for the five-person board, under the COVID-19 rules established by the moderator. On a 17-16 vote to override the rules Recupero was allowed to stay in his seat.

The most heated discussion came over a petitioned article on Critical Race Theory that would have prohibited “any program that instructs that the United States, the State of New Hampshire, or any New Hampshire resident is inherently racist or intolerant.” After a lengthy discussion, the article was amended into one that “encourages open inquiry and honest discussion” about U.S. history.

Moderator Luther Drake allowed the amendment to stand, though School District Attorney Diane Gorrow said that because the new language made no reference to the subject of critical race theory, that would “cross the line of legality about what changes could be made.”

Eleanor Campbell Charitable Fund Scholarship application period open

As college admission season gets underway, it is also time for scholarship applications for college bound seniors and those already attending college. Each year, the Eleanor Campbell Charitable Fund awards scholarships to students from Weare, Hillsboro, Deering and Hillsboro-Deering High School and John Stark Regional High School.

Applications are available through the Hillsboro-Deering High School guidance office as well as online. They must be received by April 15, 2022. Awards are announced in June and scholarships sent directly to each student's chosen institution. Contact information and details about the scholarships are printed on the application forms, which may also be downloaded at www.eleanorcampbell-charitablefund.org

In 2021, fourteen scholarships were awarded to seniors or college students from the Hillsboro-Deering area. Campbell Scholarships, a special award to a student studying in a medical field, were given to Erin Dean and Gracie Atkins. The Tyrell Award for a business student went to Rachel Vanolmen. Other scholarships were given to Chloe Braun, Owen Coombs, Emma Curley, Serena Havunen, Elizabeth Labier, Nathaniel Ledvina, Cassidy Marshall, Alexis McClure, Kendra Warren, Olivia Zdon and Lily Gibson. Six awards were made to Weare and John Stark Regional students.

The operator of this vehicle, once she was extricated, was able to walk away from this crash at the intersection of Routes 202 and 127, near Dunkin Donuts. Airbags and the seatbelt saved her from serious injury, if not worse. Hopkinton and Henniker Fire Departments, the Henniker Police, as well as civilians assisted.

HD DECA recognized for Outstanding School-Based Enterprise

The Hillcat Corner, the school-based enterprise at Hillsboro-Deering High School was among 461 school-based enterprises achieving Gold for the 2021-2022 school year and will be recognized during DECA's International Career Development Conference in Atlanta, GA. A school-based enterprise (SBE) is an entrepreneurial operation in a school setting that provides goods and services to meet the needs of the market. SBEs are managed and operated by students as hands-on learning laboratories that integrate National Curriculum Standards in marketing, finance, hospitality and management. DECA advisors have utilized this effective educational tool for over four decades to provide their students with realistic and practical learning experiences that reinforce classroom instruction, enhance 21st century skill development, and prepare students for college and careers.

The Hillsboro-Deering High School DECA members who contributed to the certification were Serenedy Kelley, Madison Ledvina, Alexis Ledvina, and Hannah Edwards with the assistance of their DECA chapter advisor, Marc Payeur. The SBE at Hillsboro-Deering High School has operated for twenty-two years and is to be commended for this achievement.

"DECA's School-based Enterprise Certification Program is a rigorous process designed to help DECA members demonstrate their classroom learning in a practical, learning laboratory, and then translate that into meaningful outcomes," said Christopher Young, CAE, Chief Program Officer at DECA Inc. "These DECA members are practicing important workplace readiness skills while preparing for college and careers."

DECA's School-based Enterprise Certification Program provides recognition for outstanding achievement by school-based enterprises and to motivate SBEs to strive for excellence and growth. SBEs can be certified at three levels: bronze, silver or gold. In order to apply for the certification, SBEs must submit extensive documentation that explains how the SBE demonstrates the practice of various marketing and retail standards. A review committee evaluates the documentation to determine which level of certification has been achieved. DECA's School-based Enterprise programs are sponsored by Intuit and Otis Spunkmeyer Inc.

Colby-Sawyer coach arrested on child sex charges

A former volunteer assistant basketball coach at Colby-Sawyer College faces more than 50 criminal charges including sexual abuse and manufacturing and possession of child sexual abuse images.

Joshua Pincoske, 47, appeared via video Wednesday for an arraignment on four counts of aggravated felonious sexual assault, 50 counts of manufacturing child sexual abuse images and one count of possession of child sexual abuse images, which are all Class A felonies. He is also charged with sexual assault, a Class A misdemeanor.

Pincoske entered pleas of not guilty for all charges.

Colby-Sawyer College released a statement on Tuesday afternoon to announce the school has rescinded Pincoske's status as a volunteer assistant coach.

New London approves renovation of the Philbrick-Cricenti Bog Walkway

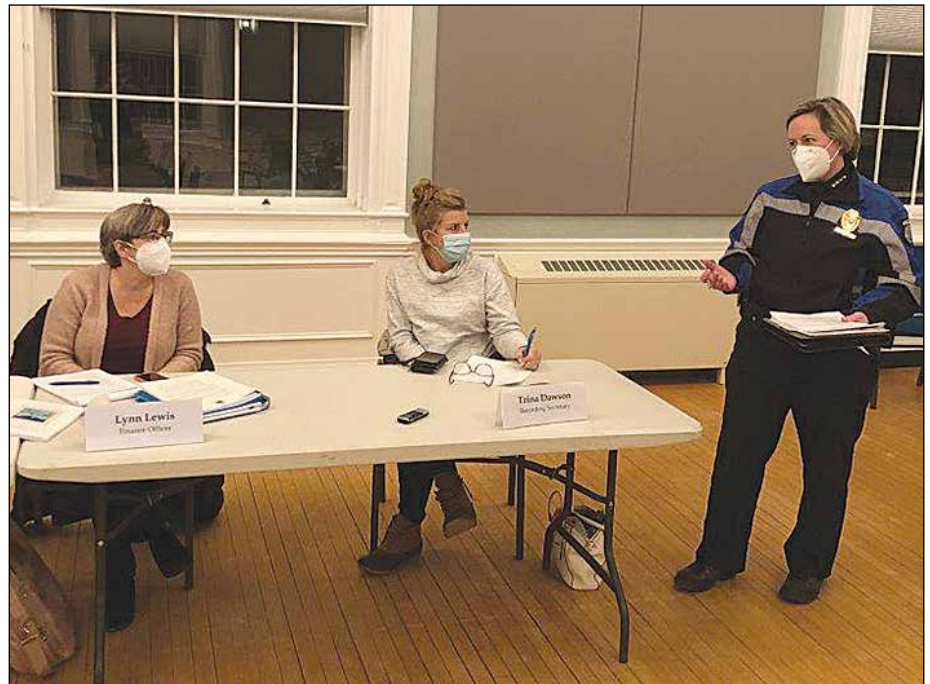

The New London Select Board held a Public Hearing on a proposed $600,000 bond for repairs and renovations to Whipple Town Hall and the Baker Building to open their meeting Monday ballot.

Bob Brown, Chair of the Conservation Commission appeared seeking the Board's approval of a $50,000 withdrawal from the Mary Haddad Trust to replace 350' of a narrow wooden pathway through the Philbrick-Cricenti Bog. Brown proposes a 3' wide, aluminum framed walkway of slip proof material. Use of this fund requires approval of the Conservation Commission, the Recreation Commission and the Select Board. With $350,000 remaining in the fund, and the other two permissions in hand, the Board gave the final approval.

Town Administrator Kim Halquist reported receipt of MRI's Safety/Security Assessment of the Academy Building which she will discuss with department heads and bring their recommendation to the Board at its next meeting.

The New London Select Board approved Police Chief Emily Cobb's request to apply for a federal grant to pay 50% of the department's cost of vest and dashboard cameras.

Weare votes to reestablish previously abolished Ethics Commission

Concerned that the Weare Select Board ended the year with an over $450,000 surplus, resident Frank Campana opened Saturday's meeting with a question, "What did not get done or accomplished with the budget last year?" Select Board Member Ricky Hipper cautioned not to worry because "we're not going to have that surplus this year."

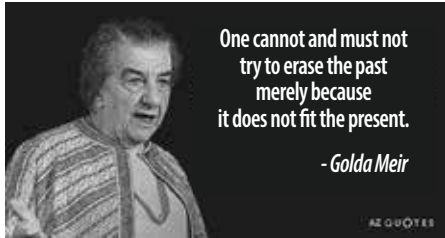

Voters proposed amending an article to purchase a police cruiser for $71,013, by requiring that $40,000 of that be withdrawn from the town's unreserved fund balance but it was defeated by a vote of 24-26. However, an amendment raising the town's minimum wage to $9, on top of the dollar increase for existing employees passed.

An article proposing the re-implementation of an ethics committee, which had been abolished in 2014, received a lot of interest.

After an amendment clarifying that members would be elected officials, it passed with only two votes in opposition.

Warner teen injured in hit & run accident

On February 11th, at approximately 4:30 pm, Warner Police responded to a hit and run accident involving a teenaged pedestrian at the intersection of Depot Street and North Village Road. They are asking for the public's assistance for help in locating a silver Toyota pickup, possibly a Tacoma that is missing the passenger side mirror. The male operator was reported to have gray hair and gray stubble facial hair. If you were in the area and saw anything, please call the PD at (603)-456-3433 or Officer Bruce Barton at bbarton@warner.nh.us. Police said the driver would face conduct after accident charges which are usually a misdemeanor, but since injury resulted in this case it could be elevated to a felony. The teenager is expected to make a full recovery.

Monadnock Gun Club is not grandfathered

Peterborough's Zoning Board of Adjustment has denied Monadnock Rod & Gun Club's appeal of a decision by the town's code enforcement officer that an outdoor shooting range is not a grandfathered use on the property. The Gun Club is asking for a motion for a rehearing of the zoning board's February 7th decision. If that is denied, the club could appeal that decision to the Superior Court, or could apply for a special exception to the ordinance that is holding the site plan back.

Goffstown shooting brings more charges

Christopher Lacerte, 19, of Manchester, who was originally charged with first-degree assault with a deadly weapon in Goffstown has now been arraigned on the first-degree assault with a deadly weapon charge, a class-A felony, and several additional charges. Lacerte is facing additional charges of theft by unauthorized, felony, and theft by unauthorized, a misdemeanor.

Publisher's Perspective

Well Intended But Out Of Focus

Hillsborough's economic recovery has begun. The Economic Development Commission has set a priority and has presented an application for a $50,000 T-Mobil Small Town Revitalization Grant.

The commission wants to spend the $50,000 to construct exercise stations along the town's Riverwalk, a project that was completed about 30 years ago, but was rarely used and fell into disrepair.

While I applaud and thank the members of the Commission who volunteered their time, they are good people who want to contribute to Hillsborough's future; I do however, question their priorities and focus. They are not the Recreation Commission or the Beautification Commission, they are the ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT Commission and I fail to see how this proposal will do anything to revitalize our wonderful town.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I just picked up the Hillsborough 250th Anniversary book and was very impressed with all that hard work that went into creating it.

Laurie Jutzie is relatively new to the area and had to do a lot of research to put the book together. She took on a very big project she knew nothing about and while I am sure she had help, the success of the project rested on her shoulders.

After many hours meeting with individuals and talking to groups, she gathered a lot of information on the computer and then had to put it all together. The result is a beautiful depiction of Hillsborough's past and present.

She had some help as mentioned, but to take on such a big project and not being familiar with everything this was a huge undertaking. The public doesn't always realize the work and hours that goes into the different projects and events. It doesn't end there because all the going's on need a lot of volunteers. This project lasts a year and the 250th Anniversary Committee could use a lot of help.

If you are willing to volunteer, please contact me at (603) 464-3797.

Dear Editor:

Living in Weare for 51 years we have known Maureen for 26 years, from being assistant town clerk to that of town clerk.

Her courtesy to the public and knowledge of this position (dealing with car, boat, dog registration etc, all the strict RSA requirements involved with election preparations before, during and after) is second to none.

In primary and mostly general elections I have seen first hand as a poll worker when the A.G. office observer shows up with a checklist Maureen's preparations and implementations always pass muster.

Her working relationship with other town clerks is a large part of a clerk's position. This also is a positive quality that she has well established.

On March 8, not to re-elect Maureen Billodeau as our town clerk would be a great loss to Weare and those she serves.

Diane Kendall selected as Henniker's new Town Administrator

The Henniker Select Board opened their Tuesday meeting by announcing the appointment of Diane Kendall of Antrim as Henniker's new Town Administrator.

Kendall comes to Henniker with much municipal experiences having served as Assistant Administrator in both Deering and Newbury. She begins March 7th at a salary of $95,000 with a raise to $100,000 after a six-month probationary period. She was approved on a 4-1 vote with only member Tia Hooper opposed.

Rescue Squad Chief Greg Aucoin met with the Board seeking approval to accept a $35,990.57 Grant from the Governor's Office for Emergency Relief & Recovery to purchase a new stretcher system for the ambulance. To accept the grant money the town must commit to buying the new stretcher system. It will be installed in the current 2016 Ford ambulance, and will be able to transfer this new stretcher system to the new truck.

The total amount for the stretcher system is $39,989.52, with the balance paid from ARPA funds. The Board unanimously approved.

Diane Kendall thanked the Board for her appointment and said she was anxious to work with the Board, the various committees and department heads in Henniker.

PERIODONTAL DISEASE INCREASES RISK OF MAJOR CARDIOVASCULAR EVENTS

People with periodontitis are at higher risk of experiencing major cardiovascular events, according to new research.

In a longitudinal study published recently in the Journal of Periodontology, researchers showed that inflammation associated with active gum disease was predictive of arterial inflammation, which can cause heart attacks, strokes, and other dangerous manifestations of cardiovascular disease.

For the study, researchers performed positron emission tomography and computer tomography (PET and CT) scans on 304 individuals to view and quantify inflammation in the arteries and gums of each patient. In follow-up studies approximately four years later, 13 of those individuals developed major adverse cardiovascular events. Presence of periodontal inflammation was shown to be predictive of cardiovascular events, even after researchers controlled for all other risk factors, such as smoking, high blood pressure, obesity, and diabetes.

Importantly, researchers found that bone loss from prior periodontal disease was not associated with cardiovascular events. Patients that did not have actively inflamed gums had a lower risk of cardiovascular disease — even if those individuals had a prior history of periodontal disease as evidenced by periodontal bone loss in their CT scans.

Researchers hypothesize that local periodontal inflammation activates and mobilizes cells signaling through bone marrow, which triggers the inflammation of arteries, leading to adverse cardiac events.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Semaglutide, an injectable medication taken once a week, offers a nonsurgical way to reduce weight and treat obesity according to a study published in The Lancet. It could help the more than 70 million adults in the United States who struggle with this chronic condition. People with diabetes benefit greatly from weight loss, yet they have a much harder time losing weight compared with those without diabetes. This study is the first to evaluate the weight loss effect of this medication exclusively in patients with Type 2 diabetes.

While most adults over 50 understand that overuse of antibiotics is a problem, and say they're cautious about taking the drugs, a sizable minority have used antibiotics for something other than their original purpose, and appear to think the drugs could help treat colds, which are caused by viruses, not bacteria. These findings, contained in a new paper in Infection Control and Hospital Epidemiology, come from a national poll of people between the ages of 50 and 80 carried out as part of the National Poll on Healthy Aging.

Key data from the new paper: More than 91% of older adults said they are cautious about using antibiotics, and nearly 89% agreed that overuse can lead to antibiotics not working the next time they're needed. Nearly 56% agreed that doctors overprescribe antibiotics, but 41% said that if they had a cold or flu that lasted long enough to cause them to see a doctor, they would expect to receive a prescription for an antibiotic. 34% said they believe antibiotics can help them get better if they get a cold or the flu; these conditions are viral illnesses that do not respond to antibiotics, which aim to kill infectious bacteria. Nearly 48% of older adults had received at least one prescription for antibiotics in the past two years, and half of these said at least one prescription was for a respiratory condition.

She was born September 29, 1929 in Berlin, NH, to the late Frederick & Eloise (Belanger) Chabot. She was also predeceased by her husband Lawrence E. Bourassa who died in 2012, and two sons Richard and Roland. Family members include her sons, Edward, Robert and his wife Jennifer, Ronald and Reginald; and her daughter, Irene Crawford; 11 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. There will be no calling hours. Services will be at a later date in Blossom Hill Cemetery in Concord, NH.

THANKSGIVING NOVENA TO ST. JUDE

O Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen.

Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and Glorias. Publication must be promised. This Novena has never been known to fail. I have had my request granted. Publication promised. J.S.
