Students in Joab Owen's welding classes at John Stark Regional High School visited HP Fairfield, "The Snow-Plow People," in Contoocook, to get an up-close look at the many phases and trades involved in building a highway snowplow. The students were able to see several vehicles in various phases of their build and also learned about the career opportunities available at HP Fairfield after high school in welding, electrical, and hydraulic systems as well as Fairfield's robust "learn as you work" program.

Death threats at Hillsboro-Deering

Henniker man arrested after threatening students

A Henniker man is behind bars after police said he threatened to kill students at Hillsboro-Deering High School while at the campus on Monday afternoon. Shawn Mitchell, 27, is facing several misdemeanor charges in the case.

According to court documents, students told a police officer on campus that Mitchell, who was at the school to pick up a relative, went up to car windows Monday as students were leaving, cursed and pointed at them and said he would come back and "kill them all."

"The safety of all members of our school community is of paramount importance, and a responsibility that we take very seriously. If you or your child see something threatening or suspicious, whether on social media or otherwise, please report it to local law enforcement and school administration immediately. We keep each other safe by working together," Jennifer Crawford, Superintendent of Schools, said in a notice to parents.

Investigators tracked Mitchell down at his home in Henniker, where police there said they already had existing felony warrants out for three counts of criminal threatening with a deadly weapon, among other charges, for an incident that happened in January.

Mitchell was taken into custody after police said he resisted arrest and shoved an officer.

He faces four counts of criminal threatening and single counts of disorderly conduct, simple assault and resisting arrest. The charges were imposed by police in Hillsborough and Henniker.

Hopkinton, Weare, Henniker FIRST Robotics Team off to World Championships

The FIRST Robotics team out of Hopkinton, Weare, and Henniker New Hampshire — Team OzRam 1922!

They had an amazing season with an awesome team of dedicated students who built an amazing robot, and learned about mechanical and electrical engineering. Students learned how to program and code our robot to execute game-play functions, and used their creativity and also learned how to recover from failure. And, most importantly they learned what it means to be on a team and support each other. They were all in during our robot build season and early competitions... and now, have been invited to the FIRST World Championship in Houston!

The team needs help to ensure that all members who want to go to the World Championship in Houston are able to go! Please consider a donation. Funds will help pay for registration and travel expenses. Registration for the FIRST Championship is $5000. We need to secure rooming, airfare, meals, and transportation. We want to bring as many students as possible to the event (not all team members are pictured below), which means that to help cover these expenses, we need support. Please consider supporting them, any amount can help make a huge difference in their lives and leave a positive impact on our communities.

The team website is www.ozram1922.org if you want to know more.

Great Brook School robotics team is off to the World Championships

The Awesome Potatoes robotics team, from Great Brook Middle School, is returning to the VEX Robotics World Championship in Dallas next week. The Antrim contingent is one of only two NH schools from more than 800 teams from about 40 countries sending middle school teams.

Their robot, Sir Quasimodo Crypton Reshawn Potato Bot, or Problem Bot for short, must be driven to various terminals, where it will collect plastic disks, drives to a barrier and slides the disks to the other side of the playing field.

Coach Rick Mellin started the Great Brook robotics program in 2020 right before the COVID lockdown. He said the all-girls team is confident, and are eager to take on and beat the boys.

Good luck at the First World Championships.

Fantastic community response to Greenfield family in need

A heartwarming update on the Thursday March 30 house fire that completely destroyed the home of our host family, including their six children and two of our adult clients with disabilities. The family remains safe and cared for in a temporary shelter.

The public's response to this emergency is heartwarming - many have donated to help provide basic needs, including food, clothing, and shelter costs. This has been a celebration of community action - kindness overcoming adversity.

And, you may recall that one of our adults with a disability, his name is Mike, suffered the trauma of losing all personal items and clothes in the fire, most especially his 'voice' - his adaptive iPad that functions as his communication device to 'speak' with family, friends, and caregivers. Your donations helped purchase Mike's new communication device. He is thrilled! Mike, and all members of his host family, are grateful for your kindness.

Mike, and his host family, still need your support for urgent, basic needs.

Will you help them recover from this disaster?

Please donate to our House Fire Fund. 100% of your donation will go directly to supporting this family. If supporting via check, write "House Fire Fund" in the memo field and send to:

Crotched Mountain Foundation, 186 Granite Suite, Suite 3C, Manchester, NH 03101.

Or donate online at www.cmf.org/donate and select "House Fire Fund" from the list provided.

Mike and his new iPad

Adam Caragher has been named as the new principal at Great Brook School, and will begin July 1. "We're very excited to welcome Adam to ConVal," Superintendent Kimberly Rizzo Saunders stated. "He has diverse educational experience both inside and outside of the classroom."

John Stark students participate in UMass Lowell's Model UN Conference

The John Stark Model UN Club attended the UMass Lowell Model UN Conference on April 4 and 5. This conference offers students the opportunity to debate critical issues facing the global community, as well as develop public speaking, research, and writing skills, in a traditional Model UN setting.

The UMass Lowell Model UN is one of the premier high school conferences in New England, drawing nearly 100 delegates each spring. John Stark Model UN Club students who participated, with their committees and countries, were:

Emily Barriere, Security Council, Albania

Shayne Sargent, NATO, Albania (homeschool student)

Evan Browne, Economic and Social Council, Nepal

Daphne Walsh, UN Office on Drugs and Crime, Nepal

Tess Mosher, World Health Organization, Nepal

Some of the topics discussed were: Reforming the UN Security Council Provisional Rules of Procedure to promote greater equity of global concerns, Combatting Russia's aggression in Eastern Europe, Global Energy Supply Chain Disruptions, Combating the Resurgence and Evolution of Vector-borne Diseases, Protecting Natural, and Cultural Heritage and Addressing the Modern Drug Trade.

Before attending the Model UN Conference, students prepared by researching their committee, country, and topic. Each student also submitted a position paper prior to attending the conference. The John Stark Model UN Club Advisor is social studies teacher Jessica Regal.

NEC moving NH Institute of Art classes to Henniker Campus this fall

New England College has announced that it is moving its art and design program from Manchester to its main campus in Henniker this fall. The school, previously New Hampshire Institute of Art, merged with NEC several years ago.

In a statement to the community, the president said there has been a "downward trend" in participation in the arts since the pandemic. Students expressed their frustrations and new challenges that will come with the move.

Sunapee Police Sgt. Nicholas Boisvert was recognized by New London EMS for his involvement in a recent CPR Save of Sunapee Resident Sharon Feeny, who collapsed while walking on Lake Avenue in Sunapee Harbor earlier this year. Sgt. Nick Boisvert was first on scene and took over chest compressions immediately upon arrival. Due to his quick thinking and training, Sgt. Boisvert ultimately saved the life of Ms. Feeny, who joined him while he received his CPR Save Pin and SPD's Meritorious Award.

A record 1770 donors joined Colby-Sawyer College's Day of Giving

Colby-Sawyer College concluded its fifth annual Day of Giving on Thursday, April 13 with a record 1,770 donors making financial contributions to the college.

Members of the Colby-Sawyer community rallied to easily surpass the college's goal of 1,500 donors, with 1,770 students, alumni, faculty, staff members, trustees and friends making gifts during the 24-hour event. In total, more than $300,000 was raised to support different areas of the college, from scholarships to athletics to a student-led campaign to improve the game room. By contrast, the college's first-ever Day of Giving in 2019 saw 837 donors raise a total of $163,532.

Milestones met throughout the day unlocked an additional $95,000 in gifts that helped bring the day's final fundraising total to $304,114. These gifts — $50,000 from William and Sonja Carlson Davidow '56, $35,000 from trustee Sally Shaw Veitch '66 and $10,000 from trustee Andrew Lydecker '00 and his wife, Halley Westdale Lydecker '00 — helped maximize the impact of every donation.

The college also benefited greatly from supporters of its athletics programs, with 662 individual donations raising a total of $39,322 to support the department and individual teams. Leading the charge were supporters of the baseball team — including current and former student athletes, coaches and friends, among others — who raised more than $11,500.

"We knew that it would take every corner of the Colby-Sawyer community to come together to reach this year's donor goal and we were not disappointed," Vice President for College Advancement Daniel Parish said.

Antrim residents gathered Friday evening and Saturday morning for a Visioning Session. They signed up to discuss such topics as Affordable Housing, Town Beautification, Encouraging Small Business and Children's Activities.

Don't be upset by an amazing 2 letter English word

A reminder that one word in the English language that can be a noun, verb, adjective, adverb and preposition. - UP

This two-letter word in English has more meanings than any other two-letter word, and that word is 'UP.' It is listed in the dictionary as an [adv], [prep.], [adj.], [n] or [v].

It's easy to understand UP, meaning toward the sky or at the top of the list, but when we awaken in the morning, why do we wake UP?

At a meeting, why does a topic come UP? Why do we speak UP, and why are the officers UP for election and why is it UP to the secretary to write UP a report?

We call UP our friends, brighten UP a room, polish UP the silver, warm UP the leftovers and clean UP the kitchen. We lock UP the house and fix UP the old car.

At other times, this little word has real special meaning. People stir UP trouble, line UP for tickets, work UP an appetite, and think UP excuses.

To be dressed is one thing but to be dressed UP is special.

And this UP is confusing: A drain must be opened UP because it is stopped UP.

We open UP a store in the morning but we close it UP at night. We seem to be pretty mixed UP about UP!

To be knowledgeable about the proper uses of UP, look UP the word UP in the dictionary. In a desk-sized dictionary, it takes UP almost 1/4 of the page and can add UP to about thirty definitions.

If you are UP to it, you might try building UP a list of the many ways UP is used. It will take UP a lot of your time, but if you don't give UP, you may wind UP with a hundred or more.

When it threatens to rain, we say it is clouding UP. When the sun comes out, we say it is clearing UP. When it rains, the earth soaks it UP. When it does not rain for awhile, things dry UP.

One could go on and on, but I'll wrap it UP, for now . . . my time is UP!

Oh . . . one more thing: What is the first thing you do in the morning and the last thing you do at night?

U ... P!

Did that one crack you UP? Don't screw UP. Send this on to everyone you look UP in your address book . . . or not . . . it's UP to you.

Now I'll shut UP!

Letter to the Editor

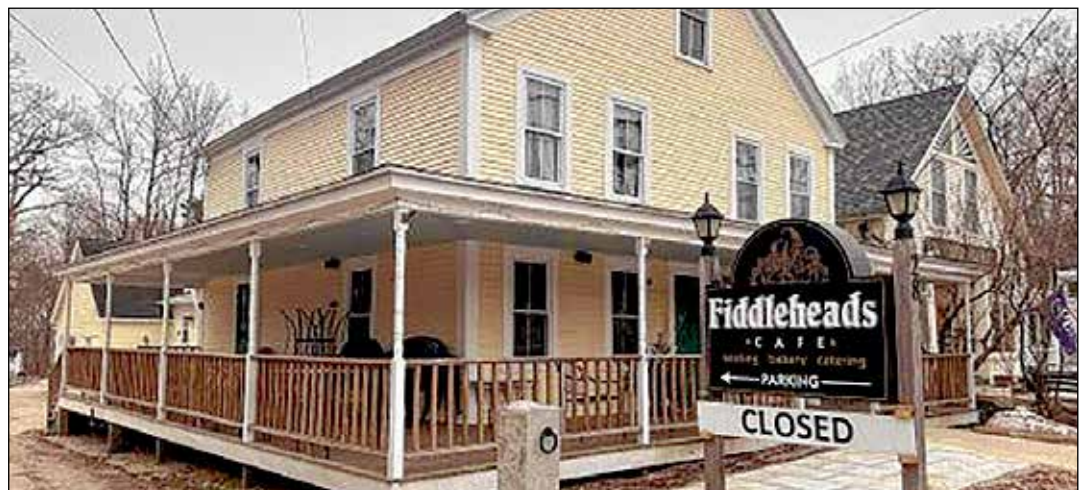

Dear Editor:

This past week, our local newspapers reported on protests by students in several NH high schools against the ever-increasing gun violence in the country.

On behalf of the Weare-Henniker Quaker Meeting we applaud the students' stand and agree with the students that we adults need to care more about our children than the right to own assault weapons. Just sending condolences and prayers is not enough. The time for us to protect our communities from gun violence is past due.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Researchers have identified a link suggesting that lithium could decrease the risk of developing dementia. Lithium is a mood stabilizer usually prescribed for conditions such as bipolar affective disorder and depression. The researchers conducted a retrospective analysis of the health records of nearly 30,000 patients. The analysis suggested that patients who received lithium were less likely to develop dementia than those who did not, although the overall number of patients who received lithium was small. Their findings, reported in the journal PLOS Medicine, support the possibility that lithium could be a preventive treatment for dementia, and could be progressed to large randomized controlled trials. Dementia is the leading cause of death in elderly Western populations, but no preventive treatments are currently available: more than 55 million people worldwide have dementia, with Alzheimer's disease the most common form. Previous studies have proposed lithium as a potential treatment for those who have already been diagnosed with dementia or early cognitive impairment, but it is unclear whether it can delay or even prevent the development of dementia altogether, as these studies have been limited in size.

The antiviral drug molnupiravir is conditionally recommended for patients with non-severe Covid-19 who are at highest risk of hospitalization, says a WHO Guideline Development Group of international experts in The BMJ. Patients who are at highest risk of hospitalization typically include those who are unvaccinated, older people, and those with weak immune systems or chronic diseases. However, the panel says that young and healthy patients, including children, and pregnant and breastfeeding women should not be given the drug due to potential harms. Molnupiravir is an antiviral medicine that works by stopping coronavirus from growing and spreading. Used as early as possible after infection, it can help prevent more severe symptoms developing.

HOMEOWNERS INSURANCE: PART V

By: Joyce Bosse

How Homeowners Insurance Rates Are Determined

So what's the driving force behind rates? It's the likelihood a homeowner will file a claim — the insurer's perceived "risk." And to determine risk, home insurance companies give significant consideration to past home insurance claims submitted by the homeowner as well as claims related to that property and the homeowner's credit.

While insurers are there to pay claims, they're also in it to make money. Insuring a home that has had multiple claims in the past three to seven years, even if a previous owner filed the claim, can bump your home insurance premium into a higher pricing tier. You may not even be eligible for home insurance based on the number of recent past claims filed.

The neighborhood, crime rate, and building material availability will all play a part in determining rates, too. And of course, coverage options such as deductibles or added riders for art, wine, jewelry, etc. — and the coverage amount desired — also factor into the size of an annual premium.

Pricing and eligibility for home insurance can also vary depending on an insurer's appetite for certain building construction, roof type, condition or age of the home, heating type (if an oil tank is on-premise or underground), the proximity to the coast, swimming pool, trampoline, security systems, and more.

A home that's not well-maintained increases the odds the insurer will pay on a claim for damage. Even the presence of a pup residing at your home can raise your home insurance rates. Some dogs can do a lot of damage, depending on the breed.

DENTAL CARE WHEN SICK

Q: Is it okay to let dental care go temporarily while I'm sick?

A: If your system is already compromised by a short-term or long-term illness, it's even more important for you to keep up your dental health. Keeping up your dental care will protect your mouth and may contribute to your overall recovery.

Keep these thoughts in mind: If you've had a sore throat, mouth infection, a cold or the flu, replace your toothbrush to avoid re-infecting yourself. Keep the toothbrush of any sick family member isolated from the others.

If you have a respiratory infection, sore throat or stuffed head with mucus and post-nasal drip, your breath is not going to be the most pleasant. You'll feel better, as will the people around you, if you keep your mouth as fresh as possible. If you go even a few days without brushing and flossing, plaque can harden to the point at which it's impossible to remove at home.

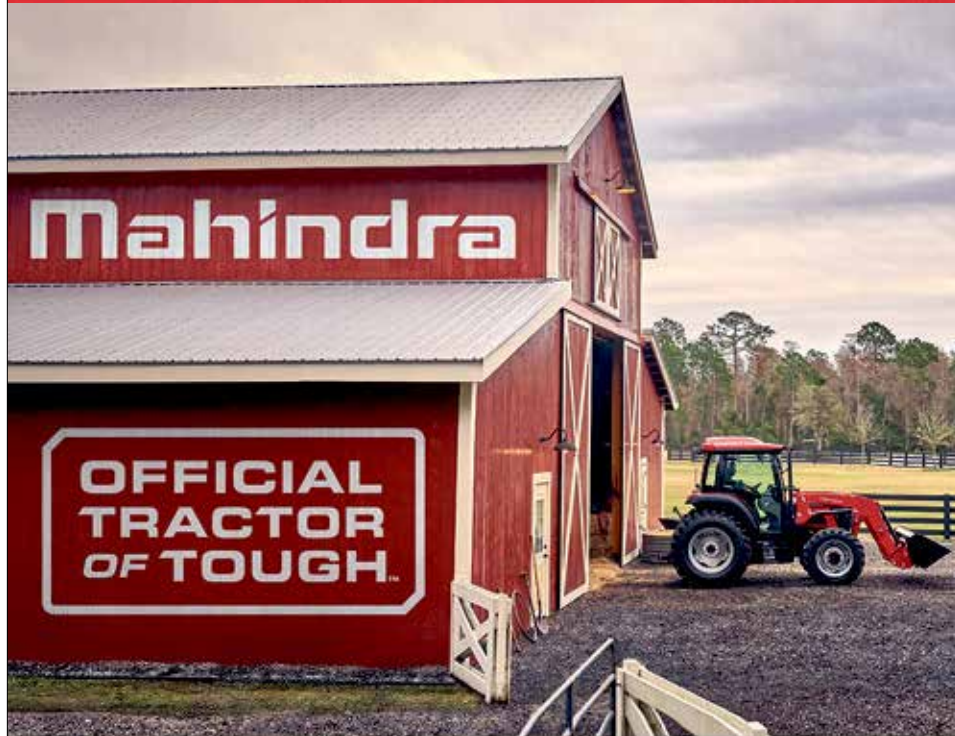

In addition, some medicines can affect your mouth adversely. They can cause dry mouth, for instance. And some have sugar in them. Unless otherwise instructed by your doctor, take those medicines with a meal to reduce the impact of the sugar on your teeth. For more information, talk with your dentist.

Robert Howard Law Office Henniker, New Hampshire

I have enjoyed my practice in Henniker and the surrounding towns for many years. Lately, I have been focusing my efforts to maintain an office practice, such as real estate issues, estate planning and administration. I have been referring more complex matters to other firms for some years, such as criminal matters, divorces, and injury recoveries.

Alfano Law Office is a firm with offices in several towns and cities, including Concord. They have accepted my request to name them as "Of Counsel" to my practice, so that my clients can benefit from their expertise, if they choose. I receive no financial benefit for these referrals, but can be comfortable that my clients will be in good hands for matters requiring more work than I am willing to attempt. That being said, I hope to be available to my many clients for a long time.
