Proposed Henniker ordinance change draws strong opposition

The Henniker Select Board held a public hearing Tuesday evening on a proposed change to the ordinance regulating the Riverfront parking area along the Contoocook River and located behind commercial properties on the south side of Main Street.

The access driveways and parking area include adjacent separate lots owned by the property owners. The town holds an easement for the area granted by the dissolved Henniker Civic Association, which conveys rights described in multiple easements granted to the HCA.

The ordinance assumed a quasi-public framework involving shared responsibilities between the Association and the town.

Since that time, material circumstances have changed:

1. The Henniker Civic Association has dissolved.
2. The affected parking areas are privately owned by abutting commercial property owners.
3. The Town holds easements recorded in 1988, which authorize access and certain activities but does not require the Town to maintain, manage, or regulate the area. 4. The Town does not own the parking areas, and they are not designated, improved, or maintained as parks or recreational facilities. The changes in circumstances and budgetary pressures require the Board to reconsider both the substance and the classification of The Riverfront Parking Area.

Specifically, the Board wants to amend the ordinance so general maintenance of the Riverfront Parking Area would be the responsibility of the property owners and tenants.

The Town shall not expend public funds for routine maintenance of areas primarily serving private property owners, tenants, or employees. And the police would not enforce parking.

The proposal was opposed by virtually all the abutting business owners and the hearing was continued until the next Board meeting.

Kevin Daniels was one of several abutting business owners who spoke in opposition to the Board's proposed ordinance change.

The Merrimack congratulates Ella Duggan on her promotion to Branch & Business Development Manager. In this role, Ella will oversee branch operations while continuing to serve Contoocook and its small business community.

New London and Sunapee crews respond to single-vehicle accident

On Tuesday, April 7, 2026, at 10:05 a.m., a New London Ambulance that was traveling into Sunapee came upon a motor vehicle collision on Route 11 by Main Street in Georges Mills. At the same time, the New London Dispatch started receiving multiple 911 calls reporting the same. Subsequently, Sunapee Fire &

EMS, New London Ambulance, and Sunapee Police were toned to the accident.

Sunapee Car 1 arrived on the scene at 10:11 a.m. and reported a single vehicle accident with heavy damage to a truck and trailer. The driver of the vehicle was being assisted into the ambulance by the ambulance crew that was on scene.

Once Sunapee Rescue 1 and Forestry 6 arrived, Sunapee Fire personnel stabilized the vehicle and checked for leaking fluids. New London Ambulance treated and transported the injured driver to New London Hospital.

While the vehicle was recovered, Route 11 was shut down in both directions, and traffic was diverted down Main Street in Georges Mills.

Sunapee Fire & EMS and Sunapee Police cleared the scene at 11:51 a.m. once the vehicle was towed away and the roadway was reopened.

The Greenfield, NH Volunteer Fire Department was dispatched to 111 South View Rd. for a reported LP tank leaking. A Peterborough Fire & Rescue was requested to assist. The incident was overall minor in nature, no readings inside the building and Rymes Tech responded to seal the tank up.

TAKE YOUR MEDICINE

BY SARAH CHAPIN

Ibuprofen (Advil, Motrin) and paracetamol (Acetaminophen, TYLENOL) are common over-the-counter medications that many of us reach for when we're sick. But a new study published in npj Antimicrobials and Resistance shows that these trusted staples are quietly fueling one of the world's biggest health threats: antibiotic resistance. The researchers found that ibuprofen and paracetamol are not only driving antibiotic resistance when used individually but amplifying it when used together. Ibuprofen and paracetamol significantly increased bacterial mutations, making E. coli highly resistant to the antibiotic ciprofloxacin.

New research presented at the European Stroke Organization Conference (ESOC) 2025 revealed that the use of combined oral contraceptives (OCs) is associated with a threefold increase in the risk of cryptogenic ischemic stroke (CIS) in young women. The findings add to a growing body of evidence linking hormonal contraception to vascular risk in women of reproductive age. Cryptogenic ischemic stroke, which is stroke with no identifiable cause, accounts for up to 40% of all ischemic strokes in young adults.

Taking low-dose colchicine daily may slow the progression of a common acquired gene mutation found in the blood of older adults that can lead to certain blood cancers and increased risk of cardiovascular disease, according to a trial published in JACC, the flagship journal of the American College of Cardiology. Clonal hematopoiesis (CH) is an acquired mutation in blood stem cells that is linked to risk of developing leukemia and other blood cancers. It is also associated with a more than 1.5-fold increased risk of cardiovascular disease, including coronary heart disease, heart failure and arrhythmias. Research has shown that over 10% of people 70 years old and older carry one or more of these mutations and the risk increases with age.

BEYOND CLEAN TEETH: THE SURPRISING ADVANTAGES OF ROUTINE DENTAL VISITS: PART I

When was the last time you sat in that familiar dental chair, feeling both anxious and hopeful? Routine dental visits often conjure images of clean teeth and a quick chat about flossing. But there's so much more to these appointments than just fresh breath. Those regular check-ups can be pivotal for your overall well-being, influencing everything from your heart health to your mental state. It's time to dig deeper into why prioritizing general dentistry is essential for not just keeping cavities at bay but enhancing your quality of life as a whole. Buckle up; we're about to explore the surprising advantages of those routine dental visits!

The Obvious Benefits: Clean Teeth and Fresh Breath

Routine dental visits are essential for maintaining clean teeth and fresh breath. Regular check-ups allow your dentist to remove plaque and tartar buildup that can't be tackled by brushing alone.

A professional cleaning ensures that those hard-to-reach areas receive the attention they need. This not only brightens your smile but also enhances your confidence in social situations.

Fresh breath is another perk of a thorough cleaning. Bad breath often stems from bacteria lurking in the mouth, especially between teeth or along the gum line. By keeping up with regular visits, you significantly reduce this risk.

Moreover, having a routine means any emerging issues can be addressed promptly, preventing more significant problems later on. Investing time in these appointments pays off with a healthy mouth that feels great every day.

Weare woman to claim “self-defense” in shooting a Black man

A Weare woman, who is facing civil rights violations for allegedly telling a 911 operator she fired two shots at a lost man’s car because “the guy is Black,” is claiming self-defense for criminal charges she is facing for the same incident.

On Monday, Diane Durgin, 67, appeared in Hillsborough County Superior Court for the first time since the enforcement action by the state Department of Justice Civil Rights Unit was filed last month.

During a brief hearing, Judge William Delker agreed to pause the civil rights proceedings as the criminal case is expected to be resolved this summer. The request to stay the case was made by Durgin’s attorney, Monique Olson. “The allegations in this civil case substantially overlap with the facts, witnesses, and issues involved in the criminal proceeding,” Olson wrote in her briefing. Delker also granted the preliminary injunction at the request of the Attorney General’s Office. As the case proceeds, Durgin must stay away from the victims and participate, directly or indirectly, to any unlawful activities motivated by race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, sexual orientation, sex, gender identity or disability, according to the order.

On Oct. 20, 2024, X.G. (a Black man) drove to Weare to complete the purchase of a car part he had prearranged with a seller online. He mistakenly pulled into the driveway of Durgin’s home around 6 a.m. on Colby Road, according to the civil complaint.

Durgin exited her home with a gun holstered to her waist and approached X.G. all while calling him a “Black (expletive)” and threatening to kill him, according to the complaint.

Durgin allegedly fired two shots as X.G. attempted to leave. Both shots missed the vehicle. Durgin was indicted on first-degree assault with a firearm, criminal threatening and reckless conduct (deadly weapon). Last May, Durgin informed the court that she may claim at trial that she was justified in using or attempting to use force against X.G. in order to defend herself, according to court documents. During a request for a hearing, Durgin’s attorneys say X.G. arrived at the home unannounced around 6:20 a.m. when it was still dark and began lurking around heavy equipment and her barn without permission. She claims she told X.G. she and her husband don’t sell car parts, and he should leave.

“(X.G.) then told Mrs. Durgin to get into his car,” according to the defense filing. “After she refused, she started to walk away, but (X.G.) was only 10 to 15 feet away from her when he gunned his engine and started driving towards her.”

Prosecutors have said previous filings in the case have called into question the credibility of Durgin’s statement. Police have brought no charges against X.G. in the case, according to court documents. According to a police affidavit, X.G. told an officer that a woman, later identified as Durgin, approached him with a handgun while he remained seated in his car.

X.G. told police he tried to explain why he was on the property after getting lost and stated that Durgin “stuffed a gun in his face.” Durgin then fired at his car, according to the complaint.

Durgin’s husband, Michael, is also accused of firing a shot at the victim’s car from the porch.

Each violation of the Civil Rights Act allows for a maximum civil penalty of $5,000. Violations of the Civil Rights Act also empower the court to restrain defendants from committing future violations of the Civil Rights Act and other hate-motivated conduct for three years.

Durgin has denied the representations made by the Attorney General, according to court documents. “The defendant requests that the court both find that she did not violate the Civil Rights Act and find that no civil penalties should be imposed on the defendant,” a filing by Olson reads.

Sunapee Fire Department holds a Life Saving Award Ceremony

On February 18th, 2026, the New London Communications Center received a 911 call from a resident in Sunapee reporting someone not conscious and not breathing.

New London Dispatchers Acacia Mailloux and Madison Kricko started taking information from the caller and instructing them to do CPR.

Sunapee Police Sergeant Nick Boisvert arrived on the scene at 5:19 p.m. and took over chest compressions and applied an AED that Sunapee Police keep in their cruisers.

Sunapee Car 1 was the first arriving Fire/EMS unit on the scene, staffed by Lieutenant/EMR Joe Hampson, Lieutenant/EMT Timothy White, and Firefighter/AEMT Sabrina Tucker. Lieutenant/EMR Joe Hampson, Lieutenant/EMT Timothy White and Firefighter/AEMT Sabrina Tucker entered the residence right behind Lieutenant/EMR

Joe Hampson with all the necessary medical equipment from Sunapee Car 1.

New London Ambulance 5, staffed by Paramedics Liam Benshmer and Ryan Ridley assumed the roles of patient assessment and advanced airway management.

Thanks are given to the fast response from all involved: the 911 caller, Sergeant Boisvert, Lieutenant/EMR Hampson, Lieutenant/EMT White, Firefighter/AEMT Tucker, Paramedics Benshmer and Ridley.

The patient regained consciousness, was stabilized on scene, and then transported to the hospital for further treatment.

Multiple other members of Sunapee Fire & EMS also provided support on the scene by performing specific tasks: carrying equipment, assisting with safely moving the patient from the residence to the ambulance,

'No Kings' rallies - a staged production, not a grassroots movement

Recent "No Kings" rallies across New Hampshire and the nation were well-represented — and well-funded — by the Democratic Socialist apparatus. While organizers claim a "grassroots" origin, these protests are backed by a $3 billion network of far-left activist groups. This includes Indivisible, an organization linked to socialist billionaire George Soros, and Neville Roy Singham, the American tech tycoon based in China.

Far from a gathering of ordinary citizens, this was a managed production. Protesters waved Bolshevik and extremist flags alongside professionally printed signs openly flirting with rhetoric of violence. This is not the face of a spontaneous movement; it is a calculated effort by radical elements of the Democratic Party to manipulate voters through indoctrination and misinformation ahead of the November midterms. They are aided by a left-wing media that maintains a lopsided control over the national narrative. According to reports from the Media Research Center, the messaging advantage for the left sits at nearly 3-to-1. Yet, despite this dominance, the message remains fundamentally uninformed.

The motivation is clear: desperation for power. Democratic Socialists want open borders to welcome millions of illegal migrants who often do not assimilate, intending to overwhelm our taxpayers with expanded welfare programs. The ultimate goal of abolishing ICE and CBP is to pad voter rolls; they realize they cannot win in November without securing illegal votes.

Furthermore, news consumers are being inundated with misleading polls from outlets like Reuters, CNN, and the AP. These surveys frequently rely on selective, non-representative groups to produce skewed "disapproval" ratings for President Trump that do not reflect the reality of the American electorate. We see similar bias when the media highlights "conservative pundits" who share little in common other than their public pivot toward anti-Trump hostility.

The "No Kings" rallies force a critical question: Do you want to live under the thumb of communism? Do you want your life dictated by a Democratic leadership — figures like Chuck Schumer, Nancy Pelosi, and Bernie Sanders — who have spent nearly a combined century and a half in office? These are the "real kings" of Washington.

The Democratic leadership is terrified of the losses they face this November, and they will stop at nothing to prevent their political demise. We must look past the staged polarization and media intimidation.

If we want to avoid a future under the shadow of socialist control, we must be incredibly careful how we vote.

This first appeared as a column by Di Lothrop in the Manchester Union Leader.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to take a moment to respond to your Publisher's Perspective, "Trump Haters Take Note." letter that appeared in the April 3rd Edition of The Messenger.

Please allow me to correct your usage of the word coup, as you have spelled this word "coop", as in "chicken coop." In using this word, you are presently accusing former President Obama of attempting an apparent "virtual coup." Where is your evidence to back up such a strong claim?

You state that Donald Trump is not a racist. Very well. Then please explain why he and members of his administration have worked to remove black history exhibits in Philadelphia, along with removing from government websites the work of historical Civil Rights activists, the contributions of black service members such as the WW2 Tuskegee Airmen as "woke", and his complaint that present exhibits on slavery in the Smithsonian were, in his words, "focusing too heavily on how bad slavery was." Really? What part of being an enslaved person would be a good thing?

On another point, you repeat what I often hear conservative media rail against: "waste, fraud, and abuse" in government agencies and their associated taxpayer-funded programs, while giving Donald Trump credit for being the first president to actually do this. Correction: Please take a look at President Bill Clinton's National Performance Review Initiative that, by the end of his second term in 2001, had cut nearly 500,000 government workers from federal payrolls - the lowest since the Kennedy administration, 1961-1963.

Concerning your advocacy of federal I.D. requirements for voting, please know that the United States Constitution already addresses this in Article I, Section 4, Clause 1. At present, 36 states have laws requesting or requiring some form of voter ID at the polls; the remaining 14 and the District of Columbia use other methods, i.e., signature verification. Please note that voter fraud is minuscule in the US, and that no election outcome in the United States has ever been altered by ballot fraud.

Now, let's talk about providing proper credit to the first president for lowering prescription drug costs. Again, this does not go to Donald Trump, but rather to George W. Bush's Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement, and Modernization Act (MMA) of 2003, also known as Medicare Part D.

You mention that nearly 80% of Americans agree with the banning of biological men from women's sports, but that (your words) "Democrats don't." Please provide your readership with the data to support your sweeping claim that every Democrat in the United States is against such a ban.

Lastly, you mention that when Presidents Clinton, Obama, and Biden (incidentally, all Democrats - why do you omit Republican President George W. Bush?) deported immigrants, it was "OK", but "when Trump does it, it's not." Certainly, there must be, and there is a process to deport illegal immigrants. The problem right now is that it's not working well and is in dire need of reform that calls for efforts from both Democrats and Republicans.

Dear Editor:

The Hillsboro-Deering School Board would like to extend its sincere thanks to Mark Manganiello of the New Hampshire Department of Education for his informative presentation on school funding held on March 2, 2026. For those who were unable to attend, the presentation materials are available on the district's website.

We feel it is important to highlight a key takeaway shared during that presentation. According to Mr. Manganiello, "It appears Hillsboro-Deering has less than the state average growth in cost per pupil (CPP), but a greater than state average decline in enrollment. This suggests your district is managing costs while experiencing declining enrollment better than other New Hampshire school districts. (Email correspondence, March 3rd, 2026). The Board encourages all community members to review the materials provided by the New Hampshire Department of Education. We also wish to recognize and thank our superintendent and school staff for their continued diligence in controlling costs while still meeting the needs of our students.

Your School Board: Kathryn McGinn, Krista Davison, Chris Bober, Lindsey Boyle, Jessica Pollard.

Hillsborough Select Board Chair Iris Campbell (L) administers the oath to Kirk Smith (R), the town's newest Police Officer.

Keith Cobbit (R), owner of Granite State Computers presents Hillsborough Town Administrator Laura Buono with a laptop which he donated to the town.

New renovations for Antrim's Church of Christ

The Antrim Historical Society is thrilled to announce that it is now the proud steward of the historic Church of Christ at 100 Main Street — the beloved “brown church” that has graced Antrim since 1904.

This would not have happened without the extraordinary dedication of Gordon Allen, founder of the Antrim Community Board. Gordon championed this project — navigating years of negotiations, working tirelessly with the town, and never giving up on the society’s vision of restoring this landmark as a museum for them and a community space for everyone. They expressed an immense debt of gratitude toward him.

They are equally grateful to Lee and Leslie Davis and Trudy Dean — members of the Church of Christ congregation — whose extraordinary generosity made this gift possible (with approval from the Church of Christ). Their spirit of giving to the community is an inspiration to us all.

The building needs a new roof, window repairs, and much more — but they are energized and ready. Their dream is to transform this historic space into a museum and a gathering place with a community space for concerts and events (the acoustics are wonderful!). They’ll be hosting an open house in the future so you can see it for yourself.

Their work is just beginning and will take several years to complete. Once they know the restoration and repair options, they can begin to apply for grant money to cover the expenses. At the same time, they will create a master plan for the future that will consider the availability of grant money and will enable them to pay for the renovations.

Stay tuned — and thank you, Antrim, for your continued support!

School Days

H-D Middle School 7th graders got a visit last week from the UNH STEM Mobile to learn about biofabrication. Students in 7th and 8th grade visited the College and Career Fair at the high school.

Congratulations to Miss. Cristina Head of Dunbarton's Covered Bridge Montessori School for being one of the Stars of the Show / Early Childhood Teacher of the year.

Hillsboro-Deering Elementary School third graders have been hard at work creating "Tinsel Paintings" inspired by Hillsborough artist Alice Knight (1861-1963). Knight was a nationally renowned Tinsel Painter, also known for Reverse Glass Painting. The students' beautiful Tinsel Paintings are now proudly on display in the 3rd Grade hallway, and they look absolutely amazing!

Thanks go out to the Dunbarton Garden Club and the Dunbarton Elementary School PTO for funding the ROOTS Club activity at this morning's Easter Bunny Breakfast. With the help of some experienced ROOTS Club members, many happy children created window "greenhouses." We are sure beans will be growing in windows all across Dunbarton!

New London family making life better for others, starting non-profit

Dave, Donna & Sydney Bates of New London are in the process of starting a nonprofit to provide hygiene items to those in need in their community. They started from a simple question of “how can we help the youth in our community” with a specialized youth fund at a local church which has branched into an incredible passion to end hygiene poverty for individuals of all ages.

They had their first shopping trip on the Wednesday before Thanksgiving in 2025. They delivered their first bags and have delivered 800 Hygiene bags. They range from small travel size for the middle schoolers to full size hygiene bags for the food pantries and delivery programs.

Last Sunday they put bags together for K-12 for the towns of Andover, Bradford, (pantry and Sweet Beet) Danbury, Franklin (middle and high school), New London, Newport (Got Lunch), Sutton, Sunapee, Warner and Wilnot. They are also working with local hair salons and barber shops to provide haircuts to kids in need in the Kearsarge School District. They have also raised money to provide haircuts to six elderly individuals who can't leave their homes in New London over April Break.

They have had dentist offices from New London to Keene donate toothbrushes and floss, churches offering to do hygiene drives, rummage sales offering some of the proceeds to help, and several promised donations to their nonprofit. A local soap company donated goat soap seconds and they receive packages weekly from their Amazon Wishlist.

They are also working with KNP to help with volunteer organization, and Ledyard

Bank is doing a hygiene drive through next Monday. Franklin Savings bank is hosting one in May. They will really need sunscreen and bug spray as the warmer weather approaches and they are hoping the hygiene drives will help with that.

The Bates have also won a seedling grant from KNP for startup projects trying to make a difference in their community. If you look on facebook for NH REFRESH or Donna Dave Bates you will see some videos showing some of their journey.

Their lives, kitchen and now basement have been turned upside down for this project, but their hearts are filled with all of the stories and feedback from the principals, school nurses, social workers and now, food pantries on how much the need exists, how real hygiene poverty is and how, when we work together, we can make a big difference.

See their ad on page 20.
