A True Hero Among Us

1980's Freedom Fighter feted at Henniker gathering

David Tille hosted another eclectic gathering at his Henniker home on Saturday. A large group of local residents rubbed elbows with three former U.S. Senators, a former Congressman, two former U.S. Ambassadors and a dozen N.H. officials.

They gathered to honor Lech Wałesa, Polish statesman, dissident, and Nobel Peace Prize laureate, who served as the President of Poland between 1990 and 1995, who had earlier received an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters Degree at New England College's Commencement.

A shipyard electrician by trade, Wałesa became the leader of the Solidarity movement, and led a successful pro-democratic effort which in 1989 ended the Communist rule in Poland and ushered in the end of the Cold War.

After winning the 1990 election, Wałesa became the first democratically elected President of Poland since 1926 and the first-ever Polish President elected in popular vote.

In addition to the Nobel Peace Prize, Wałesa has received hundreds of prizes, honors and awards from many countries of the world. He was named the Time Person of the Year (1981) and one of Time's 100 most important people of the 20th century (1999). In addition to NEC's, he has received over forty honorary degrees, including from Harvard University and Columbia University, as well as dozens of the highest state orders, including: the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the Knight Grand Cross of the British Order of the Bath, and the French Grand Cross of Legion of Honour. In 1989, Wałesa was the first foreign non-head of state to address the Joint Meeting of the U.S. Congress.

H-D School Board wants to retain most of expected $2 million surplus

After a public hearing, the HD School Board discussed and voted to use all the money that was left in the paving account (about $31,000) and enough from the HVAC trust fund to finish the first floor of the Elementary School. The HVAC account had approximately $150,000 and the quotes came in just over $83,000. Depleting the accounts was in line with what was discussed at the last Deliberative Session this past Spring.

The Board also discussed with Business Administrator Mary Henry the general budget. Ms. Henry stated that it looks like they'll have a surplus of nearly $2 million dollars and suggested that only a portion of that be given back to the Towns to defray taxes. The argument being that while there is extra money this year, holding a larger portion of the surplus would help future budgets and not have roller coaster swings with the tax rates. No action was taken, but will be discussed in more depth in the future.

It was announced that the date for the next Deliberative Session for the warrant article regarding the teachers' contracts will be June 14 and the ballot voting will be on July 12. The Board presented the new agreed-upon contract that will be presented. The major difference between the contract presented last Spring is a .5 % in teachers' salaries (from 2.5 to 2%).

Stark seniors reflect on where they have been and where they are headed

As they look forward to graduation in just a few weeks—a milestone that was not assured for all of them just months ago—four John Stark students shared with school board members about where they’ve been and where they are headed for their future careers. Sophie Hebert came to John Stark from Manchester as a transfer student in her sophomore year and arrived with only enough credits to be a freshman.

“When I was little, I was a good student and did well in school. But then I got involved with the wrong group of people in Manchester. I made mistakes, skipped school, and failed the second semester of my freshman year,” Sophie explained.

In an effort to give Sophie a fresh start, her mom moved the family to Weare in 2019. “It wasn’t easy. The kids were different, but as I got to know them and saw that they always attended classes, I realized that they valued their education. It opened my eyes and I got my head going in the right direction,” she explained.

Just as Sophie was making friends and getting settled at John Stark, Covid hit. The challenges of Covid and remote learning left Sophie being less successful than she’d hoped. By the end of her sophomore year, she’d managed only to accumulate just 2.5 credits. “When I saw my report card that June, I was devastated. I was so disappointed that I’d let myself down again,” she said.

Sophie turned her devastation and disappointment into a commitment to be successful in her junior year and to push herself to graduate with her class, the Class of 2022. She developed a plan, and with a full schedule, she also enrolled in online recovery coursework, took advantage of John Stark classroom support, and Flex Block. Her plan began to work. She earned 8.5 credits toward graduation in her junior year.

Her goal for this, her senior year? Earn all the credits necessary to graduate and with grades she is proud of. Sophie earned 4 credits in the first semester and is working on 6 more credits now. Graduation is on her horizon. She has applied to NHTI for the fall in their dual admission program with an intent to graduate from Keene State.

“I’ve learned to never give up. Everyone is capable of a bright future,” exclaimed Sophie Hebert.

Nate Nichols always had a plan. He knew he wanted to be a police officer or firefighter. What he couldn’t figure out was how high school was going to help him meet that goal and admits to not making school a priority. That all changed, however, when in his sophomore year, he attended a College and Career Fair at school. “At that fair, I was able to explore pathways and career fields suitable to me. I became passionate and loved school because I could see how it would help me meet my career goal,” he said.

New England College held Commencement Exercises Saturday

New England College held its 2022 Commencement Exercises Saturday under warm sunny skies. Bagpiper Eric Goodchild led the long procession of graduates, trustees and faculty across the covered bridge to the lawn behind the Simons Center.

Dr. Wayne Lesperance welcomed all and asked for all to rise in honor of the veterans present.

President Michele Perkins spoke of the courage, not only of today's honorees, but of the challenges we all face in our daily lives.

Lex Scourby, a 1975 NEC graduate, and now Chairman of the Board of Trustees, reflected on his personal journey, urging graduates to be true to themselves.

Graduate student Cameo Bixby-Clemonds and undergraduate Connor Dunn recalled their journeys over the last several years.

President Perkins then conferred an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letter Degree to former President Lech

The New Hampshire Attorney General's Office is investigating an officer-involved shooting during the overnight hours of May 13th. It occurred on Galaxy Way, the road leads to the New Boston Space Force Station. Details of what led up to the shooting were not released, but officials say one man was declared dead at the scene, but no officers were injured during the incident.

A malfunctioning heating system recently destroyed a camper trailer on Old County Road North in Frankestown. According to Frankestown Fire Chief Larry Kullgren, firefighters arrived within minutes of the call, but the camper was already fully involved, and threatening to spread to the nearby barn. Crews from Bennington, Greenfield and New Boston assisted.

On Monday, May 9th Deering Fire Rescue was dispatched to Hart Farm Road for a brush fire. The first arriving Deering engine requested a 2nd Alarm brush assignment. The fire was brought under control, but fire units remained on scene to extinguish hot spots. Hillsborough, Henniker, Weare, Antrim, Frankestown, Hopkinton, Allentown, State of New Hampshire Division of Forest and Lands, The Capital Area Mutual Aid Fire Compact, Deering Highway Department, and Deering Police Department assisted.

Antrim youngsters had plenty to do Saturday with the Recreation Department's Fishing Derby in the morning and the Antrim/Bennington Lions Club's Bike Rodeo in the afternoon.

New England College Promotes

Hancock & Greenfield residents form “Power Mill Republicans”

The Hancock Republican Town Committee (HRTC), along with interested registered Republican residents of Greenfield, will meet on Sunday, May 22, at 4:00 PM, in the Caverly Meeting Room, downstairs at the rear of the Hancock Town Hall.

All Hancock registered Republican residents are invited to attend this meeting for the purpose of considering and voting on final amendments to the proposed By-Laws governing the newly formed (combined) committee for the towns of Hancock and Greenfield. This new committee will be known as the Power Mill Republicans (PMR).

Additionally, being redundant, the Hancock Republican Town Committee members will consider dissolving the HRTC.

Public parking is available both at the front and rear of the Hancock Town Hall.

Following approval, the PMR will hold monthly meetings. These meeting locations will alternate between Hancock and Greenfield. Dates, times, and location will be posted in local papers and appropriate town bulletin boards.

Students and teachers gathered in the Library Media Center to share their love of poetry on April 19th. Some people read works from famous poets, others wrote and recited their own poetry. One student even sang a poem! We cheered each other on and enjoyed chocolate bars to recognize our bravery for reciting in front of a large audience. We had two teacher judges and Aylssah Johnson was our outstanding 8th grade student judge. There was one winner per grade and they received a water bottle full of candy, a stuffed animal and a twenty dollar gift card to Amazon. The 6th grade winner was Sammi Hargreaves, 7th grade was Michael Gordon and a return winner was 8th grader Holden Klumb.

HOW COVID-19 CAN AFFECT YOUR MOUTH

A lost or altered sense of taste, dry mouth and sores are common among COVID-19 patients and those symptoms may last long after others disappear, Brazilian researchers report. Nearly 4 in 10 COVID patients experience impaired taste or total loss of taste, but dry mouth affects even more — up to 43%, according to their broad review of more than 180 published studies.

The review looked at oral health symptoms in nearly 65,000 COVID patients around the world — with some predictable and also some surprising results. “Regarding COVID-19 patients specifically, the important message is to maintain healthy oral health habits during their illness if they are able to do so,” said Dr. Edmond Hewlett, a spokesman for the American Dental Association who reviewed the findings. “Dry mouth significantly increases the risk for tooth decay, so brushing twice a day with a fluoridated toothpaste, flossing once a day, limiting snacking, and avoiding sugary foods and drinks are the best ways to maintain their oral health.”

By now, most people are aware that loss of smell and taste are key symptoms of infection with the SARS-CoV-2 virus. But the research review by a team led by University of Brasilia researcher E.N.S. Guerra identified a number of variations on that theme.

Folks with COVID can have a reduced sense of taste (hypoguesia); a distorted sense of taste, in which everything tastes sweet, sour, bitter or metallic (dysgeusia); or a total loss of all taste (ageusia), according to the study.

Some COVID patients also reported lesions on or under their tongue or along the gums and sides of the mouth, the study found.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

A recent study published in the Canadian Medical Association Journal (CMAJ) lists five facts to know about antihistamines: 1) Antihistamines are among the most commonly and incorrectly used medicines worldwide. Antihistamines are best used to relieve symptoms of hay fever and outbreaks of hives, but not for asthma, eczema, coughs or insomnia. 2) First-generation antihistamines are associated with substantial and sometimes fatal side effects. Antihistamines with diphenhydramine, chlorpheniramine or hydroxyzine are first-generation antihistamines that can cause drowsiness and affect cognitive functions such as school performance. Overdosing can cause death and they are potentially dangerous for both young and older people. 3) Newer antihistamines are safer, as affordable and as effective as first-generation antihistamines. Later-generation antihistamines are proven to be more effective and last longer with less side-effects like drowsiness. 4) Antihistamines should not be used instead of epinephrine to treat anaphylaxis. Oral drugs can be used together with epinephrine injections to treat anaphylactic reactions, but they are not a substitute. 5) Most antihistamines are safe to use during pregnancy and breastfeeding. Medical research has shown that antihistamines at standard doses do not harm fetuses during pregnancy and may be used during breastfeeding. They are also safe for children to use.

A recently published study finds that long-term aspirin use before a diagnosis of colorectal cancer (CRC) may be associated with lower colorectal cancer specific mortality. The report that appears in JNCI: The Journal of the National Cancer Institute, suggests that the findings for pre-diagnosis aspirin use might help reduce CRC mortality in the overall population by limiting metastatic spread of colorectal tumors before diagnosis. Preventing distant metastases leads to fewer deaths from colorectal cancer.

Publisher's Perspective

Hillsborough Honors Rory Bohanan

Last Wednesday a large contingency of local and State Police units escorted the body of Rory Bohanan back to Hillsborough where an impromptu vigil was held at the high school. Not since the death of Officer Jeremy Charron has the town witnessed such an outpouring of grief, love and sympathy.

It brings to mind my favorite poem by A.E. Housman. Although he writes of an athlete, the same applies to the untimely death of these two fine officers.

To An Athlete Dying Young

By A.E. Housman

The time you won your town the race

We cheered you through the market-place;

*Man and boy stood cheering by,
And home we brought you shoulder-high.*

*Today, the road all runners come,
Shoulder-high we bring you home,
And set you at your threshold down,
Townsmen of a stiller town.*

*Smart lad, to slip betimes away
From fields where glory
does not stay,*

*And early though the laurel grows
It withers quicker than the rose.
Eyes the shady night has shut*

*Cannot see the record cut,
And silence sounds
no worse than cheers*

*After earth has stopped the ears.
Now you will not swell the rout
Of lads that wore their honors out,
Runners whom renown outran
And the name died before the man.*

*So set, before its echoes fade,
The fleet foot on the sill of shade,
And hold to the low lintel up
The still-defended challenge-cup.
And round that early-laurelled head
Will flock to gaze
the strengthless dead,
And find unwithered on its curls
The garland briefer than a girl's.*
