Hopkinton graduates urged to "Find your own answers"

Following tradition, the 80 members of Hopkinton High School's Class of 2022 lined the center aisle of the Durgin Arena to "Clap-In" the faculty that had nurtured and supported them over the past four years.

Principal Christopher Kelley welcomed all to the ceremony and asked the class to reflect on the support they had received from both the faculty and their families.

Superintendent Michael Flynn warned the graduates on the curse of technology, saying, "Turn it off — put it away and talk to each other."

Salutatorian Chloe Tworek admonished her classmates not to worry about other's opinions, and Class President and Valedictorian Frances Trafton recalled many of the class's accomplishments.

School Board Chair Andrea Folsom urged the graduates to "Be willing to change your mind, own your mistakes and be willing to laugh."

In her Commencement Address Teacher Pam Moskall, who is retiring after serving 20 years in the school, turned the podium to directly address her students. She reminded them that "Hindsight is 20/20, but don't wait for hindsight. Never stop learning, question everything and find your own answers." She received a rousing, standing ovation.

Returning the respect, the faculty then lined the center aisle to "Clap-Out" the graduates who were leaving the nest for the last time.

Goffstown Police searching for American flag burners

Police in Goffstown are asking for the public's help in tracking down whoever is responsible for burning American flags in town. Two flags were burned on two separate occasions at Putnam's Water-view Restaurant.

The most recent incident happened

Tuesday, on Flag Day, when someone set fire to the flag at about 3 a.m. The fire resulted in minor damage to the exterior of the building. A similar incident happened a few weeks ago when a different American flag at the Main Street business was set on fire.

Cameron Brisette, 24, of Deering arrested on 17 charges

On May 12, 2022 at 5:23pm an officer from the Deering Police Department attempted to conduct a traffic stop on a vehicle for speeding and driving in the middle of the roadway on Second NH Turnpike. The vehicle failed to stop, and a pursuit was initiated. The vehicle being pursued turned into a resident's driveway on Longwoods Road, at which the driver struck and killed a dog. The driver also came within close proximity to striking a young child and the homeowner in the driveway of their own home. The single male driver then fled on foot into the woods behind the residence. Multiple law enforcement officers assisted in the search, and after nearly 4 hours the search was called off. During the search, an officer was able to recognize the male suspect to be Cameron Brisette, age 24, of Deering, NH. It was also discovered that he had a suspended license and 4 electronic bench warrants.

On June 8, 2022 at approximately 5:15am, a search warrant was executed for the arrest of Cameron, who was arrested at his residence of 2526 Second NH Turnpike in Deering, NH. The Deering Police Department was assisted by the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office Task Force and Bennington Police Department.

Brisette was arrested on 17 charges from the incident on May 12, 2022 to include: Disobeying an Officer, Reckless Operation, Reckless Conduct, Failure to Report an Injury of a Dog, Resisting Arrest, Conduct After an Accident, and Operating After Suspension. While in custody, Brisette received an additional charge of Criminal Mischief for damaging the door of a Deering Police cruiser.

He is currently being held at the Hillsborough County Department of Corrections awaiting arraignment.

Warner man's body is recovered from Ridge Pond

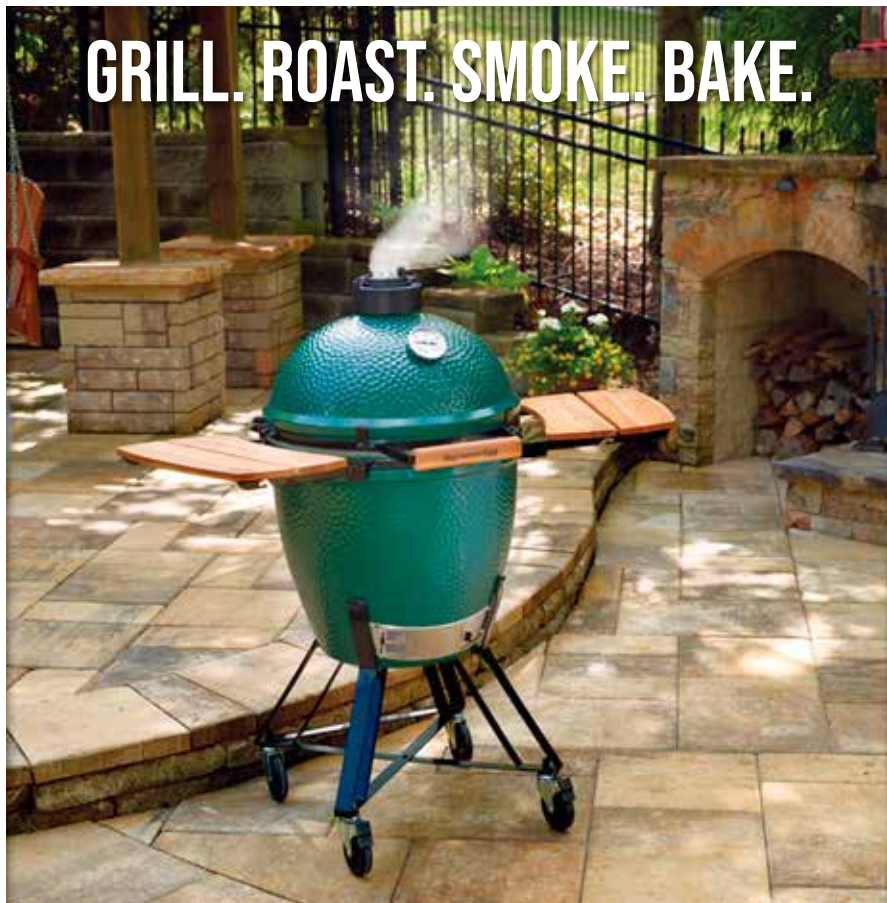

Benjamin Dabuliewicz, 38, of Warner lost his life on Saturday after drowning in a pond in Rindge.

Multiple agencies responded, including marine patrol, New Hampshire Fish and Game, Rindge Police Department, Rindge Fire and Rescue, Jaffrey Fire and Rescue, Winchendon Dive Team, and the New Hampshire Water Rescue Task Force.

"Upon arrival, investigators learned that earlier in the day, the victim's dog was found swimming in the water with no one around and was brought to shore," Lagace said.

"Shortly thereafter, a family member unsuccessfully attempted to contact the victim and called for help. Personal belongings were also found on a nearby beach."

His obituary appears on page 16.

New London Conservation Commission reconstructing bog boardwalk

The Philbrick-Cricenti Bog is one of the most beautiful and tranquil places in New London and frequently visited by hikers and nature lovers from near and far. The Bog and its 3/4-mile of boardwalk trails are maintained by the Conservation Commission and are the showcase of our 30-mile trail system. As a major upgrade to the trail, the NLCC will be working on the replacement of the current wooden planking with an all-weather, elevated, strong, anti-slip aluminum walkway.

We have scheduled the installation of the first 350 feet of walkway, running from the trail head to the first major trail junction, using funding from the Mary Haddad Fund. The NLCC will be working on securing donations from corporate and private donors to be able to fund the replacement of the remaining wooden planking, which is frequently in need of repair and costly to maintain. It is our hope that once visitors see how much better the new walkway system is, they will work with us to secure the rest of the funding we need to complete this project.

A very interesting article about the Bog can be found at the following site: <https://www.wildlife.state.nh.us/pubs/documents/samples/a-quaking-step.pdf>

The NLCC library box at the Clark Lookout Trail has been a successful addition to our trail system. Visitors to the trail can borrow or lend books, free of charge, when they use the trail.

Bar Harbor Bank generously donated $3000.00 toward the walkway project at the Philbrick-Cricenti Bog trail. The first section of the new walkway has been installed, so make a visit and check it out. Future donations received will help install new walkway sections to other areas of the Bog trail.

The library has been so successful that we now have another “tiny library” box installed on the other side of town, at the Webb Forest Trail head on Lakeshore Drive. We encourage everyone to visit these trails and check out our tiny libraries when you go for a visit.

Over the past two years the NLCC has planted American Chestnut seedlings at three different sites in town. They are planted at Clark Lookout in the field across the trail from the kiosk, they are planted at the Low Plain (ECWMA) trail in the field near the tree harvest staging area off of Andover Road, and there are seedlings planted at the recent addition to the Low Plain property off of Shaker

Road. Most of the plants are doing well and we have more seedlings going in this year. In addition to the Chestnut seedlings, we have plans to create areas of wildflowers in these same locations.

Wildflowers help to improve the soil, provide habitat for pollinators, and attract insects that are food for small wildlife.

Bridge replacement on the Clark Pond trail system continues this year with the installation of a truss bridge on the Norman Trail. This bridge design is especially helpful for longer spans. A work release crew from the Department of Corrections will help the NLCC with this project.

Kearsarge graduates challenged; “Change is needed - Be the change”

Cool temperatures and a stiff breeze didn't dampen the enthusiasm at the 42nd Kearsarge Regional High School Commencement Exercises on Saturday.

Following a tradition begun when the Class of 2022 was in Kindergarten, a group of Kindergarteners, the Class of 2034, joined the High School Choir in singing “God Bless America.”

Eliza Cardillo led the Pledge Of Allegiance before the Choir sang the National Anthem.

Superintendent Winfried Feneberg asked the graduates to “Listen to those you disagree with and foster tolerance.”

Student speakers James Rand challenged his classmates. “Change is needed,” he said. “Be the change.” His counterpart Katarina Nowicki followed with “We must forge our own path.”

After the presentation of diplomas, Principal Charles Langille, Jr. called the graduates to the front of the stage, asked them to give a round of applause to their teachers and to shout “I love you,” at the top of their breath to their parents.

Class president Estelle Chmura quoted James Taylor in urging her colleagues to “Enjoy the passage of time.”

Your temporomandibular joint is a hinge that connects your jaw to the temporal bones of your skull, which are in front of each ear. It lets you move your jaw up and down and side to side, so you can talk, chew, and yawn.

Problems with your jaw and the muscles in your face that control it are known as temporomandibular disorders (TMD). But you may hear it wrongly called TMJ, after the joint.

What Causes TMD?

We don't know what causes TMD. Dentists believe symptoms arise from problems with the muscles of your jaw or with the parts of the joint itself. Injury to your jaw, the joint, or the muscles of your head and neck — like from a heavy blow or whiplash — can lead to TMD. Other causes include:

- Grinding or clenching your teeth, which puts a lot of pressure on the joint
- Movement of the soft cushion or disc between the ball and socket of the joint
- Arthritis in the joint
- Stress, which can cause you to tighten facial and jaw muscles or clench the teeth

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

New research presented at this year's European Congress of Clinical Microbiology & Infectious Diseases suggests that three commonly prescribed classes of drugs that are not themselves antibiotics — proton pump inhibitors (PPIs), beta-blockers and antimetabolites — could lead to antibiotic resistant infections caused by bacteria from the Enterobacteriaceae family. These antibiotic-resistant infections are in turn linked to longer hospital stays and potentially greater risk of death. The observational study underscores the importance of commonly used non-antimicrobial drugs (NAMDs) as a risk factor for antibiotic resistance, researchers say. Bacteria are thought to develop antibiotic resistance largely due to repeated exposure through over-prescribing, making recent antibiotic use a key risk factor for drug resistance. But in up to half of patients harboring drug resistant bacteria when they are admitted to hospital, there is no identifiable risk factor.

New research being presented at the annual meeting of the European Association for the Study of Diabetes suggests that the widely used osteoporosis drug alendronate (Brands: Binosto, Fosamax, and Fosamax Plus D) reduces the risk of type 2 diabetes.

People with diabetes and depression who take antidepressants may have a lower risk of death and of serious diabetes complications, according to a new study published in the Endocrine Society's Journal of Clinical Endocrinology & Metabolism. People with diabetes face a higher risk of depression, which makes them more likely to die or develop diabetes complications including heart and kidney disease, stroke, eye, and foot problems. Depression makes diabetes complications worse due to stress, body weight changes, and lack of exercise.

New Boston Fire Department supports young cancer victim

Colin Ormond is a 3 year old who lives in New Boston and has a rare form of cancer, only one other case is known to exist currently. Hearing of Colin's situation, and the fact that he loves fire trucks and wears his own fire uniform, the New Boston Fire Department set off to make a difference in this little boy's world.

He was recently visited by the Department and presented with a certificate naming him an Honorary New Boston Fire Department Fire Chief for his bravery and determination in his battle against his sickness.

After presenting him with, in addition, a custom made Nbfd fire shirt and many other Fire Chief items, Colin and his family were given a ride on Engine 1.

Thank you to Brown Graphix for the custom designed shirt, Laura Bernard for the custom certificate, and members of the Nbfd as well as Marie MacDonald for taking pictures.

Concord police, firefighters, and EMTs were sent to Hopkinton Road for a crash between a car and a construction vehicle near Loop Road. When police arrived, they found the door of a Toyota Prius had been clipped off after crashing with a CAT front loader. The passenger was complaining of a neck injury and one person was taken to Concord Hospital later and a tow truck was requested for the Prius.

Publisher's Perspective

Political Opponents Are Not Enemies

Rep. Jim Fedolfi (R-Hillsborough) is to be congratulated. His letter to the editor below demonstrates that there is still room in an increasingly vicious political environment for non-partisan decency and respect.

Jim's letter, thanking Marjorie Porter for her long service in the NH Legislature is a valued lesson for us all. Like Jim, I have never voted for Marjorie, and if she were on the ballot again, I would not vote for her.

She and I have not agreed on a single issue to come before the NH House in the last several years.

However, the fact that we disagree on political philosophy and policies does not negate the fact that she has served with honesty, with dignity as a dedicated advocate of her position, and for that, she deserves our thanks and praise.

Marjorie Porter has served Hillsborough well and has set a high standard for those who follow her. Rep. Fedolfi's letter shows that he too has met those standards.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Today I am writing about something important to me. This is a Thank You note to Marjorie Porter for her many years of service to our community. We may have different political views but she gave of herself for many years doing what she thought was right and I pray that God will bless her and her husband with many more years of health and happiness.

Rep. Jim Fedolfi,
Hillsborough

Dear Editor:

Here are a couple other reasons to buy one of the 250th Celebration Books

For those who are missing a phone book or are not savvy with computers and the internet, I would suggest you buy one of the 250th books that are for sale at half price. It has a great index of contact information with many of the local businesses that are supportive of the town. I have used it as a phone book lately. If you are new to town and want to know about the various organizations in town, including all the town committees, youth organizations, and churches, the 250th book has the pictures and names of officers and members of these groups. In addition it has some of the rich history of the town, and explains the various villages that make up the town. Buy one at the Library, at Other Ark 2, at Vaillancourts, at the Legion, and at 2 Girls Bakery.

Senior Housing being planned for Peterborough's Old Stone Barn

A year after plans to create an "agrihood" at the Old Stone Barn property fell through, a Francestown man is proposing a development for active seniors as well as a workforce housing development on an abutting lot.

"Peterborough's a hub of a lot of activity that I think seniors that are still active, very independent would appreciate," Eldon Munson of Francestown said.

Munson has experience with developing assisted living communities in New Hampshire, including the renovation of Scott Farrar home in Peterborough.

"It came to me because I believe there's a need for more senior housing in Peterborough and that piece of property with the barn is very attractive," Munson said. "The barn is iconic in Peterborough and it deserves to be improved and used but not changed a great deal, at least in its outward appearance."

Munson said he is proposing

34 cottages on the Old Stone Barn property with a 24-unit apartment extension behind and connected to the Old Stone Barn. He is also planning to include nine apartments within the Old Stone Barn building itself. The Old Stone Barn would also be renovated to include a fitness center, community room, offices and workspace for residents. A preliminary plan for the project is scheduled to come before the Planning Board on July 11.

Hillsborough Select Board member Meleny Nagy recently presented the Boston Post Cane to Hope Thomas of Hillsborough. Hope's sons Bill and Ben and grandson Gareth were in attendance to help commemorate the occasion.

MORE HOME MAINTENANCE TIPS

By: Joyce Bosse

Water Heater

- Most water heaters found in homes today are open combustion, which means the off-gases exhaust through a vent that is located above or near the appliance. As with most appliances, a regular maintenance schedule is required to ensure proper performance of the water heater.
- It is very important that the off-gases are produced at a normal level and vent to the outside.

- Other options available are direct-vent and power-vented water heaters.

Fireplace

- A natural or open combustion fireplace is a beautiful addition to a home; however, proper operation and maintenance is a necessity.
- During operation, it is important to ensure that the smoke is rising through the chimney and not escaping into the living area. It may be necessary to open a window to allow for a fresh supply of air for combustion.
- Clean your chimney regularly to minimize toxins and reduce the off-gas potential.
- Maintenance is also necessary for abandoned chimneys.
- Check with a professional to determine your best wood burning options.

HVAC

- Replace HVAC filters: Replace your furnace filters before air-conditioning season. And since the filter that comes with your HVAC (heating, ventilating and air conditioning) system isn't designed to help you breathe better (it simply keeps dust and debris from clogging parts of the system), look into a high-efficiency filter or an air-cleaning unit.
