Warner woman evades police

She leads State Police Trooper on a high speed chase

A Warner woman wanted on multiple warrants was arrested Friday night after allegedly leading state police on a chase through Claremont. The incident began around 9 p.m. Friday when a trooper attempted to stop a vehicle, driven by Ashley E. Smith, 29, of Warner, on Elm Street in Newport for a defective equipment violation and having no license plate. The vehicle failed to stop for the trooper and a chase ensued.

Stop sticks were deployed several times to deflate the tires as the vehicle continued into Claremont and then back into Newport," state police said in a release. "All four tires were eventually deflated, however the operator still refused to stop," the release stated.

The vehicle continued at a slow speed before hitting a Claremont police cruiser, ending the pursuit.

Once Smith was identified at the scene, police determined she had three electronic bench warrants for her arrest, along with a Superior Court warrant with additional charges.

She was also charged with several additional charges, including two counts of felony reckless conduct, operating with a suspended license, disobeying an officer, and falsifying evidence.

A male passenger in the vehicle was released on scene without being charged.

The incident remains under investigation.

Benji Knapp resigns after 20 years as the Town of Weare's Road Agent

The Town of Weare is losing a valued employee in the person of DPW Director Benji Knapp, who has submitted his letter of resignation to accept a job in New Boston, where he will serve as that town's Road Agent. Public Works employees attended the October 17th Select Board meeting to show their support of Knapp.

Knapp is leaving after serving 20 years to the town of Weare. His brother served as the town's first appointed DPW director, as the road agent was elected prior to that. The road agent headed the Weare Highway Department.

Knapp thanked Town Administrator Naomi Bolton, Finance Administrator Beth Rouse and CIP Chairman Jack Dearborn for their support and had high praise for his team of truck drivers, Transfer Station workers and everyone else in the department.

Multiple area artisans and groups receive arts funding

N.H. State Council on the Arts has announced that more than $60,000 in funding will be awarded in fiscal year 2023 through its two Folklife and Traditional Arts grant programs: Traditional Arts Apprenticeship grants and Folklife and Traditional Arts project grants. Traditional Arts Apprenticeship grants assist in the preservation of traditional and heritage-based arts by funding a master traditional artist to teach a qualified apprentice in one-to-one sessions.

2023 Traditional Arts Apprenticeship grants were awarded to: Sherry Gould, Bradford and Anita Blanchard, Goffstown, William Gould, Bradford and Darryl Peasley, Contoocook, and Garry Kalajian, Bradford and Jay Davini, Goffstown.

Folklife and Traditional Arts project grants support both ongoing and new projects that focus on presenting, cultivating, documenting and preserving folklife and traditional arts in New Hampshire. Projects funding through 2023 Folklife and Traditional Arts project grants to Mt. Kearsarge Indian Museum, Warner Organizations receiving 2023 Arts for Community Engagement grants include The Alchemists'

Workshop, Henniker; Center for the Arts, Lake Sunapee Region, New London; Electric Earth Concerts, Peterborough; Monadnock Art X Tech, Peterborough; and Monadnock Music, Peterborough.

U.S. Marine Band saxophonist performs at John Stark

Staff Sgt. Mikula, a saxophonist with the US Marine "President's Own Band" visited John Stark Regional High School on Friday, October 21, while the "President's Own Band" was on their Northeast Region tour.

He talked with JSRHS students about tone production, the steps to perfect practice and how he approaches practicing, and his pure joy in being able to play saxophone for a living and being a member of the US military (he comes from a long family military history). He took many questions from the students during his visit and talked about the events the "President's Own" plays for. (Any event the President asks for them, as well as military honor services, inaugurations, and tours). He also told the students about what his audition for the "President's Own" was like (long and stressful, competing against 80 of the best saxophone players in the country).

He quickly left the school to catch the bus with the rest of the band headed to their performance in Norwich, VT. Weare Middle School music teacher Serena Gorham brought two of her top music students to Staff Sgt Mikula's visit at John Stark.

Deering to undertake safety improvements at Donovan Station

Peter Flynn wasted no time settling in as Deering's Interim Town Administrator. At his first meeting, he stressed that with budget season fast approaching, it was important to appoint a new Finance Director to replace Samantha Ivanov who has resigned and whose last day in office comes soon. Flynn was complimentary of the input and support she has given him as he assumes the new position.

At the suggestion of Jill Smith the Board considered reinstating the Town Administrator hiring committee utilized to hire Julius Peel. It was tabled until members could consider who to appoint to the committee.

The Board reviewed the recent Fire Department Study Committee's report.

Members agreed that the consensus of residents present was to reject the alternative, calling for contracted services, with most favoring a full-time EMS/Fire Department.

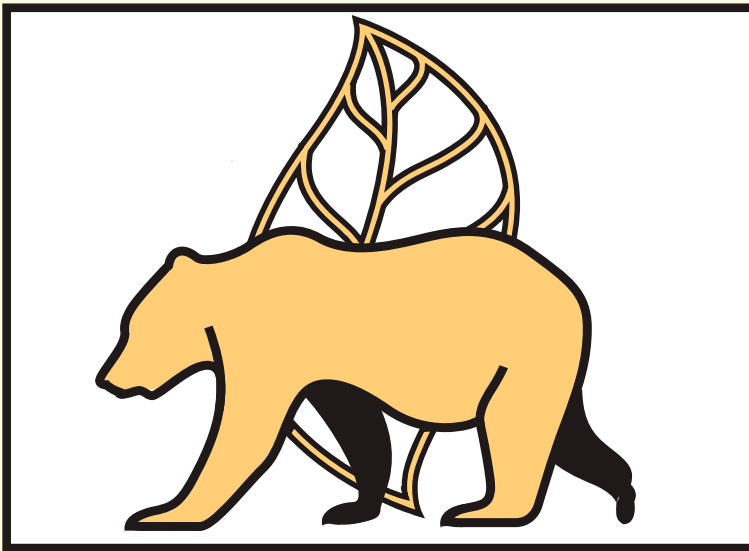

Gary Samuels briefed the Deering Select Board in the Natural Resource Inventory and Climate Resilience Mapping Projects the town's Conservation Commission is undertaking.

The Board's first priority was to improve personnel safety at the three stations, particularly Donovan Station. With $77,000 currently in the Department's building fund, the Board voted to request that Fire Chief Jeff LeBlanc prioritize what improvements could be made for that amount, before considering allocating additional ARPA Funds.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

The National Institute of Health has reported many individuals with COVID-19 develop abnormal blood clots from high inflammation, which can lead to serious health complications and mortality. To find ways to decrease clotting related to COVID-19, researchers looked at reducing hospitalizations by using prescribed blood thinners. Published in lancet's Open Access EClinical Medicine, the study found that: patients on blood thinners before having COVID-19 were admitted less often to the hospital, despite being older and having more chronic medical conditions than their peers; blood thinners — regardless of if they are being used before being infected with COVID-19 or started when admitted to the hospital for treatment of COVID-19 — reduce deaths by almost half; and hospitalized COVID-19 patients benefit from blood thinners regardless of the type or dose of the medication used. Outside of COVID-19, the use of blood thinners is proven to be lifesaving for those with blood coagulations conditions.

In the worldwide effort to battle SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19, researchers have often turned to medications used as therapies for other conditions in the hopes of finding ones that either kill the coronavirus or lessen the impacts from its infection. Recent small-sample studies (fewer than 200 patients) have suggested that statins — drugs that lower levels of low-density lipoprotein (LDL), a form of cholesterol linked to heart disease and stroke — also may reduce the chances of severe disease or death from COVID-19. However, the findings from a recent Johns Hopkins medicine-led study of nearly 4,500 patients hospitalized with COVID-19 over a four-month period provide a stronger case for a very different conclusion: statins likely do not confer any impact — positive or negative — on COVID-related mortality and may be associated with a significantly increased risk — nearly 1 chance in 5 — of more serious illness. The study was published in the journal PLOS ONE.

SOCIAL ISOLATION AMONG OLDER ADULTS LINKED TO HAVING FEWER TEETH

Older adults who are socially isolated are more likely to have missing teeth — and to lose their teeth more quickly over time — than those with more social interaction, according to a new study.

Gum disease, smoking, lack of access to dental care, and chronic illnesses like diabetes and heart disease increase the risks of tooth loss. Missing teeth can have a significant impact on one's quality of life, affecting nutrition, speech, and self-esteem.

The researchers found that higher levels of social isolation were associated with having fewer teeth and losing teeth more quickly over time, even when controlling for other factors such as oral hygiene, health status, smoking and drinking, and loneliness. Older adults who were socially isolated had, on average, 2.1 fewer natural teeth and 1.4 times the rate of losing their teeth than those with stronger social ties.

Social isolation and loneliness in older adults are major public health concerns around the world and are risk factors for heart disease, mental health disorders, cognitive decline, and premature death. In some countries, including the United States, up to one in three older adults are lonely, according to the World Health Organization. The COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated these issues among older adults, as many in-person interactions have been interrupted to protect older adults from infection.

Social isolation and loneliness are related but different. Social isolation is an objective measure defined as having few social relationships or infrequent social contact with others, while loneliness is the feeling created by a lack of social connection.

New Boston man arrested on assault charge

Noah Mann, 21, of Mont Vernon Road in New Boston was arrested on a felony second-degree assault charge. He was accused of striking another person with a metal pipe on May 8 in Goffstown.

Weare woman arrested for Domestic Violence

Rachel B. Locke, born 1997, of Weare was arrested on Sept. 18 on simple assault and domestic violence-simple assault charges after an incident on North Main Street.

Warner man charged with stalking

Jeffrey Scott St. Jean, born 2002, of Warner was arrested at a warrant at 1:14 p.m. on Oct. 3 at police headquarters. He was also charged with stalking and breach of bail charges after an incident on Fisherville Road.

Hillsborough woman arrested for DWI

Shane Viens was arrested for DWI. The Hillsboro Police Department assisted the Henniker Police Department with a motor vehicle accident on Hall Ave. in Henniker, after it was reported a vehicle had struck a telephone pole. An investigation at the scene determined that the operator was impaired and was placed under arrest. The defendant was transported to Hillsboro Police Department, processed, and released with a court date.

Hillsborough woman assaults an Officer

Officers were dispatched to a reported underage drinking party. Upon arrival, juveniles were observed in the residence holding alcoholic beverages. An officer spoke with Margorie Boisvert advising her that evidence suggests an underage party was ongoing. The officer was in the process of informing her that the house was seized pending the application of a search warrant when she then pushed the officer. She was arrested, booked, and released on personal recognizance.

Goffstown man arrested on drug charges

Chad I. Dalbec, 39, of Goffstown was arrested on two felony possession of a controlled drug charges. He was arrested after an incident on Long Pond Road. Dalbec was arraigned on Oct. 13 and is due back in Merrimack County Superior Court for a dispositional conference hearing.

Hillsborough woman arrested for drugs

Emily Kennett, 38, of Windsor Road in Hillsboro on possession of meth and possession of buprenorphine charges, both felonies, on March 3 in Dunbarton.

ZBA being asked to OK conversion of 4 Central Square business units

A developer has an agreement to purchase the buildings at 2 and 10 West Main Street in Central Square Hillsborough.

Charles Hoegen hopes to demolish the white house to provide parking for nine residential tenants in the larger, yellow building. To do so, he requires a pair of Special Exceptions from the ZBA. The buildings are located in the Central Business District, and currently have five unoccupied residential units on the 2nd and 3rd floors of the yellow building. To convert two commercial units on West Main Street and two others in the former Robinson Store on Bridge Street require ZBA approval.

Riche Colcombe, both personally and as a representative of the Chamber of Commerce, took strong exception to the conversion. She cited the recent influx of commercial development in Central Square after years of stagnation. Katherine Charette, who recently purchased and is renovating the Central Square Emporium directly across the street, also spoke in opposition, referring to the Master Plan and zoning ordinances which call for the commercial re-development of Central Square.

If the ZBA approves, the white building would be torn down and the yellow building converted to apartments.

Messenger Publisher Leigh Bosse cited this newspaper's decade long crusade to revitalize Central Square and praised the Select Board for working with the state to increase the parking needed for business growth. He cautioned that this project is completely "out of character" in the Business District and its approval would destroy any chance of restoring Central Square to its former glory.

As we go to press on Thursday, the ZBA is reconvening to decide on this project and the fate of Central Square.

Publisher's Perspective

It's Not Too Late

Every two years the political pundits tell us that this is the most crucial election ever.

I am not sure about that, but I am positive that the choices on November 8th are as clear as they have ever been.

Messenger readers know that I am a conservative Republican, who grew up in the 60's and could still admire JFK. It is sad that the Democrat party of Jefferson, Roosevelt and JFK has been co-opted by the Pelosis, Schumers, Warrens and AOCs.

Please, area Democrats, if you too are suffering from the disastrous policies of the past two years, then join us in voting for a change.

- She stands with certified public-school teachers and in safeguarding and funding our public education system.
- Stands with all women and men who believe abortion decisions should be made between a woman, her family and her doctor, not a politician.
- Stands with gun owners and non-gun owners who believe in common sense gun safety laws that protect ourselves, our families, our schools and neighborhoods.
- Stands with our elderly who are at risk of losing their homes from sky rocking property taxes by stopping wasteful spending and lowering taxes.
- Stands with all those who believe in the science of climate change and pursuing clean energy alternatives.

Jon Manley (D) NH House District 30

Jon is a life-long New Hampshire. Educated at Keene State College, Jon had a remarkable career teaching Biology in area schools. He retired from ConVal after 36 years of teaching. Jon is a former three term NH House Representative. During those years, he was the ranking member of the Fish and Game Committee and served on the Commerce & Election Law Committees. Jon is passionate about the environment and has been a long-time member of the Bennington Conservation Commission and The Contoocook and North Branch Rivers Committee. Supports public schools supported by public funding, Constitutional right to vote, Woman's right to choose, Social Security & medicare, veterans benefit expansion, and Local industries & workers.

Jim Fedolfi (R) NH House District 30

I am running for reelection to the N.H. House of Representatives in Hillsborough District 30 which includes Hillsborough, Windsor, Antrim, and now Bennington. I extend a warm welcome to those in Bennington, who are in my district for the first time. It has been a privilege to work for my constituents for the past six years, and if you so vote, I will continue to do so. Helping residents to access help from the State is an important part of this job. I think we have done a good job in the past two years cutting the budget and reducing taxes to create a big surplus, the majority of which was returned to cities and towns to reduce property taxes and offset the inflationary spiral generated in Washington. I will continue to support measures that build our economy, protect our liberties, and provide property tax relief. Together we can maintain the "New Hampshire Advantage," and ensure that New Hampshire is a great place to live, work, and raise a family. I respectfully ask for your vote.

Peter Koutroubas (D) NH House District 30

Peter devoted his career to public service. Born in Massachusetts, Peter has lived in New Hampshire for 35 years. He began his career with the US Postal Service in 1989 and retired as the Postmaster of Antrim NH in 2021. Peter is a dedicated and hardworking member of his community. UPMA. Peter is a member of AHEPA and has also coached church league basketball. Peter wants to build on his public service by representing all the people of District 30. He wants to improve the lives of residents of the four towns of this district and all of New Hampshire.

Jim Creighton (R) NH House District 30

Colonel (Retired) Jim Creighton is running for reelection to the New Hampshire State Legislature in Hillsborough County District 30. Jim is excited to continue his life of service as a representative working for the people of District 30. He has a passion for bringing people together to solve difficult problems and looks forward to using those skills in Concord. Jim is the Chief Executive Officer for Eagle Point Global Solutions, LLC which is an organization dedicated to developing leadership skills and helping to resolve some of the world's most difficult challenges. Jim and his wife, Lieutenant Colonel (Retired) Tamasine Wood-Creighton, chose to settle in Antrim New Hampshire in 2015 after 30 years in the Army. Jim is a dedicated Republican who believes in the New Hampshire Advantage of minimizing the size and reach of government, limiting taxes, and sustaining a positive business environment in New Hampshire. Jim asks for YOUR Vote so he can continue to seek practical solutions to difficult problems as your representative.

Chris Wallenstein (D) NH House District 30

I lived in Weare as a child, graduated from Concord High School, and earned both my undergraduate and Master of Education degrees from separate NH colleges. A US Navy veteran, I enjoyed successful careers as a licensed NH auctioneer and later as a NH certified teacher. In retirement, I am a 12-year resident of Bennington and a regular volunteer at Avenue A Teen Center in Antrim. I am running to be 1 of 3 representatives in the NH Legislature, for all the people of Antrim, Bennington, Hillsborough, and Windsor. I will be a strong advocate for women's rights, voting rights, quality public education, and the availability of affordable health care, community services, and housing for all our hard working families and individuals. It is time to support native wood chip and other local industries that can take climate change seriously while offering good jobs. We must not use hard earned taxpayer funds to pay tuition at private and religious schools. If elected, I will work with any Democrat, Republican, or independent colleague who is committed to equal rights and the common good. Please contact me with your concerns. I will appreciate your vote.

vote on November 8th. Since retiring in 2018, I have immersed myself into various volunteer opportunities within our communities, where I've met and worked alongside some wonderful people. These experiences have drawn me into getting involved with the issues related to our local businesses and local government (both municipal and school).

You'll often find me at a Select or Planning Board meeting; occasionally you'll see me at a Zoning or School Board meeting. Those who are familiar with me know that I'm not afraid to ask questions or speak up, nor am I afraid to challenge an answer when it appears to conflict with our laws. As a Board Member with the Greater Hillsborough Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Hillsborough Economic Development Commission, I have been advocating for the development and success of businesses and our community overall... there may even be times when I'm a bit bold in my advocacy... being "passionate" comes to mind. I would like to take this enthusiasm for our community to the NH State Legislature so I may represent the people of Antrim, Bennington, Hillsborough, and Windsor in a strong and effective manner. My commitment to you is that I will attend the committee meetings and participate during general session. I will perform the duties with your issues as a priority. You deserve a leader who is not bashful. One who will show up and participate. I will work to fight inflation;

help reduce the bureaucracy that burdens our businesses and families, and I will not hinder opportunities that will retain and/or attract skilled workers and families to our communities. All while working to maintain our quaint small-town existence that exemplifies the New Hampshire Advantage. You can vote for up to three State Representatives, please make Riché Colcombe one of the three.

Karen Reid (R) NH House Deering & Weare

When my husband Mike and I were thinking about where we wanted to retire we chose New Hampshire for many reasons. We were blessed to find our farm in Deering. New Hampshire offers so much. The natural beauty, the outdoor lifestyle and the lower cost of living compared to the other New England states. With that being said, what attracted us the most was that New Hampshire still embodies the American values that are so important to us. Life. Liberty. The Pursuit of Happiness. New Hampshire residents value family and liberty, the control over their own lives and the freedoms and rights granted by our US Constitution. I was compelled to run for the State Representative office in District 27 because of the direction this country is going. Things are tough right now and there are many question marks about what lies ahead. This is made worse because we often feel our voices are not being heard. When I am elected, I will listen and do the right thing for our communities of Deering and Franconia. As a nurse, I feel I am uniquely qualified for being that voice. Nurses are trained to listen to our patients and to advocate for them, to have their concerns addressed and to be their voice. As a nurse, wife, mother and farmer I could no longer stand by and hope that our concerns would be heard, that the values and freedoms we hold dear would continue to be protected. As your State Representative I promise to listen to you and protect your Constitutional rights.

Dian McCarthy NH House District 29

I am Dian McCarthy and I'm running for State Representative in Goffstown. For over two decades, I've been a passionate advocate for our town and the people in it, focusing on education, mental wellness, and juvenile justice issues, and am now asking to serve our community in Concord. For the past 7 years, I have championed our community's youth as the Executive Director of Crispin's House, a local non-profit that provides a safety net and growth opportunities for our local young people. Through this work, I've developed first-hand knowledge of the challenges and strengths within the mental health, substance misuse, and juvenile justice systems of New Hampshire. I am also a fierce supporter of public education, having served on the Goffstown School Board for 9 years and holding multiple leadership roles including Board Chair for 6 years. During this time, my focus was on garnering the support needed for our schools and teachers to provide an excellent education, school safety, and board transparency. I also served as the Board Representative to the Budget Committee for 7 years, advocating successfully for a balance between the services our townspeople need and expect while also working to keep taxes low. My leadership and experience have given me a deep understanding of the challenges we face and makes me uniquely poised to advocate for and support the people of Goffstown. If elected, I will work hard to provide our town with the support it needs. Please vote Dian McCarthy on November 8.

you and your concerns. On the issues, I will work for and defend the following: Lower energy costs, Increased wages, Strong public schools and our teachers, Reproductive freedom, LGBTQ+ rights, Fighting climate change, Access to mental health-care for all, Property tax relief.

Over the last several years I have witnessed the State of NH moving in a direction that serves only a minority of citizens leaving the majority of us who care about true New Hampshire values unable to recognize our state. As a political outsider, this is the reason that I decided to run for a State Representative position so that our voices can be heard. I grew up in a working-class family in Manchester learning the value of being fiscally conservative. My husband and I have been residents of Goffstown for 33 years and have always lived below our means following the fiscal lessons we learned from our parents. We raised two daughters who went through the Goffstown public school system and UNH. One daughter has been a public-school teacher for 15 years and the other is a Captain in the Airforce serving as a Commander in Fairbanks, Alaska. I hear a lot about liberty and freedom these days and to me they are very important. I support the freedom to make our own health care decisions and the right to privacy. The Freedom to protect our children's public education and teachers. Freedom from gun violence by supporting common sense gun laws that protect ourselves, our families, our schools and neighborhoods. The freedom to fight the devastating effects of climate change by pursuing more clean energy alternatives which will lead to lower electric bills. Freedom to love and be who we are as individuals. Lastly, the freedom to protect the homes of our elderly from sky rocking property taxes by stopping wasteful spending. As your Goffstown and Wear's state representative I will always listen to your concerns with thoughtfulness and respect. For more information visit: <https://www.facebook.com/Judithgaynorjohnson>. On November 8, vote Judith Gaynor Johnson for District 44.

David Erikson (D) NH House District 28

My name is David Erikson and I am running for State Representative in Weare District 28 along with Bill Pollitt. I moved to Weare in 1980 and since I am a carpenter, I began building my house on a south facing hillside. I have served on three town committees during my 42 years here and come to love the land and our town. I did not declare a party affiliation until a few years ago and have voted for the person not the party. In recent years the Republican party has become extreme. I support public schools, the privacy of a woman's healthcare decisions including the right to abortion, but also the family planning we all hope will make abortions unnecessary. If elected I will support educational choice and limited vouchers, but only for homeschool when the quality of the education can be verified as it was when I homeschooled my two boys for a few years, and only for private schools which will accept all students as our public schools must. Republicans are raising our local taxes by sending millions to these education freedom accounts with no accountability. The energy policy in NH has resulted in much higher rates than neighboring states. Incentives for more electricity produced by wood, wind and solar, and battery storage in homes will result in lower electric rates. Also changing utility policies to be accountable to consumers more than stockholders will help. I will support more charging stations for electric vehicles and a rail line to Manchester and Concord. I will listen to the views and needs of all Weare residents and work with Republicans who want to find solutions to our concerns. I may not find much common ground with the 13 representatives who voted to secede from the United States!

Peter Spaulding (R)

Merrimack County Register of Deeds

I am a candidate for Merrimack County Register of Deeds in this year's election because the office is critically important to residents of Merrimack County whenever one buys, sells or re-finances property. Whenever a resident makes a property transaction, the financial institution initiates a title search to ensure that you have a right to buy, sell or otherwise dispose of the property in question. If you do not have this "right," it can lead to expensive legal and financial costs to you. The Merrimack County Register of Deeds maintains accurate records of all property transactions in the county. These records are public and available to the public. I am running for this office because I want to ensure that these records remain accurate, transparent, and available to the residents of Merrimack County. I would appreciate your vote and support.

William Bryk (D)

Hillsborough County Register of Probate

I'm William Bryk, the Democratic candidate for Hillsborough County Register of Probate at the November 8, 2022 general elections. I worked my way through Manhattan College (B.Sc., Economics) and Fordham University Law School's Evening Division (J.D.). I've been admitted to practice law in New York since 1990 and New Hampshire since 2017. I retired from New York City government in 2010 after 26 years' public service, concluding my career as a disciplinary prosecutor, trying numerous cases for alleged employee misconduct. As a guardian of incapacitated persons, entrusted with my wards' funds, I've been a bonded fiduciary for the last 15 years. I've served by judicial appointment as a court examiner, reviewing guardians' accounts to ensure that their wards aren't being exploited through theft, neglect, or abuse. After my retirement from City government, my private law practice largely involved representing poor and working class clients. Experience has taught me to carefully read documents, ► ask questions, listen to what people say, and do my best to help them. I've continued my public service in Antrim, which I've served as a supervisor of the checklist, library trustee, cemetery trustee, trustee of trust funds, planning board member and vice-chair of the Zoning Board of Adjustment. I publish in the online magazines The Daily Beast and Splice Today. For the last six years, I've been learning to ride horses, extremely intelligent, emotional, trustworthy, and hard-working creatures who have taught me some things about myself as well as the simple truth that the hardest thing about riding is usually the ground. Last and not least, Mimi Kramer-Bryk, a journalist and cultural critic, and I have been married for 21 years. I believe that by temperament and experience I'd be a good Register of Probate.

James Newsom (D) Merrimack County Commissioner

My name is James Newsom and I am running for Merrimack County Commissioner, District 3 (Henniker and Hopkinton, but also includes Allenstown, Dunbarton, Epsom, Hooksett, Pembroke, and Pittsfield). My belief in public service has led me to serve as Hopkinton's School Meeting Moderator for 8 years. I am the chair of the Conservation Commission, and a Rotarian, having just finished my second term as club president. I was chair of the Hopkinton Library Foundation for 6 years, and have or am serving on educational boards of directors. These public service roles, and especially as moderator in 2020, have given me insight to working with others to achieve the best result for the most people. These experiences have also led me to seek more opportunity to give back, serve, and protect the vulnerable. I have chosen to run for the open county commissioner seat because I see the role as non-partisan and would like to see the continuation of collaboration and mutual respect among our commissioners. We have all seen from Belknap County what can happen from a dysfunctional county commission with extreme and antagonistic views. The potential harm to our nursing home residents, to corrections, to child advocacy, juvenile, diversion and other programs is simply too great to risk in Merrimack County. Thank you for sharing my care for our community and for your support on November 8. And remember to please complete both sides of the ballot.
