Rev. Donna Vuilleumier of Smith Memorial Congregational Church, Erica Hoegen of Red Fern Realty and Dana Brien, H-D's Foster Care Liaison Officer briefed the Hillsboro Lions Club on local efforts to End 68 Hours of Hunger.

End 68 Hours of Hunger

Hillsborough's SAU #34 group supports 60 children

Childhood food insecurity occurs when children receive insufficient food on a regular basis; in many cases missing meals entirely. End 68 Hours of Hunger is a program that puts nourishing and supplemental food in the hands of school children to carry them through the weekends — the 68 hours between lunch on Friday and breakfast on Monday.

The Hillsboro Lions Club received a presentation on the local program for all the students in the SAU 34 who are experiencing food insecurity.

Through donations of food or financial support, food is packaged for at least 60 children in need to take home with them on Friday.

Food can be donated at Smith Church or HDMS. 100% of every single dollar contributed to End 68 Hours of Hunger goes directly to purchase food (unless otherwise directed by the donor).

Some examples of food items included in End 68 bags:

- Peanut Butter, 18 oz. plastic Fruit Cups - 4 pack
- Saltines/Graham Crackers
- Granola Bars/Nutrition Bars
- Canned Beef Stew
- Instant Flavored Rice or Noodles
- · Canned Pasta Beefaroni, Ravioli,
- Tuna, Chicken or Pulled Pork
- Canned Soup, 12-20 oz. size
- Instant Oatmeal individual packets
- Macaroni & Cheese
- Pudding Cups, 4 pack

You can help in a number of important ways:

- 1. You can donate non-perishable food items
- 2. Sponsor a child with a donation of $40 a month

Members of the Lions Club were so impressed that they voted to support the project with a $100 monthly donation for food and an additional one time donation of $100 for logistic support.

New London to fund conceptual plan of Police Station at County & Newport Roads

The New London Select Board met to review and discuss a proposal from Jones & Beach Engineering for a conceptual site plan on the former Bewley property on County and Newport roads.

Kim Hallquist informed the Board that she contacted Jones & Beach to ascertain their interest in working with the town on this project. She met with a representative and he indicated that they have the time to work on the town's project and they are enthusiastic about working with the town. She noted that Jones & Beach is familiar with the property as they have done conceptual plans for the current owner and this familiarity will be beneficial.

Selectman Helm agreed, noting that he participated in the discussion with Jones & Beach and feels that their knowledge of the property will benefit the town. He noted that this information will assist the Board in answering points raised by the Site Committee as outlined in Attachment E of the report submitted in March 2022. Chair Rollins asked if a 10,000 sq. ft. building is what the police feel is adequate. Chief Cobb agreed that it is. Chief Cobb informed the Board that she, Lt. Keith and Adam Ricker walked the property and they had a good conversation of the features of the property. The Board voted to accept the proposal from Jones & Beach to do a conceptual plan.

Second-grade students in Mrs. Grantz's, Mrs. Duval's, and Mr. Magistro's classes visited the Weare Fire Station in late October in observance of Fire Prevention Month.

Masons honor veteran members, special ladies & community leaders

The Masons of Hillsborough's Harmony Lodge #38 gathered on Sunday to celebrate several individuals who have contributed to the success of the Lodge and the communities it serves.

Special Lady Gwen Gaskell, widow of long-time member Jim Gaskell was recognized for her support, not only of her husband, but of sons Larry and Donald, who each have served as Master of their respective lodges. Likewise, Robert Anderson, Arnold Rocklin-Ware and Leigh Bosse were presented pins in recognition of their 40 years of service. William Phinney and Joseph Bigwood received 50 year pins.

The highlight of the event was the presentation of the Lodge's 2022 Community Builders award to David Tille of Henniker. David currently serves as the Director of Veteran Services at Harbor Care, the state's largest provider of supports for veterans experiencing homelessness, where he oversees Harbor Care's investment in housing, services, outreach, and ending veteran homelessness statewide.

David formerly served as the Regional Administrator of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), where he led HUD efforts both regionally and nationally around ending veteran homelessness.

Before serving at HUD, David was the Northeast Regional Director of the Job Creators Network, that partners with chambers of commerce, associations and universities around government policies' impact on economic growth.

In his free time, David volunteers working with The World Affairs Council of New Hampshire, a non-profit, non-partisan organization fostering learning, discussion and citizen involvement in world affairs, which bestowed its 2022 Global Leadership award on him.

Working with the Council, David has hosted receptions for a delegation from both the Republic of Georgia and the Republic of Ukraine, raising over $800,000 for Ukrainian relief.

Grand Master of NH Masons David Collins (I) and Leigh Bosse (r), Master of Hillsborough's Harmony Lodge congratulated David Tille (c) on receiving the Lodge's Community Builders Award.

ZBA denies converting commercial units to residential

During a continued hearing Thursday evening the Hillsborough Zoning Board of Adjustment denied Charles Hoegan's application to convert four commercial units in the building at the corner of Bridge and West Main Street into residential units.

Residential units in the Central Business District are permitted only by Special Exception to the Zoning Ordinance. Special Exceptions require that the application meet seven specific criteria. After two nights of hearings, it was apparent that the proposal met the first six criteria, but the seventh proved to be the downfall. The seventh criteria requires that "The requested use is consistent with the spirit and intent of the ordinance and the Master Plan. The Board was split, with members John Segedy and Russ Galpin agreeing that it did and members Lucy Pivonka, Meg Curtis-Sauer and Chair Roger Racette saying it did not.

Henniker Select Board delays establishing two committees

Susan Adams, Chair of the Azalea Park Committee asked the Henniker Select Board to accept a $1,000 donation from Alan Brown, to purchase and install a bench at the Park in memory of his brother Kenneth Brown. The Board unanimously approved.

Town Administrator Diane Kendall informed the Board of two new requests for ARPA Funds. The Fire Department is requesting $27,083.00 to replace the fire/security system at the Transfer Station and $9,186.00 to replace the fire alarm at the Grange Hall. The Board took both under advisement pending review of next year's proposed budget.

The Board discussed reestablishing the Solid Waste and Recycling Committee, which all agreed was needed.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

Antibiotics are now an accepted first-line treatment for most people with appendicitis, according to final results of the Comparing Outcomes of Antibiotic Drugs and Appendectomy (CODA) trial, and an updated treatment guideline for appendicitis from the American College of Surgeons. The CODA study findings were published in the New England Journal of Medicine. In the first three months after taking antibiotics for the condition, nearly 7 in 10 patients in the antibiotic group avoided an appendectomy.

Although antidepressants are among the most frequently taken medications in the United States (11% of the population takes antidepressants), 60% of depressed patients do not benefit from their first antidepressant. The sales of antidepressants exceed several billion dollars annually. According to a new study, a person's existing medical conditions can have an influence on which antidepressant may work best. The data from the study can help millions alleviate depression symptoms more effectively and is now available to clinicians and patients in an online database. "Effectiveness of Common Antidepressants: A Post market Release Study," published in Eclinical Medicine (published by The Lancet), summarizes the experiences of patients who have multiple comorbidities, or medical conditions, with using 15 different antidepressants. The study analyzed data from more than 3.6 million patients with major depression who had more than 10 million antidepressant treatments. Patients were broken into more than 16,000 subgroups based on conditions, demographic information, and prescribed medications to analyze their experiences using antidepressants. In the age and gender subgroups, the best antidepressant had an average remission rate of 50.78 percent, 1.5 times higher than the average antidepressant, which has a 30.3 percent remission rate. This was 20 times higher than the worst antidepressant used in the age and gender subgroup.

BEWARE THE TOOTHPICK

Q: Are toothpicks effective cleaning tools?

A: Toothpicks are helpful in many ways. They can hold those bacon roll-ups together at the cocktail party, among other uses. They are, though, in some precincts, still considered an oral hygiene tool.

Toothpicks, like every other product in our lives, have evolved. They're no longer strictly stiff and wooden. The flexible, wedge-shaped models can indeed be useful in pushing between teeth and knocking out particles and scraping plaque. But the rigid wooden toothpick is capable of doing more harm than good if it is one of your hygiene tools. Used aggressively, the toothpick can damage gums and enamel and can loosen or damage restorations, like veneers, bonds and crowns. It could break an already weakened tooth. Toothpick use can aggravate the wear of roots, particularly in older people whose gums may have begun to recede.

Talk with your dentist about the use of toothpicks if they are part of your dental care toolkit.

Select Board reviewing Parking Regulations

During a public hearing last week to review the town's parking ordinances, the Select Board unveiled a portal to institute a system of Parking Apts on Main Street and in the town's municipal lots. As proposed, devices similar to a parking meter would be installed at each space. Drivers would not pay, but would use their cell phone to record the time and date they parked there. This would enable the town to collect data on use of those spaces and if people were overstaying the 2 hour or overnight parking limits, which may or may not lead to installing paid meters. The proposal would cost taxpayers a $500 installation fee and a $250/ month ($3,000 annual) monitoring fee. The proposal was met with a universal and passionate rejection by all those attending the hearing. Attendees agreed with Chair Jim Bailey that the town has lost control of its parking lots, but blamed the problem on lack of enforcement by town officials.

Gregg Lake cyanobacteria bloom reported

Cyanobacteria can produce toxins that cause skin rashes, liver damage and/or central nervous system problems.

Sixty apartments proposed for New London

The Planning Board began the review process of an application to build 60 apartments on the Cricenti property at its October 25th meeting. The application was proposed by Twin Pines Housing Trust and is intended to provide workforce housing. There was significant community interest in the application with the public hearing drawing an audience of more than 80 interested community members. Twin Pines Housing Trust has proposed the site be developed with four buildings, each containing 15 units comprised of one and two-bedroom apartments. The buildings are designed to meet Passive House standards and the site designed to meet low impact development guidelines. Twin Pines has proposed that the existing barn and garages be repurposed as a rental office, community center, mail/package room, and storage. The Planning Board will continue its review of the project on November 15th at 6:30 at Whipple Hall.

SAU 24 to receive EPA Award for Electric School Buses

SAU 24, which serves the districts of Henniker, Weare, John Stark, and Stoddard, is one of two NH districts to be awarded funding to purchase electric school buses through the Environmental Protection Agency's Clean Bus Program. The rebate amount awarded to SAU 24 is $1,580,000.

"We are still working through the details, but we are thrilled to receive this award with our transportation partner, Student Transportation of America (STA)," said SAU 24 Business Manager Christopher Roy. "This award is in line with our efforts to continue pursuing energy savings projects." Student Transportation of America (STA) will utilize the grant award to purchase four new electric vehicles within SAU 24. As part of the guidelines, the funding will be used only to purchase new electric buses and eligible infrastructure in an effort to help remove diesel buses from our communities.

In a statement released by Gregg Stinson, Vice President of Operations for Student Transportation of NH, "STA has long been committed to achieving a greener environment with a goal of zero emissions. The EPA's Clean School Bus Program will undoubtedly help accelerate the industry's move to cleaner transportation options for students. These grant opportunities enable school bus electrification to become more of a reality for providers and school boards alike, and students truly benefit from greener technology. The Clean School Bus program specifically prioritizes school districts serving low-income, rural, and Tribal communities where greener technology can make the greatest impact."

Publisher's Perspective

One veteran's challenge to America's youth

Twice each year we pause to honor those who served in our armed forces. On Memorial Day, we honor those who paid the ultimate price and gave their lives defending our country. Veteran's Day is dedicated to all veterans who served America at the expense of their personal safety.

Some call us heroes - We are not! Some say we were brave - We were not!

America's veterans are ordinary men and women of which much was asked in extraordinary times; who overcame their fears to serve a nation that gave them so much; and who fought not for glory but out of a sense of duty to defend this great continuing experiment in democracy and personal liberty we call America.

I served in Vietnam and was away from my friends and family for one year. Some of my colleagues who fought WWII were gone for 3 or 4 years and recently our troops in Iraq and Afghanistan were serving extended or multiple tours of duty.

How can today's younger generation get a true a sense of what War is like? Imagine for a moment you are a track athlete and you can go home after running in 100 meets. Trouble is most runners die by the 33rd meet. That's what fighter pilots faced in Vietnam. They could go home after flying 100 combat missions, but the odds were they would be shot down before the 33rd.

We have a special mission for members of the Student Council. The only problem is that for every ten of you who go on this mission, eight will be killed. That's what happened to the Rangers who took the cliff's over Normandy, or the bomber pilots who flew the raids over German oil fields during WWII.

The Soccer team will suffer only 20-30% casualties on their next mission, the best odds yet. But, the reward for surviving that mission is that you get to go on another with the same odds, and then another and another. Just like the Marines who fought at Guadalcanal, Korea, Viet Nam, Iraq or Afghanistan.

They knew the odds before they went but they went anyway.

Could you do the same? Would you? If you survive that experience you are a different person. Your whole outlook and philosophy of life changes in ways others will never understand.

With luck and God's grace, you will never have to experience that, but you can still honor those who have. Soon the future of America will be in your hands. When your turn comes, honor it, improve it and pass along a better life to your kids. That's all the thanks any veteran could ask.

Guest Editorial

Every Day is Veterans' Day

These remarks were made by our son Grant during a Forum sponsored by the Gold & Blue Star Mothers in 2008. They resonate today.

Every day we wake up to make our own choices about where to live, what to read, what to say, and how to pray is Veterans' Day.

Every day we go to sleep under the blanket of freedom provided by those who fought against tyranny is Veterans' Day.

Though we set aside the 11th day of the 11th month for those who fought, and one long weekend at the beginning of summer for those who died, every day is Veterans' Day.

It should go without saying that our government should keep the promises it made to our veterans. While the VA ▶ health care system wasn't the primary motivation for those who put their lives on the line, it was part of the deal. And a promise made should be a promise kept.

But I've always felt that the best way to honor our veterans is to make sure that those who serve are never again used as political pawns, nor denied the tools they need to fulfill the mission we've given them.

Because while we are enjoying the freedom that they guarantee, we still miss them. And we wish they could be back with us today, this Veterans' Day.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I commend the Messenger for publishing two recent Guest Editorials by Brenda Lebsack and Rena Caron. Further, I am proud of these two women for having the courage to express their outrage against the toxic influences invading the learning space occupied by our nation's young people. Each of these educators have parted ways with public education.

Ms Lebsack noted that our "public schools are no longer a safe place for families who hold to "traditional values" to send their children. She pointed to several examples that should startle if not panic parents whose children attend the public schools of our nation. Some of these include the National Education Association's assertion that there are many genders, I always thought that God created mankind "male and female created He them" - There were no options - there were no "others". Yet the NEA (the nation's largest teacher association (think union) promotes the use of the pronouns "he, she, they-and hex" (whatever that is) and others too many to name. Lebsack reports that the NEA sees its mission as changing societal norms and redefining the primary purpose of public education. What!! Some examples of this include an emphasis on social justice, political activism, depicting the police as biased and corrupt, recognition of numerous nonconforming genders, increasing abortion rights, medical mandates, viewing conservatives as extremists (so says VP Kamala Harris), critical race theory, and, oh yes, there may be some amount of time squeezed in for the more traditional three R's.

Rena Caron, former New Hampshire teacher, has more specific concerns about the public schools. She is focused more on the actual erosion of the core values that used to be resident in the classrooms of America. She noted the loss of such values as the "responsibility of doing work on time, studying for tests, and respect" for teachers and adults in general. Getting one's assignments in on time and studying for tests have in too many cases left the building along with Elvis.

The grading system that used to be the standard operating procedure is so variable today that it defies reason.

Letter grading, or even grading on a scale of 1-100 has given way, in many places, to a 1-4 rating scale, whatever that is. I'd hate to be a college admissions officer trying to interpret the various grading systems and what they exactly mean.

However, I am pleased to report that there is real hope. There is a school in Hillsborough where the traditional values of home, school and family are alive and well. Where, right is right and wrong is wrong; where teachers are respected by students and students are respected by teachers; where every class is taught by a master teacher and every class has a mentor teacher; where God, the Constitution, the flag and democracy are honored, respected and taught; where strong academics and traditional social skills are taught and practiced as well; where discipline is fair, defined and administered in an even, fair, and consistent manner; and where real history and civics are taught. Yes, there are schools like that, and not just in Hillsborough. Seek them out, should you desire. I can personally recommend Hillsboro Christian School

Finally, I applaud both Brenda Lebsack and Rena Caron who both experienced the diminishment of public education, tried to change it, and, frustrated in their attempt left it. Public schools come in all shapes, sizes, and points of view.

They are not all uniformly failing to the same degree. Most institutions that train our teachers and the unions and associations which encourage them, however, have all fallen under the influence of the social engineers whose desire is to change society from a set of inviolable principles and values to a society responsive to the instability of human nature and the influence of the social restlessness evident in our society today.

There are clearly alternatives to the public schools if this is your desire. Your Children - Still Your Choice.

> Dr. Cliff Easton, Lifelong Educator

Dear Editor:

What can our kids read at school? It's perverse not diverse?

Students have two major options for library content at the Hillsboro Deering SAU34 schools, the physical library and the online Sora library.

Upon investigation, I found a surprise. Bias, pornography, and racism is what I found in our libraries. It wasn't the diverse collection I was expecting. I was disgusted and shocked instead. You would be too if only you could look. Parents have NO access to the online Sora reading library. You'll ▶ have to schedule an appointment to access it.

I found books like Flamer with graphic sexual scenes of an 11 year old being sexually assaulted and acting like it was normal. I found racist books like "This Book Is Anti Racist" which is also promoted on the wall of the physical library. Books like "The Perks of Being a Wallflower" have open embedded links to the challenged books our kids are NOT supposed to see. The Sora books have many open links directly to inappropriate content. These open embedded links link to bigger libraries with porn, directly to the authors of sexualized books, and directly to any organization they want your kids to connect with. These open links are dangerous for kids. I was communicating with a self described sex educator in one click. His email address was highlighted blue, so in one click we are communicating. Maybe not great for young kids to have this sort of access AT school.

The Rainbow Reading section of Sora contains over 150 sexualized books. Most of these offer no educational merit but to sexualize kids. It's not innocent teaching through shared experience, it's the purposeful introduction of overtly sexualized and sexually violent materials to children during school hours. It's far beyond the expectations of any parent. Pictures of graphic sexual scenes with sexual offenses, the glorification of suicide, and racist materials meant to shame your child. Kids are directed to dangerously protest and to redistribute all wealth (regardless of effort). It's not themes I would ever want my kids learning at school.

I decided to see if there was a political agenda as well. That was the most shocking part of what I found. If you search Donald Trump in the Sora reading app, only his opponent appears. Search Trump and a Biden book appears! Is this communism? Not one Trump book exists in our Sora library! So I searched the physical library catalog and also found nothing. Trump doesn't exist in the physical library either. At least his opponent didn't appear. The Hillsboro town library has a large variety of Trump books but our public school libraries have canceled our last President. Trump cannot be found at SAU34. If your kids want to write a report on Presidents, they'll struggle to find useful information at their school library. It's biased information with conservatives decidedly left out. The school's response was even more shocking. Just take Sora off their chrome books and the problem is solved. But what about the others? Don't we want to protect them too? And the physical library? What about diversity in our physical library? What are our tax dollars being spent on? Sexualized biased materials is all I found.

Dear Editor:

I am a firm believer in the sniff test. If it smells funny, trust your nose.

There seems to be a general trend in Progressive circles, that includes the woman's so called "rights" groups, corporations, religious groups, politicians and news organizations to turn a blind eye to pedophilia, sex trafficking and a general acceptance of deviant behavior.

Some examples include:

A total lack of intellectual curiosity regarding Ghislaine Maxwell/Jeffrey Epstein and the clients they served. No regard is shown towards the lives of the children and women destroyed who were forced into the sex trades. Where is the justice?

A total disregard for critical thinking and journalism when it comes to Ashley and Hunter Biden who exhibit regular sexual and moral depravity. There is serious sexual rot in the Biden household and no one cares. More proof? Then there is Joe himself who enjoyed swimming nude in the pool at the VP residence in front of female secret service agents. All the women and children over the years that Joe has inappropriately touched, sniffed and groped. The stories Joe has openly told with glee of children rubbing his legs as a pool lifeguard. Joe's belligerent behavior when challenged by constituents having to display his machismo, such as it is. In Ashley Biden's own journal she freely admits having taken showers with her father.

There is this constant liberal obsession attempting to reassign children with alternative sexual identities. If that is not enough they now want to mutilate kids with reassignment surgery for which they are neither emotionally equipped and physically developed to handle.

Under the guise of diversity, they display freaks such as "Rachael" Levine who is in a high position in the NIH. A guy wearing a dress, lecturing evervone about trans genderism. The healthy alternative. Then there are boys who want to compete as women and destroy the whole concept of what is to be a woman. Women are forced out of female facilities to accommodate this new standard. First they came for the men who are still being hectored by the gender bullies now they are coming for the women. Levine is a disgrace to those people who have gone through years of surgery, pain and ridicule to actually change their gender.

Hassan/Kuster/Biden are enablers for the dark forces out there. Right now unaccompanied children of illegal immigrants are getting off planes and getting into waiting busses and going to homes of "Sponsors." Who, exactly, are these angels of mercy? Who is looking out for these kids??

Speak out too loudly about and Biden's plug uglies maybe knocking on your door.

The FBI it seems has more than enough time to go after the January 6th protestors, pro life demonstrators and harass and arrest parents of school children. They have no time for anything to do with the Progressive sex groomers or their partners the MS13 gang members.

Meanwhile like the Germans who saw the locomotives taking the Jews to Auschwitz, we stand in silence as the buses drive off with our children.

Indeed, Thank a Democrat! Thank Hassan and Kuster.

Frank Pearsall, Hillsborough

Dear Editor:

The recent transition of Tulsi Gabbard from Democrat to Republican crystalized in my mind a turning away from supporting a Democrat, any democrat. It is not that I believe that the current Democratic candidates are not good people. They are just powerless. The reason Tulsi Gabbard gave for leaving the Democratic party is the cancel culture within the party. She alluded to an elite cabal of powerful individuals running the Democratic party.

If you disagree, you are cancelled. Now, in the myriad of troubling news reports, there begins to emerge a pattern. If you are not "Woke," you are a Racist. If you are Antifa you can burn and pillage with impunity but if you defend your child from a bully outside of an abortion clinic while praying a Rosery you are faced with vears in prison.

If you speak out at a school board meeting you are a terrorist and wake up to an FBI Swat team with automatic weapons drawn. If you voted for Donald Trump you are "Deplorable." Cancel culture!

Congress wasted millions of tax dollars on the "Russian Collusion Hoax" that we now know was a DNC/ Hillary Clinton invention. The liberal press and democratic leadership will not relent and obviously will not repent. Recent investigations conducted in the House under Democratic leadership did not allow cross-examination or presentation of rebuttal evidence. Two pillars of the American Justice system and guaranteed by the Constitution. Not a fair trial. Cancel Culture! Election reform in Georgia was labeled "Jim Crow 2.0" yet election turn out in that state is breaking records. Cancel culture! Do I hear an apology? Don't hold your breath. We now have 86,000 new IRS agents armed with deadly force. Why? Will they be weaponized like elements of the DOJ and FBI? What's next, Brown Shirts and Gestapo?

Current Democratic election strategy appears to be all about abortion and how all Republican candidates endorse a policy of an abortion ban with no exceptions. Think about this for a minute. While it may be likely that Republicans win a majority in the House, they are much less likely to control the Senate. Even if they do, it will take at least 60 votes in the Senate to pass any Pro-Life legislation let alone override a presidential veto. There is no poll showing this to be remotely possible. So, in my mind this is not a critical current election issue but it does smack of "Cancel Culture."

I am reminded of an old movie I once saw. "Judgement at Nuremberg." Burt Lancaster played the part of a well-known and highly respected German Jurist and Judge on trial for war crimes committed during the Nazi years.

Defiant at first, he becomes overwhelmed by the magnitude of his offenses. Finally, he inquires of his handler where he went wrong. The line went something to the effect of: "There was so much chaos, so much wrong that needed to be controlled. Where did I go wrong?" He inquires. The answer was: "When the first innocent person was wrongly convicted." If we are, indeed, headed in this direction, it is the wrong and very un-American way. The issues for me in this election are the economy, crime, border security and run-away gender affirmation policy. Yes, we need to address climate change but making economic martyrs of people least able to afford it is not the answer. We need a better plan. Especially since China continues to build coal burning electric generating plants around the third world spewing greenhouse gasses at a far greater volume than electric cars can compensate for. We certainly don't need an elite cabal running our country. We cannot keep them in power. We cannot vote for Democrats, any Democrat.

Keith Mitchell Merrimack County Sheriff

I am running for election as your Sheriff for Merrimack County. I believe that public safety services should be provided in a professional, fair, and impartial manner. An elected Sheriff's duties are to all of the County's citizens. I recently retired from the Concord Police Department with over 30 years of service to the community, retiring as the Deputy Chief of Operations. I have years of leadership and practical experience working for the Capitol City. My reason for seeking the Office of the Sheriff is to make Merrimack County a safer place for all of us to live and raise families. It is now more important than ever that effective law enforcement leaders possess the desire and ability to recognize deficiencies and make difficult choices to effect positive change. The object is to enhance professionalism and the service provided to the public. The Sheriff's Office will be ethically sound, integrity driven, and completely transparent. The Sheriff's Office needs to engage its communities and form partnerships with not only its residents but with its stakeholders. Local community engagement and outreach will be a priority. The Sheriff's Office will be involved in programs like the Merrimack County Drug Court, Concord Coalition to End Homelessness, and National Alliance on Mental Health. My platform is simple: To provide the residents of Merrimack County with the services they expect and deserve to feel safe. I plan to accomplish this goal through leadership, backed by partnerships and cooperation. I will be accountable to the residents of our County and be fully transparent. If elected, it will be an honor to serve as your Sheriff and I thank you for your support.

Melanie Renfrew-Hebert NH House District 29

My name is Melanie Renfrew-Hebert, and I am running for State Representative for Hillsborough 29. Like many of you I have become very concerned with the extreme nature of bills being proposed in Concord and the impact on our community. New Hampshire is at a tipping point. Our democracy is being challenged and our democratic values are being undermined legislatively. We have an opportunity in November to take back the House as well as the Senate and pass legislation that helps New Hampshire families. I am ready to work in Concord for Goffstown families. As your state representative I will advocate for sensible policies, educate and inform voters, and hold our political leaders accountable. My family and I have lived in Goffstown for 10 years and have two sons, both enrolled in Goffstown schools. I volunteer for Goffstown's Kid's Weekend Food program; my wife and I volunteer for the Community Clothing Closet. We both hold town offices. I am the committee chair for Cub Scout Pack 99 and serve as the treasurer for the Glen Lake School Partnership. I am a court appointed special advocate, guardian ad litem, with CASA of NH since 2020 providing a voice for a child in court. I believe I have a responsibility to take an active role in the community where my family and I make our home. I support fair wages, healthcare, real paid family & medical leave, and quality education for every NH student. I oppose educational voucher programs that siphon tax dollars from public schools. And I believe that discriminatory legislation has no place in New Hampshire. Find out more about me and my campaign on Facebook at Melanie Renfrew-Hebert for Goffstown. Thank you and please vote all the way down the ballot on November 8.

Curt DeVetter NH House District 4

When I decided to run for the New Hampshire House of Representatives, it was shortly after the Dobbs decision to remove federal protections for women's reproductive rights, and the Uvalde school shooting earlier this year. At the time, I was concerned about the direction our country was headed, but I didn't know what I could do to help protect my daughter as she grows up. Shortly after, the chair of Democratic Committee asked if I would consider serving as representative for Goffstown, and I knew it was more than coincidence, but meant to be. If I am sworn in as Representative, I will vote to protect Granite Staters' rights, not jeopardize their health care and the legal safety of their doctors and healthcare providers. I will vote to protect our children in school with common sense gun reforms. I will encourage our state to lead the nation in sustainable solutions to climate change and diversify our energy portfolio so our residents aren't trapped in an energy monopoly that has gone out of control. Most of all, I will vote with the future in mind. I hope you will vote for me on November 8th.
