John Stark students at Model UN

Stark students attend online thru Clark University

Eleven John Stark Regional High School students participated in a Virtual Model UN Conference through Clark University on Saturday, March 26, in the school library. All of the students were a part of the online General Assembly discussing innovation in the fight to end climate change.

To prepare for the conference, students researched their country's stance on the issue as well as how their country is impacted or could be impacted by climate change. At the General Assembly, there were about 50 other countries represented by students from various schools on the East Coast. Clark University's Model UN conference was a hybrid conference so schools had the option of either attending virtually or in person.

This was the first Model UN Conference for John Stark this year. To prepare, they learned the rules of parliamentary procedure and applied that knowledge to the conference.

Many of the John Stark students made speeches to the committee and were signatories on potential resolutions (working papers). They also worked in small groups in breakout rooms with students from other schools.

In the end, they voted and passed a resolution that offered many ways to help with the issue of climate change. Among the issues discussed was the need for developed countries to help developing countries with climate change. John Stark Social Studies teacher Jessica Regal is the Model UN Club's Advisor.

Developers seeks 84 apartments & commercial buildings in Hillsborough

Avanru Development Group of Walpole met with the Hillsborough Select Board to discuss their plan to develop workforce housing apartments in the northerly, back portion of the property with commercial development in the southern, front portion and two 42 unit residential buildings in the northern part of the 10 acre lot at 219 West Main Street with commercial buildings in the front.

Representatives met with the Board for guidance and input as they consider bringing this proposal to the ZBA and Planning Board for approval. This type of development proposal is like what is envisioned in the Gateway Zone. While this location is not in the area where the Gateway Zone would be located, it seems that it fits within the master plan for the community.

Avanru currently has 43 residential units in Walpole and will break ground later this Spring on 84 units in Swanzezy and 42 units in Newport. They are seeking approval in Newport for an additional 96 units and are currently researching suitable locations in Jaffrey.

Goffstown man dies in accident

Terry Driscoll, 64, of Goffstown, was killed in a motorcycle accident in Goffstown last Wednesday. Driscoll's motorcycle traveling on Elm Street appeared to have lost control, skidded across a driveway, and struck a cluster of trees. Neighbors heard the crash and called 911, while bystanders flagged down a Goffstown officer who attempted to render medical aid while awaiting Goffstown Fire and EMS. Despite the efforts of the officer and Goffstown Fire, the Driscoll died at the scene.

Colby-Sawyer College Commencement Exercises May 7th at 10:30am

Colby-Sawyer College will celebrate its 184th Commencement on Saturday, May 7, with its first traditional, in-person event for graduates and their guests since 2019. The ceremony will begin at 10:30 a.m. on the quad of the college's New London campus.

Though it will not be a ticketed event, graduates are asked to limit their guests to four to six people. A link to a livestream will be posted on the college's website for those unable to attend in person. More information is available at Commencement 2022 (colby-sawyer.edu).

This year's Commencement ceremony will celebrate 156 graduating students in the Class of 2022 and will also recognize several members of the college and greater community for academic excellence, outstanding contributions to society and service to the college and its students.

Alumna and Trustee Emerita

Sonja Carlson Davidow '56 will be recognized with an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters, which honors an individual of humanitarian character and superior intellect whose life and work have brought about positive, far-reaching consequences for individuals and organizations.

Two recipients, alumna and former vice chair of the Board of Trustees Robin L. Mead '72 and former member of the Board of Trustees David B. Payne, will be awarded the Susan Colgate Cleveland Medal for Distinguished Service. The college's highest honor, this medal is presented to individuals who exemplify the college's first leader Susan Colgate Cleveland's attributes, ensuring that her work, dedication and influence will be remembered by future generations.

School of Business & Social Sciences Assistant Professor Kimberly France will receive the Jack Jensen Award for Excellence in Teaching, the college's highest teaching award.

Presented annually to a faculty member who has made a distinct, positive difference in the college's academic climate, the award honors the late Professor Jack Jensen, who, through his dedication to teaching, inspired faculty and students alike. In accordance with Colby-Sawyer tradition, as winner of the Jensen Award, Professor France will deliver the Commencement address at this year's ceremony.

The 2022 Poetry Out Loud champion is Emily Matos, (l), from Kingswood Regional High School and alternate is Annalise Locke (r) from Hopkinton High School.

Hopkinton Economic Development Director Anna Wells (foreground) briefed the Select Board on plans to improve Riverway Park. The initial phase will consist of enlarging, re-surfacing and striping the parking lot. The current Rail Trail, which runs through the park, would be located to loop around it, along the river. Wells estimates the project will cost about $20-$30,000 for which grants will be sought out.

SAU #24 Communication Survey seeks parental input

Superintendent Jacqueline Coe would like to invite community members and SAU 24 families to complete a Communication Survey order to support SAU 24's efforts to evaluate its approach to communications.

Both surveys are at sau24surveys.com. Two surveys are geared towards parents and/or guardians of current students, as well as members of the communities SAU 24 serves, in an effort to develop a better understanding of how well SAU communicates with each group.

SAU 24 asks that families and residents fill out the survey that applies to them in order to share their feedback on these communications efforts.

The surveys are meant to help district leaders build a stronger understanding of the types of news and updates each group values.

Additionally, the surveys will help SAU 24 identify areas where it has had success with family and community outreach, as well as any communications gaps it must work to address.

Goffstown teenage killer pleads guilty to murder, faces 37 years

Jaiden Ciruzzi, the Goffstown boy who was 16 when he shot and killed a Manchester high school student during an illegal drug deal in 2017, appeared in court Monday and pleaded guilty to the crime. Ciruzzi, who is now 20, pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in exchange for prosecutors asking for a prison sentence of no more than 37 years when he returns to Hillsborough County Superior Court in June for sentencing. Ciruzzi admitted to shooting and killing Ian Jewell, 18, in a hardware store parking lot in Goffstown. He was certified to stand trial as an adult and faced both first-and second degree murder charges.

Prosecutors will drop the first-degree murder charge once the deal is finalized. The killing took place on November 19, 2017, at a hardware store parking lot in Goffstown. Ciruzzi lived in Goffstown and attended high school there.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Less than one in 10 commercially insured patients in the United States who broke a hip, a major complication of osteoporosis, receive any osteoporosis medication within two calendar quarters of their fracture, according to a study presented at ENDO 2021, the Endocrine Society's annual meeting. Medical associations recommend osteoporosis evaluation and treatment after a hip fracture. Osteoporosis medications, also called bone-directed or bone-modifying drugs, prevent bones from getting weaker by slowing the natural breakdown of bone or by stimulating new bone to form. Some 54 million Americans — primarily women — have osteoporosis or are at risk of the bone-weakening disease, putting them at increased danger of broken bones, according to the Hormone Health Network. Each year, more than 300,000 older adults nationwide sustain a hip fracture requiring hospitalization, according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Anabolic androgenic steroids (AAS), a synthetic version of the male sex hormone testosterone, are sometimes used as a medical treatment for hormone imbalance. But the vast majority of AAS is used to enhance athletic performance or build muscle because, when paired with strength training AAS use increases muscle mass and strength. Its use is known to have many side effects, ranging from acne to heart problems to increased aggression. A new study now suggests that AAS can also have deleterious effects on the brain, causing it to age prematurely. The report appears in Biological Psychiatry: Cognitive Neuroscience and Neuroimaging. Because AAS are administered at much higher doses than those naturally found in the body, they could have a harmful impact on the brain, particularly over a long period of use. Previous studies have shown that AAS users performed worse on cognitive tests than non-users.

PEOPLE WITH SEVERE GUM DISEASE MAY BE TWICE AS LIKELY TO HAVE INCREASED BLOOD PRESSURE

Adults with periodontitis, a severe gum infection, may be significantly more likely to have higher blood pressure compared to individuals who had healthy gums, according to new research. Previous studies have found an association between hypertension and periodontitis. Research confirming the details of this association, however, is scarce. Periodontitis is an infection of the gum tissues that hold teeth in place that can lead to progressive inflammation, bone or tooth loss. Prevention and treatment of periodontitis is cost effective and can lead to reduction of systemic markers of inflammation as well as improvement in function of the endothelium (thin membrane lining the inside of the heart and blood vessels).

The study included 250 adults with generalized, severe periodontitis (50% of teeth measured with gum infection) and a control group of 250 adults who did not have severe gum disease, all of whom were otherwise healthy and had no other chronic health conditions. The researchers found that a diagnosis of gum disease was associated with higher odds of hypertension, independent of common cardiovascular risk factors. Individuals with gum disease were twice as likely to have high systolic blood pressure values compared to people with healthy gums (14% and 7%, respectively). Researchers also found:

The presence of active gum inflammation (identified by bleeding gums) was associated with higher systolic blood pressure. Participants with periodontitis exhibited increased glucose, LDL ("bad" cholesterol), hsCRP and white blood cell levels, and lower HDL ("good" cholesterol) levels compared to those in the control group.

Nearly 50% of participants with gum disease and 42% of the control group had blood pressure values for a diagnosis of hypertension.

Publisher's Perspective

An Idea Worth Repeating

We printed this Publisher's Perspective several years ago, but with a new political session heating up, it is worth repeating.

A Radical Idea Whose Time Has Come

Warren Buffett believes we could end the deficit in 5 minutes. He told CNBC, "You just pass a law that says that anytime there is a deficit of more than 3% of GDP, all sitting members of Congress are ineligible for re-election."

The 26th amendment (granting the right to vote for 18 year-olds) took only 3 months & 8 days to be ratified! Why? Simple! The people demanded it. That was in 1971 - before computers, e-mail, cell phones, etc.

Of the 27 amendments to the Constitution, seven (7) took one (1) year or less to become the law of the land - all because of public pressure.

Buffet is asking each person to forward this to a minimum of twenty people and ask each of those to do likewise. In three days, most people in The United States of America will have the message. This is one idea that really should be passed around.

Congressional Reform Act

1. No Tenure/No Pension. A Congressman/woman collects a salary while in office and receives no pay when they're out of office.

2. Congress (past, present & future) participates in Social Security. All funds in the Congressional retirement fund move to the Social Security system immediately. All future funds flow into the Social Security system, and Congress participates with the American people. It may not be used for any other purpose.

3. Congress can purchase their own retirement plan, just as all Americans do.

4. Congress will no longer vote themselves a pay raise. Congressional pay will rise by the lower of CPI or 3%.

5. Congress loses their current health care system and participates in the same health care system as the American people.

6. Congress must equally abide by all laws they impose on the American people.

7. All contracts with past and present Congressmen/women are void effective immediately. The American people did not make this contract with Congressmen/women.

Congress made all these contracts for themselves. Serving in Congress is an honor, not a career.

The Founding Fathers envisioned citizen legislators, so ours should serve their term(s), then go home and back to work.

If each person contacts a minimum of twenty people then it will only take three days for most people (in the U.S.) to receive the message. Don't you think it's time?

THIS IS HOW YOU FIX CONGRESS!

Hillsboro Fire - EMS recently offered the first of many community CPR classes. More classes will be offered in the future.

Same job, different town. Former Deering Town Administrator Russ McAllister meets with his new bosses, the Antrim Select Board.

Conservation Commission briefs Select Board

Peter Beblowski of the Antrim Conservation Commission attended the Board of Selectmen's recent meeting to update with the Board and new Town Administrator Russell McAllister on the commission's past work and future plans. He noted that they had removed several invasive species, including some around the library and the Grapevine properties. They are concerned about the Burning Bushes at the end of Town Hall and are planning on removing them and replacing them with blueberry bushes. He also spoke about the 20 acres adjacent to the Fire Department. As everyone would rather not see trail-head parking at the fire station, the commission is working on a right-of-way off Buttercup Lane. As it is on the other side of the river, a small footbridge using existing abutments would have to be constructed to allow moderate and low impact activities such as hiking. Selectman Davis volunteered to look more closely at the deeds around this right-of-way. The long-range plan is to have hiking trails and new recreational opportunities to extend throughout the town. Peter also expressed thanks to Jim Plourde for removing the beaver dam under the Gregg Lake Bridge, allowing the loons to nest and protecting the road from flooding and erosion. As there are many long and short term projects that need to be addressed, the Board agreed to have a workshop to determine how to efficiently identify and plan them. Other groups who may be affected, such as CIP, will be invited to attend.

Weare's Pine Tree Riot 250th Anniversary

The Weare Historical Society is commemorating and celebrating the 250th Anniversary of the Pine Tree Riot, one of the first acts of rebellion against the crown that later inspired the Boston Tea Party. On Saturday, April 9 at 10 a.m., come to Weare Center and learn about the Pine Tree Riot; watch the one-act play; see demonstrations of period equipment; meet Connie Evans, author of the book, "Ebenezer Mudgett and the Pine Tree Riot;" and purchase an autographed copy of the book. Event-goers will have an opportunity to meet descendants of the historical event; purchase Pine Tree Riot merchandise; sign the commemorative pine board; and be included in the group aerial photograph. Food trucks will be on hand to serve food for purchase. Relive the past and be a part of history!
