Hillsboro-Deering Class of 2024 reminded

It's not just the destination - It's the journey

Most of the huge crowd was seated under the tent before the rain began, and it stopped before the ceremony ended. A great omen for the Class of 2024 at Hillsboro-Deering High School.

Principal Jim O'Rourke welcomed all to the festivities.

Student Body President, and Salutatorian Michael Denslow asked his fellow graduates who were entering military service to join him on stage for the Pledge of Allegiance and while the band played the National Anthem.

Senior class President Daniel Franklin, noting the beginning of a new stage in the graduates' lives, urged them to join him, and "Let's get started."

Valedictorian Megan Denslow, comparing her life to the various stages exhibited by Russian Nesting Dolls, reminded her classmates that, "We are not done growing and improving."

Teacher William Knoff, long-time advisor to the now senior class, highlighted their many challenges and achievements sine entering high school during the Covid-19 Epidemic. After congratulating them on their accomplishments, he cautioned them to remember, as they enter this new phase of their lives, that, "it's not just the destination, it's the journey."

The entire class rose in a prolonged standing ovation.

Michael Denslow returned to the stage to lead the class in the traditional tassel fly as the transition was complete.

Select Board denies petition to forgive Antrim church taxes

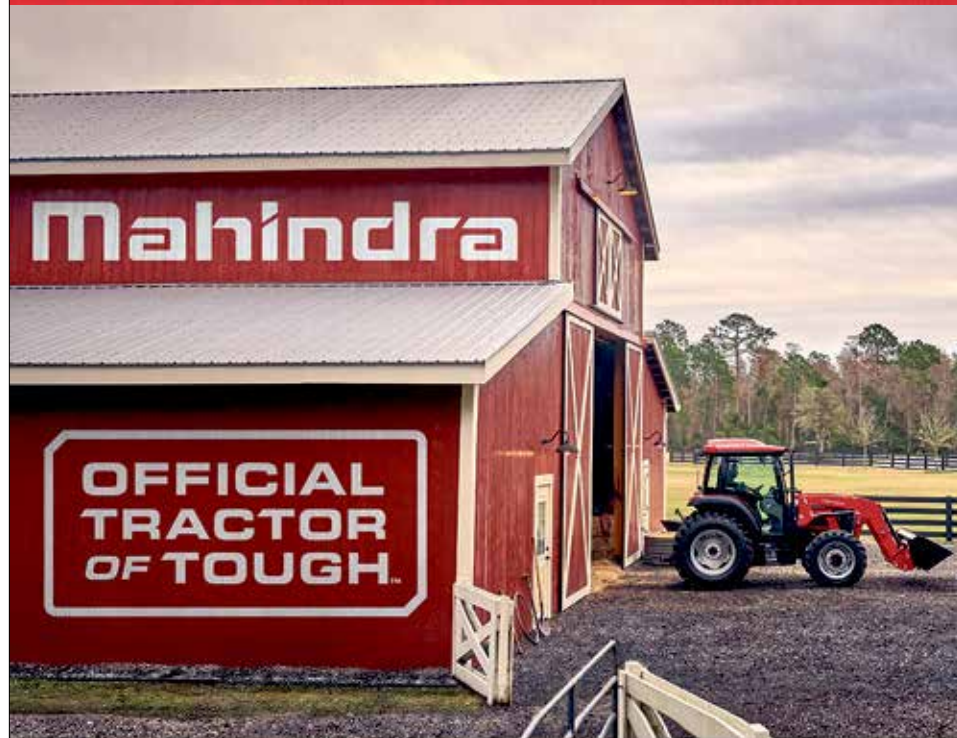

The Antrim Select Board has denied a petition to hold a special Town Meeting in order to abate a tax lien on the Antrim Church of Christ, aka, "Brown Church."

Board members reportedly felt that a special Town Meeting was not the appropriate means of resolving the situation.

The petition, signed by more than 150 residents, asked for the town to forgive a $30,000 tax lien on the church. The Board rejected the petition on the grounds that the matter was beyond the jurisdiction of Town Meeting.

Hopkinton High School Class of 2024 Graduates urged to “find passion in life”

After the traditional entry of the graduates to formally greet the teacher, “clapping in,” which this year also included faculty members of the elementary schools, they filed on stage to begin the process of graduation.

Principal Kelley stated that this was not just a ceremony, but a testament of the hard work and determination by the students who were ending one chapter and beginning another, and have already proven that they can do great things.

As with many other graduations this year, students were reminded how much they had overcome and how, while the first part of their high school experiences were much different than those who had come before, they were praised for their ability to pivot and adapt.

Class President Thaddeus Maughan told his fellow classmates to find passion in life and cautioned them not to make the times at Hopkinton High School the best times of their lives. Also, to remember the times spent and make paths that they may be remembered for.

This year’s School Board comment was presented by Dulcie Madden Lipoma, a Hopkinton High School graduate 25 years earlier. She expressed how much she loves the town and how fortunate she feels to be back and impressed upon the graduates that above all else, they be kind.

And as is tradition, the faculty lined up facing each other in the middle aisle to “clap out” and congratulate the newly minted graduates on their way out into the world.

Newport graduates challenged “Strive for greatness, but don’t forget where you came from”

The threat of rain held off as faculty, family and friends gathered on the high school football field Wednesday evening to cheer on the 51 graduates of Newport Middle High School’s Class of 2024.

The evening was the culmination of all the hard work, dedication and persistency of a class which entered high school at the height of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Newport High School Concert Band played “Pomp and Circumstance” as the graduates entered. School Board Vice Chair Kathryn Boutin made introductory remarks, Aidan Couitt sang the National Anthem.

Class President Kyle Ashley urged his fellow graduates to, “Strive for greatness, but don’t ever forget where you came from.” Shihanna Toliver recited the class poem, and then added, “No matter where we end up, we started the same, and our legacy will live on with our name. Our dreams and goals will lead the way, and it all starts here, on our graduation day,” Toliver read to the crowd to finish off the poem.

Salutatorian Rachel Le-Francois reminded her classmates that, “When life brings you down, don’t let it drag you down the wrong path,” LeFrancois said. “And if you find yourself somewhere less than desirable, it’s never too late to turn around. You only have one life, so make it how you want it. You can do whatever you want to do and (be) whoever you want to be.”

Valedictorian Katie Sharon compared life to a book, saying, “Without these people in this chapter of my life my book wouldn’t be successful.”

Superintendent Donna Ma- goon concluded the ceremony saying, “Revel in this moment. You have earned it.”

Newport seniors received their diplomas.

SKIN BY ANY NAME

Q: Is the skin in my mouth less susceptible to disease than the rest of my skin?

A: Essentially, skin is skin, whether it's in your mouth or on your arm. Therefore, the skin in your mouth is also vulnerable to skin issues. For instance, a rash in the mouth may be related to a rash on another part of your body. In some cases, a rash related to some medical disorder may first appear in the mouth and your dentist may be the first health-care professional to detect and diagnose a problem.

Depending on the nature of the rash, your dentist may refer you to a dermatologist, a physician who specializes in care of the skin and treatment skin diseases. Your dentist and the dermatologist may work collaboratively on your situation. Dentists are generally particularly vigilant with a patient who's been treated by a dermatologist for sun-damaged skin. Dermatologists are trained to identify and remove pre-cancerous lesions that may have been caused by exposure to the sun. Your lips, because of their tenderness and unprotected position on the face, are a common location for skin cancer.

The skin in your mouth, the reddish-pinkish tissue, is called oral mucosa. The top layer is called epithelium, which is found on other parts of the body. Talk with your dentist for more information about protecting the skin in and around your mouth.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Most mothers who took prescription antiseizure medications during pregnancy can breathe a sigh of relief: A new study published in Lancet Neurology found that young children who were exposed to commonly-prescribed medications in utero do not have worse neurodevelopmental outcomes than children of healthy women. Commonly used antiseizure medications such as lamotrigine and levetiracetam are generally considered effective and safe, especially compared to many first-generation epilepsy treatments that carried profound risks to the unborn child. But while epilepsy may no longer be the reason that prevents someone from starting a family, there is still not enough information about how drugs taken by the mother affect maternal and child outcomes after delivery. Epilepsy is a neurological disorder of abnormal electrical activity in the brain that affects over one million American women of childbearing age. With its sudden and debilitating seizures and limited number of medications, which caused significant risks to the developing fetus, the condition was considered incompatible with pregnancy for much of the 20th century, though that landscape is gradually changing. In a secondary analysis researchers found that a high dosage of levetiracetam in the third trimester of pregnancy was correlated with adverse neurodevelopmental effects on the baby and recommend especially careful monitoring of blood levels of this drug and thoughtful dosing strategies.

More than eight million people in the U.S. experience psoriasis, a condition in which skin cells build up and form itchy dry patches. A person's vitamin D levels could play an important role in psoriasis severity, according to one of the largest studies to date. The analysis, presented at NUTRITION 2023, the annual meeting of the American Society for Nutrition showed a linear relationship between increasing psoriasis severity and decreasing vitamin D levels measured through blood tests. The results suggest that a vitamin D-rich diet or oral vitamin D supplementation may also provide some benefit to psoriasis patients.

ConVal Graduates told “Be patient, be persistent, and most of all, take joy in the process”

Cloudy skies and the threat of rain could not dampen the spirit of ConVal Regional High School’s Commencement Exercises on Saturday. The Class of 2024 marched in to the traditional “Pomp and Circumstance.” Jazzy Woodhouse performed The National Anthem, and Abigail Lussier led the Pledge of Allegiance and recited the ConVal Mission Statement.

In her Welcoming address, Gabrielle Ramsden thanked the people in her life that had helped shape her and make her grow, and urged her classmates to, “Take a moment to thank them. This may be our graduation, but it’s a big moment for the people in our lives.”

Valedictorian Nathan Klonel quoted from “The Garden,” from the “Frog and Toad Together” collection. “Thirteen years ago, with the help of parents, teachers and friends, we each planted our gardens... Today, as we look around, we see the beautiful garden we have cultivated, each unique and flourishing. As we embark on new adventures, maybe we can carry the lessons of Frog and Toad with us.”

Co-Salutatorian Liza Petrov, using a Chinese proverb, reminded her classmates that, “Try to not put all of these things on the back burner, but if you do, know the Chinese proverb: “The best time to plant a tree is 20 years ago. The second-best time is now.”

Co-Salutatorian Emma Rodenhiser recalled one of the lessons she learned at ConVal is time, “if you are always thinking of what’s going to happen next, you are missing the little moments that you might appreciate later.”

Class Speaker Lucy Jackson wanted the class to know that when times get tough, “Think about the things that bring you joy.

Principal Heather McKillop handed out diplomas while Superintendent Dr. Kimberly Rizzo Saunders, herself departing the ConVal family, presented Pins to the graduates.

Valedictorian Nathan Klonel addresses the crowd.

Nattanan Kotseas, of Dunbarton, NH is the 2024 recipient of the Janice H. McElroy Scholarship. Jan McElroy was a Past District Governor of District 7870 and Past President of the Henniker Rotary Club. ## 5 REASONS TO CONSIDER REDESIGNING YOUR OUTDOOR SPACES: PART II

By: Joyce Bosse

To give you a bit more variety beyond your home's walls, consider redesigning your outdoor spaces to create a haven for recreation and relaxation. Best of all, outdoor spaces add value to your home if you plan to sell. Here are three more design trends you might want to think about.

3. Monochromatic colors with accents

While lighter, tone-on-tone color palettes remain popular, accent colors and accessories are on the rise. Using cool, monochromatic tones with choice accent colors can create a brighter or contrasting outdoor living space.

4. Modular design and geometric patterns

Another popular trend is modular, geometric standard patterns composed of clean lines and simple formats. Simple patterns create a modern, uncluttered aesthetic that emphasizes furniture or other focal points in the space. Large format patterns and pavers also lend themselves to this style, allowing for more efficient installation.

5. Entangled design

As people blend their outdoor spaces to serve as extensions of their homes, many are focusing on entangled design, which combines the surrounding landscape with the hardscape design. Fractured edges with no defined break, natural stone transitions and irregular edges blended with boulders, grass and aggregate create a more natural, organic look that enhances design continuity.

The Kearsarge Class of 2036 welcomes the Class of 2024 to their Commencement

Despite the threat of rain during the ceremony, the air in the crowd was nothing but exuberant. Following the entrance of the teachers and Class of 2024, the members of the Class of 2036 were welcomed to the stage, as is tradition, where they and the chorus sang "God Bless America."

Adara Boucher welcomed and thanked parents, teachers, friends and especially faculty advisers Miss Fish and Mr. Gunn, with special thanks being given to them chaperoning their first class trip since 7th grade.

A theme of most graduations this year included a nod to COVID and how it made things different, but students were resilient, and Superintendent Winifred, who retires this month, stated that while this class' Freshman year started in fear, it required the ability to adapt and required courage.

Principal Charles Langille, Jr. had told the class that he had a surprise for them, and, actually he had more than one. First, he promised to keep his speech short, and second he told a story about his mother.

Her favorite flower was a yellow rose, so his father planted and raised yellow roses for her. He then give each student a yellow rose, with the instructions that they were to first smell the rose, then think about someone who had touched them in some way, and then to give the rose away. As students came down from the stage and followed his instructions, many were obviously moved. Finally, after the diplomas had been given out, pictures taken, and the confetti canons blew the yellow and blue confetti, the rain then came down.

In addition to joining the Class of 2036 in "God Bless America," the Kearsarge Regional High School Chorus performed both the "National Anthem" and a musical selection of "The Parting Glass" at the school's recent graduation.

Police are looking to identify a man who allegedly assaulted a clerk while shoplifting in Franklin. Police responded to the Franklin Fast Food Mart on North Main Street for a report of a disturbance. The man in a red sweatshirt is believed to be involved in the incident, but the suspect fled the scene before police arrived. ## State Senator Dan Innis files for re-election

State Senator Dan Innis (R-Bradford) officially filed for re-election to the State Senate in District 7.

“Over the past two years, it has been my honor to serve the people of District 7, and I am very happy to announce that I will seek re-election this November.

Whether it was fighting to lower out-of-pocket costs on prescription drugs, encouraging more affordable housing, protecting parent’s rights and increasing educational choice, or keeping

New Hampshire from adopting a sales or income tax, my priorities have always been to stand up for my constituents and ensure that we keep our Live Free or Die values alive.

The common-sense policies of the Republican State Senate majority has helped to keep New Hampshire safe from many of the problems that we’re seeing in our neighboring states. We stick to our principles of small government and low taxes, and the results have been that New Hampshire is consistently rated as one of the top places to live and raise a family.

If re-elected, I will continue to make my focus keeping New Hampshire’s economy on the path to success even as we see the bad policies of Washington politicians drive up costs and inflation. As a small business owner and a professor in UNH’s Peter Paul College of Business and Economics, I know the importance the small businesses have on our state’s economy and the Granite Staters that they employ. I will continue to cut red tape, and keep taxes low for all Granite Staters.”

Senator Dan Innis has represented District 7 in the NH State Senate since 2022. He lives in Bradford. Dan is a professor at the UNH Peter Paul School of Business and Economics and runs a small farm called “Trail’s End” out of Bradford. District 7 includes Alexandria, Andover, Boscawen, Bradford, Bridgewater, Bristol, Danbury, Franklin, Goshen, Grafton, Hebron, Henniker, Hill, Hillsborough, Newbury, Orange, Salisbury, Sutton, Tilton, Warner, Webster, and Wilmot.

Senator Becky Whitley drops out of Congressional race

Senate Assistant Democratic Leader Becky Whitley of Hopkinton abruptly ended her bid for the 2nd Congressional District seat on the first day of candidate filing Wednesday.

Whitley, a 44-year-old attorney, said the “outsized role of money and insider connections in politics” was behind her decision to drop out of the race to replace Democrat U.S. Rep. Annie Kuster, who decided against seeking a seventh term this fall. “I am deeply proud of the campaign we ran and the role we played, but at this juncture, I don’t believe remaining in the race is the highest and best use of the full weight of my time and energy, nor the best way to advance my goals in public service,” Whitley said in her statement.

Whitley was a favorite among many liberal activists, but she clearly struggled to raise enough money to compete with former Executive Councilor Colin Van Ostern of Concord and former federal Justice Department executive Maggie Goodlander of Nashua.

Van Ostern already has attracted several hundred supporters to his campaign, including Kuster and many prominent Democratic leaders.

Goodlander is married to Biden National Security Advisor Jake Sullivan. Both have close ties to Hillary Clinton and served in Washington during both Obama administrations as well.

“I entered public office not for titles or prestige, but to level the playing field so everyone has a chance to get ahead, not just the privileged few,” Whitley said.

“My goal has always been to be a voice for working families, advocate for those most left behind, and to build and share power to improve lives.”

While Whitley is leaving elective office, she vowed to stay involved at the State House to work on issues of importance to working families.

“I also urge perspective during this election season. The money flowing into this race could fund my bill to feed all New Hampshire children experiencing food insecurity over the summer and provide more free lunches during the upcoming school year,” Whitley said.

Three Democrats already have announced they will run to try to replace her in the state Senate: Reps. Angela Brennan of Bow and Rebecca McWilliams of Concord along with Merrimack County Commissioner Tara Rear-don of Concord.

Bow Falcons Division II baseball champions.

Bow defeats John Stark in Division II Baseball Semifinals

#4 Bow 10, #1 John Stark 2:

This time, the Bow High School baseball team didn't chase bad pitches.

Against one of the best pitching staffs in NHIAA Division II, the Falcons were disciplined at the plate in their 10-2 semifinal triumph over John Stark.

Bow wasted little time picking up where its offense left off on Wednesday, when it scored 10 runs against the Generals.

Top-seeded John Stark finished with a 17-2 record. When Bow lost, 2-0, at John Stark on May 1, the Falcons chased too many high pitches, said coach Ben Forbes.

That was trouble considering the velocity of the fastballs thrown by Generals pitchers Chase Philibotte, an All-Division II First Team selection, and Anthony Paolicelli, the D-II Player of the Year.

Falcons soar to a 13-3 Division II baseball Championship

#4 Bow 13, #3 Souhegan 3:

The Falcons completed the 2024 season in style with Saturday's 13-3 rout of Souhegan in the championship game. The fourth-seeded Falcons scored seven runs in the third inning highlighted by senior Sean Guerrette's two-run double to right field, and cruised to their first crown since 2019.

Guerrette added a run-scoring double in a five-run seventh inning and also earned the mound victory with 3 2/3 innings. The Falcons collected nine hits in what Coach Ben Forbes called one of his team's best offensive performances.

Every Bow starter scored at least once. Colby Smith contributed a two-run single in the third, when 12 men came to the plate, then added an RBI hit in the seventh. Brady Lover cracked a double and two singles and scored twice. Owen Webber smacked a two-run triple and scored two runs.

Coe-Brown defeats Bow in the Division II Softball Semifinals

#1 Coe-Brown 4, #4 Bow 0:

Coe-Brown sophomore Kylie Bieniek walked the first Bow hitter she faced on Tuesday night to start the Division II softball semifinal.

Relatively inexperienced at the high school level, things could've gone south quickly from there. Instead, the complete opposite happened.

Bieniek dominated, retiring 21 of the next 22 batters she faced. When the Falcons' Reis Domini popped up to second base with two outs in the top of the seventh and the Bears leading 4-0, Bieniek completed the milestone: a no-hitter. With a state championship game berth on the line, the sophomore right-hander guided the way. Seven innings, no hits, two walks, 12 strikeouts.

Campbell defeats Bow in the Division III Lacrosse Championship

Campbell 6, Bow 4:

Bow and Campbell were locked in a wrestling match. After a tug-of-war battle under a clear Saturday sky, the spark of a long, summer-tinted Falcon season finally gave out in a 6-4 loss to the Cougars. No. 2 Campbell (17-3) defeated No. 5 Bow (12-5) to take the Division III boys' lacrosse championship title home from Bank of New Hampshire Stadium at Laconia High School.
